Voters Dump Harbor Area

Dissolution of the Bolinas Harbor District, formed in 1957, was voted yesterday 313 to 266 as nearly 86 per cent of the district's 698 registered voters went to the polls in the hotly contested election.

Dissolution was favored in Bolinas by a 166 to 156 vote, in Stinson Beach by 137 to 102 and by absentee voters 10 to 8, reported Peter C. Meyer, Marin County elections officer.

The election was called by the Marin County Board of Supervisors after two years of controversy of the district's plans for development of the Bolinas Lagoon, which were vigorously opposed by conservation groups.

Proponents of dissolution wanted Marin County to take over administration of the lagoon. State action will be required to give the county jurisdiction since the harbor district got administration from the state Lands Commission.

As proposed, Marin County also would absorb the liabilities of the district, not to exceed $125,536, which stem from district purchases of property and state loans for lagoon studies. Any other liabilities would remain the responsibility of the property owners in the district, supervisors agreed.

The state granted the district the lagoon in 1959 on condition that it be "substantially improved" within 10 years, and last year the Legislature extended the deadline to 1971.

Harbor district board members proposed development of the lagoon to finance dredging which they said was needed to

Greyhound Station Closing Protested

By LARRY D. HATFIELD

Bus commuters in San Anselmo and surrounding communities may lose their busy Greyhound station in downtown San Anselmo at the end of this month, the city's council was told last night.

(Another San Anselmo City Council story, page 40.)

The council immediately took action to block the closing of the important transportation hub, asking the Marin County Transit District to be ready to seek an injunction from the state Public Utilities Commission if negotiations with Greyhound to keep the station open fail.

L. D. Hofeditz, a district marketing supervisor for Western Greyhound Lines, told the council the closing of the station may be necessary because its longtime agent, Mrs. Ada McVerry, is retiring March 31.

Efforts to find a replacement so far have been unsuccessful, Hofeditz said. The station is operated by an agent under contract to the company.

The announcement, of which councilmen first learned Monday, brought a storm of protest from members and San Anselmo residents in the audience. It also prompted a statement from county Transit Director Seymour Kashin that the state utilities commission views the situation "with some gravity" because it considers the station a major clog in Marin's commuter traffic. About a third of all commuter traffic in the county funnels through San Anselmo, he said, and the station serves as a transfer for all traffic from the Ross Valley.

Councilman James F. Reed said the council would use

Nixon, Congressmen Will Huddle On ABM

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon will discuss the antiballistic missile controversy with Republican and Democratic leaders of Congress Friday, then hold a television-radio news conference the same day.

The White House, announcing this today, would not say flatly that Nixon would be ready by Friday to disclose his decision on whether to deploy the hotly debated Sentinel antiballistic missile shield. (Involved in the controversy is a proposed Sentinel site on Wolfback Ridge above Sausalito).

All that press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler would say was that Nixon still expects to announce a decision this week.

Obviously, the ABM controversy will figure prominently in the news conference, to be held at 9 a.m. PST Friday in the East Room of the White House. And it was generally assumed Nixon would be prepared to announce his stand at that time.

The chief executive originally had planned to meet today with the National Security Council but this session was postponed to Saturday.

Ziegler said Nixon put off the meeting so Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, who returns late tonight from South Vietnam, could prepare a report on his inspection tour of the war zone for the council.

The bipartisan congressional leaders will meet with Nixon on the ABM at 5:30 a.m. PST Friday.

The President will meet with Laird tomorrow.

BLUSTERY WEATHER — Navy meteorologists struggle to send up a weather balloon from the carrier Guadalcanal, while it steams toward a less stormy part of the Atlantic for tomorrow morning's rendezvous with the returning Apollo 9. High winds popped the balloon. (AP Wirephoto)

Stormy Seas Force Detour For Astronauts Tomorrow

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—The Apollo 9 astronauts, fearing the raging seas of the stormy Atlantic, were ordered today to stay aloft one more orbit tomorrow and steer their moonship toward a calmer landing spot 480 miles to the south.

The splashdown switch will force the spacemen to lengthen their 10-day mission by 98 minutes. The USS Guadalcanal, the prime recovery ship, changed course and steamed through mighty, green swells toward the new landing area.

"Hey, let's go there, let's go there," yelped Apollo 9 commander James A. McDivitt of the smoother area where he, David R. Scott and Russell L. Schweickart will be recovered.

It was only the second time in 19 American spaceflights that a landing area was changed because of the weather. The first came when Gemini 5 was brought down one orbit early in 1965, to avoid a brewing hurricane.

Weathermen expected 26-mile-an-hour winds, 6-8 foot waves and watery swells of 10 to 12 feet high in Apollo 9's original landing area.

"I don't think anybody up here is a good enough sailor for that," McDivitt said of a landing in the windy, swelling ocean 200 miles southwest of Bermuda.

The new splashdown time was estimated at 9:03 p.m. PST tomorrow in much calmer seas.

Waves of only a few feet are enough to toss the cone-shaped Apollo capsule and its spacemen around like a cork. Recovery team leaders aboard the Guadalcanal said seas of 10 to 12 feet and winds up to 32 miles an hour were the maximum that could be tolerated for a safe recovery.

"We think Apollo is a helluva spacecraft," said one flight controller. "We're not so sure about its qualities as a boat. We sure don't want it to sink."

Drath's Car Target Of Arson Try

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Black Student Union strike leader at San Francisco State College was arrested last night on the campus on charges of attempted arson to cars which included one registered to Philip Drath of San Rafael.

Nesbit D. V. Crutchfield, 29, of San Francisco, was taken into custody after campus police found two cars apparently rigged to be set afire in the student parking lot.

Drath's daughter, Marilyn, was using the car while attending night classes.

Police Sgt. Lawrence Grant said officers spotted Crutchfield in the shrubbery near the parking lot before they discovered the automobile arson attempts.

They allowed him to leave after he identified himself as a student and said he was waiting at the parking lot for a girl friend.

Minutes later the officer said they discovered two cars with gas caps removed and gasoline-soaked cloth strips leading to the pavement. They said one strip ended in a gasoline pool. The other led to a cup holding a candle and filled with fuel.

The officers issued a search alert for Crutchfield. He was located five minutes later near a student residence hall.

The officers said he was try-

No Double Session Set At Davidson

There will be no double sessions at Davidson Junior High School next school year.

The San Rafael Board of Education, which two weeks ago voted for the double sessions to make Davidson a sixth-through-eighth grade "middle school," rescinded the action last night.

Board members agreed to try again in June for passage of an elementary school bond issue, but left the amount uncertain. Defeat of a $2.1 million proposal on Feb. 18 brought the double sessions proposal. (Another San Rafael Board of Education story, page 22.)

The board room at the school administration building was packed with more than 100 onlookers as the meeting opened last night — many of them apparently on hand to protest the double sessions plan.

Board president Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. suggested soon after the meeting opened — and before anyone in the audience had a chance to speak — that any action on double sessions be postponed a year.

Board member Herman L. Childress Jr. agreed, saying "we were too hasty" in voting the

A Soft Rain Falls In Marin, Sonoma

A soft rainfall — first inclement weather in more than a week in Marin and Southern Sonoma — fell during the night and today, The Weather Bureau also predicted a 40 per cent chance of showers tonight, but clearing skies tomorrow.

Rainfall accumulations to 8 a.m. today for the past 24 hours in the area were: Mill Valley, .47 of an inch; Tamalpais Valley, .44; Civic Center, .39; San Anselmo, .33; Tiburon, .27; Terra Linda, .27; Bolinas, .26; Novato, .22; Woodacre, .22; Petaluma, .21; Hamilton Air Force Base, .20, and Sausalito, .03. San Rafael had .28 of an inch for 24 hours to noon.

Senators Seek Full Probe Of Army Prison Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Armed Services Committee was urged today to investigate conditions at the nation's 23 military prisons, particularly the Army stockade at the Presidio in San Francisco.

The call came from Sens. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., and Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., who cited what they called the "outrageous shotgun killing" of an Army prisoner at the Presidio on Oct. 11, and the subsequent sitdown protest and mutiny charges against 27 soldiers.

The soldier, Pvt. Richard Bunch, was shot by a guard as he attempted to escape, officials said.

The court-martial of five young GIs continued today with additional arguments on a defense motion to dismiss the charge on grounds the defendants had been denied due process.

Col. John G. Lee, the law officer presiding at the court-martial in San Francisco's Presidio yesterday, ordered a psychiatric evaluation and separate trial for a sixth soldier.

His action followed a defense counsel's statement that Pvt. Lawrence Zaino, 20, of Toledo, Ohio, went beserk Monday night and tried to attack a military policeman with a chair.

Two defense motions for dismissal were turned down yesterday by Lee.

Still pending is a defense motion for change of venue.

Flood Repair Gas Tax Over Hurdle

Senators Approve Extension

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate voted unanimously today to extend the life of a proposed boost in the gasoline tax to pay for flood damage now estimated at some $150 million.

Under the revised measure the tax on motor fuels would go up from 7 cents to 8 cents a gallon until Nov. 30. Previously, the boost would have expired June 30.

The action came on adoption of amendments to an Assembly passed measure to finance repairs from the worst rains and floods to hit California in 30 years.

$150 MILLION TAB

Sen. Stephen Teale, D-West Point, one of the backers of the change, said federal, state and local officials now estimate the damage to roads, highways and other public facilities hit by January and February floods at $150 million.

A warm spring, with the sun melting one of history's greatest Sierra snowpacks, could add another $55 million in highway damage, he said.

The gas tax hike would finance highway and road repairs, with 80 per cent of the proceeds going to local government and the rest to the state.

Repairs of other facilities would be financed by state and local governments. Under another amendment, the state would pay for 60 per cent of most of the work to dams, buildings and other public works projects — and after a certain point pick up 95 per cent of the tab.

ENABLES VOTE

It appropriates $25 million for such work.

The action — without debate — cleared the way for a Senate vote March 19. That would return the measure to the Assembly.

But the big question was what Gov. Ronald Reagan would do. The governor, who once pledged no new taxes, said last week he would reconsider his position if damage estimates rose substantially above $66.1 million.

Teale backed the amendments, indicating that lightly populated counties would drop their opposition to a plan they once said favored populous Los Angeles.

Balmer Quits City To Try Authorship

BERT A. BALMER
Resigns while denying it

Even as copies of his letter of resignation were being hand-carried by police officers to Mill Valley city councilmen, Balmer was denying to newspaper reporters that such letters had been written and that he had any intention of submitting his resignation before the end of March.

His resignation did not come as a surprise, however. He has long talked of leaving Mill Valley some time this year to devote himself to completing a novel, on which he has been long engaged.

In his letter, Balmer said he would be leaving the city as of June 30 to take up a writing career.

Mayor Dean N. Meyer is expected to appoint a four-man screening committee at Monday night's council meeting to start finding a replacement for Balmer.

In the past, he has said he and his wife, Mary, and their younger son, Jim, 13, would live on the San Juan Islands in Washington while he works on the book.

Balmer began his controversial five-and-a-half-year term with the city in 1963 when he was hired to succeed A. E. Almcrantz at an annual salary of $12,500. He now earns $20,123.

Under his guidance the city undertook and ambitious annexation program which was bitterly criticized by other cities, residents of unincorporated areas and some large property owners.

Although he never achieved his goal of making Mill Valley the largest city in Marin County by annexing all of the unincorporated land between Tiburon and the Pacific Ocean south of the Corte Madera Ridge, he oversaw annexation of 587 acres, including areas in the North Ridge, Alto Bowl and Richardson Bay tidelands.

A native of Washington, Balmer is a graduate of the University of Washington where he later served as a municipal consultant for the university bureau of government research and the Association of Washingto Cities.

Before coming to Mill Valley, Balmer worked as assistant city manager in Redwood City from 1959 to 1961 and as assistant city manager in Fresno from 1961 to 1963.

THE DRUG SCENE

Parents Must First Know Their Enemy

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Writer

(Third in a Series of 10)

Wise parents will try to lead from the strength of knowledge in discussing drugs with their children. Only that way are they likely to be effective; only that way can they speak intelligently.

Knowledge in this case must be based on the facts about the drugs themselves — what they're like and what they do to people. Here is a rundown on the principal drugs being used or abused.

It's more commonly known as pot, grass, Mary Jane, hay, joint, reefer, stick or by a dozen other names.

As generally used in the Unitee States, marijuana is a mild drug that produces fantasies. Smokers may develop a psychological need for it. But it is not physically habit forming — quitting it doesn't cause any physical withdrawal symptoms.

It is not a narcotic, and neither are other hallucination-producing drugs. Marijuana is under narcotics control for various reasons. But true narcotics usually produce sleep or stupor and relieve pain; they can be addictive or habit forming.

Marijuana comes from the female hemp plant, Cannabis sativa. The leaves and flowering tops are dried, sometimes are mixed with tobacco, and rolled into a cigarette.

The effects, felt in a few minutes, usually last three to five hours, but may go on for 12. Reefers can vary widely in potency, depending on their content of the active plant ingredient.

Typically, most smokers have a feeling of great well-being, of feeling high, like having had a few alcoholic drinks. They may become talkative and hilarious, or fall

LAST BACHELOR BEATLE MARRIES

With screams of fans ringing in their ears, Beatle Paul McCartney, his bride and her daughter, Heather, 6, leave London's Marylebone Registry after a civil wedding this morning. Nixon Note To Sihanouk Frees Fliers

BANGKOK (AP) — Four American fliers captured in Cambodia a month ago were returned to freedom today as the result of a letter from President Nixon to ruling Prince Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia.

The four men are Maj. Querin Herlik, Green Bay, Wis.; Laird Osburn, Webster, W.Va.; John Fisher, Gainesville, Fla., and Rob Pryor, Oak Ridge, Tenn.

Stationed in South Vietnam, they were captured on Feb. 12 after their L19 observation plane was shot down near the border between Cambodia and South Vietnam.

The airmen were held in a Cambodian naval barracks, and Sihanouk asked President Nixon to write him a letter asking for their release. Cambodia's Khmer Press Agency said Nixon wrote the Cambodian chief of state on March 8.

The prisoners were released to the Australian Embassy in Phnom Penh yesterday and arrived in Bangkok today aboard a Burmese airliner.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Declares War

DUBLIN (AP) — The outlawed Irish Republican Army declared war today on foreign settlers in Ireland, saying they were a "new checkbook attack on the rights and property of the Irish people."

A statement issued by IRA activists claimed responsibility for a weekend fire that gutted an 18th Century mansion owned by Jacobus Wieben Holstein, a German who recently took Irish citizenship. Holstein had intended to turn the house and 400-acre estate into a country club, much to the disgruntlement of County Meath farmers who wanted the land.

Halt Dawn Dash

BERLIN (AP) — East German border guards opened fire today to halt a dawn dash across the border by a would-be refugee to West Berlin.

Police reported that the young man, about 25, apparently was not injured. He had reached the final barrier fence when discovered and was taken into custody.

Tokyo Snowstorm

TOKYO (AP) — A snowstorm dumped 11 inches on Tokyo today, stranding more than a million commuters and paralyzing all land, sea and air transportation in central Japan.

Tokyo's international airport was closed until further notice.

French Boycott

LONDON (AP) — For the fourth time in a month, France boycotted a meeting in London today of the permanent council of the Western European Union, which links Britian with the six European Common Market countries.

The ambassadors of Belgium, West Germany, Italy, Luxembourg and the Netherlands attended, and Britain was represented by a Foreign Office official.

A WEU spokesman declined to give details of the agenda, but sources said Greece was expected to be one of the items.

Abrasive shark hide, known as shagreen, was once used as sandpaper by cabinetmakers.

Attack Airport

VIENTIANE (AP) — Fifty Pathet Lao soldiers attacked an airport two miles from the Royal Laotian capital of Luang Prabang today, government sources said.

The sources said two of the attackers were slain and three others, all North Vietnamese, were taken prisoner.

They put government losses at four killed and nine wounded and said a T28 plane was destroyed.

Minuteman Fired

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE (AP) A Minuteman II intercontinental ballistic missile was successfully launched down the Western Test Range at 3:20 a.m. today, the Air Force said.

Private Industry Next For Schirra

HOUSTON (UPI)—Walter M. (Wally) Schirra, a man who seeks challenge and found it in three American space missions has found a new challenge—private industry.

Schirra, the crusty commender of Apollo 7, the first manned launch of the moonship series, said yesterday he will become president and executive officer of the New Regency Corp. of Denver, an equipment leasing firm.

Red Attacks Ease; U.S. Still Wary

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong's rocket and mortar attacks dropped off sharply today, but American officers said it might be only a pause in the enemy's 18-day-old spring offensive.

U.S. sources pointed out that the Communist command still has thousands of troops it has not committed to the offensive yet. They said a new wave of attacks could come any day and that the rest of this week is a critical period.

Allied spokesmen reported 20 rocket and mortar attacks on allied bases and towns during the night, compared to about 60 the night before. U.S. headquarters said casualties were light.

Five more ground fights yesterday were reported, resulting in the deaths of 126 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese and 10 Americans.

U.S. headquarters reported 76 men of the enemy were killed in an abortive ambush of a 50-truck convoy 43 miles northwest of Saigon. Spokesmen said the only American casualties were eight men wounded, and one truck loaded with beer was slightly damaged.

In Washington, preliminary reports from Saigon indicate that fewer than 350 American soldiers died in the second week of the enemy offensive in South Vietnam, which ended last Saturday, Pentagon sources reported.

The figure is about 100 lower than the first week, but still heavier than in any other comparable period since late August.

President Nixon has linked U.S. casualties to a possible response to the enemy shelling of cities and U.S. bases in Vietnam.

Around-The-Clock Bargaining Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Negotiators for American Airlines and the Transport Workers Union went into round-the-clock bargaining sessions today in an effort to settle the two-week-old strike against the carrier.

The stepped-up negotiations were arranged at the request of the National Mediation Board, which has been working with representatives of both sides in seeking agreement on a new contract.

Border Duels, Youth Riots Bother Israel

TEL AVIV (AP) — Light-arms fire broke out along the Suez Canal today and Israeli and Jordanian forces traded fire in the Jordan Valley.

The Israeli army in Tel Aviv said the Egyptians started the new round of hostilities along the canal with sniper fire. Israeli troops fired back, the army said.

Israeli soldiers fired in the air to quell a schoolboys' riot in the occupied Gaza Strip. Officials said 500 schoolboys charged an Israeli halftrack, throwing stones and chanting curses and Palestine slogans. The students set boxes afire and erected stone barricades in the street. They were dispersed after troops fired into the air and 25 of them were arrested.

Army spokesmen reported several hundred other students staged a stone-throwing demonstration in the casbah of Nablus, in occupied Jordanian territory north of Jerusalem. Troops dispersed them and placed the casbah under curfew.

Meanwhile, United Nations observers stationed along the 103-mile-long waterway have blamed the Egyptians for starting the shooting on all occasions along the Suez Canal.

The staff officer said the Egyptians must be convinced "they are getting the short end" in the fighting. He said they are confusing fact and fiction in believing they have inflicted heavy casualties on the Israelis.

Cairo has claimed destruction of five Israeli Piper Cubs, a helicopter and 22 tanks and wounding and killing scores of troops.

The officer said Israel in the last four days suffered five soldiers killed, 25 wounded, one Piper Cub plane shot down, two vehicles destroyed and a few others damaged.

French Labor Unions End Strike; Wage Talk Next

PARIS (AP) — Both President Charles de Gaulle's government and French labor unions were ready today for new wage negotiations after a general strike that crippled the country for 24 hours.

Gold prices, which rose last week in part because of a threat to the stability of the franc, declined in various European trading centers. There were reports South Africa may have sold some of its gold reserves on the free market or that arrangements are being made for such sales.

Information Minister Joel le Theule told newsmen after a cabinet meeting the government is eager for talks with business and labor. At the same time, he insisted on the government's position: no more than a 4 per cent wage increase.

The unions want 10 to 12 per cent.

Maurice Schumann, minister for social affairs, said the strike had hit nationalized industry much more heavily than private industry.

The country was pretty well back at work today.

The big labor unions felt yesterday's general strike and a demonstration in Paris by an estimated 60,000 to 100,000 workers would pressure the government into raising its wage increase offer above the 5 per cent limit.

French unions call strikes for only limited periods, usually 24 hours, because they do not have the funds to pay their members strike pay as American unions do. The wage demands and the strike announcement spurred a new gold rush last week in European bullion markets on the theory the franc might be devalued.

In Italy, thousands of civil servants, biologists, chemists and farm workers went on strike today.

About 30,000 civil servants went on a four-day strike demanding higher wages and equal pay for persons doing the same work.

The strike affected all government ministries, customs and tax offices and state agencies.

Hospital biologists and chemists also went out for four days, demanding higher wages and modernization of their laboratory equipment.

No Double Session Set At Davidson

double sessions for next fall. Kramer then announced the action would be reconsidered later in the meeting. When time came for that, Childress moved the middle school plan be put off to 1970, canceling any need for double sessions. This was voted unanimously by the four members present. John C. Pfeiffer was absent.

The board set a special meeting for 5:15 p.m. Friday at the administration building to further discuss the proposed June repeat of the bond election.

The petition, signed by pupils and faculty, described the signers as "the once unheard, now heard."

The recommendation for another bond election in June came from Paul McMullen, chairman of Your Elementary Schools Committee.

The YES committee also recommended that the board again seek $2.1 million and hold to the middle school concept, but "delay as long as possible" double sessions.

McMullen, speaking for himself, said the board could consider building three classroom buildings at the planned Glenwood Middle School instead of five, a move that would cut the bond proposal to $1.75 million.

It also could consider building four classroom buildings, which would require a bond issue of $1.925 million, McMullen said.

Under each proposal however, the planned library resource center would have to be used to house students, making a capacity 750 pupils for $1.75 million and 900 for $1.925 million.

McMullen said the board also could consider cutting $40,000 from the $522,100 originally planned for improvements at existing elementary schools.

Supt. John F. Plank said possibly the district wouldn't need to accommodate a capacity of 900 pupils in the near future, and could "have shorter sights."

Board members agreed that there shouldn't be more portable classrooms constructed in the elementary district.

Board Member Herman L. Childress said the district has 17 portable classrooms housing about 8 or 9 per cent of the total elementary enrollment, and that was too many.

Michael Edwards, representing the San Rafael Teachers Association, urged board members not to overlook the need for operating funds while pondering finances.

He said the elementary district has been operating at a deficit this year, and he was concerned whether the district would have sufficient funds next year.

Board members said they didn't contemplate any action to boost the operating tax rate since they haven't a proposed 1969-70 budget, or any recommendation from the citizens committee to call for a tax rate increase election.

T. E. Fullmer of 81 San Marino Drive, noting that part of the taxpayer unrest at the polls resulted from student unrest, suggested the board consider setting a policy on unrest or strike by teachers or students.

Plank said the existing laws cover the situation, and Board Member Childress said that when a student is disruptive, the parents are called and he is removed.

A suggestion on how middle school pupils could be housed if the bond election fails came from Bill G. Grant of 123 Ridgewood Drive.

Glenwood Elementary or San Pedro School could be converted into a middle school, housing sixth, seventh and eighth graders, Grent said.

This would mean that pupils from the kindergarten through the fifth grade in the school converted would have to be bused to another elementary school, Grant pointed out.

BOLINAS

keep the lagoon from silting in, but their development proposals stirred a controversy.

Conservationists said the board thought only in terms of a major harbor facility, and their plans would ruin the natural beauty of the lagoon.

District supporters argued that retaining the district would provide local control and contended that the county had no constructive suggestions for the future of the lagoon.

At the campaign's close district opponents charged that the district had spent $317,843, including $67,518 to planning consultant, Norman T. Gilroy, without correcting any lagoon problems.

There also had been criticism of the harbor commissioners' plan to dredge 60,000 cubic yards of mud from Bolinas Channel and a channel past Kent Island in the lagoon.

Two citizen group were formed, the Committee to Preserve Bolinas Lagoon, supporting the board, and Citizens for a Sensible Bolinas Harbor, favoring dissolution.

Gun Accident Hurts Musician

John D. Watson, with addresses at 130 Homestead Boulevard, Mill Valley, and in Fortuna, accidently wounded himself while examining a semi-automatic pistol while parked on Highway 1 between Marin County and Fort Bragg yesterday, according to sheriff's deputies.

Watson, 33, a musician, was treated at Marin General Hospital.

He told investigating deputies that he had been drinking wine and playing his flute in his microbus before the accident occurred.

The bullet passed through his right shoulder, missing bones and vital organs. Watson told deputies he then threw the gun away because he didn't have a permit.

Dead Whale Is A Headache

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A gray whale is turning into a white elephant for San Francisco.

The dead 30-ton whale washed up on Ocean Beach yesterday. A gash in its back indicated that a ship or a harpoon had done it in.

Somebody suggested the Coast Guard might remove it as a "menace to navigation," but it seemed unlikely ships would navigate along the beach.

The state Fish and Game Department pointed out that it wasn't fish or game so it wasn't its responsibility. The city promised some kind of action in a day or two.

Burglars Take Expensive Items

A burglar took jewelry valued at $463, $350 in currency and approximately $350 in coins Sunday from the residence of Lloyd W. Cunningham, 6 Vista Clara, police said.

Jerry M. Hoefflein of 324 Sausalito Boulevard told police a burglar Thursday took goods valued at $1,054 from his home, including $200 in coins, a color television set, a radio, three suits and other men's clothing.

Secret Team's Ability Aired

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — The USS Pueblo's intelligence mission was unproductive before it was captured by North Koreans, its skipper says.

And, without citing it as the reason for unproductivity, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher said he was told before the capture that some intelligence personnel had "low job efficiency."

The remarks were in a summary released today of testimony Bucher gave yesterday before a session of a board of inquiry that was closed in the interest of national security. The board is investigating the Pueblo's capture and imprisonment of its crew.

Crutchfield, BSU treasurer and a student-instructor at the college, was booked on three charges of attempted arson. He was released on $9,400 bail.

Crutchfield's arrest marked the latest arrest in several bomb and arson attempts reported at the college. Last week a 19-year-old Negro student, Tim Peebles, was critically injured when a bomb police said he was planting in a college locker room exploded in his hands.

Meanwhile, acting president S. I. Hayakawa, warned staffers of the campus daily newspaper, the Golden Gater, that they face discipline if they persist in publishing the paper.

He banned publication of the Gater, which has supported the four-months student strike, on grounds it "is not a representative newspaper on this campus."

Also suspended was a magazine, Open Process, and the Black Students Union paper, Black Fire.

The Gater promptly put out its 8,000 daily run yesterday and printed a cartoon showing Hayakawa in diapers and a playpen setting a match to the First Amendment.

Hayakawa's main objection to the Gater, in his words, was that "at best, it represents only half of the student body's opinion but it uses all the students' money to publish."

Tied in with the Gater situation is Bank of America's request to allot $40,000 to various student groups. On Feb. 17 the bank was appointed receiver of all student body funds.

The request was to be heard today before Superior Court Judge Henry Rolf.

Greenbrae Home Car Theft Linked

Billings told deputies that the previous homeowner's car had been stolen shortly before the property was transfered in September. In the car had been a set of house keys.

Billings estimated that the silverware had been stolen sometime in late October and early November. He notified the sheriff's department on advice of his insurance adjustor.

East Germans Halting Trucks

BERLIN (UPI)—East German border guards today refused to let a truck loaded with reference books pass through their checkpoint out of West Berlin because they objected to its cargo.

The harrassment came despite a Western allied protest which said the East German refusal to pass trucks through their checkpoints violated the Western right of free access to Berlin.

The Western protest said Communists had turned back several trucks bound for the West on the pretext they carried war goods. The truck turned back today carried reference books with compilations of West German newspaper stories.

"every means at our disposal" to keep the station open. Councilman Kenneth S. Anderson added, "The first day this ticket office is closed, we'll be up in Sacramento with every friend we can muster."

Councilman Robert M. Scott, told Hofeditz, "We all know Greyhound wants to get out of the commuter business . . . (but) gentlemen, you're big boys, sweat it out."

Hofeditz told the council the company would not consider paying a salary for a temporary station manager, nor has the firm advertised for a new agent because of bonding requirements for the job.

This prompted a question from Sophia Spencer, a member of the audience, who asked, "What's so complicated about bonding? Our PTA treasurer is bonded."

Under a resolution by Reed, passed unanimously, a formal complaint will be filed with the state utilities commission if no agreement has been reached with Greyhound by March 21.

He emphasized that the city would rather settle it amicably, but agreed with the other four council members that the station "must not close."

Hofeditz said he was "confident" a solution would be found.

OBITUARIES

Robert Lawrence Dies At 63

Robert Lawrence, Greenbrae artist whose work adorns commercial buildings throughout the state, died yesterday at a local hospital following a long illness.

Lawrence, 63, of 2130 Redwood Highway, was a native of British Columbia who came to California in 1924 and became a citizen in 1938.

During World War II he lived in Mill Valley and worked at Marinship as a welder and artist, producing many safety films for the firm. He moved to San Mateo after the war and lived there until 1956 when he returned to Marin.

A self-taught artist who worked primarily in murals and mosaics, his work is primarily in many restaurants and bowling alleys in Marin, San Francisco and on the Peninsula.

Other work is at Harrah's Club in Reno and a major mosaic by him is in the Calaveras County Civic Center.

Among the Marin spots where his work is featured is Bob's of Marin, the Round Table pizza house in San Rafael and the California Highway Patrol office.

Survivors are his wife, Elise; a daughter, Barbara Lawrence of the home; four sons, Vernon G. Lawrence of Sacramento; Kenneth Lawrence stationed with the Air Force in North Carolina; Ronald Lawrence of Oakland, and Roger Lawrence of the home, and two trothers, Arthur Lawrence of Petaluma and Raymond Lawrence of Vancouver, British Columbia.

Funeral is pending at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

Two School Tax Increases Pass

OAKLAND (UPI) — School tax increases were defeated in two Alameda County school districts yesterday and passed in one.

In the Pleasanton-Dublin area, a 40-cent boost in the present $1.55 tax rate of the Amador Joint Union High School District was approved by a vote of 1,952 to 1,246.

In the Castro Valley Unified School District, the vote was 4,684 to 3,582 against a $1.50 boost in the current $3.55 rate.

A proposal to increase a $3.55 rate to $5.55 in the San Lorenzo Unified School District was defeated 7,013, to 3,471.

Conservation League Endorses Open Space

By MARY LEYDECKER

The Marin Conservation League last night heard and answered a clarion call for the establishment of a Bay Area regional open space agency which would be created by the state and have powers and money for acquisition of land.

After a talk at the league's annual dinner at Dominic's restaurant in San Rafael by Irwin Luckman, former manager of the East Bay Regional Park District, the league voted to endorse Luckman's proposal for such an agency.

A "united front is essential," Luckman said to obtain a unified green belt system in the nine-county Bay Area.

Luckman, a native of Brooklyn, N. Y., said he did not subscribe to the "wonderful pioneering spirit of California" and that this state could learn lessons from other areas in land use.

Open space "can do a number of things for us," the park and recreation planner said, including controlling sprawl, bringing permanence to non-urban use of land, preserving agricultural activities, protecting wildlife and preserving options for the future.

Recreation is important but is not the major concern, he said.

As to methods to obtain the open land for public, Luckman said that present technique of providing tax relief for agriculutral land is not working well because it is allowing owners to hold land for 10 years for speculation.

"Buying it" sounds drastic, Luckman said, but the saving on services not needed by empty land would partially offset the cost.

A combination of purchase and zoning or regulation with compensation for land owners were two other methods he described. Luckman concluded that consultants for a just-completed report by the People for Open Space under a Ford Foundation grant had recommended a combination of techniques.

"We must plan for non-development as well as development," Luckman concluded in strongly urging a regional agency with funding to come from other sources than the property tax payer.

At the counclusion of Luckman's talk, a panel of four speakers commented on his open space proposals. Howard B. Allen, president of the Marin Audubon Society, said that "one more master plan is too much" and that loclal groups could achieve open space preservation without a super-agency.

A former member of the planning commission, Claude Stoller, suggested that Califorians "take many things for granted" which are really "felicitous accidents," such as open land owned by the military.

Mrs. Morse Erskine, speaking in place of conservation writer Mrs. Edgar Wayburn, suggested that new methods for preserving open space be used, such as federal grants encouraging developers of "new towns" to preserve green belts.

Found Credit Card Used, Tossed Away

A youth who stole a purse from the home of Carol G. Loftus of 1848 Indian Valley Road, Novato, used a credit card he found in it before abandoning the purse and the card, sheriff's officers said yesterday.

Employees of Shoe Fair, San Anselmo, said the youth, described as about 15 years old, used the card to make a purchase there. The purse and card were found later Saturday thrown down on Indian Valley Road.

Rockefeller Set For Latin Visit As Nixon Envoy

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said today he will go to South America as the ears of the White House —to receive views of national leaders "on whatever subjects they wish to discuss."

Accordingly, the New York governor said, he will make no effort during a series of forthcoming trips to promote a new "Good Neighbor" policy he drafted last year when he was competing with Richard M. Nixon for the presidency.

At the time, Rockefeller voiced strong concern about deterioration of Latin American relations—the very reason that Nixon has requested him to undertake the special mission.

"The fact of the matter," Rockefeller said then, "is that we have neglected Latin American relations and our neighbors feel it." He added:

"Our alliances are in disarray because we too often confuse consultation with elaborating on American blueprints. No self-respecting ally will feel responsible for programs that have not been made his own, through active participation."

Checkup Ordered As Sentencing Prelude

D'Anna Wilson of Novato, who earlier had pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court to passing four bad checks, Monday was ordered to a state diagnostic center for 90 days evaluation before sentencing.

Judge Harold J. Haley made the order.

Bill Seeks $30,571 Pay For District Attorneys

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill that would hike Marin County Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales' annual pay from $24,000 to $30,571 has been introduced by a Los Angeles legislator.

The bill (AB 785), by Assemblyman Robert G. Beverly, R-Redondo Beach, would provide that the minimum salary of all full-time district attorneys be at least as much as that of a superior court judge, which now is $30,571.

More modest pay raises for Bales have been proposed by the 1968 Marin County Grand Jury, which suggested $25,200, and by County Administrator Alan Bruce, who suggested $28,126.

The 1969 grand jury is reviewing the matter, and is to report its recommendation to the Marin County Board of Supervisors. Bales' salary is set by the Legislature.

Josephine Baker Given The Boot

PERIGUEUX, France (AP) — Aging music hall singer Josephine Baker was hospitalized today for a chill she contracted when the buyers of her bankrupt chateau-orphanage forcibly ejected her yesterday.

Doctors at the hospital said the 62-year-old entertainer was resting under sedatives. They said that in addition to the chill she suffered bruises.

The chauteau was sold at auction to Jean Joly, a hotel owner, to help pay the debts Miss Baker ran up taking care of her large family of adopted foreign children.

Session Canceled

Today's meeting of the security committee of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, to try again for a bicycle path connection between Marin and San Francisco, was canceled for lack of a quorum, reported district secretary Helen Jack.

Bay Agency Test Is Next

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — The first legislative test of a bill to extend the life of the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission is scheduled Tuesday before the Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee.

The bill (SB 117), introduced by Sen. Milton Marks, R-San Francisco, is to be heard by the committee when it meets at 9:30 a.m. in room 5007 of the Capitol.

Similar bills have been introduced by Sen. Nicholas C. Petris, D-Oakland, and Assemblyman Don Mulford, R-Oakland, but they have not been heard yet in committee.

Bagley Predicts Open Policy Plan Doomed

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Assemlyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, usually one of the Legislature's most outspoken advocates of open meetings by public bodies, said yesterday he would vote reluctantly for a bill to require meetings of the Seante and Assembly — and their committees — to be open to the public.

But Bagley said he would not help rescue the bill (AB23), by Assemblyman William M. Ketchum, R-Bakersfield, now apparently bottled up in the Assembly Governmental Administration Committee. "I'll vote for it if it reaches the floor," Bagley told the Independent-Journal, "but I can't conceive of it being passable."

The bill was unnecessary, argued Bagley, because the Constitution already provides for the public's right to know the Legislature's business. Bills must be in print for 30 days before being acted upon, he noted, and three public readings of each bill must be held before being acted upon.

But Bagley acknowledged that "whereas in local government the council takes the determinative action, in the Legislature it's the committees."

Noting that 99.5 per cent of all legislative decisions are made in committees, he conceded, however, that "my argument falls down."

Citing "much progress" since the Legislature passed the state's antisecret meeting law, the Ralph M. Brown Act of 1953, Bagley said an attempt to impose the same restrictions on the Legislature "could jeopardize some of that progress — particularly with the old establishment of the Senate.

"We risk counter moves," he said, adding the upper house might even "turn around and repeal the Brown Act."

Instead, Bagley said, he will propose within a week that Assembly rules be changed to require that all meetings be open unless there are "justifiable exceptions." He said he had not decided what these exceptions might be.

The Brown Act allows closed meetings only to hire, fire, hear charges against an employee or to instruct salary negotiators.

His own bill to open to the public meetings of the University of California Board of Regents was "different" from Ketchum's bill, Bagley said. The regents "are more comparable to a city council," he said, with almost all decisions taken in full session.

Bagley's proposed rules change would not affect the Senate.

Novato Driver Hurt When Car Tips Over

Howard S. Olson, 17, of 1121 Ferris Drive, Novato, received minor cuts and bruises when his car overturned last night. in front of 1132 Simmons Lane, Novato, police said.

Olson told police that he was going north on Simmons Lane when he took his eyes from the street to light a cigarette. His car hit a utility pole at about 9:30 p.m. and overturned. Olson refused treatment for his injuries and went home, police reported.

Recordings Are Asked

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill to require that recordings be made of meetings by public bodies that "may affect personal or property rights of any person" has been introduced in the Legislature.

The bill (SB 495), by Sen. H. L. Richardson, R- Pasadena, would apply to boards of supervisors, city councils and planning commissions.

In Marin, the board of supervisors and county planning commission record their meetings, but the practice is less common among the cities. Most city planning commissions only require written minutes of their meetings.

Closed meetings and privileged communications would be exempt from recording under Richardson's bill.

His bill also would provide that recordings be public records and be kept for at least 10 years.

The bill was designed to provide a full record of matters considered in meetings in case they lead to legal action.

To Combat Drug Scene Parents Must First Know Their Enemy

They fantasize, and sometimes have a deeper appreciation of works of art or music. Time stretches out. Distance and sounds are magnified.

Other smokers may feel irritable and confused, or become fearful.

LSD is so potent that a dose no larger than the point of a pin is enough to send most people off on amazing "trips" within their own minds. LSD stands for lysergic acid diethylamide, and is often simply called acid, trips, cubes, pearly gates or heavenly blue.

It's supplied, quite illegally, as a powder in capsules, small white pills, or a colorless, tasteless liquid that can be soaked into sugar cubes or crackers.

A trip usually begins 30 to 45 minutes after the drug is swallowed, and lasts eight to 12 hours. How a person reacts depends on the dose, the person himself, his mood, and the setting.

Most users report seeing brilliant colors, starbursts, and distortion of geometric objects. Senses may blend so colors appear to be tasted. Sensitivity to sound increases. Objects may pulsate. Something as familiar as a teacup can appear to be an object of fantastic beauty and wonder. Feelings of creativity are enhanced. Time may slow, then race ahead, or even seem to go backward.

On bad trips, users may feel cut off, alone, anxious, panicky. Some land in hospitals for treatment of mental disturbances, and a few have killed or injured themselves.

No physical dependence develops, but psychological dependence may.

Other hallucination drugs:

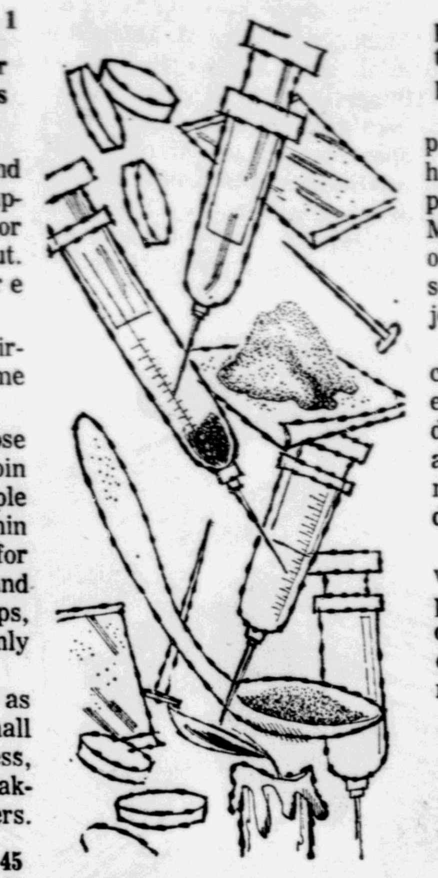
Mescaline: From the buttons of a small cactus plant — peyote or mescal. It is also supplied illegally as a powder or liquid. Far milder than LSD, its effects last 10 to 12 hours.

Peyote itself, a less concentrated form of mescaline, therefore milder.

Psilocybin from a Mexican mushroom, supplied in crystal, powder, or liquid form. Its effects last two to six hours generally, and are similar to those from mescaline.

DMT (dimethyltryptamine) produces effects like those from LSD when taken in larger doses. Effects last an hour or two.

STP (also known as DOM), a synthetic chemical related to mescaline and amphetamines, is reported to be extremely mind-distorting but less so than LSD.



Morning glory seeds of a few varieties contain an active principle closely related to LSD, but far less potent.

To drug abusers, barbiturates are known by many nicknames — goofballs, barbs, candy, yellow jackets, seccy, rainbows, blue devils, and the like.

Numerous people become physically and psychologically dependent upon barbiturates — there are many types — for sleep, or to combat anxiety or tensions. When tolerance builds up, the drugs stimulate rather than depress.

Some abusers use barbiturates combined with pep pills for a see-saw effect, or take the barbiturates to reduce the jitters that pep pills cause. When combined with alcohol, the kick from barbiturates can be fatal.

Prolonged use of barbiturates can lead to impaired judgment and intellectual performance, to bizarre behavior, slurred speech, tremor, self-neglect. Abrupy withdrawal in a dependent user may lead to nausea, fever, hallucinations, convulsions, coma, and even death.

Medically, amphetamines are used to combat appetite, to relieve mild depression, and for other purposes. Truck drivers may take them to stay awake on long hauls, or students to stay up late studying for exams.

Overuse and abuse induce a sense of good feeling, excitement, boundless energy, a sense that feeling tired has gone out of style.

In large amounts, amphetamines can induce hallucinations and delusions or psychoses, especially if injected. Methamphetamine or Speed, is one very dangerous drug which some abusers have been injecting.

Cocaine, from the leaf of the coca plant, was one of the earliest stimulant drugs. High doses can induce happy feelings and hallucinations. Overdoses may cause convulsions and death.

Opium, from the poppy plant, was the ancient forerunner of powerful pain-relieving and depressant drugs. Morphine is a derivative, and a priceless medical painkiller at times.

Heroin, closely related to morphine, has no medical uses, but at least 60,000 Americans are addicted to it. They use heroin — the big H, horse, junk — to induce a sense of good feeling, to reduce feelings of fear, anxiety and tension.

The user can "go on the nod," becoming sleepy, and "safe" from problems and challenges. This effect, depending on dose and potency, usually lasts only three to four hours. Then the habitual user must seek more drug.

Narcotics can become his way of life, and a costly one, often supported by crime. Most authorities say the narcotics addict steals, burgles or engages in prostitution to get money, rather than committing violent crimes.

These narcotics produce both physical and psychological dependence. Pregnant women who continue using heroin or allied drugs may have newborn babies who show all the troubles of narcotics withdrawal. Such babies may die unless treated immediately with antidotes.

Heroin users usually become truly "hooked" after taking the drug daily for a week or so.

Some youngsters seeking kicks abuse cough syrups containing codeine, an opium derivative, or medicines containing paregoric, containing a dilute amount of opium.

Sniffing airplane glue, or gasoline, and vapors from other products is a persistent and dangerous, if low-level, fad among the very young and some teen-agers.

Solvents in the vapors can act as poisons, resulting in permanent damage to the nervous system and liver, and big enough doses can be fatal. Youngsters sniffing the vapors become dizzy, and can think the experience is "fun."

(Tomorrow: What makes drugs appealing.)

Amendments For Library Union Eyed

Proposed charter amendments to go before the voters in the June 10 election were discussed last night by Petaluma Library directors.

Chairman Kenneth M. Wightman said the planned merger with the Sonoma County library system will be delayed at least a year, but that the board will seek a charter amendment to give them the authority to enter into a merger agreement when one is prepared.

Petaluma and several other cities has approved an agreement, but Wightman said that Santa Rosa board is now rewriting the pact. The present agreement calls for two Santa Rosa representatives on the county board and one from other cities involved in the merger.

Wightman said Santa Rosa apparently feels the board would be too large and is considering means of reducing it. When Santa Rosa approves an agreement, it must then be studied and approved by the other cities.

Noting that could take a long time, Wightman said he hoped the charter amendment would be approved so the library board could move ahead with the merger as soon as possible.

The charter amendment would also give the board authority to accept gifts of money and real estate to be used for the library, but with the approval of the city council.

Terra Linda Formal Prom Voted Down

Four classrooms were unable to vote since their ballots didn't arrive on time, but 320 students did vote.

An even hundred voted for an informal, casual-dress dance and 97 more chose an alternate plan for a casual dance in conjunction with entertainment and cultural activities, such as an art show on the side. A formal, full-dress prom got only 67 votes, while 26 students voted for no activities and 30 abstained, according to Jane Miller, a student who helped count the votes.

The school student council will make plans for a dance based on the alternate plan at their meeting today.

The traditional formal prom became the target of student opposition after last year's junior formal attracted only 80 couples, although the entire class fund was spent on the function.

Neighbors Scuttle Swimming School

The San Rafael Planning Commission was faced with a tempest in a swimming pool last night when residents of Glenwood battled back and forth over a proposed use permit for a swimming school in the one-family residential district.

After more than an hour of heated debate, the commissioners voted unanimously to reject the permit requested by John and Patricia Del Prate through attorney James M. Fletcher.

At the start of the swim school controversy, City Planner Herbert G. Hotchner stepped out of his official capacity to testify as a private citizen. Asst. City Planner Charles J. Linthicum told the commission that Hotchner never discussed the request with the staff at any time.

Fletcher then cited numerous cases of drownings in the Marin area which could have been prevented with a rudimentary knowledge of swimming.

The lawyer said a large number of persons in the immediate neighborhood had signed a petition in support of Mr. Del Prate, a Red Cross approved swimming instructor. He also said that only four students would be taught at any one time and that his client had parking space available for three cars.

Ranken A. Millard, an opponent of the permit who lives across the street from the Del Prates, then spoke up, asserting that the school had operated illegally for two years before an official complaint was made.

"I didn't realize the school would take on the commercial aspects it subsequently developed," he said. "The street began to take on the appearance of a public beach."

Millard said that Mrs. Del Prate had been an active member of a group which opposed a swimming pool, complete with lifeguards, in the Glenwood area. He also claimed that litter had become a major problem around the school vicinity and said he feared it would lower property values.

Fletcher denied the littering charge, stating that at least 50 small children lived in the immediate area, making it difficult to assign blame for any debris.

Another speaker, Daniel Shannon, said no one had the right to use his property to the detriment of neighbors and added: "If there's a shortage of swimming teachers in the area, then Mrs. Del Prate should donate her services to the Red Cross," he said.

Planner Hotchner said that no one questioned Mrs. Del Prate's skills but pointed out that it was impossible, in practice, to limit the number of people around the Del Prate pool. He added that the Del Prates were seeking a variance on a city ordinance which was unjustifiable.

The planner also told the commission that he had told Mrs. Del Prate at the time the pool was constructed that she would run into zoning trouble if anyone ever signed a complaint.

Following a short but sharp exchange between Fletcher and Sheldon (Bud) Bowers, president of the Glenwood Homewoners Association, the commissioners denied the permit.

Fletcher said his clients would appeal the case to the City Council.

Northgate Expansion Given Planners' Nod

The San Rafael Planning Commission last night gave unanimous approval to a proposed addition to Building Two in Northgate Shopping Center, Unit Two.

Planned by M and T, Inc., are addition of 10,200 square feet on the ground floor and a 10,000-square-foot second floor.

The only comment offered by the commission was praise by Chairman Joseph J. Barbarino of the architecture for the shopping center, represented last night by manager Clay Harrold.

The commission also voted unanimously to recommend renaming a portion of Francisco Boulevard between Third Street and Lincoln Avenue as Ritter Street, six months after approval by the city council.

The San Rafael Planning Commission Also:

VARIANCE PERMIT — Gave L and M Grange unanimous approval to a variance request to allow a carport fronting on the street at 74 Ridge Avenue subsequent to approval by building inspector.

SIGN RENEWAL — Turned down a request for renewal of permit for an off-site sign at the Irwin ramp to Highway 101 to direct customers to a brake shop at Rice Drive, by 6-1 vote.

CONVALESCENT HOME — Approved 6-1, request to permit 23 additional beds in convalescent home at 120 Park Street, subsequent to architectural approval.

HOUSE ALTERATIONS — Gave unanimous conditional approval to alteration to create rental unit inside a single-family home at 31 Lisbon Street for Elmer L. Mott.

STORAGE LOT — Granted Robert Green Real Esate a permit for a storage lot under Jacoby Street overpass for two years.

RESTAURANT PLANS — Gave Frank Tarantino conditional approval to restaurant plans at 402 Third Street, subject to changes in verbal agreement with a neighboring firm.

APARTMENT COMPLEX — Gave condition approval to a 6-unit apartment requested by Michael Perrone at 713-723 Kerner Boulevard, provided landscaping, driveway and drainage meet staff approval.

Racial Charge Halted Against Kaiser Hospital

A charge of racial discrimination against Kaiser Foundation Hospital in Terra Linda has been dropped because the complainants do not want to pursue the matter, Charles E. Wilson, senior counsel of the Fair Employment Practice Commission in San Francisco said today.

Aides to Wilson said the case prompted by complaints of Eugene Washington and Curtis L. Bailey was dropped because the two Negroes were afraid the publicity surrounding the hearing might jeopardize their present jobs. Both men now work at Hamilton Air Force Base, the FEPC said.

The two men charged the hospital, at 99 Montecillo Road, with racial discrimination in discharging them as orderlies in November of 1967.

A hearing on the accusation of discrimination later issued by FEPC Chairman Pier Gherini had been set in San Francisco for today but was canceled at the request of Washington and Bailey.

Restaurant Looted Of An Amplifier

Dunya Cherneko of 128 Greenwood Beach, Tiburon, reported the theft of glassware and an amplifier from her restaurant, the Champagne Hut, Sunday to sheriff's deputies.

The thief apparently entered through the back door of the restaurant, which is closed. No valuation was made on the stolen goods.

Memory Of Sirhan Still Major Theme

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The prosecution in the Sirhan B. Sirhan murder trial pounded away today at the defendant's claim that he cannot remember the shooting of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Martin M. Schorr, a clinical psychologist, was on the witness stand and he backed up Sirhan's allegation that he can remember nothing from the time he went back to the Ambassador Hotel to get coffee until he was being choked.

Dep. Dist. Atty. John Howard questioned Schorr as to how Sirhan could not remember taking the gun but then could remember talking to a pretty girl and then go into amnesia again.

Schorr said that persons in a "disassociated" state are characterized by partial amnesia.

"You mean they can turn it on and off like a light switch?" Howard asked.

Schorr said that these persons did have a "spotty memory."

The psychologist also backed up Sirhan's claim that he was not even aware of having shot Kennedy while being questioned by police officers for hours, although he remembered many of the parts of the conversation and things that happened at that time.

Schorr described Sirhan as a "Jekyll and Hyde personality" who is mentally incapable of plotting an assassination.

Schorr said yesterday Sirhan is a paranoid, schizophrenic personality with Jekyll and Hyde behavior. He said the same pattern was evident in a Georgia study of a woman which was made into the movie, "The Three Faces of Eve."

Doctor Says Convict Bright But Insane

By MARY LEYDECKER

A jury of eight women and four men in Marin Superior Court, charged with determining whether a condemned San Quentin inmate is sane enough to die, heard today that Gerald A. Beivelman is very bright but very insane.

Dr. David G. Schmidt of Corte Madera, chief psychiatrist at San Quentin, said that Beivelman, who is scheduled to die in the gas chamber April 16, has a split personality which has steadily deteriorated in his two years on death row.

The law provides, Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales told the jurors, that the 30-year-old murderer, must be judged sane enough to understand that he is going to die and for what crime, or else he will be hospitalized.

"Is it possible for prisoners to feign mental illness?" Bales asked Dr. Schmidt.

Dr. Schmidt agreed that good psychiatrists can be fooled by people for several months, but that he had had Beivelman under observation for almost two years and had concluded he is definitely very insane.

Dr. Schmidt said that Beivelman does "understand in a strange kind of a way that he faces execution" but that Beivelman also has talked of being out of prison in a few days and being in a position "to help the psychiatric profession."

Beivelman, in speaking of the murder for which he was convicted in Sacramento, told the psychiatrist that the woman (his victim) "wanted to be killed so that I could commit suicide," the doctor testified.

"To me, this is insanity," Dr. Schmidt concluded.

The psychiatrist said that other prison officials had pointed out Beivelman's bizarre behavior and his nontalking and non-eating periods which sometimes lasted days.

In fact, the doctor said, he had recommended that Beivelman be hospitalized at the state medical facility at Vacaville before an execution date was set and while Beivelman still had an appeal before the courts.

Two other psychiatrists appointed by Judge E. Warren McGuire are scheduled to testify before the trial closes.

Prowlers Beat Apartments Aide

A 25-year-old maintenance man at The 400 Canal apartment building in San Rafael was kicked and beaten by three men this morning after he interrupted an apparent burglary attempt in the building's locker room, police said.

Nicholas Frank Napolitano, of 200 Bolinas Avenue, Fairfax, during the struggle received a cut on his forehead, which, police said could have been caused by a knife.

Napolitano saw the three men attempting to rifle lockers on the ground floor of the apartment building and when they spotted him, they jumped him and began kicking and beating him, police said. The men then fled.

The lockers had been burned out during a fire at the building a week ago, according to police, and police were uncertain about their contents.

Woman Is Found Dead In Room

Mrs. Gertrude Lemme Burroughs, 54, of 165 Mark Twain Avenue, Santa Venetia, was found dead yesterday in a room ah the Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito. Police said her body was found with a plastic bag tied over her head and that sleeping pills and pain pills were found in the room .

Coroner's investigator Keith C. Craig said Mrs. Burroughs took her own life, but the cause of death was not given pending autopsy. She reportedly left a note at the hotel desk.

Mrs. Burroughs checked into the hotel Wednesday arternoon, an her body was found at 12:40 p.m. yesterday when the assistant manager entered the room. Craig said she apparently was despondent over ill health.

Mrs. Burroughs was active in the American Association of University Women, the Marin Blood Center and the First Methodist Church of San Rafael.

She is survived by her husband, John G. Burroughs of the home, who is a salesman; a son, Randall Burroughs of Terra Linda, and a daughter, Carole Mairs.

Car Jimmied; Tapes Worth $107 Stolen

San Rafael police said today 11 stereo tapes and a carrying case worth $107 were stolen from a car parked in the San Rafael High School parking lot yesterday morning.

The owner of the car, Jay W. Case, 17, a student at the school, told police the tapes were in plain site in the front seat of car. The thief used a wire to jimmy the car's lock, police said.

Teens Nabbed For Probe Into $65 Burglary

Two teen-agers, one from Mill Valley and one from Tiburon, were arrested yesterday by Larkspur police for investigation of a $65 burglary of the Chinese Kitchen, Monday.

Kevin C. Mulvaney, 18, of 25 Southridge West, Tiburon, was booked into County Jail on suspicion of burglary. William S. Gibson, 17, of 152 Stanford Avenue, Mill Valley, was issued a juvenile citation to appear at the probation department on similar suspicion.

A witness noted the license plate number of the youths' car and traced it to Gibson who admitted his part in the burglary and named Mulvaney as also taking part.

Entry was made into the restaurant at 989 Magnolia Avenue by cutting a window screen, said officers. The money was taken from a money bag inside.

Man Reports His Wallet Is Stolen

Ronald E. Taylor of 59½ Taylor Drive, Fairfax, said his wallet was stolen when he momentarily left it on a counter at a China Camp restaurant Sunday, sheriff's deputies reported today.

The wallet contained three credit cards and $65 to $70 in cash, deputies reported.

Larkspur Burglary

Burglars pried open sliding glass door and stole $385 in goods from the home of Cecil A. Howard of 80 Marina Vista, Larkspur, he hold police last night. The items stolen included a rifle, pellet gun, binoculars, a $200 ladies watch and some costume jewelry.

Purse Taken From Night Club Table

A purse containing several credit cards, a set of car keys and a small amount of cash was stolen at the Bermuda Palms last night despite the fact that someone was sitting at the victim's table at all times, San Rafael police said today.

Police said the victim of the purse snatch was Janis Marie Padgett of 37 Glenaire Drive, San Rafael.

The hummingbird can fly forward, backward and even sideways.

College, High School Violence Continues

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

New violence has erupted in two college protests and the wave of student unrest spread to high schools in three of the nation's cities.

Two persons were injured and windows were broken in a number of downtown Durham, S.C., stores after a student protest march last night. Police reported some looting and two buses damaged.

At Harvard, four men and a woman invaded a classroom and broke up a lecture by shouting and throwing papers around. There was fighting between the demonstrators and police before they were arrested for the unexplained trespass.

High schools in Los Angeles, New York City and Paterson, N.J. were the scenes of protests that brought police into play.

The violence at Durham came after a rally in a downtown park by students from Duke University and North Carolina College. They were protesting the Duke administration's rejection of Negro students' demands for equal representation with faculty on a committee to establish a black studies program.

In Los Angeles, Negro teen-agers rampaged through or outside 11 public schools on the second day of a protest aimed at paralyzing schools until certain demands are met.

At four schools fires broke out. Windows were smashed and tables and desks overturned at another. Twelve persons were arrested on misdemeanor charges.

Leaders of the protest are demanding Negro officials at Negro schools and programs of black studies. The unrest grew after 200 persons were cleared from a junior high school hallway by police last Friday.

Mayor Sam Yorty blamed the situation on "troublemakers who are running around from school to school intimidating students and parents."

Trouble flared anew at Eastern District High School in Brooklyn but school administrators promised to keep the school open with the aid of police. The school was shut down last Friday after disorders by students demanding the ouster of the dean of boys. It was closed Monday to allow $4,500 worth of damage to be repaired.

Paterson police arrested 60 students and three adults after they were ordered to oust 500 Negro demonstrators holding a sit-in at Eastside High School. Three policemen and two students were injured.

Elsewhere:

PRINCETON, N.J.—A group of 75 white and Negro students occupied the Princeton University administration building for the day to protest the school's investments in South Africa. They left after being served summonses by the university disciplinary committee.

NEW YORK CITY—About 200 students led by the Students for a Democratic Society forced a General Electric Co. recruiter off the campus at Queens College. They denounced the firm as racist and a war profiteer.

School Sites Speed Urged In Petaluma

Petaluma City Planner William C. McGivern last night warned the board of education that no time should be wasted in selecting additional East Side school sites.

"Developers are coming into my office with subdivision plans every day and in the next two years we'll have 1,200 to 1,500 new living units on the East Side," he said.

Supt. Lesly H. Meyer said the board and administration had been aware of the increasing population and had been studying the site needs for junior and senior high schools.

The planner said the city and school board are at a disadvantage because it is not known what age groups are moving into the city. He said neither his office nor the county planning department has a large enough staff to conduct a survey and recommended that if the board wanted one, it should consider hiring outside consultants.

The board agreed to study site selections further on the high school level and plans to meet with Old Adobe School District trustees on April 15 at 8 p.m. to consider what elementary buildings are needed.

The Petaluma Board of Education also:

PRINCIPAL — Accepted the retirement of Howard B. Tingley, principal of Kenilworth Junior High School, effective in June. Tingley has been with Petaluma city schools 37 years.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of Mrs. Mildred Colaizzi as second grade teacher at the Grant School for personal reasons. The board hired as her replacement Sirkka Niekkanen at a salary of $2,391.

SURVEY — Hired the firm of McClure and Messiner to study the structural safety of the Penngrove School at a maximum fee of $1,750.

BUDGET — Reported that the March 25 meeting will include presentation of the preliminary budget for 1969-70.

Sleepy Hollow Home Invaded By Burglar

Cufflinks and rings valued at $200 and $10 in cash were stolen from the home of Robert O. Reynolds of 200 Van Winkle Drive, Sleepy Hollow Monday, according to sheriff's deputies.

Mrs. Reynolds noticed that two dresser drawers had been ransacked when she returned from a bowling lane in the early afternoon. There were no signs of forcible entry, deputies reported.

New Rohnert Park School Sidetracked

Cotati School District trustees last night approved an addition to Waldo Rohnert School, choosing to put off construction of another school in Rohnert Park.

The board directed architects to prepare plans for an addition to be completed for the fall of 1970. The size of the addition has not been decided.

Supt. Duncan A. Coleman said that an additional six or seven classrooms will be needed for the next school year. The board met a portion of that by agreeing to lease three classrooms at $399 per month in the upstairs section of the administration building on College View Avenue, Rohnert Park.

The Cotati School District trustees also:

APPOINTMENT — Reported that many names had been submitted for appointment to the board. A vancancy was created by the resignation of Robert W. Waldron.

ADVISERS — Appointed two persons to fill vacancies on the citizens Advisory committee. They were Lewis Beary, 810 Bernice Avenue, and Mrs. Barbara Kynock, 7276 Barbie Lane, both of Rohnert Park.

Narcotics Suspect Granted Plea Change

A preliminary hearing in Marin Municipal Court was set yesterday for April 8 for Anthony Gibson, 18, of San Rafael, who was allowed by Judge Alvin B. Goldstein to withdraw his earlier plea of guilty to a charge of selling methamphetamine.

Gibson is accused of selling the speed on the Courthouse lawn in San Rafael in March 30, 1968.

'Useable' Tidelands Big Stumbling Block

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — What determines "useable" tidelands is the main stumbling block before the ad hoc committee studying public access to the Sonoma County coastline, county supervisors were told yesterday.

In an interim report, A. E. Galli, committee chairman said the group had generally agreed on nine points, but that differences in opinion could not be avoided in making the final report and recommendations to the supervisors.

In agreeing that public access to the tidelands should be provided, Joseph McClelland, director of the Sea Ranch development, said he would like to see the word "useable" placed in the agreement. He said he felt that many portions of the coastline are not functional for recreational use by the public.

Other committee members, Dr. William Kortum of Cotati and Dr. Kenneth Stocking of Sonoma State College, maintained that any tidelands that the public can reach should be termed "useable."

Stocking, a biologist, recommended that a coastal trail be expanded for hikers and scientists and asked that preserves be developed for use by scientists in studying oceanology and wildlife.

Other points generally agreed to by the committee include the view that public access by dedication or purchase should be accomplished at the time of land division. They also agreed that agriculutral land should be exempt unless sold; that proposed parks be acquired; that a master plan of access should be developed; that access ways may be held and not open for public used until development funds are avialable, and that the private property owner be protected against interference and intrusion by the public.

The committee will continue meeting this month and present a final report to the supervisors in early April or the last week of March.

Galli explained that some recommendations will be beyond the limits of the committee to implement and will require further study by other commissions and county departments.

Coordination Of Manpower Due Review

Marin County Human Rights commissioners and the Economic Opportunity Council will meet at the San Rafael Courthouse tomorrow night to discuss manpower coordination.

The commission will first meet at 8 p.m. in the third floor courtroom in the courthouse annex. After a brief meeting to hear committee reports, commissioners will launch into the joint session with EOC directors.

"We're going to see how we can assist each other in our various programs," said Austin J. Thompson, executive director of the human rights department. He said one of the goals will be to coordinate the activities of 17 existing agencies that now deal with manpower training and development.

Hargreaves Fills Service District Board Vacancy

William A. Hargreaves was named last night to the Tamalpais Community Services District board to fill the unexpired term of Harry Sutcliffe, who is moving from the district The term ends in July 1970, secretary Gail E. Bishel said.

Hargreaves was chairman of the district's park and recreation committee, and worked on the Ad Hoc committee which arranged the district's creation last year.

The board also directed Manager Leonard M. Mitchell to ask the Marin Board of Supervisors to let the district take title to land dedicated to open space in Marin View subdivision, a proposed 300-unit development in Tennessee Valley. The land will go to the county if the supervisors do not act.

The Tamalpais Community Services District board also:

SEWER HOOKUPS — Gave final approval to a sewer ordinance raising the hookup fee from $350 to $500 for one-family houses.

GARBAGE — Approved a first draft of an ordinance on garbage collection, spelling out terms of the existing franchise agreement with a private scavenger firm. A final draft will be prepared for board action next month.

McInnis Opposes Fee Custom On Carnivals

The county ordinance requiring sponsoring groups to pay $150 a day for permits to hold carnivals and circuses in Marin County is "a lot of malarkey" and "foolishness" in view of supervisors chariman John F. McInnis.

He told fellow supervisors and county officials who suggested the ordinance be revised yesterday that he thinks the fee should be doubled and should be paid by the carnivals and circuses themselves.

McInnis admitted he does not like having the circus and carnival operations in Marin and has long held that the crime rate goes up every time one comes to the county.

McInnis' comments came as the board discussed an application from the Deputy Sheriff's Association to hold a circus at Kentfield on June 21-22.

The supervisors put off a decision on whether to grant or waive a permit until the association supplies more information on the circus.

County Administrator Alan Bruce sparked McInnis's remarks when he suggested the board consider revision of the ordinance to make the fee flexible enough to reflect expenses incurred by the county for extra police, fire and health protection services.

If a group such as the deputies provides its own patrols, he suggested, county costs might be less, so the fee could be lower.

When told the sponsoring group is guaranteed 20 per cent of the gross of $15,000, McInnis snapped his fingers and said, "I can't imagine (the $150 a day) fee to be of that (snap) consequence."

The board then told Bruce and Maloney to go ahead and consider revising the ordinance although it emphasized it still wanted it to be tough.

Adult Probation Officers End Two-Day Strike

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A two-day strike by a dozen San Francisco adult probation officers ended yesterday with Mayor Joseph Alioto's pledge to lighten their work loads.

The 45 probation officers now average 280 cases per man, with some as high as 400.

Alioto said he would request that supervisors approve hiring 22 new men at a cost of $75,000 by the end of the month.

He said more help will be requested in July should the new men and new procedures fail to cut the number of cases handled by each to the 125 maximum which strikers have requested.

Supervisors Set Record For Brevity

Marin County supervisors whipped through their agenda in record time yesterday and adjourned at the unusually early hour of 2:05 p.m.

A hearing on the new floating home marina ordinance, which would have been good for a three or four-hour session, was postponed until March 25 because Supervisors Michael Wornum and Peter Arrigoni Jr. were away on an Air Force trip to Colorado Springs.

Asst. Administrator John F. Barrows and Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell both agreed that this was the earliest adjournment by the board of supervisors in their memory.

The only action taken by the supervisors yesterday afternoon was to approve an application to the state Airport Assistance Revolving Fund for a cross runway at Gnoss Field in 1970-71.

Taxpayers of Bel Air Estates had petitioned the supervisors to nullify the formation of a county service area. The service area was approved on Jan. 14 to pay for maintenance of a neighborhood park in Bel Air Estates. However, a sworn affidavit attesting to the circulation of the petitions was lacking, and the supervisors put off action for a week.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors also:

DATA PROCESSING — Delayed a week consideration of an agreement with the Radio Corp. of America for installation of a computer in September to replace the present IBM computer.

TEACHER — Authorized the county schools office to hire a head teacher for the new San Rafael Children's Center on March 15 so that necessary enrollment procedures and technical and legal planning for the center can be coordinated by this teacher prior to opening of the center on April 1. The board was told the move would not increase budget expenses because the money needed could be transferred from another area.

TREES — Approved a letter from the board to William Penn Mott, director of the state Department of Parks and Recreation in support of his efforts to preserve the trees on Bolinas Ridge between Mount Tamalpais State Park and Samuel P. Taylor State Park for scenic purposes.

TRANSIT — Concurred with Marin County Transit District in designating transit district director Edward W. Colthurst as the third representative of Marin County on the Tri-Partite Transportation Committee.

PRISONERS — Approved change in agreement with Sonoma County raising the payment for caring for Marin County prisoners in the Sonoma County jail from $4.25 to $5 per day.

OIL-GAS — Instructed County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney to attend as an observer the March 27 meeting of the State Lands Commission at which findings will be presented from two public hearings on leasing for oil and gas in San Pablo Bay.

ACQUISITIONS — Approved right-of-way contract paying $4,335 for a parcel of land belonging to Harld W. and Helen B. Joslin for temporary construction easement for Corte Madera Creek Flood Control Project, Unit 2. Accepted dedication by Kenco Development Co. to the Marin County Flood Control and Water Conservation District of an easement for flood control in Santa Venetia in the area of North San Pedro Road near Meadow Drive.

APPOINTMENT — Approved the appointment of Priscilla Phillips as Sociel Service Practitioner 1 (social worker with master's degree) at $790 a month.

FUNDS — Authorized the advance of $1.5 million from the county treasury to the county general fund to meet the "dry period" requirements prior to the receipt of the second installment of property taxes to be deposited by April 10.

CAVALLERO — Received without comment a report on a radio mix-up which caused an ambulance to go to the wrong location when Novato Fire Chief George J. Cavallero was stricken by a fatal heart attack while on his way to the Rencho Olompali fire on Feb. 2.

PAYMENT — Approved progress payment of $1,925.56 to Ghilotti Bros. Contractors in connection with the Hall of Justice site development.

CLAIM — Rejected a damage claim of $4,705 from Mr. and Mrs. John E. Sorum of 2194 Novato Boulevard, Novato, who said county-contracted work in replacing a bridge at the intersection of Eucalyptus Street and Novato Boulevard had resulted in dirt and debris being dumped on their property and caused unnecessary dust damage to their home.

Supervisors Approve Youth 'Seed Money'

In an attempt to get Marin County's youth and its over-30 population more tuned in to each other, the county board of supervisors voted $1,000 in "seed money" yesterday to support such programs as coffee houses for the young.

The County Parks and Recreation Commission had asked for $2,000 but the supervisors voted the lower amount after a discussion during which board chairman John F. McInnis justified the lower amount, saying, "money is tight."

The money, to come from funds allocated to senior citizen and youth programs, will be provided through the commission on a matching basis to groups wanting to sponsor youth programs not already existing.

All three supervisors present — McInnis, William A. Gnoss and Louis H. Baar — voted for the allocation after County Administrator Alan Bruce and Parks and Directior Pierre W. Joske had a small debate over whether the county's youth wanted such help.

Pointing out that no young people were present to speak for the program, Bruce said if the money had been requested for programs for senior citizens or handicapped persons "this room would be full."

Gnoss contested Bruce's suggestion that young people were not interested. He said the parks and recreation commission had held hearings at which many youths had strongly supported the program. He added that the youths at which the program would be aimed were in school during the supervisors' daytime meetings.

Discussing the coffee house idea, under which youth-oriented coffee houses would be run mostly by young people, the commission reported there is a "dire need for meeting places for youth where there is no compulsion to participate in any organized activity on the one hand or to purchase food and beverages on the other."

The supervisors, in giving the parks and recreation commission control of the funds, also agreed that the assistance program should be as far removed as possible from governmental red tape.

"Governmental participation has to be minimal," McInnis said, adding that he has seen "many, many cases where (government involvement) has chased kids away."

Judge Upholds Bill Permit Rule

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Posting bills on utility poles is not included in the constitutional right to free speech, a Superior Court judge ruled yesterday.

Judge Henry R. Rolph refused to stop the prosecution in Municipal Court of seven San Francisco State College students who posted bills relating to a student strike.

A city ordinance prohibits postings without the permission of the director of public works and Judge Rolph said that amounted to a "nondiscriminatory restriction on the use of private property."

Paul N. Halvonik, a staff attorney for the American Civil Liberties Union, announced he would appeal, saying that if the city forbade all posting, he would have little cause for complaint.

Lite™ The lightest-tasting premium beer in America!

A real beer–not a "near" beer–with 1/3 LESS CALORIES than regular Meister Bräu premium beer!

All we wanted to do was give you the lightest-tasting beer ever brewed. Lusty, but light. So, we brewed out 1/3 of the calories normally found in regular Meister Bräu premium beer. But that's all that's missing! With the exception of 1/3 less calories, Lite is a complete beer in every way. Yet there are only 64 calories in an 8-ounce serving. Less filling, too. And what a light, refreshing taste! Crisp. Clean-cut. Invigorating. Satisfying. We brew Lite with the finest, most costly grades of ingredients . . . with great care and patience . . . and with pride in our long heritage of brewing fine beers since 1838. Bring home a six-pack of cans or bottles, tonight, and discover the new, modern way to enjoy real premium beer.

RELAX WHILE COOKING

Mexican-Inspired Casseroles

The gay, brightly seasoned foods from south of the border accented with the California ripe olive combine to create dishes with unusual flavor for interesting low budget entertaining.

Easily prepared, these combinations are flavor pointed with chili seasoning.

A colorful, delicious combination of browned chicken, tomato flavored rice, vegetables and herbs are accented for taste and eye appeal with ripe olives. Serve the chicken and rice in a gay, Mexican inspired casserole and let it add a festive note to the buffet table.

One of the most traditional casseroles from the land of the fiestas is made with beef, beans, cornmeal and chili seasoning. Crumbled, meaty textured canned California ripe olives are added to the beef to enhance the flavor. Just before serving this casserole, top the ring of cornmeal with olives for a flavorsome dark accent.

RIPE OLIVE FIESTA CASSEROLE

2 pounds ground lean beef
⅓ cup olive oil or salad oil
1 (No. 300)can pitted California ripe olives
3 tablespoons chili powder
3 teaspoons salt
1 clove garlic minced
1½ cups chopped onion
6 cups cooked or canned pinto beans
4 cups tomato juice
6 cups water
3 tablespoons butter
1½ cups yellow cornmeal

Preheat oven to 370 degrees F. Heat oil. Add beef and cook until browned. Drain olives; save 8 or 10 for garnishing. Crumble remaining olives and add to meat. Stir in chili powder, 1½ teaspoons salt, garlic, and onion. Cook together for 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Add beans and tomato juice. Bring 5 cups water to a boil. Add remaining 1½ teaspoons of salt and butter to water.

Stir remaining 1 cup water into cornmeal. Stir moistened cornmeal into boiling water. Cook, stirring constantly, for 5 minutes. Cool slightly. Line bottom and sides of a three quart casserole with two-thirds of cornmeal mixture. Spoon in the olive-meat-bean mixture. Spoon remaining cornmeal mixture in circle around edge. Bake for 30 minutes. Garnish with whole ripe olives. Makes 8 servings.

CHICKEN MEXICALI

1 cup canned pitted ripe olives
1 (3 pound) chicken fryer
3 tablespoons olive or vegetable oil
1 cup chopped onion
½ cup chopped celery
¼ cup chopped green pepper
1 cup long grain white rice
1 cup canned tomato sauce
1¼ cups water
1½ teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon oregano
2 cups cooked or canned peas
1 canned pimiento, cut into strips

Cut ripe olives into halves. Heat oil in large saucepan. Add chicken and brown well. Remove chicken from pan. Add onion, celery, green pepper and cook until tender but not brown. Add rice and mix well. Stir in tomato sauce, water, salt, and oregano. Bring to a full boil and stir mixture very well. Add ripe olive halves. Arrange chicken on top of mixture. Cover tightly and cook over low heat for about 40 minutes or until rice is tender and liquid is absorbed. Add peas and cook just enough to heat peas. Arrange on serving dish and garnish with pimiento. Makes 4-6 servings.

CELEBRATE SHAMROCK day March 17 with Irish Raisin Soda Bread. Cut the dough into "farls" and bake for a St. Patrick's Day dinner of corned beef and cabbage.

Serve An Irish Soda Bread To Mark St. Patrick's Day

As springtime fancies turn to thoughts of love and such, special celebrations come to mind as well. For these occasions, baked breads are greatly enhanced with the flavorsome sweetness of seedless raisins.

As tradtional as shamrocks, the popular Irish Raisin Soda Bread is delicious for St. Patrick's Day. Seedless raisins and caraway seeds add authentic touches to the quickly made biscuit dough. Cut the dough round into quarters called "farls" and bake. A light crusting of butter and sugar on top makes it even more delectable.

IRISH SODA BREAD

Seedless raisins are dotted throughout this light and tender bread — a real tribute to the wearing of the green!

⅔ cup California Seedless raisins
2 cups sifted flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
¾ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons sugar
1½ teaspoons caraway seeds
3 tablespoons shortening
1 cup buttermilk
Melted butter and sugar for top

Chop raisins coarsely, if desired. Resift flour with baking powder, soda, salt and sugar. Add caraway seeds. Cut in shortening until in fine pieces. Make well in center. Pour in buttermilk and add raisins. Mix lightly to moderately soft dough. Turn out on floured board and knead gently a few strokes. Shape into a round and fit into greased 8 or 9-inch layer cake pan. Cut loaf crosswise into quarters about ⅔ way through dough with a sharp knife. Brush top with melted butter and sprinkle with sugar. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes. Makes about 6 to 8 servings.

Chicken Liver Pate Improves Flavor During Freezer Storage

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press

When we told a friend of ours that we were looking for a chicken liver pate of smooth texture and fine flavor she said she had just the recipe for us. And she was so right. We tested the pate, put it in our freezer and then served it at a party where it was acclaimed.

Along with the recipe came this note:

"I have often made this pate in the amount given here, but sometimes I've made just half the recipe. It's so easy to divide the ingredients. Whenever I buy a chicken or a number of chickens on sale, I save and freeze the livers until I have enough to make the pate."

NEW YORK LIVER PATE

1 pound chicken livers
4 teaspoons flour
2 tablespoons butter
¼ cup finely chopped onion
½ cup heavy cream
½ cup butter, room-temperature soft
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of white pepper
¼ teaspoon mace
⅔ cup cognac

In a 10-inch skillet, melt the 2 tablespoons butter; add onions and cook very gently, stirring often, until softened but not brown. Add livers and cook fairly quickly until they have just lost their red color and are lightly cooked through. Put liver mixture in a food mill.

Add cream to skillet and heat gently, stirring constantly, until cream dissolves most of brown sediment in pan. Pour over liver in food mill. Turn mixture through mill. Add the ½ cup soft butter, salt, pepper, mace and cognac; mix thoroughly. For extra-smooth pate, force through a fine-mesh wire strainer.

Pack into serving bowl; cover and chill several hours or overnight. Serve with squares or fingers of toast or crackers, as a serve-yourself-spread. Makes 2 cups.

Notes: This pate freezes beautifully — even seems to improve after several weeks of storage. To freeze: turn it into two or more freezer containers or pottery crocks; overwrap the crocks.

To refrigerator-store for a week or two, pack into one large or two or more small crocks; seal by pouring clarified butter over the top to the depth of about ⅛ inch. Cover tightly. At serving time, if you wish, the clarified butter may be mixed with the pate.

Half this recipe may be prepared; in this case an 8-inch skillet will be a good size for cooking the onion and livers.

Pineapples

A fresh pineapple's eyes are a better indicator of ripeness than the color of its skin. The eyes should be flat and lustrous looking. The shell is green when the fruit is picked and generally remains that color. A yellow tinge may start at the base of the fruit but this does not affect ripeness. A pineapple heavy for its size is a juicy one.

Spicy Rice

Spicy rice is prepared with canned green chili peppers and cheese. Bring 1½ cups of water, 1½ teaspoons of salt, and 2 to 3 tablespoons of chopped green chili peppers to a boil. Add 1 1-3 cups of packaged enriched precooked rice; stir to moisten. Cover, remove from heat, and let stand 5 minutes. Blend in ¾ cup of grated sharp cheddar cheese. Add ½ cup of sour cream and heat gently 2 to 3 minutes. Makes 3 cups or 4 to 6 servings.

Amazing Seasoning Discovery

New Blend Of Lemon & Pepper Adds Unique Flavor; Marinates Instantly

Save Hours in Marinating

Remember what you had to go through to marinate foods. Long hours in the kitchen, pickling, mixing, soaking, seasoning and basting, plus a costly inventory of vinegar, wine or oil, herbs and spices. That's old style.

Today, all you need is LPM — the new, instant way to marinate as you cook — not before. Just sprinkle LPM on meats, poultry or seafood, and cook. That's all you do. You shake flavor in — you don't soak it out.

Housewives Describe LPM As A "Flavor Explosion"

It's the same exciting story all over the nation as housewives become intrigued with the cooking wonders they can perform with LAURELEAF LEMON-PEPPER MARINADE.

LPM Makes Eggs Taste Special

The standard American breakfast — eggs, any style, can now become something special. Make them your favorite way — scrambled, fried, boiled or poached — then for that excitingly different taste, sprinkle LPM. No additional seasoning will be necessary.

Save 10c With Store Coupon

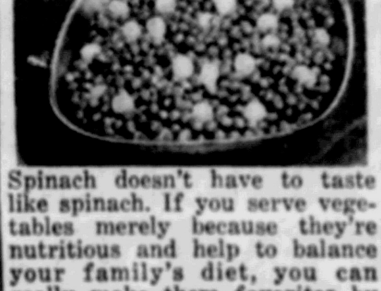
To introduce you to the exciting new flavor LPM imparts to all foods, you are invited to take advantage of the money-saving coupon on this page. It is worth 10¢ toward your purchase of the 2½ oz. LPM. Take it to your store today. Save 10¢.

"Cooking with LPM is like a flavor explosion" wrote an enthusiastic housewife.

Another said, "LPM is so versatile. We barbecued hamburgers and everyone asked my husband for his cooking secret."

From still another, "your product does wonders for soups, from pure consomme to the thickest chowder, enlivens the flavor without other seasoning."

Enhances Flavor Of All Vegetables



Spinach doesn't have to taste like spinach. If you serve vegetables merely because they're nutritious and help to balance your family's diet, you can really make them favorites by adding LPM. Its tantalizing flavor enhances the taste of vegetables — whether they're fresh, frozen or canned.

Sprinkle generously over baked or mashed potatoes, peas, beans, spinach, asparagus, broccoli, artichokes, brussel sprouts — as well as cabbage, cauliflower and corn on the cob.

Introduces New Flavor To Salads

If you're looking for a special way to make your salad just a little bit different — don't. Prepare it as you usually do — add your favorite dressing — then sprinkle LPM and mix.

If you prepare your own dressing add LPM to taste in place of other spices.

"Laureleaf Lemon-Pepper Marinade" Gives Zesty, Delicious Taste to All Food —Meats, Poultry, Seafood Vegetables

CAMDEN, N. J.—A new flavor has found its way to the American dinner table—a flavor that comes from the amazing blending of lemon and pepper with other spices to add a totally different, indescribably delicious taste to all foods.

Our Name — Laureleaf Lemon-Pepper Marinade Is a Mouthful... So Say "LPM"

While our product is easy on the palate, our name — LAURELEAF LEMON-PEPPER MARINADE — is a tongue twister. Originally, we wanted a functional name, one that would describe the product quickly. But our customers settled the matter for us. They refer to LAURELEAF LEMON-PEPPER MARINADE as LAURELEAF LPM . . . or "LPM." We agree, it's much easier.

Gives Exciting New Flavor To Steaks, Roasts and Chops

Heat has a remarkable effect on lemon and pepper. On contact these tiny crystals burst into rare flavor, enriching the taste of meat — steaks, roasts, chops, London Broil, hamburgers, meat loaf, liver, pork. Just sprinkle LPM before cooking — then serve. You'll taste the difference instantly — a new world of flavor, zesty, tangy, delicious flavor you've never enjoyed before.

Fish And Seafood Can Now Be Served Much More Frequently

Your family will ask for seafood more often once you serve it seasoned with LPM. All the goodness of shrimp, lobster, flounder, trout, mackerel, is enhanced with LPM.

No matter how you prepare seafood — baked, boiled, broiled, grilled, fried, stewed, braised, blanched, or poached — just sprinkle LPM, cook, and serve.

No Preparation — Just Sprinkle

LPM comes to you skillfully blended. There's nothing . . . absolutely nothing to do. Just sprinkle it on before cooking. You'll find LPM so versatile, in most instances, no other condiment is necessary.

LPM is a pure blend. It contains no chemical additives, dryers or preservatives found in most seasonings.

This new product which has captured the imagination of American women is LAURELEAF LEMON-PEPPER MARINADE. Many regular users refer to it as LPM.

Now, no matter what you cook — meat, poultry, seafood, vegetables, soups, stews — no matter how you prepare it — you can enjoy flavor you've never experienced before, a lemon-pepper flavor that will make you wonder why someone didn't think of this years ago.

Instantly, everything bursts into a zesty, tangy world of flavor. Familiar, old recipes come alive with a new taste. Everyday dishes are enriched with rare goodness. You'll reawaken an interest in your cooking, and your family will be thrilled with your "new-found recipes."

Adds Zest To Diet Foods

If you're forced to count calories and observe a diet that is understandably flat, and for the most part tasteless, you'll find the flavor of LPM a perfect answer to this problem.

LPM adds dash to mealtimes without adding to your calorie intake. So, if you're a calorie counter and want to make your food more interesting and appetizing, use LPM freely.

Everyone Will Want To Be A Barbecue Chef

Zelinskys Plan Gala Party To Celebrate Fifty Years

By BETTY FROST

The 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Zelinsky of Belvedere and San Francisco will be celebrated at a gathering for 175 friends and family members at the Windjammer Restaurant in Tiburon on Sunday. Guests have been asked to come in costumes of the 1919 era.

"It's not a party, but a celebration and thanksgiving," Mr. Zelinsky emphasized.

The former Juanita Galland became the bride of Fred Zelinsky at the home of her parents in San Francisco 50 years ago, and the couple went to Los Angeles by train on their wedding trip.

Both were native San Franciscans. Mrs. Zelinsky's forbears came to California before 1849, entitling their son, Edward Galland Zelinsky, to become affiliated with the California Society of Pioneers. Their daughter is Mrs. Alan Abrams of San Francisco. They have five grandchildren.

David Zelinsky, the Belvedere man's father, came to San Francisco in 1878, as a lad of 16. He was a painter and decorator, a career which his son, Fred, also followed. He built up the family's successful painting contracting business, D. Zelinsky and Sons, with his brothers, the late Herbert and Mervyn Zelinsky. Now his son, Edward, and nephew, Robert D. Zelinsky, own the painting firm. "I work for them," said Zelinsky with a hearty laugh.

An owner of property, including the Nob Hill apartment which is the couple's city residence, Zelinsky calls his large holdings in Tiburon's downtown area "a hobby." In this section is Juanita Lane, named for his wife.

Juanita Zelinsky enjoys puttering in the garden and playing cards with old friends. She adores travel — particularly the long trips she and her husband take each year to Europe or the Orient.

A quiet woman, she still can interject a spicy answer to her husband's pronouncements. When he teasingly suggested that marital troubles could be avoided if the wife would "give in to the old man," she retorted with an emphatic "no!"

The pair were engaged for three years while Fred served in the U. S. Army during World War I. At the time of his discharge he was wearing sergeant's stripes. At a costume party honoring their 30th anniversary, he wore his uniform, and thinks he will don military attire again for Sunday's festivities.

Not sentimental about old clothes, Mrs. Zelinsky said, "I never kept anything." Her 1919 era costume will be an elegant dinner gown, with insets of Alencon lace, borrowed from a close friend.

Their summer home in Belvedere was the former dining salon of the Pacific Mail Line "China", a paddle wheeler with balancing sails, which made regular runs from San Francisco to the Orient in the Civil War era. A number of interesting items from the maritime past accent the antique furnishings.

The future is, however, uppermost in the minds of the Zelinskys as they approach their golden anniversary. For Tiburon's Main Street — an elegant restaurant in the style of the 1860s, a possible addition to the winery and a professional building for Juanita Lane.

Eight years ago the entrepreneur donated a fishing platform for children under 16 at Elephant Rock on the Tiburon Shore. Now he is concerned about a fishing platform for senior citizens at that location.

"So many people like to fish. Older people deserve this recreation, too," he said, thoughtfully.

Pat Nixon Doll Making The Rounds

A replica right down to the last jewel of Mrs. Richard M. Nixon's inaugural ball gown is making the rounds of the nation's stores. Even the doll wearing it is the image of Pat Nixon. Harvey Berin's firm, which made Mrs. Nixon's dress, also dressed the doll, which stands a little more than three feet tall.

Mrs. Nixon's gown, as is the tradition, went immediately to the Smithsonian Institution for exhibit with the other First Lady inaugural gowns. But Berin thought that a lot of the nation which hadn't seen the slim-cut, bejewelled original might want to see what it looked like anyway. Price of the Nixon dress itself or of the dress for the doll is a carefully-kept secret by the New York manufacturer.

Adrianne Summerill Is Engaged

The engagement of Adrianne Summerill to Dr. Robert Alan Burton has been announced by her parents, Mrs. Edna Summerill of San Francisco and John Summerill of Sausalito.

Robert is the son of the Harry Burtons of San Francisco.

Adrianne is a graduate of the Ursuline School for Girls in Santa Rosa and St. Luke School of Nursing in San Francisco. She is a registered nurse and is also a junior at the University of California.

Robert is a graduate of Yale University and U.C. Medical School. He is a neurology resident at the University of California Hospital.

The couple will marry in San Franciso, and Adrianne will continue her studies at the University of California.

Antique Shop Is Renamed Laurel House

Mrs. Patrick Foster of Ross, president of the organization, says that the name change was necessitated by the confusion arising from the Northgate name used by the shopping center in Terra Linda. Originally, the name Northgate came from the fact that the Northgate Group's area is situated near the north gate of the Art and Garden Center. Now the antique shop draws its name from its location on the Laurel Grove side of the center.

Started 21 years ago in the old "bottle house" at the Art and Garden Center, the antique shop is the main continuing fund raising project of the Northgate Group. Funds raised by the organization are used to maintain and improve the center grounds. Laurel House Antiques is staffed by members of the Northgate Group from Monday through Friday from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m.

Chairman of Laurel House Antiques is Mrs. Roger Sheridan of Kentfield. Receiving and pricing chairman is Mrs. Harding McPhun of Greenbrae. Mrs. Waldemar T. Berner of San Rafael is responsible for staffing the shop. And house chairmen are Mmes. Frank Brown of San Anselmo and H. Reed Volin of San Rafael. Mrs. Sumner Orr of Ross is shop manager.

New Honors For Student Nurse

A promising, young second year nursing student at College of Marin has been selected Division Seven Student Nurse of the Year and has been awarded a second scholarship by the Ross Hospital Volunteer Service.

Despite financial and other obstacles, Judy Dietz, a San Rafael resident, maintained a 3.85 grade point average at College of Marin and won the student nurse honor in competition with nursing students from nine Bay Area colleges and nursing hospitals comprising Division Seven. She came to the attention of the Ross Hospital Volunteers last July when she applied for and received a nursing scholarship.

Judy is a native of Nebraska but received most of her elementary and high school education in Wisconsin. She received her LVN (Licensed Vocational Nurse) credential from Milwaukee Institute of Technology. After her father's death, Judy and her mother moved to Marin County, where they have resided for two years.

Judy works part time as a Licensed Vocational Nurse while maintaining a heavy study load at College of Marin. Her immediate goal is to become a registered nurse "because I like being with people and caring for them — and as an RN I can give patients better care."

She would like to specialize in pediatrics and is considering the possibility of taking further schooling to qualify her for work with mentally retarded children.

Feeling that Judy Dietz deserves extra recognition for an outstanding record and her determination, the Ross Hospital Volunteer Service has granted her an additional cash award to enable her to complete her nursing studies.

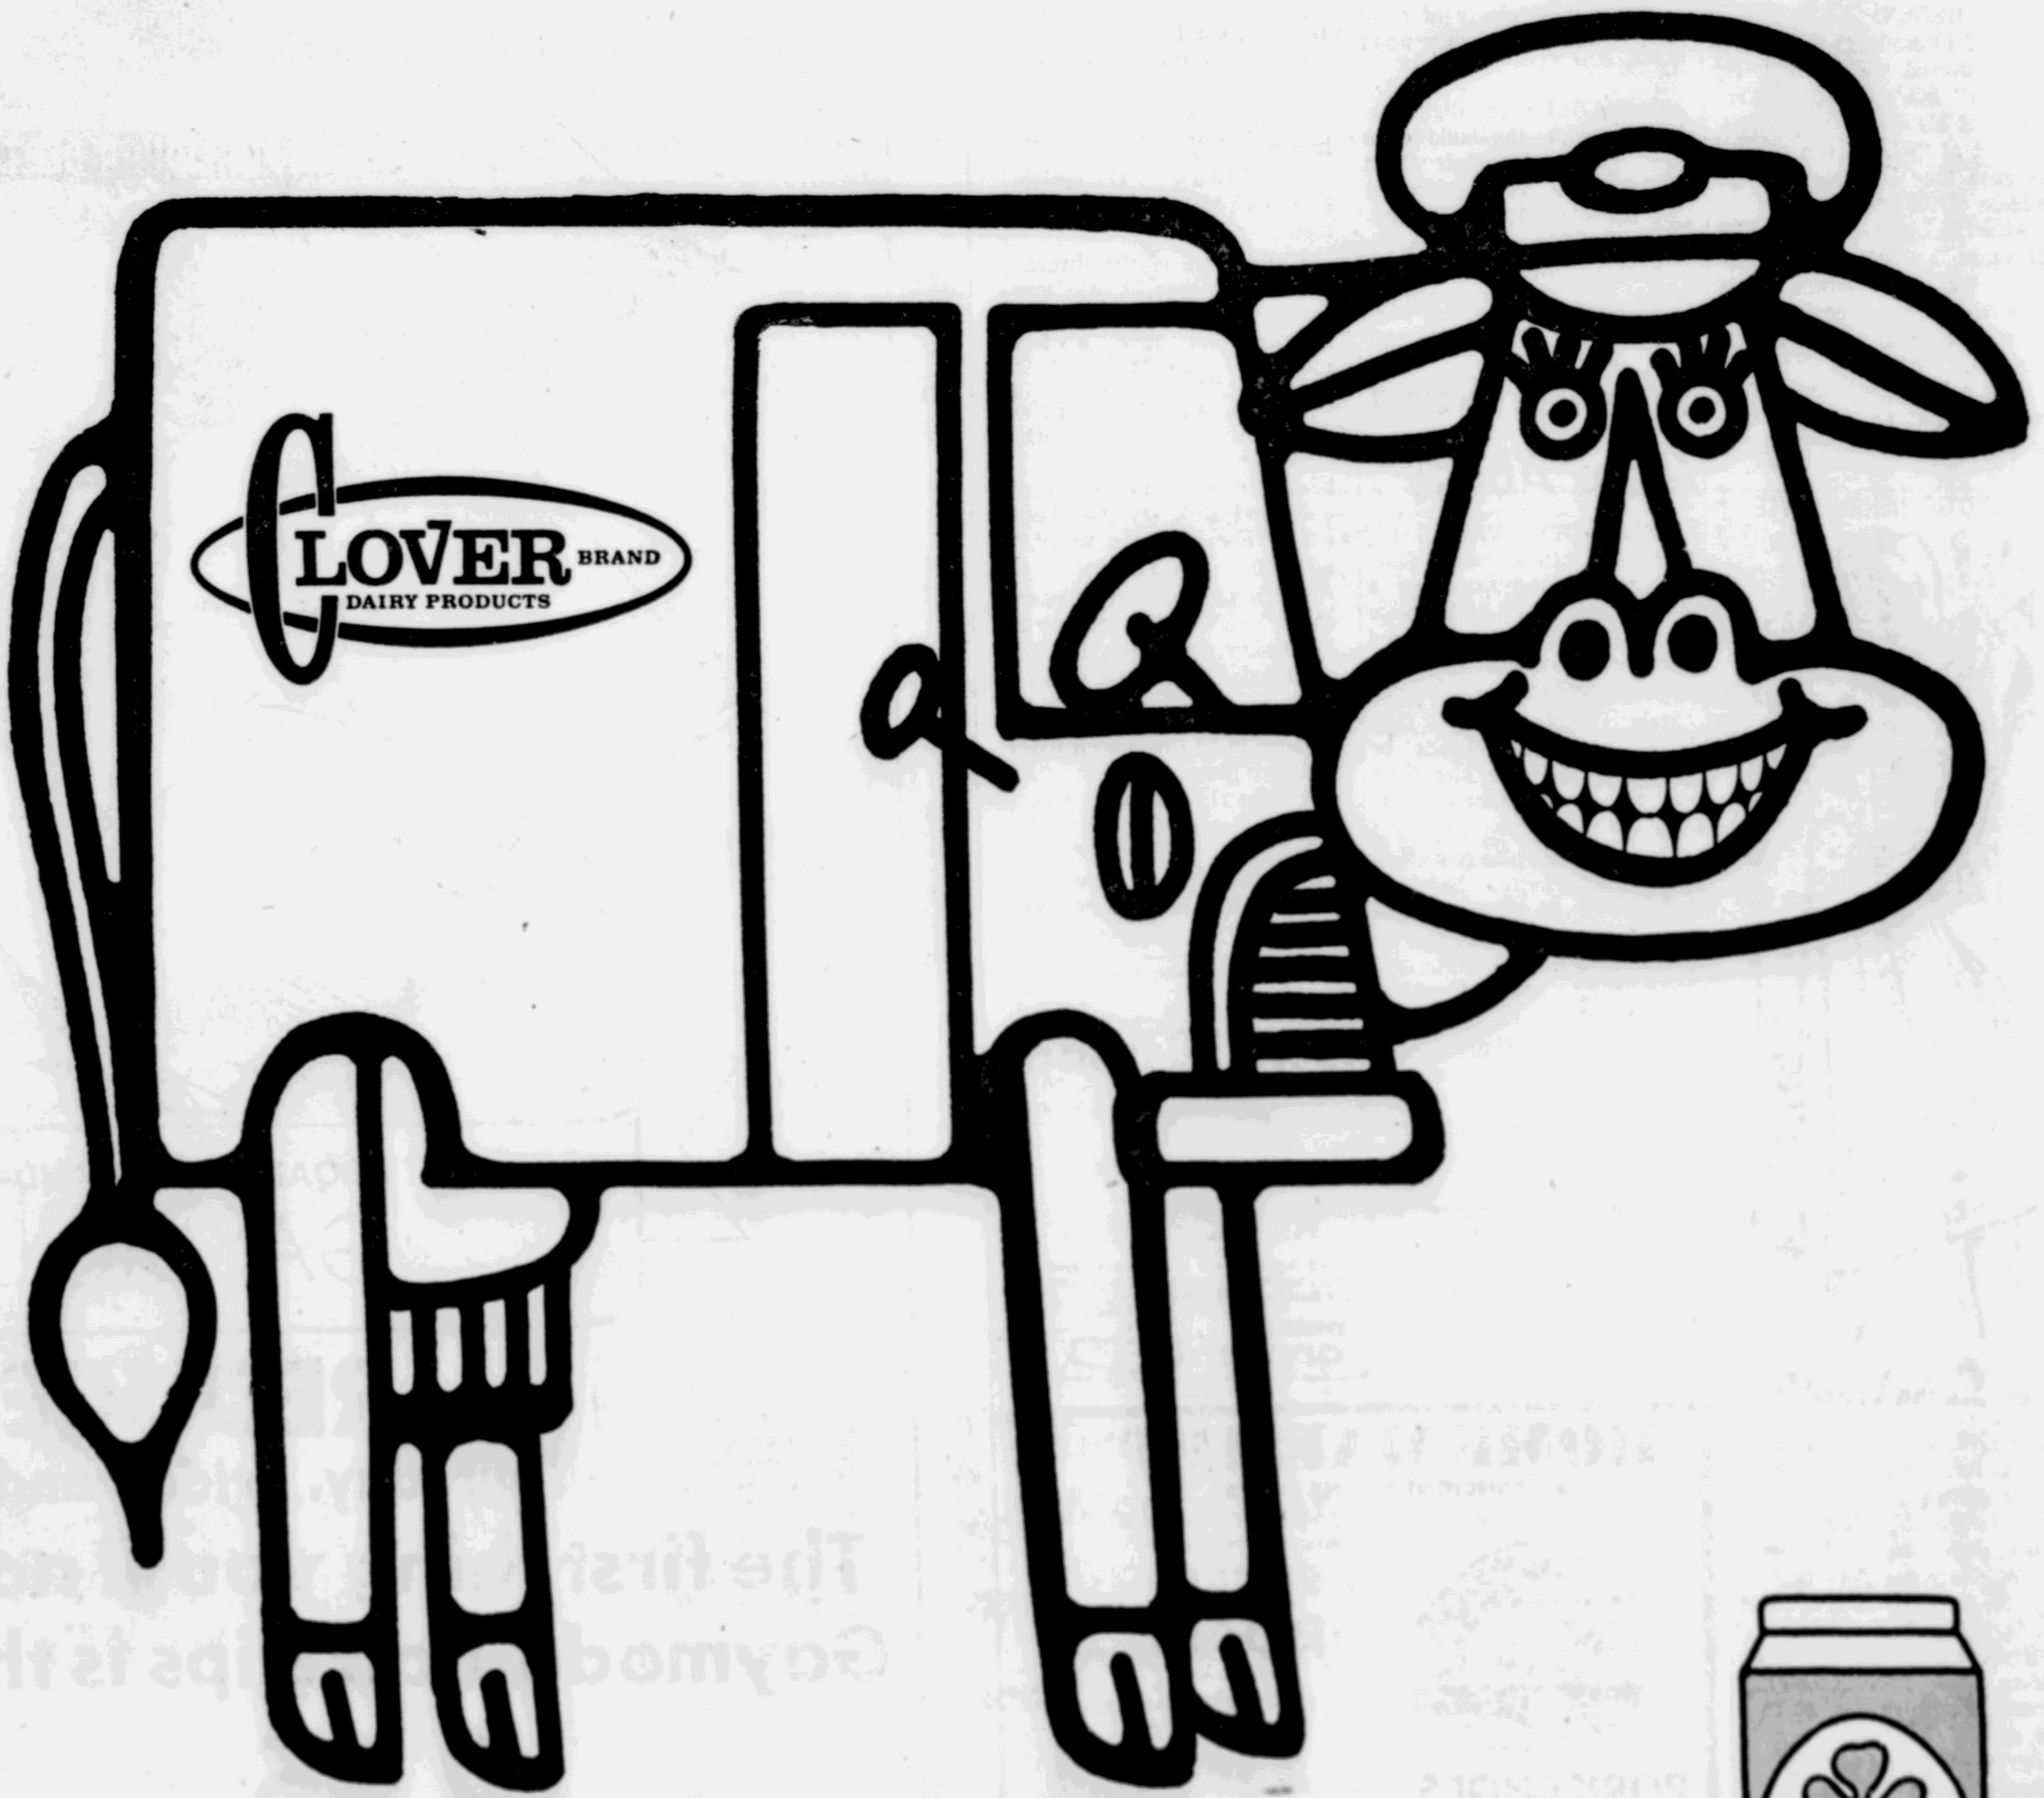
Homemakers Of The Future

A recent survey of the 13 to 19 year-old future homemaker group projects that three million girls help with the family shopping list; over seven million help with the actual shopping. Over three million of them help prepare meals, and almost seven million do the dishes.

With about 43 per cent of the nation's mothers holding jobs outside the home, this power source, untapped until recently, once again becomes important.



She delivers. Always has.

Sorry about that, Wells Fargo. But our cows have a long standing stake in this part of the country, too. You don't build the finest dairy herds in Northern California in a few years.

Future Mother-In-Law Worries About Assuming Bad Image

DEAR HELEN:

Whyohwhy is the word "mother" practically sacred, yet when you add an "in-law" to it, that same sainted person becomes a she-devil? Could a person change so quickly?

Let's start a "break the image" movement. Down with discrimination against mothers-in-law! I plan to be one someday, and I hate to think the girl our son will marry will see me first as a dreaded threat and second as someone to make jokes about. Why and how did the "in-law" thing boomerang? — FUTURE BADDY

DEAR F. B.:

I don't know who cracked the first mother-in-law joke, but he doesn't deserve a medal.

Anyone for image-breaking?—H.

DEAR HELEN:

We were recently invited to a party with thirty other guests. We are mature types who don't break furniture. The only drinking we did was coffee with the buffet lunch.

I'm sure we would have all fitted into the host's large living room, but instead we were routed to the cellar. It wasn't even fixed up as a playroom.

I am not the only one who was offended. Imagine, having a dress-up party in the basement! Next time I'll wear blue jeans and tennis shoes. Do you blame us for being mad?—BANISHED

DEAR BAN:

If guests are congenial, the food is good, and the host keeps things lively, who cares whether they meet in the cellar or the upstairs parlor? Sometimes the least pretentious parties are the most fun.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

I had to smile at the woman who suffered when her "very friendly" but cold-blooded husband set his side of the electric blanket at "5" and she roasted because they both slept in the middle of the bed.

After facing this problem for 21 years, I would like to comment that your advice about turning off her control was good — electric control switch, I mean.

I also buy my husband flannelette pajamas while I wear a sheer summerweight nightie all year round. Then we can both turn off the heat.

When all these fail, I use the oh-so-gentle nudge when he is asleep, so that he won't drag his too-warm side of the blanket over to my side; or else I sleep catty-cornered and play footsie on his side of the bed. This keeps him happy and in place.

But if nothing works, I simply roast and give thanks that after 21 years, we are still "very friendly."—MORE THAN HALF-BAKED

DEAR HELEN:

Could you tell me how come a wife can sleep through slam bang television westerns but not through the very gentle snoring of her husband? Surely the rhythm of a snore should lull a woman to sleep much better than the screams, shots and brawls on television.—NOT A BUZZ SAW

DEAR NOT:

Unanswerable question Number 8693!

I'll counter with another: How come a man can sleep through his own snoring when a "gentle" buzz saw outside his window would wake him up swearing?—H.

Susan Salmon Is Bride Of Niels T. Larsen Jr.

Susan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Millard Salmon of Thousand Palms. Mrs. Richard Champe of Tiburon is Susan's sister. She has a brother, Samuel Salmon of Long Beach, and is also the sister of Mrs. Earl Staley of San Anselmo and Mrs. Cleo Jones of San Pedro.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Niels T. Larsen of San Francisco.

Eric Swain of San Francisco was the best man. John Topham of San Francisco and Paul Stephens of Berkeley assisted wedding guests to their places.

The bride is a graduate of Palos Verdes High School in Los Angeles and is studying at the University of California, where she is a senior.

Niels is a graduate of Lowell High School, attended Menlo College and was graduated from the University of California. He is employed by the Larsen Construction Co.

The couple will live in Saratoga.

Wife Not Necessary But Kids Need Mom

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — John McCloskey, at 39, is a divorced father raising his four kids. He's done it now for seven years. In the process, he's acquired some definite opinions on child rearing. Sample:

TUESDAY: PWP - Parents Without Partners—skating party for kids.

Wednesday: PWP board meeting, our house.

Thursday: Go with Chris to accordion lesson.

Friday: Take kids to drive-in movie.

Saturday: Overnight horseback riding trip for PWP teens.

At the time of the divorce seven years ago, Vickie was seven; John six; Chris 18 months, and Erik a few months.

VICKIE, now 14, claims she does most of the housework. Dad says she doesn't break her back at it, and the boys, Chris, John and Erik say they help out —"For better or worse," adds dad.

Vickie usually starts dinner about an hour before McCloskey gets home, but he often ends up fixing the meal.

McCLOSKEY SAYS it's cheaper to be single with four children than married: "A wife would always want something — new drapes, a different couch, a new car."

But, he adds, "it's not easier to raise kids without a mom in the home."

Women Need More Ability

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI)—A Pennsylvania State University researcher says a woman seeking a job as a college professor will need better qualifications than her male competitors.

When a female plainly demonstrates superiority, however, she'll get the job, Simpson says. Simpson bases his findings on surveys sent to six private and public colleges and universities.

Based on an analysis of the surveys returned, Simpson concluded that persons who rejected female candidates for higher education employment also exhibited negative attitudes toward women in general.

Simpson, now director of placement and assistant professor of counselor education at the University of Virginia, undertook his study to fulfill requirements for a doctor of education degree at Penn State.

Marinites Make Ball Plans

By MOLLY MARIN

Enthusiasm is gaining in Marin for the revived Black and White Ball to be held Saturday evening in San Francisco.

This is the four-in-one party benefit for the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, which is considered a major social event on the West Coast.

The San Francisco Symphony itself will perform for waltzing at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel. There the decor theme will be "My Fair Symphony" — all in black and white, and Mayor Alioto is expected to open festivities as conductor.

At the Hilton Hotel one of the nation's top rock bands, The Grateful Dead, will alternate with Country Weather. The theme there is "Where It's Happening."

The Mark Hopkins Hotel will swing to San Francisco's Ernie Hecksher, and the black and white decor there will be the very now astrological setting of "The Zodiac Room."

At the St. Francis Hotel will be the continental sound of Earl Hecksher, and decor will spell out "Fun and Games."

Many Marin people are planning parties or will go in groups.

The Barlow Fergusons will be entertaining a large group in the city before going to the ball, and the Dewey Donnels of Sonoma plan a similar party. Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Skall will join the Frank deMili Hills to meet friends in the city.

The Elliot Haynes, Warren Lawrences and Richard Newells all look forward to getting together that evening. The Robert Ohrenschalls (she is president of the Marin Regional Council of the San Francisco Symphony Foundation) will join the George Caesars, Levant Browns, James Derryberrys, Frank Lougees and C. V. Denevers for dinner and dancing.

The David Dooleys, Donald Devotos and Richard Conlans have made their plans together. The Robert Greens, Courtney Benoists and David Faradays all have party plans. The Stephen Barkers also plan to attend.

OTHER MARINITES who have reserved tables are Dr. and Mrs. John D. Relfe and the Merritt Ruddocks at the Palace and the Rev. and Mrs. Angus Dun Jr. at the St. Francis.

MRS. NEVILLE RICH of Belvedere honored Mrs. Thomas Wiper at a tea Friday. Dr. and Mrs. Wiper, former Sausalito residents, have recently moved to Belvedere. The Wipers' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richart Otter, are also Belvedere residents.

MRS. PETER S. LINT of Ross was honored at a surprise birthday luncheon Friday at the Iron Horse Restaurant in San Francisco. Attending were Mmes. Francis S. Griffith, Albert J. Mohun, Clay H. Shields and Henry W. Kellum.

THE INFANT SON of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Hynes of Tiburon was christened at St. Hilary's Church, Tiburon, at 3 o'clock service Sunday.

The first son and second child of the former Molly Keil and her husband received the name William David Hynes. His aunt, Mrs. Matthew B. McGowan of San Rafael, Bill Hynes' sister, is the baby's godmother, and his uncle, Russell D. Keil Jr., Molly's brother, is the godfather.

Since young Russ is attending Wheeling College in Wheeling, W. Va., and was unable to attend, the baby's grandfather, Russell D. Keil, stood in for him at the ceremony. Young William, born Jan. 22, is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Keil of Tiburon and Mr. and Mrs. Adrien Hynes of Piedmont. His sister is Margaret Keil Hynes, 3. Close friends and family members, including Mrs. Hynes' great aunt, Mrs. Margaret F. Skehen of San Francisco, attended a reception at the Hynes home after the christening.

Hazards

Soap, water and slippery surfaces in the bathroom create hazards for all ages. A few inexpensive items such as a suction-type rubber mat or safety strips in the tub, a non-slip mat on the floor, and bathtub handholds can go a long way toward eliminating falls in the bathroom.

ON THE AGENDA

Table Settings, Interior Decorating Program Planned

A program on interior decorating with club members doing table settings in a variety of themes will follow tomorrow's 12:30 p.m. home day meeting of the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley.

Cultural arts chairman Mrs. LeRoy Everett will introduce Norma Davis, who will discuss interior decorating. She has worked as a decorator in San Francisco and has been with a designer studio in San Rafael that does commercial work as well as homes. She is particularly interested in color coordination.

Luncheon chairmen will be Mmes. Ernest Brymer and Samuel Bagshaw. Mrs. Bernard Benesh will decorate the clubhouse.

DR. CHARLES J. EPSTEIN, director of the genetics clinic at Ross General Hospital and the University of California Clinic in San Francisco, will speak on "drugs, genes and chromosomes" at a meeting tomorrow of the Junior Women's Club of Marin and the Marin March of Dimes chapter.

The speech will be held at 12:15 p.m. in Room 96 of Olney Hall at College of Marin.

MMES. ED KENNEDY and Anthony Bottini will attend the Pythian Sisters Grand Temple Convention in Santa Barbara Sunday through Friday.

ST. PETER Chanel Seminary in San Rafael invites the public to an Irish dinner Sunday from 3 to 7 p.m. in the cafeteria. Tickets may be purchased at the door. Proceeds help in the training of men for the Marist Society.

MILL VALLEY'S Bethel 119 of the International Order of Job's Daughters is holding an obligation exemplification meeting tonight to honor Mill Valley Lodge 356, Free and Accepted Masons.

Debbie Puharich is chairman for refreshments to be served following the 7:30 p.m. meeting at the Mill Valley Masonic Temple.

The group will attend the First Presbyterian Church in Sausalito Sunday on its bi-annual Go-To-Church-Sunday.

Plans are being made for a bake sale to be held at several Mill Valley markets on March 22.

THE NOVATO High School Parent-Faculty Club will have a meeting at 4 p.m. tomorrow in the lecture hall at the high school.

Mrs. Kenneth Back, president, says the agenda will include revised by-laws and a kick-off for open house week to be held April 19, with a dance that evening at the Moose Lodge.

SEVENTEEN - YEAR - OLD twins, Karen and Kathryn Kelly of Tiburon, were among the members of the Marin General Hospital Volunteers who received 100-hour service pins in February.

The Kelly girls, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kelly, were joined by Ida Jorgensen of San Rafael; Carolyn Kristensen of Fairfax and Mrs. Eugene McGeorge of Mill Valley as 100-hour pin recipients.

Six volunteers were honored with 200-hour pins: Mmes. Francis Davis, W. J. Parker Jr., Harry Pieper and Ronald Steffens of San Rafael; John Brozovich of Corte Madera, and Miss Chrystine Colwell, Greenbrae.

Mmes. Dunya Chernenko, Tiburon; Robert DeVilbiss, Larkspur; Lawrence Tuller, San Rafael, and Vincent White, Mill Valley, were awarded 300-hour pins, while Mmes. Glenn Ellingson, San Rafael; John Flannagan, Corte Madera; and George Schocket, Belvedere, received pins for 400 hours of service.

A 500-hour pin was awarded to Mrs. John Grey, Greenbrae. Mrs. Clayton Rice, San Rafael, was presented with a pin for 1000 hours, and Mrs. Murray Powers, San Rafael, received a pin for 1100 hours of service. Mrs. Raymond Little, San Francisco, recived a 1300-hour pin, and Mrs. George Ingram, San Anselmo, and Mrs. Thornton Sheehy, San Rafael, pins for 1400 hours.

Other awards went to Mrs. Samuel Farber, Mill Valley, 1900 hours; Miss Jane H. Adams, San Anselmo, 4500 hours; Mrs. Kenneth Maxwell, San Anselmo, 5100 hours; and Mrs. Russel Chatham, San Anselmo, 8900 hours.

LINDA GREEN

Miss Green To Be Wed

The engagement of Linda Anne Green to James Thomas Vincent has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Green of San Anselmo.

The sister of Shelley and Sherrey Green, Linda is a Sir Francis Drake High School graduate and attends the University of California at Davis. She will be graduated with an English major in June.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson R. Green of Larkspur are her grandparents.

James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lon P. Vincent of Watsonville. He is the brother of Thomas, Joseph, Hilary and Janiece Vincent, all of Watsonville. A graduate of Watsonville High School, he also is a student at U.C. at Davis.

The wedding has been set for Aug. 23.

ART REVIEW

Show's Main Impact Is Its Inconsistency

By LAURA DEVENDORF

The East Bay Artists Association is crawling with artists, not from East Bay but from all over the Bay Area, many of them from Marin. And with this small incongruity for starters, it doesn't seem illogical that, while this is a highly professional group its show this month at the College of Marin art gallery is a very uneven thing.

Some of the work is outstanding while some of it makes you gape in wonder.

The sculpture provides some of the association's strongest moments. John Lewis's "Family Group III" is a big biomorphic jungle of organs and tubing painted in assorted colors.

Edward T. Harland uses plexiglass to advantage in two works, one, a cloud-etched cube set between fuzzy, green, cutaway hills and the other, a three-layered mirage, the outer sections stained with red designs and the inner layer outlined by red light.

Gwen Stone shows a huge, primary-colored, geometric sculpture over which is a tiny linen collage which served as model. And in metal, Truman Fisher produces some provocative social comments while Farhad Moezzi shows two of his brooding, futuristic columns.

Among the paintings, one of the most arresting is Vivian Ormsby's "Our Thing," an acrylic and wood group of hitchhikers that is a total expression of the look, dress and youthful image now.

There are also interesting usages of non-objective shapes and detail by Ada Garfinkel and Priscilla Birge. And while the ideas are miles apart, there is a painterly consistency in the sensitive abstract landscapes by Avis de Monte and Margaret Smith, the quiet still life by Winifred Koch, Evelyn Glaubman's rumpled, painted flag and Catherine H. Nurse's impressively simple, gray canvas with its bone-shaped reach of redrawn white.

There are other very competent and exciting pieces throughout. And they form a heavy majority. But it's the few really strange, inept or lackluster things that stagger the eye. There seems to be little in between and the comparison of one extreme to the other lends a peculiar air of incongruity to an otherwise vital and worthwhile gallery experience.

State Divides Up Highway, Tobacco Tax For February

Marin County will receive $119,333 of the $68 million in highway users taxes distributed to the state, counties and cities as the February apportionment, State Controller Houston I. Flournoy announced yesterday. Sonoma County's share is $158,667.

Apportionments to cities in Marin were: Belvedere, $2,039; Corte Madera, $5,571; Fairfax, $5,051; Larkspur, $5,607; Mill Valley, $7,938; Novato, $18,627; Ross, $2,145; San Anselmo, $8,695; San Rafael, $23,422; Sausalito, $4,625 and Tiburon, $4,241.

Southern Sonoma cities' apportionments were Petaluma, $15,167; Cotati, $1,344, and Rohnert Park, $3,750.

Flournoy also announced distribution of $5.1 million in cigarette tax money with $5,173 as Marin's share and $19,828 as unincorporated Sonoma's share of the February apportionment.

Apportionments to the cities were: Belvedere, $436; Corte Madera, $3,490; Fairfax, $1,483; Larkspur, $1,831; Mill Valley, $2,908; Novato, $6,074; Ross, $449; San Anselmo, $2,784; San Rafael, $14,886; Sausalito, $2,680; and Tiburon, $1,365.

Southern Sonoma apportionments were, Petaluma, $5,865; Cotati, $454, and Rohnert Park, $944.

$1,000 Fine For Showing Film

BOSTON (AP) — A theater manager has been fined $1,000 and sentenced to six months in jail on the charge of showing an obscene picture—"The Killing of Sister George."

Joseph Sasso of Peabody, the manager of the Cheri Theaters, was convicted yesterday in Boston Municipal Court. He appealed the conviction to Suffolk Superior Court and was released in $1,000 personal recognizance.

Chief Justice Elijah Adlow, who saw the film Monday night, said he would approve it if the last five minutes were eliminated.

Defense attorneys said this could not be done.

DRAMA REVIEW

Carney Does Magic With Irish Duet

By JAMES E. WILLIAMS

SAN FRANCISCO — Art Carney brought his magical theatrical quality to the Curran Theater last night in Irish playwright Brian Friel's "Lovers," two one-act companion plays.

Lack of a warm reception for Friel's first play was clearly evident midway through, however, when one playgoer in the rear of the first floor yelled out: "Boy, this is terrible!" and quickly exited.

While his feelings may have reflected audience disappointment at the lack of a fatter role for Carney in the first play, Friel's ideas are first rate with the dialogue being the key to splendid characterization development.

The first, "Winners," tells the story of a boy and girl planning their future married life together while the narrator at the side (Carney) reveals they will die within the day.

"Losers," the second, brings Carney to the center of the stage as the no longer young suitor who has to take on a pious mother-in-law.

Anna Manahan as Hanna and Eamon Morrissey as Joe in "Winners" are admirable as the light-hearted young lovers who must build a future with a child already on the way.

With dreamy dialogue from each Friel, whose "Philadelphia Here I Come!" was a smash hit, cites the pomposity of the establishment.

As the narrator intones later, the bodies for propriety's sake were buried in separate graves and each in its own family plot.

It has almost an "Our Town" quality with a small raised stage and the barest props. Likewise the set was kept simple for the second play.

While there are a few sluggish moments in the first play director Hilton Edwards of Dublin Gate Theater has to be commended for the tender performances from the pair.

Carney with a delightful Irish brogue and a bounce in his feet proves himself a wonderfully human person as Andy in the "Losers." The role further establishes Carney, late of Jackie Gleason's "The Honeymooners" and more recently of "The Odd Couple" on Broadway, as a polished performer.

He was equally matched by Fionnuala Flanagan as Mag, his wife.

Adding to the overall hilarity were Grania O'Malley as Mrs. Wilson and Mairin D. O'Sullivan as Cissy, who while seeing their beloved St. Philomena outlawed, re-establish the church's reign in Andy's household.

"Lovers" continues at the Curran through Sunday with the curtain at 8:30 p.m. with the exception of Sunday at 7 p.m. and a matinee at 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

Catholic Students Prepare Comedy

The first musical comedy production in the school's history will be presented by the Marin Catholic High School senior class when they stage "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" Friday, Saturday and Sunday at 8 p.m. in the school gym.

A cast of 40 students, directed by Father David Pettingill, is involved in the production. Tickets will be sold at the door.

Actor Rescued

DINGLE, Ireland (UPI)—Actor John Mills was knocked unconscious for 10 minutes yesterday when a wave capsized the boat in which he and Trevor Howard were filming 100 yards off shore. Both men were rescued by the film crew.

Liz Released

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actress Elizabeth Taylor was released from a hospital yesterday after tests for a degenerating spinal disc "showed nothing of a serious nature," according to her physician.

Harvard's Oldest Living Grad Dies

BROOKLINE, Mass (AP) — Winthrop Pitt Tryon, who was the oldest living graduate of Harvard died yesterday at the age of 99.

Born at Cape Elizabeth, Maine, he was graduated from Harvard in 1892, taught Greek and Latin, and later became the music critic of the Christian Science Monitor, working in New York.

Marin Music Fete Set For 500 Pupils

Five hundred top music students will participate in the fourth annual Marin County Elementary School Honor Music Festival to be held at 7 p.m., Sunday, at the College of Marin gymnasium, Kentfield.

The event is sponsored by music teachers of 12 Marin County school districts, assisted by the County Superintendent of Schools office, AlvaRetta Murray, general chairman, said today.

The students, sixth, seventh and eighth graders, will hold three rehearsals before the performance. They will be at the gymnasium at 4 p.m., Friday, and at 9 a.m. and 1:30 p.m., Saturday. The public is welcome to attend.

The festival has three honor groups — band, chorus and orchestra. These groups will be directed by guest conductors who held the same positions last year.

They are Verne M. Sellin, a San Francisco Symphony Orchestra violinist since 1946, for the orchestra and Jock Budelman, for the chorus, who is a Seattle music teacher and founder of the Seattle Boys' Choir and Robert Lutt, chairman of the performing arts department, Berkeley High School.

Larkspur School District will be the host district and admission will be free.

Adult Courses Are Announced

The adult education program of the San Rafael City Schools has released a list of a wide range of courses which will be held during the spring quarter from March 24 through June 5.

Classes are open to all persons 18 years and older not now attending day high school. The $5 tuition fee is not charged for Americanization classes, any student under 21 or anyone enrolled in a program leading to an elementary certificate or high school diploma.

For additional information on classes, detailed brochures will be available Monday at stores, banks, libraries and schools throughout San Rafael. Most classes will be held at San Rafael or Terra Linda High Schools.

Federal Fund Drought Puts End To Budding Legal Aid Program

By JOANNE GRANT

Marin's blossoming legal assistance program will end March 31, five months and 10 days after it started, despite the fact that "business is booming."

The program, begun by the Marin County Legal Aid Society on a federal grant, will run out of money at the end of the month and James Kovacs, the attorney in charge, sees little hope of a reprieve.

"We havs been told we would have a month to phase out," Kovacs reported. However, he said the office in the Albert Building will close at the end of the month and April would be used to finish cases pending in court.

The federal grant, for $20,000, was received more than two years after $80,000 was asked, and was for a six-month program.

Attorneys had hoped the program would be such a success it would speak for itself in a request for funds to continue it. Kovacs believes it has been a success, but that funds are simply not available.

The Legal Aid Society program is specifically for poor persons involved in civil cases. Criminal cases are handled by the public defender.

Kovacs reported local cases have ranged from evictions to divorces to welfare inequities. The number of evictions has been rising at an alarming rate, he reported, with many of the persons being evicted after two years of residency.

Besides the legal work done by the society, advisory services are provided.

For example, someone on the verge of eviction would be referred to the Housing Authority.

Others are referred to Lynn Bishop, the society's community worker, Kovacs said.

A woman seeking a divorce, for example, "has far deeper problems" than the legal technicalities, he explained.

Mrs. Bishop helps calm them, advises on job seeking and child care and other problems. "She knows what she's doing, she's been through it all herself," said Kovacs. Mrs. Bishop, mother of six, had been on welfare before taking the job with the Legal Aid Society.

Besides the services in the main office, evening programs are maintained in Marin City and San Rafael.

The Marin City office, staffed by an attorney from the Contra Costa County Legal Aid, has been operating since mid-January from 8 to 10 p.m. each Wednesday.

The San Rafael office, in the Economic Opportunity Center multi-service center, is open the same hours, staffed by local volunteer attorneys.

Initial interviews are conducted in the evening programs and then the cases go to the main office for actual handling.

Kovacs estimated it would take a minimum of $50,000 to continue the program for a year — $50,000 the society doesn't have.

He predicted the society would return to its former practice of operating a part-time office with donations and using volunteers to handle emergency cases only.

U.C. Financial 'Uncertainty' Prompts Switch

STANFORD (UPI) — D. Linus Pauling, the controversial nuclear chemist who is the only American to win two Nobel Prizes, is leaving the University of California to join the faculty at Stanford University.

In a statement issued yesterday, the 68-year-old Pauling said one reason for the change was "the present uncertainty about continued financial support of the University of California."

Pauling said the medical school at U.C. San Diego, where he has spent the last two years, "has already built up a staff of some of the best physicians and medical scientists in the United States —but there is the possibility now that decreased support by the State of California will prevent its further development at the rate it had been planned."

Yorty Appeals Paper Libel Suit

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Mayor Sam Yorty has appealed the dismissal of his $2 million libel suit against the Los Angeles Times over an editorial cartoon.

Yorty contended in the original suit that the political cartoon implied he was insane in believing he could be appointed Secretary of Defense.

The cartoon by artist Paul Conrad was published Nov. 19. The Times later explained in an editorial that it did not mean to imply Yorty was mentally ill.

Ray's New Quarters Much Less Elaborate

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — James Earl Ray will live for the next six weeks or so in a prison cell nine feet long and six feet wide, with the Negro slayer of a policeman as his nearest neighbor.

The confessed assassin of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., will occupy the cell—No. 4 in the state penitentiary's maximum security section—while undergoing orientation and classification.

Then, Warden Lake Russell said yesterday, Ray will be assigned a prison job and treated as far as possible like other inmates while serving time against his 99-year sentence. It will be 30 years before Ray, 41, can be eligible for parole.

There are 32 other cells along the three corridors of the squat maximum security building. There are 26 other prisoners, but cells on both sides of Ray are vacant.

In the occupied cell closest to him is William Garvin Allen, a Black Power advocate convicted earlier this year of killing a member of the Nashville police force.

Allen said he had no special feeling about his proximity to Ray.

Trio Named As Cosa Nostrans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Californians—Joseph Cerrito of San Jose, James Lanza of San Francisco and Nicolo Licata of Los Angeles—are listed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., as leaders of the underworld's Cosa Nostra.

McClellan, in a Senate speech, called the Cosa Nostra a national criminal syndicate and listed its leaders in 22 cities. He said the organization drains billions of dollars a year from the U.S. economy.

The Arkansas senator said a ruling body known as the Commission supervises the 22 families of Costa Nostra. He named Cerrito, Lanza and Licata as members of the Commission.

Senate Approval Of Arms Treaty Is Likely Tomorrow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate backers of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty, showing their muscle in a test vote, have made it clear they intend to send the White House a pact with no strings attached.

In a 61-30 vote yesterday, the Senate rejected a proposal by Democrat Sam Ervin of North Carolina to add a reservation to the treaty declaring the United States was not obligated to defend nonnuclear nations from atomic attack.

Although other reservations were before the Senate today, the initial test made ratification, possibly tomorrow, appear all but certain.

Ervin said that without his reservation this country might find itself confronted with demands to respond to a nuclear attack.

But Chairman J. W. Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, floor manager for the treaty, insisted no such commitments were involved and the Ervin reservation was not needed.

The vote came on a motion to table and thus kill the North Carolinian's proposal.

As long ago as the 1st Century A.D., the Emperor of China awarded medals to his military commanders.

Hickel May Expand Oil Sanctuary

NEW YORK (AP) — Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel is drafting a plan to increase the sanctuary off the Santa Barbara coast where oil drilling is prohibited, the New York Times said today.

The newspaper said in a story from its Washington bureau that the enlarged sanctuary would be one of a number of measure to combat pollution and allow full public review of future leases on federal offshore lands.

The Times added that Hickel was said to be considering shutting down the Union Oil Co's operations at the site where a well blew out in January spreading an oil slick over 50 square miles of sea.

That area, amounting to 5,760 acres, would be added to the enlarged sanctuary, the newspaper said.

The Times said Hickel was understood to have demanded that oil companies holding federal leases off California allow full access to their exploratory and drilling records before deciding whether drilling will be resumed.

The drilling was halted after widespread protests over the oil leakage.

A review of tougher regulations by California officials was also in the offing before Hickel decides on whether to resume offshore operations, the Times said.

FRANK W. BOYKIN
Elected 14 times

Ex-Lawmaker Frank Boykin Dies At 84

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Rep. Frank W. Boykin, D-Ala., who retired in 1962 after a 27-year congressional career, died today in George Washington University Hospital. He was 84.

The hospital said Boykin suffered from congestive heart failure. He most recently entered the hospital about two weeks ago.

Boykin entered the House in 1935 after winning a special election to fill a vacancy. He won re-election to 13 successive terms and, at the beginning of his last two-year term in 1962, became dean of the Alabama delegation.

He was a native of Mobile, Ala., and before and during his years in Congress enjoyed a successful business career.

As a businessman he was identified with real estate, farming, livestock, timber, lumber, naval stores, and the development of South Alabama's timber and mineral resources.

During World War I he was an official in shipbuilding companies that, Boykin said, built 52 per cent of all naval vessels constructed on the Gulf Coast prior to the end of the war.

Boykin was married to the former Ocllo Gunn of Thomasville, Ala. The couple had five children.

Actress, 41, Vanishes On Hunt For Dog

NEW YORK (AP) — Police have issued a 50-state alarm for Mona Crawford, an attractive blonde actress who disappeared under "suspicious circumstances" while trying to retrieve a stolen poodle.

The 41-year-old actress, whose real name is Mona Sherman, has appeared on stage, in night clubs and was recently featured as "the girl on the seesaw" in a television cigarette commercial.

She was reported missing Sunday by Hyman Schick, a dairy farmer from Wayland, Mass. He told police he was with her in her apartment when she received a telephone call about 6 p.m. from a woman with a Spanish accent.

The woman reportedly said: "If you want your dog back, come alone to Broadway and 90th Street at 8 p.m. Don't bring anyone with you."

Miss Crawford's two poodles, Cappy and Romeo, had been stolen from her car on Feb. 10 near Broadway and 90th Street. She advertised in English and Spanish newspapers promising a reward.

On Feb. 15 Miss Crawford was contacted by a Bronx woman who said she had bought a dog from a man she did not know in the same area on the 10th. The dog was Cappy and Miss Crawford paid a $200 reward.

World Art Gallery

PRAGUE (UPI) — A gallery of world art will be founded in the village of Lidice, Czechoslovakia, to house 300 works contributed by artists around the globe in memory of Lidice. The village was burned by the Nazis in World War II after they had executed all the men.

Nurse Faces Trial On Theft Charges

A motion to dismiss grand theft charges against a 41-year-old Santa Rosa practical nurse has been denied by Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Superior Court.

Vera May Walsh pleaded innocent to taking a diamond ring and glassware from the home of her former employers in Fairfax. A jury trial was set for Monday for the week of April 14.

Mrs. Walsh has also been the center of an investigation into the death of one of her patients in Santa Rosa.

The body of Mrs. Gloria Giannis, 42, was found in Mrs. Walsh's Santa Rosa apartment Jan. 10, wrapped in a sheet and blanket and tied with a cord. Authorities said Mrs. Giannis, who had been released into Mrs. Walsh's care from Mendocino State Hospital, died of an overdose of drugs.

The Sonoma County Grand Jury plans to review the facts of that case on March 20, according to Sonoma officials. No charges in the matter have been filed against Mrs. Walsh.

Students Allowed Broader Scope In Patriotic Rites

A flag raising ceremony, patriotic music or historic quotations can be used by Terra Linda or San Rafael high school students as patriotic observances for the rest of the school year.

The San Rafael Board of Education approved these variations last night, but noted that by law the daily pledge of allegiance would have to be included.

Without board sanction the students would have been limited to the daily pledge of allegiance in all classes, a practice they contended had become meaningless to students.

Philip Maley, recording secretary of the Irate Taxpayers of Marin asserted the pledge is never meaningless. Perhaps, the schools have failed to set the example which creates proper respect, he said.

He closed with a personal plea for loyalty and respect for the flag, which drew applause.

Ken Downs, a member of the Terra Linda High School committee on patriotic observances, explained the variations were designed to provide a broader scope, a more relevant way for patriotic observances.

After Downs outlined the program, Maley conceded that the proposed ceremonies sounded good, and would help lend meaning to the pledge.

Board members asked students to report back at the end of the semester on the effectiveness of the program.

San Rafael High School didn't request the change in patriotic observances, but the board's ruling also applies to it.

Coffee Machine Set For Library

The Sausalito Library Board has approved placing a coffee machine in the library, subject to approval by the city manager.

The board Monday night also approved a list of written library policies and procedures, which Librarian Kathleen Worsley said held only minor changes.

The board was told painting contractors have not yet submitted bids for proposed painting in the library. The city council will open and act on the bids.

Ozone Risk For Supersonic Jets

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A pathologist warned today that high flying supersonic airlines will have to cope with ozone, a potentially dangerous ingredient of smog.

Ozone, a sweet smelling gas, is a form of oxygen that dries and irritates mucus linings in the nose, throat and around eyes.

Dr. Werthamer said that at high altitudes it is generated in large concentrations when ultraviolet sunlight reacts with ordinary oxygen.

Dorothy Draper Dies At 79

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Dorothy Draper, interior decorator, designer and columnist, died yesterday after a long illness. She was 79.

Mrs. Draper, mother of San Francisco Chronicle reported George T. Draper of Sausalito, became known in the late 1930s as a pioneer in the use of vivid colors and "total corrdination" in interior decoration.

Her first major project in interior design was the Hampshire House Apartment Hotel at 150 Central Park West in New York.

Other hotel designs she devised include the Greenbrier Hotel in White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., the Drake in Chicago, the Mayflower in Washington and the Carlyle in New York.

Mrs. Draper chose colors for the 1952 Packard automobile and, in 1960, designed the interior of the Convair 880 airplane.

She was the author of three books, "Decorating is Fun," "Entertaining is Fun," and "365 Shortcuts to Home Decorating." Her column "Ask Dorothy Draper," appears in 70 newspapers.

She was born in Tuxedo Park, N.Y., the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tuckerman. She married Dr. George Draper in 1912. They were divorced in 1930.

Mrs. Draper is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Diana Draper Bigelow of Colorado Springs, Colo., and Mrs. Penelope Draper Buchanan of Cleveland, Ohio; the son, Draper of Sausalito, and six grandchildren.

Private funeral services will be held in Newport, R.I.

Ross Council May Act On Street Pact

The Ross Town Council at its meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow will consider the joint agreement between Ross and San Anselmo on the Bolinas Avenue and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard intersection.

Other items on the agenda at town hall include a resolution requesting urban thoroughfare funds for Project 41 and a general government budget

Jury Sets Price Tag On Peacock Gap Site

San Rafael Board of Education got the word last night that it would cost $190,001 for a 9.1-acre elementary school site at Riviera and Biscayne dirve, Peacock Gap. (Another San Rafael Board of Education story, page 1).

Board members got a letter from Richard V. Godino, assistant county counsel, that the jury had arrived at a price of $190,001 in the district's condemnation actiona against N.Y.-Cal Industrial Corp. to acquire the site.

Appraisers for San Rafael City Schools set the value of the site at about $155,000, while appraisals by the defendant were $275,000 and $295,000, Godino noted.

Board members have three choices: Appeal the decision, pay the judgment and complete the acquisition or abandon the proceedings, Godino said.

If the board abandons the condemnation, the San Rafael City Schools would have to pay the defendant's attorney and appraiser fees, he pointed out.

Board members took no action, but indicated a decision would be made soon.

San Rafael Board Of Education Also:

MATERIALS CENTER — Heard a report from James Nelson, assistant superintendent, instructional services, on the need to establish an instructional materials center for all grades K-12, and his recommendation that such a center be housed at the former administration building at Mission Avenue and High Street.

Jewelry Stolen

Burglars kicked in an air vent panel at the home of Gene W. Steers of 3 Baltus Lane, Sleepy Hollow, Friday and stole miscellaneous jewelry and cigarette lighters, sheriff's deputies said yesterday.

San Joaquin Delta College President Quits

Bortolazzo, 53, had headed the 5,500-student junior college since July 1, 1968 and previously had served 12 years as president of the college of San Mateo. For four years prior to that he had led Stockton College, predecessor of Delta College.

Bortolazzo said the reason for his resignation, to be effective June 30, was "exhaustion, physical and emotional. I have some things I want to do."

But he offered to stay on as a consultant while the school creates its first permanent campus as the result of a $19.8 million bond issue March 4 Bartolazzo backed.

The state flower of Missouri is the hawthorn.

TOOLS ON A ROOFTOP—Would-be San Anselmo store burglars relinquished these professional tools last night when surprised on Braverman's Furniture Store roof. Two Found On Store Roof With Tool Kit

Two apparent would-be burglars were arrested by San Anselmo police last night after the men were found on the roof of Braverman's Furniture Store with a bag if sophisticated tools in their possession, police reported today.

Booked on suspicion of burglary and possession of burglary tools were Howard Tennyson Payne, 48, Oakland shipping clerk, and Phillip Martin Steward, 29, with no known address.

Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani, who took part in the arrest, described the men as "well dressed" and carrying a "very dignified" set of burglary tools.

Steward, said the chief, "rattled off sections of the criminal code, which he said he'd studied for three years. He was as cool as anything, and after reciting recent Supreme Court decisions, said, 'Do you think I'm going to talk after those decisions?' "

Officer Richard Kilday reported he was patrolling at 10:40 p.m. on Spring Grove Avenue which is even with the roof level of the store at 208 Greenfield Avenue.

Shining his spotlight onto the roof, he spotted two persons crouching next to the skylight. He ordered the men to stand fast and radioed for help.

In the bag was a 38-foot, three-eights-inch manila rope which Chief Buchignani believes was to be used to lower the men into the store after they had got through the skylight.

"The tools would indicate that they were going to hit a safe,"

Also in the bag were a saw, tire iron, power drill, hammer, many bits, wire cutters, needle nose plyers, screwdrivers and a crescent wrench. The men were unarmed, police said.

Buchignani said that Payne admitted to being on parole for armed robbery. Bail was set at $5,000 on Payne and $2,500 on

Rancho Olompali Resident Killed On Borrowed Cycle

A 37-year-old resident of Rancho Olompali north of Novato was killed at 3:20 p.m. yesterday in a motorcycle accident on Atherton Avenue just east of Bugeia Lane, Novato, police said.

Dead on arrival at Novato General Hospital was Eugene Joseph Head.

The owner of the motorcycle, Joe Daniel Boudreaux of Santa Rosa, who loaned him the machine a few minutes earlier at Joe's Crossroads tavern on Highway 101 at Atherton Avenue, told police that he had known the victim for the past four years as James Capello.

A witness to the accident, Catherine Allen of 652 Peach Street, Novato, told police that she saw the motorcycle turn from Bugeia Lane eastbound on Atherton Avenue, swerve to the wrong side of the road and hit the ditch. She could not estimate the speed, she said.

Police reported that Head was issued a citation on Monday by the California Highway Patrol for driving without a license.

Walter Doyle of Rancho Olompali identified the body as that of Head at the Redwood Chapel Funeral Home.

The accident brought to five the number of traffic deaths in Marin this year, one more than at this time in 1968.

The coroner's office reported that Head was born in Missouri and had lived in California for the past 35 years. He is survived by a sister, Esther Butler of Sacramento, according to the coroner's office.

No one at Rancho Olompali today could give any further information about Head other than he had lived at the ranch for about a year.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Redwood Chapel.

School Group To See Reagan

Four members of the Marin County Steering Committee for Quality Kindergarten Education will have a private audience with Gov. Ronald Reagan tomorrow at 3:10 p.m. to discuss a possible amendment to the governor's education bill.

The committee representatives — Laura Fagan, Marsha Smith, Beverly Cooper and Marianne Linder — are seeking state funds to continue single session kindergarten classes, which would allow team teaching techniques with more individual attention for students.

Topcoat Stolen

Samuel Williams of 725 Bamboo Terrace, Terra Linda, reported to Marin County sheriff's deputies that a topcoat was stolen from a car parked in his driveway Monday. No valuation on the coat was given.

Burn Victim Fair

James Agnew, 24, of San Francisco was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital after being admitted Monday with second degree burns of the hands and face. Agnew was working on a new roof at the Army Corps of Engineers building in Sausalito when a tar pot ignited momentarily and burned him.

Officers Sniff Marijuana, Arrest Three

Wafting marijuana smoke led last night to arrest of three 20-year-olds in a San Anselmo home reportedly sprinkled with marijuana seeds, $1,000 in hashish and narcotics paraphernalia, police said today.

Arrested wrer Paul Frederick Mehrten of 635 Barberry Lane, San Rafael; Rae Dawn Hirsch of 109 Allyn Avenue, San Anselmo, and Carl King, who gave no address.

The were booked into Marin County Jail for investigation of possession of narcotics, being in a home where marijuana was being used and possession of narcotics paraphernalia. Bails were set at $3,125 on King, and $625 on Merhten and Miss Hirsch.

Found in dresser drawers and on tops of dressers and tables, police said, were the hashish, a quart jar of marijuana seeds, several containers of white power and a loaded .38-caliber five-shot revolver, according to police. Also found, they said, were hypodermic needles and syringes.

Sgt. Grant Thompson and Patrolman Richard Schmidt stopped at the house at 7:45 p.m. to ask about the car parked in the same place for about a week.

Mehrten opened the door, police said, and walked out past both officers, as if to lead them away from the door.

Thomspson stepped in to talk to Miss Hirsch, noticed what appeared to be the smell of burining marijuana and placed all three under arrest.

Officers said that they are analyzing confiscated white powder and capsules. They also reported that King was on probation for a prior narcotics violation. The three persons are unemployed, police added.

School Plans For Summer Announced

A joint summer school program for the Mill Valley and Sausalito school districts has been approved by the Mill Valley School District board.

The program will start June 25 and run for four weeks with kindergarten through fifth grade students attending Alto, Park and Tamalpais Valley schools and graduating fifth through seventh grade students at Edna Maguire School.

Some 1,400 students, 400 of whom will be bussed from the Sausalit School District, are expected to attend the daily program which will run from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. daily.

Students from Mount Carmel School, a private Catholic school in Mill Valley, will also attend.

The Mill Valley School District board also:

ELECTION — Formally ordered an election June 3 for the proposed 75-cent increase in the district's general fund tax rate from $2.25 to $3.

LEASE — Authorized board chairman Joseph E. Bodovitz to sign a lease agreement with the city to place the community recreation center on school district property at Camino Alto and East Blithedale Avenue.

CLOSED SESSION — Took no action following a closed session to discuss employment and dismissal of district personnel and to instruct Supt. James A. Collins on salary negotiations.

LEAVES — Granted leaves of absence for Carol Arntz, Edna Maguire Middle School teacher, to travel and study abroad; and Fred A. Brown, Martin Luther King School, personal health reasons.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted resignations from Jacquelin Berreman, now on maternity leave; Ellen Crawford Brown, now on maternity leave; Gary Grunest, Martin Luther King School, personal reasons; Howard E. Harrison, Old Mill School kindergarten teacher, personal reasons, and Marilyn M. Lee, Marin Terrace School, maternity resignation.

EMPLOYMENT — Authorized the employment of Ann Halvorsen as kindergarten teacher at Homestead School at a salary of $2,150 for the remainder of the school year.

$125 Lawn Tiller Taken From Yard

Robert H. Herr of 10 Lucky Drive, Corte Madera, reported the theft of a lawn tiller valued at $15 from the yard at his home to sheriff's deputies yesterday.

Herr told deputies the theft could have occurred any time between March 1 and 11.

Shingles Stolen From Building Site

Twelve bundles of cedar shingles worth $86 were stolen from in front of a construction site at 32 Lochness Lane, San Rafael, Monday night, police said today.

Early School Training Plan

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill to allow mentally retarded but trainable children to enter school training programs at the age of three was introduced yesterday by Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael.

Three-year-old children with physical handicaps have been accepted for special school programs for some time, McCarthy noted, thus his bill would extend "the same kind of head start" to mentally handicapped children.

"It will bring the parents into earlier contact with professionals in many cases, and having their retarded child in school will allow many fathers and mothers to devote to their other children the time they are often robbed of by the needs of the handicapped one."

To Open Campaign

James Richwagen, a trustee candidate in the April 15 Reed Union School District election, will open his campaign at a 3 p.m. reception Sunday at the Melvin R. Dransfield residence at 2160 Vistazo East, Tiburon. Richwagen said he hopes to get a "parent pulse" from guests from different areas of the Reed district.

FLOATS OUT

Firemen Draw Horse From Well

A horse stuck in a well behind 130 Deer Hollow Road yesterday was rescued by the San Anselmo Fire Department and a quantity of swimming pool water.

Firemen received word at 3:48 p.m. that the horse, Patsy, owned by Samuel Levine, was stuck in the well behind his home, after breaking through rotted timbers covering the well.

Arriving on the scene, firemen figured the horse was standing on the bottom and began pumping the water out of the well.

But Patsy just kept going down and down as the water was removed and firemen decided that that rescue method wouldn't work. Besides, the horse appeared to be tiring because only her nose was sticking out, firemen said.

Then, Fireman Kenneth J. Marshall, on the department's first rescue-a-horse-from-a-well mission, suggested pumping water in from a nearby swimming pool to raise the horse to the top. It worked—Patsy was saved.

"She was exhausted, poor fella," a fireman said. "She just lay there for about 20 minutes." Otherwise, the horse seemed all right.

Work Furlough Inmate Succeeds

San Quentin's first work furlough inmate, Matthew Zaleck, will begin a three year parole tomorrow after commuting from the prison to work at a San Francisco car sales agency since November.

In that period of working outside the prison, Zaleck, 43, has paid all his bills from his own earnings and is now buying a car. He served seven years for a Siskiyou robbery and assault and will be discharged from parole in 1972.

Zaleck is the second man to complete the program. Of three others in the program, two have run away. Despite the setbacks, the program directors plan to continue with several other inmates.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

The Automatic Redouble Is Usually A Costly Venture

On my recent cruise to the Far East I discovered that one of the best bridge players in Tokyo reacts angrily when an opponent has the gall to double him. "Redouble — and down two!" he shouts. This is an expensive habit, but it may be cheaper than going to the psychiatrist.

SOMETHING EVIL

In today's hand the double warned South that something evil was about to happen. If South had taken the double seriously (as he should have), he would have run to four notrump, which he would have made, instead of redoubling.

West doubled because the bidding told him that the opponents held at least seven spades. This meant that East had a singleton spade at most. West expected to open the ace of spades and then lead the seven of spades for East to ruff.

This high spade continuation would call for a return in the higher of the two other side suits — diamonds rather than clubs. West would get in with the ace of diamonds to lead another spade, and East's second ruff would defeat the contract.

BIG DIFFERENCE

All of this came to pass, and West eventually got a trick with the king of clubs to sweeten the pot. West collected a penalty of 1,000 points because South was too angry to think logically. At four notrump South would have scored 630 instead of losing a thousand points.

You're entitled to a moral for reading so sad a story. A sensible player's double warns you to expect an unusually bad break. Don't redouble unless you know something about the hand that the doubler doesn't know — such as a void suit or an unusual location of the high trumps. If you have no surprises for the doubler, look for a rescue rather than for a redouble.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer you hold:
♠—Q J 10 9
♥—A K Q 5
♦—Q J 6
♣—A Q

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid 2—No-trump. This bid usually shows 22 to 24 points, and you have only 21 points, but the ten and nine of spades should make up for the missing point.

CAIRO (AP) — University students living in Suez Canal area have been granted free-travel cards because they refused to evacuate their bombed-stricken cities to safer provinces.

Students will travel free back and forth between Cairo and Suez Zone, an announcement said.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, March 12, the 71st day of 1969 with 294 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Venus and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1933 President Franklin D. Roosevelt, in office eight days, made the first of his fireside chats.

In 1938 Germany invaded Austria.

A thought for the day: President Franklin D. Roosevelt said, "There is no indispensable man."

India Short On Electric Power

NEW DELHI (AP) — Not even one-tenth of India's villages are electrified.

K. L. Rao, minister for irrigation and power, told Parliament that 62,237 villages were electrified up to March 1968. India has 650,000 villages where nearly 85 per cent of its 530 million people live.

Rao said 71,000 more villages will be electrified during the fourth five-year plan (1969-74).

DOUG KARR MUSIC
Where quality is paramount. Doug Karr Music proudly announces the exclusive representation for Marin County of Gibson guitars, banjos and amplifiers.
Once again Doug Karr Music lives up to its reputation of representing the finest in musical merchandise.
We now represent for Marin County, on an exclusive basis, the following quality products: LEBLANC & HOLTON BAND INSTRUMENTS, HOFNER, GIBSON, EPIPHONE, NATIONAL, VENTURA TENEYCK AMPLIFIERS, FARFISA SPINET HOME ORGANS.
Please note: Doug Karr music is solely owned and operated by Doug Karr and is not a chain which can bring in instruments from other stores. This does not make a chain exclusive in this area.
It has taken Doug Karr Music 4 years to prove to the manufacturers that we are worthy to represent them on an exclusive basis in Marin County. Every instrument that is sold here is not only backed up by factory guarantees, but by Doug Karr's professional reputation as well.

SUMMONS
(General)
No. 53057

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA FOR THE COUNTY OF MARIN.

MAIDA HELEN BARRICK Plaintiff
vs.
KENNETH ROBERT BARRICK
Defendant

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA to the above named Defendant:

You are directed to file with the clerk of this court in which the above entitled action is brought a written pleading in response to the complaint within ten days after the service on you of this summons, if served within the above named county, or within thirty days if served elsewhere (except that if the action is against the state pursuant to Section 738.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure, within 180 days). You are notified that unless you so file a written responsive pleading, the plaintiff will take judgment for any money or damages demanded in the complaint, as arising upon contract, or will apply to the court for any other relief demanded in the complaint.

You may seek the advice of an attorney on any matter connected with the complaint or this summons. Such attorney should be consulted within the time limit stated in this summons for filing a written pleading to the complaint.

CITY OF LARKSPUR
NOTICE TO BIDDERS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the City of Larkspur will receive sealed bids at the office of the City Clerk, City Hall, Larkspur, California, on or before 2:00 p.m., on the First day of April, 1969, for the furnishing of all labor, materials, and services required for the following designated project:

PHASE TWO MAGNOLIA AVENUE IMPROVEMENTS

Each bid shall be made in accordance with the plans, specifications and contract documents prepared therefor, now on file at the office of the City Clerk, where they may be examined, and copies thereof be obtained upon deposit of $10.00 per set, which deposit will be refunded upon return of such copies in good condition, on or before thirty days after opening of bids. Bids shall be submitted upon proposal forms furnished by the City Engineer, and shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check, currency or bid bond, equal to ten per cent of the aggregate amount of the bid, which amount shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into the contract, if awarded him, and will file the contract bonds required within fifteen days after notice that his bid has been accepted.

The City Council reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to waive any irregularity in any bid received.

Bidders are notified that, pursuant to law, the City Council has ascertained the general prevailing rate of wages and rates in the locality in which the work is to be performed, for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract, and the prevailing rate so determined is a part of the specifications and contract documents. It shall be mandatory that all persons employed in the execution of the contract be paid not less than said specific wages and rates, and that existing labor agreements relative to overtime, holidays, and other special provisions, be recognized.

Bids received by the City Clerk will be opened and read publicly at the time, date and place above specified, and will thereafter be tabulated and submitted to the City Council for consideration.

Bids shall be submitted upon proposal forms furnished by the City Engineer, and shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check, currency or bid bond, equal to ten per cent of the aggregate amount of the bid, which amount shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into the contract, if awarded him, and will file the contract bonds required within fifteen days after notice that his bid has been accepted.

The City Council reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to waive any irregularity in any bid received.

Bidders are notified that, pursuant to law, the City Council has ascertained the general prevailing rate of wages and rates in the locality in which the work is to be performed, for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract, and the prevailing rate so determined is a part of the specifications and contract documents. It shall be mandatory that all persons employed in the execution of the contract be paid not less than said specific wages and rates, and that existing labor agreements relative to overtime, holidays, and other special provisions, be recognized.

Bids received by the City Clerk will be opened and read publicly at the time, date and place above specified, and will thereafter be tabulated and submitted to the City Council for consideration.

DATED: March 7, 1969.

Patrol Units To Remain At U.C.

U.C. Chancellor Roger W. Heyns emerged from the meeting in the governor's office yesterday to say that California Highway patrolmen would stay on the strike and strife-torn campus as long as they are needed to keep order.

How long, he was asked.

"As long as we need them," he said without amplifying.

Heyns met with Edwin Meese III, Reagan's executive secretary; Highway Patrol Commissioner H. W. Sullivan; Maj. Gen. Glenn C. Ames, state military director; Sheriff Frank Madigan of Alameda County, and others.

Reagan did not attend the afternoon session yesterday, but told his news conference earlier in the day the meeting was planned and security was the chief topic.

Each day, about 20 helmeted patrolmen go to a command post in the basement of Sproul Hall, the school's administration building. Another 80 stand by in a garage three blocks away. They normally are out of sight, unless violence erupts.

Heyns said there was some discussion at yesterday's meeting about paying the cost of stationing the highway patrol on campus but "we didn't get into details."

Sullivan told a legislative committee Monday night the costs should be charged to the university.

Heyns said all state departments have money problems but the issue is not a controversial one.

Divorce Law Overhaul Gets By Senate Panel

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A key Senate committee has approved a major overhaul in the state's divorce laws which its author says would eliminate "the thing that is so archaic, so barbaric about our present system."

The measure, which would eliminate such grounds as "extreme cruelty, bill was approved on a split voice vote yesterday by the Senate Judiciary Committee. It now goes to the Senate Finance Committee for another hearing.

A key provision of Grunsky's bill says that when a divorce petition is filed, both parties would be interviewed and would be advised of counseling services. But counseling would not be required.

Grunsky said his proposal eventually would reduce the divorce easier.

The bill provides that a marriage could not be ended by a judge on any grounds of cruelty or adultery against one party. Instead the judge would have to decide that "the legitimate objects of matrimony have been destroyed and there is no reasonable likelihood that the marriage can be saved."

Fault also would be eliminated in dividing community property or awarding alimony.

Sen. George Deukmejian, R-Long Beach, opposed the measure, saying, "I think passage of this bill will possibly encourage more divorces."

He also said of the counseling provision: "It seems to me far more effective to have counseling before they are married than to have counseling when they're getting a divorce."

Sounding Board Topic: Ban On Backyard Burning

The Bay Area Pollution Control District ban on backyard burning will be discussed at 9 a.m. tomorrow on KTIM's Sounding Board program.

Panelists include Milton Feldstein, the District's technical services director; John A. Miskimen, San Rafael councilman and member of the air pollution board; Supervisor William A. Gnoss, another board member, and Harold B. Wagstaff, Corte Madera councilman.

Questions phoned in during the first half of the program, moderated by Kitty Openheimer, will be answered during the second half. The program will be repeated on tape at 10:05 a.m. Sunday.

Draft Violator Gets Probation

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Four months in jail and 32 months probation was the punishment imposed yesterday on City College freshman Emil Kangas for tearing up his draft card.

U.S. District Judge Lloyd Burle said during probation Kangas must refrain from taking part in antidraft demonstrations or counseling. The jail term starts after he completes his freshman year.

Burle had given Kangas a choice —three years in prison or jail and probation.

Kangas was convicted of draft law violation by a jury Feb. 11 after ripping up his draft card in the presence of U.S. Atty. Cecil Poole last November.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Research Confirms Distressing Gas Formation By Some Foods

VAN DELLEN

Intestinal distress usually is blamed on "something I ate." It is well known that navy, lima, and soybeans are notorious gas-producers. Recent research has determined the cause for the marked increase in gas volume.

Dr. F. D. Steggerda, research consultant at the Carle Clinic and Carle Foundation, Urbana, Ill., found that nongassy diets produced only 15 cc gas per hour.

When pork and beans made up 57 per cent of the diet, the volume increased to 176 cc per hour. Green lima beans and Boston baked beans had almost the same effect.

THE INVESTIGATOR also found that the compound Mexaform inhibited gas formation. Other tests showed that one of its ingredients, antrenyl, an antispasmodic, was responsible for half the reduction.

Additional experiments were conducted to find the active gas-producing fraction in beans. This was neither fat nor protein, but carbohydrates of low molecular weight (glucose, fructose, galactose, maltose, sucrose, and stachyose.

Normal bacteria in the intestines ferment these sugars. Certain antibiotics and bacteriostatic agents inhibit gas formation by eliminating the bacteria.

THESE EXPERIMENTS demonstrated that diet is important, but so are intestinal bacteria. The latter could vary with the individual, explaining why some people have more gas than others. But the problem is more complicated than this.

Digestion also plays a role because various ferments and enzymes extract or break down the sugars mentioned previously.

Many people also swallow considerable air when eating. Belching eliminates some of this, but it is difficult to belch without taking in more air.

CONSTIPATION ALSO is associated with flatulence. Fermentation increases because the intestinal contents remain longer.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

FLU, LIVER DISEASE

Mrs. P. writes: Is hepatitis an aftermath of Hong Kong flu? My son had influenza and now has the liver disease.

REPLY

It is reasonable to assume that the liver infection might be a complication of the flu. On the other hand, the more common type of viral hepatitis may start with symptoms indistinguishable from influenza. This is a more plausible explanation of the boy's symptoms, unless special tests were done to substantiate the diagnosis of Hong Kong flu.

REHUMATISM OF HEART AND OF JOINTS

A reader writes: Can an individual have a rheumatic heart without having suffered from rheumatic joints?

REPLY

Some persons have rheumatic heart disease with valve damage, but no history of rheumatic fever with joint symptoms. It is believed that the fever was present, but was not recognized or was misdiagnosed.

PREMARITAL TESTS

Miss I. writes: How long before the wedding should a young lady have a premarital examination?

REPLY

From two to three months to give the bride-to-be time for correction of any conditions needing it. The blood test required by the state is done a few weeks prior to the happy event.

THE BRITTLE DIABETIC

E. H. writes: What is a brittle diabetic?

REPLY

A person with a highly erratic form of diabetes that is difficult to control. It is more common in young persons.

REPAIR OF DIAPHRAGM

E. R. writes; In surgery for diaphragmatic hernia, why are the results worse when the defect is repaired from the abdominal side instead of the chest?

REPLY

This is not necessarily true. There is more than one type of diaphragmatic hernia. Some are easier to repair from the abdomen and vice versa. Opening the chest cavity is no longer as risky as it was in the past.

PREMARITAL TEST

Miss D. E. writes: When going for a premarital examination, is it necessary to see a gynecologist or will the family doctor do?

REPLY

Nine times out of 10, the family physician will do. A gynecologist is suggested if you anticipate problems of a specific nature.

NO HEALING BY BRACELET

L. F. writes: Is it true that a copper bracelet has healing properties when worn by a person with arthritis?

REPLY

No, if it were curative, half the people in the world would be wearing copper bracelets.

HIGH PRESSURE AND KIDNEYS

T. F. S. writes: Can high blood pressure be treated if the person also is suffering from a kidney condition?

REPLY

Yes, because knowing the cause is half the battle. If the kidney condition can be corrected, the hypertension may be cured.

WHY ALBUMIN IN URINE

C. S. writes: What causes albumin in the urine?

REPLY

In transient albuminuria, strenuous exercise, standing, or emotional tension may be causative. If the condition is persistent, kidney disease is suspected. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on albumin in the urine.

BART To Get $3 Million To Aid Prototype Cars

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District is going to spend $7.5 million to exterminate bugs in prototypes of its high-speed rail cars.

Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe announced a $3 million federal grant in Washington yesterday toward the expense.

A BART spokesman said a total of $7.5 million will be spent in building and testing 10 prototype cars after a contract for 250 cars is awarded next summer. The federal government will pay two-thirds the expense and BART one-third.

The contract winner in looking for bugs will test the complex systems engineering concepts required in BART's automated 75-mile system.

Costly problems encountered in developing high speed cars in the northeast's train program impelled BART to undertake thorough prototype testing.

Straight run assembly line production will not start until the bug-chasing job has been declared satisfactorily completed.

Volpe said BART's prototype car building program should establish new guidelines for developing transit equipment in other cities.

BART's engineers have estimated that the 250-car contract should run between $50 million and $60 million. The Department of Transportation has committed a $28 million grant toward this cost.

Car makers are asked to make two alternate bids—one for delivering the cars in 30 months and the other for delivery in 36 months.

Meanwhile, BART was praised for helping a downtown San Francisco building boom estimated at some $800 million.

Terrell W. Hill, Market Street Development Project executive director, was speaking in Pittsburg at the Fourth International Conference of Urban Transportation, sponsored by the Pittsburgh Urban Council and the U.S. Department of Transportation.

"Figures kept in my office show more than $400 million of new construction completed or under way in San Francisco since the successful vote on Bay Area Rapid Transit in 1962," he said.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Latest Smothers Flap No Surprise

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The latest flap between the Smothers Brothers and CBS-TV comes as absolutely no surprise to the television industry.

The alliance of the network and the comedy team has been, for some time, strictly a marriage of convenience.

To say that CBS-TV and the Smothers Brothers can live without each other is putting it mildly.

It was common gossip for awhile that CBS-TV, despite the success of the brothers, was considering dropping their series next season because of the mutual headaches over censorship, taste and related matters.

One of these matters was simply the personal antagonism that had built up.

Since Tom Smothers is generally the spokesman of the team, and the most involved in production, he is the brother who most often has wound up butting heads with the network.

If the network has truly thought at all about dropping the Smothers, it is reported that Tom has literally given some consideration to dropping CBS-TV.

The cynics, however, always talk money, and find it hard to believe the young comedy team would do anything rash.

But those who know the Smothers would not be surprised by anything they do.

The suggestion the brothers might try to move to NBC-TV if they can get away from CBS-TV is amusing and provocative.

First of all, feelings aside, CBS-TV is surely sensitive to the possibility the Smothers might come back to hurt them in the ratings on another network.

Second, would a network like NBC-TV, which already has the equally controversial "Laugh-In" series, want to be known as the broadcasting organization that has all the irreverence?

In addition, NBC-TV's approach with "Laugh-In" is wholly different from that of the Smothers Brothers, who frankly lay on their thoughts with a heavily-pointed, message-like style. In short, who is to say headaches might not arise elsewhere too?

Hospital Board Member Resigns

Irving D. Chapman has resigned as a director of the Marin Hospital District because of "personal business pressures," George E. Croke, president of the board, announced today.

Chapman will continue to serve until a successor is appointed to serve the rest of his four-year term, which expires in 1970.

Croke also announced he has asked the other directors — vice president Gwendolyn Campion, secretary Marion C. Ibach and Thomas K. Procter — to submit names of possible replacements at the next board meeting on March 26.

Any other resident of the district interested in the position should contact Ray K. Bolinger, Marin General Hospital administrator, before the meeting, Croke said.

DeMolay Week Is To Open Monday

"DeMolay Week" will be celebrated by the Marin chapter of the Order of DeMolay next week with visits by the 75 members to various public offices and institutions.

They will present certificates of merit during their visits to several officials as yet unannounced.

The chapter also is sponsoring an essay contest on any aspect of patriotism open to anyone. Entries are due March 20 and should be sent to John S. Silman; 138 Hillside Avenue, San Rafael.

BEST SHOWS FOR TONIGHT

Best bets on television tonight:

KPIX (5), KXTV (10), 7:30 p.m.—Singer Leslie Uggams, Ken Berry and country-western singer Merle Haggard are guests of Glen Campbell for an hour of singing, dancing and comedy on "The Glenn Campbell Goodtime Hour" tonight. The Smothers Brothers will make a special cameo appearance along with regulars Pat Paulsen and John Hartford.

KGO (7), KNTV (11), 8:30 p.m.—A new, fast-paced half-hour series, "The King Family," stars the singing King Sisters, the King Cousins and more than 30 members of the musical family.

KQED (9), 8:30 p.m.—Pianist James McKissic will include music by Bach and Schubert on KQED's "Performance."

KRON (4), KCRA (3), 9:00 p.m.—"Kraft Music Hall" host Wayne Newton will have guests Judy Carne, Lucie Arnaz, Tim Conway, Browning Bryant and musical group the Going Thing on his music and comedy hour, "Wayne, Women and Song."

KGO (7), KNTV (11), 9:00 p.m.—"The ABC Wednesday Night at the Movies" film will be "You're A Big Boy Now" with Elizabeth Hartman, Geraldine Page, Julie Harris, Michael Dunn and Rip Torn. It's a contemporary comedy about growing up in the mod generation.

Equipment Taken

A hole was knocked in a window at the Bamboo Reef, 3765 Redwood Highway, near San Rafael on Sunday and scuba diving equipment, an underwater camera and watches stolen, sheriff's officers said yesterday.

Athletics Bomb Young Giant Hurlers

PHOENIX (UPI) — Rookie pitchers of the San Francisco Giants were no match for Oakland's hitting wonders and the Akthletics grabbed a 1-0 lead in their trans-Bay series.

In the first meeting ever between the two clubs yesterday, the A's collected 20 hits off six Giants pitchers for an easy 11-5 victory in the Arizona desert. It was San Francisco's first exhibition loss after three straight wins.

The teams will meet twice again in Cactus League exhibitions — Monday at Mesa and March 25 at Phoenix.

Sal Bando and Joe Nossek each banged four hits for Oakland while A's hurlers Jim Hunter, Roberto Rodriquez and Vida Blue held the Giants to seven hits and blanked Willie Mays in three trips to the plate.

The A's tallied six times in the seventh inning to hand the defeat to rookie Hal Jeffcoat. He was nicked for three hits and four runs in that inning. The A's also got three hits off Joe Costello and another off southpaw Ron Bryant in the inning.

Oakland scored twice against rookie southpaw Mike Davison in the sixth and got two more off rookie righty Don Carrithers in the ninth.

Big blow for the Giants was a 430-foot triple in the fourth by Bobby Bonds who later scored on a sacrifice fly.

Giants vice president Chub Feeney said the club was still "not close enough" to signing holdouts Juan Marichal and Willie McCovey. They apparently are aiming at joining Mays in becoming the first $100,000 trio playing on the same team.

Mays pulls down about $125,000. Marichal is reportedly asking the same and McCovey would like a boost from his $65,000 salary last season to six figures.

RUSSIANS OUTNUMBER U.S. TRACK TEAM 4-1

MOSCOW (AP) — Charlie Greene, world record holder in the 100 meters, and Madeline Manning, Olympic gold medalist in the women's 880 meters, head the U.S. track and field forces who face the Soviet Union's top talent in a two-day meet tomorrow and Friday.

The Soviet squad will number 200, compared with 50 competitors from the United States and 20 from other countries.

JIM GILMARTIN

My Drag Race Record Didn't Last Too Long

JUST CALL ME PARNELLI — You probably haven't heard yet, but my name is in the record book at the new Sears Point International Raceway.

I happened to be a passenger in the first car ever clocked at the raceway's quarter-mile drag strip. As it was the first clocking, it was a record — short-lived at that, but nevertheless a record.

As Sears Point general manager Jim Coleman and I were tooling around the complex Friday afternoon in a new Mustang, Mach I, workmen had just finished hooking up the intricate timing device and asked Coleman to test the system.

"You game?" he asked me. "Sure," I shrugged, anticipating a leisurely drive down the quarter-mile asphalt strip. But before I could sing "I left my heart at the Sears Point Cutoff," we had traveled 1,320 feet in a matter of seconds and crossed the finish line at 98.26 mph, according to the $9,800 Chrondek timing equipment. From a standing start!

Another Sears Point First

I might add that in addition to being the first ever timed at the new motor sports complex, I was the first ever to use the portable powder rooms.

My records were broken during the next two days at the National Open drag races, both on the track and in the jiffy biffies.

FOR THOSE uninitiated to the ways of drag racing, the starting light system is called a "Christmas Tree" with a series of amber lights moving down to a green light and finally a red light. When the cars roll into starting position, the amber lights flash at half-second intervals until the green lights give the go. The most successful drivers are those who can anticipate the green light, getting the jump on their rivals. Anyone who fudges, however, gets the red light and disqualification.

Nothing Funny About It

The "sport," organized and moved to controlled areas in the early 1950s, has enjoyed phenomenal growth and, oh my, the money spent on the elaborate racers. For example, Mickey Thompson's Mustang Mach I coupe that won the "Funny Car" division at Sears Point Sunday represents about $10,000 for the car itself. But add another $20,000 for tools, accessories, spare parts, trailer, etc. And they call it a Funny car. It rhymes with money, honey.

The higher powered dragsters use parachutes to slow down which they call "hanging the wash." I believe the record is 242 mph in one-quarter mile. The Fuel dragsters use an exotic formula of such fuels as benzine, menthanol and nitromethane and you have to get the right mixture for success. The gas drags are considerably slower, but hit speeds up around the 200 mph mark.

Drag racers have a language all their own that to me sounds like southern Egyptian. Some guy could make a fortune publishing a glossary.

Juanita As A Race Queen

THIS I'LL have to see to believe, but general mgr. Coleman said noted restauratrice Juanita Musson of El Verano, formerly of Sausalito, will be crowned "Race Queen" for the Sports Car Club of America events March 29-30. She's getting a special green and black (Sears Point colors) muu muu made by the Sullivan Tent and Awning Co. for the big occasion. And now they're trying to find a sports car to parade her around the track.

Upon meeting national champ dragster Don "Big Daddy" Garlits, the Babe Ruth of drags, after his main event victory Sunday, Miss Musson threw out her arms and cried: "I've just gotta have your autograph, honey. They call you 'Big Daddy' and they call me Big Mama." Big Daddy, a slender lad of 36, was no match for Big Mama.

MONDAY I mentioned that concessionaire Ed Hickerson's staff sold 1,000 12-ounce cups of Coca Cola at the drags. That should have been 12,000 cups, which puts Coke up in the category with beer (500 cases). Anyway, their cups runneth over.

San Geronimo Host Team Breezes To Golf Victory

They made it look easy.

The San Geronimo National Golf Club's team of professional Bob Ellsworth and amateurs Mike O'Donnell, Ken Harnquist and Bob Dreyfus captured the National Golf Courses, Inc., team tournament title at San Geronimo yesterday by a fat 20 strokes in final team 36-hole totals.

The final scores were totaled on the pro's scratch score and the amateurs combined net score. Ellsworth had a 146 while O'Donnell had a 143 for low net honors in the field, followed by Dreyfus with a net 146.

Third on the team scores was Pomona National with 380, followed by Sonoma National, 382.

Odds Favor Giants, A's In Divisions

LAS VEGAS (UPI) — World champion Detroit and Oakland, St. Louis and San Francisco were tabbed as divisional favorites today in the newly aligned major leagues.

Oddsmaker Jimmy (The Greek) Snyder figures St. Louis and San Francisco will take the eastern and western titles in the National League.

St. Louis was a 5-2 choice over the Chicago Cubs (3-1), Pittsburgh Pirates (4-1) and Philadelphia Phillies (6-1). The New York Mets were listed at 25-1.

San Francisco, at 6-5, was nearly even money to outdistance Los Angeles (5-2), Atlanta (3-1) and Cincinnati (3-1) in the West. Snyder doesn't think the Houston Astros will provide much of a challenge because he puts their title chances at 100-1.

Detroit was pegged a 5-2 favorite to nab the American League's Eastern Division crown with Baltimore and Cleveland close behind at 3-1. Boston was listed at 7-2, New York Yankees at 10-1 and Washington 200-1.

Snyder predicts a real dogfight for the A.L.'s Western Division title with Oakland established the favorite at 2-1. Close behind, according to Snyder, are the California Angels, Chicago White Sox and Minnesota Twins, all bunched at 3-1.

As expected the four expansion teams were established as extremely long shots.

Montreal in the N.L.'s Eastern Division and San Diego in the Western Division were given a 300-1 chance to grab the championship. In the A.L., Kansas City and Seattle were pegged at 200-1.

DISTRICT RELAYS

Redwood Edges Tamalpais

Judging by a usually reliable crystal ball, it should be another close thing in the Marin County Athletic League track and field race.

The crystal ball is the running of the Tamalpais District Relays, the winner of which has turned out to be champion of the league two of the three years the relays have been run.

Redwood High School won its second straight Tam relays title, edging out Tamalpais, 48-47, on a typically solid showing in the field events at Drake High School in San Anselmo.

Tamalpais won five of the seven running relays, but Redwood took four out of six field relays and enough second to squeeze out the verdict.

There were no spectacular times or even fair to middling times or distances, with the exception of a nice discus toss of 152 feet, six inches by Bob Pillar of Redwood.

Drake was third with 15 points.

In a solo track and field meet, Novato bested Menlo Park in Palo Alto, 79-36, behind double winner Phil Emswiler, who won the 100-yard dash and the long jump. The Hornets won both the 440-yard run and mile relay in winning their season opener.

In swimming, Drake High, getting double wins from the Scott Bradley (200 freestyle, 100 backstroke) and Frank Toews (50 free, 100 free), bounced Washington of San Francisco 51-43 at San Anselmo.

San Rafael and Tamalpais got together for a non-league tennis match, with San Rafael winning, 4½-2½, at San Rafael. Andy Moffat of Tamalpais downed Bob Klyce of San Rafael in the big match, 6-2, 6-3, but the Bulldogs took the remaining two singles matches and two doubles matches. The final doubles match ended in a split set tie.

Warriors Host L.A.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Within reach of clinching a berth in the National Basketball Association playoffs, the San Francisco Warriors take on the Los Angeles Lakers at the Cow Palace tonight, 8 o'clock.

The Warriors are just short of a mathematical lock on a third place finish in the Western Division.

They have beaten the Lakers twice in the Los Angeles Forum but have been whipped by the division leaders four times on home grounds.

Tars' Golf Team Loses 4th Match

It was cold and windy at the Sonoma National golf course yesterday afternoon, but at least one College of Marin golfer was hot.

While coach Ed Grimm's duffers lost their fourth match of the season to host Santa Rosa Junior College, 3-2, Marin ace Val Sabuco moved his record to 4-0 on the year, shooting an 80 to his opponents' 93.

Rick Timmer, newly out for the Tars, was also impressive, winning 82-89, but Bill Schrader's 92 was the only other score under 100.

Tam District Relay Results

180-Yard High Hurdles — Tamalpais, 40.5.

2-Mile Relay — Redwood, 3:39.1.

440 Relay — Tamalpais, 46.5.

480-Yard Low Hurdle Shuttle — Tamalpais, 59.9.

880 Relay — Tamalpais, 1:40.0.

Mile Relay — Redwood, 3:36.7.

Shot Put — Redwood, 165-3 (Best: Rodack (T) 45-5).

Long Jump — Tamalpais, 70-10 (Best: Brown (T) 19-5).

High Jump — Tamalpais, 21-0, (Best: Robinson (T) Lake (R).

PREP BASEBALL

Drake Triumphs, Five Teams Lose

Only one Marin County Athletic League baseball team managed to win yesterday as six teams took on non-league foes.

Clark Jamison's bases-loaded triple sparked Drake High School to a 5-1 win over Salesian of Richmond, at San Anselmo.

Marin Catholic stranded 10 baserunners in a 3-1 loss to El Camino (South S.F.) at Kentfield. Defending league champ Terra Linda bobbled away for eight errors and dropped a 4-0 decision to Bishop O'Dowd (Oakland) at Albert Field in San Rafael. Despite good pitching by Steve Francis, San Marin of Novato last 3-1 to Rancho Cotate High at Sonoma State College field in Rohnert Park, and Tamalpais High dropped at 5-1 verdict to Terra Nova High at Pacifica.

Redwood dropped its second straight game, losing to Berkeley High, 8-3, in eight innings in Larkspur. The Giants, behind the pitching of Doug Mantooth, had led, 3-0, for the first five innings, when Berkeley tied it up in the sixth and won it in the eighth.

Francis pitched the first five innings for San Marin, struck out 10 batters in a row and would up with 12 strikeouts. Chuck Jacobsen drove in the Mustangs' only run.

Tamalpais threw four pitchers against Terra Nova, but got only three hits, two of them by Ken Bolstab.

Hamilton Boxers Win Opening Night Bouts

Hamilton Air Force Base fighters Michael Taylor and Gerald Ivory slugged their way into the semifinals fo the 1969 All-Air Force Boxing Championships at Hamilton Air Force Base yesterday with opening round technical knockout victories.

Taylor scored two knockdowns over Danny Searcy of the Air Training Command team enroute to a TKO win in the light welterweight division. Taylor is a defending champion who has moved up one weight.

Ivory knocked down Tim Stirling of the Tactical Air Command four times before getting a TKO victory in the light middleweight division.

The tournament swings into another round tonight with a mixture of semifinal bouts and first-round bouts. The action begins at 8 p.m. at the Hamilton Air Force Base main gymnasium. Admission is free.

Winners in this tournament will go on to the Inter-Service Championships, aslso set for Hamilton March 25-27.

Tar Baseballers Lose Opener

DeAnza Junior College of Cupertino broke a 2-2 tie with a solo run in the third inning, then broke the game open with a three-run fourth in downing College of Marin, 6-2, in a Camino Norte Conference baseball at Cupertino yesterday.

Rusty Poole, who gave up eight hits, went all the way for the Tars. Both teams committed four errors.

It was the conference opener for both teams.

Dick Williams All Smiles; Ted Williams Looks Glum

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A grand slam home run snapped Boston's winning spring season but Red Sox Manager Dick Williams was smiling. His thoughts were on bigger things—like a crashing double by Tony Conigliaro.

The Minnesota Twins, aided by Ted Uhlaender's second-inning home run with the bases full, stopped Boston 7-6 yesterday, after the Red Sox had taken their first three spring baseball exhibitions.

"He's looked very, very good," an elated Williams said. "There isn't a gutsier player in the American League," referring to he 24-year-old Tony C, who is trying to come back after a near-disastrous beaning by California pitcher Jack Hamilton which fractured his cheekbone on Aug. 18, 1967.

FIRST

Conigliaro, whose hit was his first of the spring—although he's been hitting the ball hard —is now one for six. More importantly he has only struck out once and that was a called third strike.

Last spring Conigliaro attempted to come back, but after getting only six hits in 55 at bats and striking out 22 times, the 1965 A.L. home run champion, gave up in despair.

However the outfielder now says his eyesight is perfect again and Williams is counting on him for a regular berth.

"He's out there doing a job," Williams said. "And that ball he hit today had lots of top spin—that shows you're hitting the ball good."

Baltimore nipped Washington 2-1, helped by 14 bases on balls by Senator pitching. Tim Cullen's run-scoring single in the eighth inning got Washington its run.

OTHER SCORES

In other Florida exhibitions, Atlanta stopped Houston 5-3, Detroit nipped Pittsburgh 5-4, Cincinnati topped Kansas City 6-1, the New York Mets crushed the Philadelphia Phillies B team 15-7, the New York Yankees whipped the Chicago White Sox 5-3, St. Louis mauled the Phillies 8-1 and Los Angeles got by Montreal, 4-1.

In Arizona, Oakland crushed San Francisco 11-5, Cleveland nudged San Diego 5-3 and California downed the Chicago Cubs 7-4.

Clete Boyer's homer and a two-run single by Mike Lum in the eighth inning gave the Braves their victory over the Astros. Denis Menke had a home run for Houston.

Dick McAuliffe's double and Mickey Stanley's RBI single in the ninth broke a 4-4 tie as the Tigers edged the Pirates. Detroit rookie Ron Woods had tied the game in the eighth with a solo home run.

BENCH HOT

Johnny Bench cracked a single, double and triple and knocked in three runs, leading the Reds over Kansas City, ending the Royals' winning string at three.

Cleon Jones hit for the cycle —single, double, triple and home run—as the Mets won their first spring game. Doc Edwards had four hits for the Phils.

Rookie outfielder Tom Shopay's two-run single in the seventh snapped a 3-3 tie and sent the Yankees to their fourth straight victory.

The Cardinals batted around in the third and fourth innings as they routed the Phillies. The Phils run came on a homer by Larry Hisle.

Len Gabrielson, ending his holdout shortly before game time, knocked in the Dodgers' winning run in a three-run sixth-inning rally with a ground out. Mack Jones cracked a home run for the Expos.

WILD

Richie Scheinblum's sacrifice fly and a run-scoring single by Tony Horton snapped Cleveland's fourth-inning 3-3 tie off loser Dick Selma, who walked five and fired two wild pitches in three innings for San Diego.

The Angels, trailing 4-1, exploded for six runs in the seventh inning to stop the Cubs.

Julian Javier, the Cardinals second baseman, who only last week reversed a decision to sign his contract and flew back home to the Dominican Republic, said he will sign his contract Friday at a reported $52,000.

Oaks Must Hold Up Celebration

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Oaks were all primed to celebrate clinching the American Basketball Association Western Division title, but the Los Angeles Stars—and Larry Miller in particular — wouldn't cooperate.

Los Angeles won 131-115 as Miller, a 6-foot-4 rookie from North Carolina, racked up 47 points, including two three-pointers.

If Los Angeles wins both home games with Denver tonight and tomorrow, the Oaks' clincher will come here Friday against the Minesota Pipers. One loss by Denver will assure the Oaks the Western crown.

Against a season average of 47 per cent for field goal accuracy, the Oaks were a cold 37 per cent against the Stars last night. Los Angeles averaged 51 per cent and clicked for 56 per cent in the first half when Miller got 30 of his points.

New Seals Ownership Approved

NEW YORK (UPI) — The transfer of the Oakland Seals' ownership to a group which includes former baseball star Whitey Ford and former football players Pat Summerall and Dick Lynch, was approved yesterday.

National Hockey League president Clarence Campbell said the final step to complete the switch of ownership from San Francisco Seals, Ltd., to Niagara Frontier Hockey, Inc., is scheduled for March 21 in Oakland, when the formal closing of agreement to purchase will take place.

Officials of Trans National Communications announced previously that the franchise will be kept in Oakland.

It's First Things First For Broncs

Winner of the Big Sky Conference with a 25-2 record, Weber State tackles the Broncos (26-1) in the opener of the NCAA Far West regionals tomorrow night at UCLA with UCLA and New Mexico State meeting in the second game.

"One thing about this tournament...all four teams were in the NCAA playoffs last year and have been through the mill," said Garibaldi. "It makes a difference."

He said his players aren't overlooking Weber State for another showdown with UCLA.

"I talked to the kids at practice and told them that these guys are good," said Garibaldi. "None of us, the coaches included, can afford to look ahead to anybody.

"I think we'll be mentally tougher this year. We have tough-minded kids who've now had the experience of being in this thing once before. Last year we were just excited to be in it."

Garibaldi said Weber has "a darn good basketball team."

"They're 6-7 at both forwards, with a 6-8 leaper at center and two cat-quick guards who really worry us," he said.

Garibaldi was referring to center Willie Sojourner, forwards Larry Burgh and Gus Chatmon and guards Justus Thigpen and Sessions Harlan.

Coach Hank Anderson of Gonzaga figures 17th-ranked Weber State could upset the fourth-ranked Broncos. Santa Clara beat Gonzaga by 24 points while Weber State downed Gonzaga by margins of three points in overtime, 27 and 18.

From Trucks To Football

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Now that Leonard Tose is upon the Philadelphia Eagles' scene, can Pete Retzlaff be far behind?

Tose, a Norristown, Pa., trucking executive awarded conditional ownership of the Eagles yesterday by a bankruptcy referee in Baltimore, favors the former football great as his coach, and possibly, general manager as well.

The Associated Press learned Tose leans toward Retzlaff shortly after Joseph O. Kaiser, a Baltimore bankruptcy referee, awarded the National Football League team to Tose on a conditional basis.

Tose won the right to purchase the team with a last-ditch offer of $16,055,000 that topped by $5,000 a bid submitted by Thomas D. McCloskey, a Philadelphia builder.

The purchase, for the present, bails out Jerry Wolman, who is fighting to retain ownership. If Wolman can raise $37 million to pay off creditors by Aug. 1, then he reclaims the team.

Under terms outlined by Kaiser, Tose has 10 days to complete purchase details with Wolman and his creditors.

Wolman said after the five-hour hearing in U.S. District Court he expects to be able to consolidate his other holdings and raise money to regain the team.

Although neither was available for comment, The Associated Press learned that "Retzlaff one of the NFL's all-time great tight ends, is Tose's No. 1 choice.

It was learned Tose feels Coach-General Manager Joe Kuharich must go to restore the Eagles' public image. Kuharich, who had four losing seasons in five years, has been under fire by the fans and press.

Retzlaff played 11 seasons with the Eagles and ranked as the fifth-best receiver in NFL history at his retirement two years ago.

Tose, 54, like Kuharich, is a product of Notre Dame. He recently was elected to the national alumni board of the famed Midwestern university and once donated part of $600,000 to help build an athletic complex there.

Scoring Records Fall In Bruins' NHL Game

ST. PAUL-Minneapolis (AP) — Season scoring records tumbled but the goalies drew most of the praise in 3-3 National Hockey League tie between the Boston Bruins and Minnesota North Stars.

Boston goalie Eddie Johnston kicked out 43 shots while chunky Minnesota rookie Fern Rivard spent most of the game sprawled on the ice stopping 25 shots last night.

Esposito surpassed the all-time assists mark, Orr tied the record for most points by a defenseman and Grant became the highest scoring rookie in the modern era.

Esposito's two assists gave him 68 for the year, moving him past Montreal's Dickie Moore and Chicago's Stan Mikita.

Orr, with a goal and an assist in the first period as the Bruins took a 2-1 edge after Grant's first goal, now has 59 points and is tied with Chicago's Pierre Pilote for the NHL record.

Young Coach Gets Big 10 Cage Job

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Youthful Brad Snyder, an interim coach who made the most of a six-game trial, is Northwestern University's new head basketball coach.

Snyder, 30, Wildcat cage captain eight seasons ago, was named yesterday to replace Larry Glass, whose sudden resignation Feb. 1 gave his erstwhile assistant a chance to direct Northwestern in the final six games of the Big Ten season.

Snyder revived the sagging Wildcats to a 4-2 record, hoisting them from last place to a fifth-place finish.

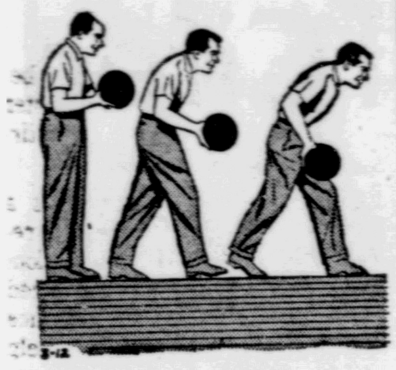
BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



Make every effort to be on time for your league session and to be ready to bowl each frame when it is your turn, but if you are delayed, don't rush through the delivery. The few seconds you save by merely grabbing your ball and speeding to the foul line aren't worth the chance of ruining a frame with a bad ball.

JIM MURRAY

The Magnificent Coaching Of UCLA's John Wooden

A lot of us, when we heard coach John Wooden and UCLA had landed Ferdinand Lewis Alcindor, the basketball player, felt as if John D. Rockefeller had just won a lottery, Elizabeth Taylor had just gained two inches in the bust. Someone had just dumped a load of sand in the Sahara. A coal truck drove up to Newcastle and said, "Where do you want it?"

Neither the institution nor the man needed it. UCLA turns out Nobel Prize winners, catastrophic-disease cures, and is a citadel of learning of the magnitude of the Sorbonne, Oxford, Cambridge, Harvard or Johns Hopkins. It needed an annual NCAA basketball championship like Texas needs a cow.

JOHN WOODEN is the best basketball coach in the history of the collegiate game — or maybe the game, period. He wins NCAA championships with teams that fit comfortably in Volkswagens. He never needed a team that could walk to Catalina without getting its hair wet.

Alcindor should have gone to some school he could put on the map — Ypsilanti State Abnormal, Olathe School for Janitors, Iowa Corn Institute. THEY could use the exposure of Madison Square Garden, Sports Illustrated and the UPI ratings. They could use donations from hoop-happy alumni, crowded gyms, boom business for the town motel and all the creamed chicken the staff could eat at state banquets.

JOHN WOODEN made the best of it. He always does. They give him a team that has to stand on tiptoe at a parade, he puts in a pressing game that makes the other team feel as if its has just stepped on a beehive. They give him Lew Alcindor and he sighs and sticks him in the low post and builds a team around him.

Those of us who bet that Alcindor would be playing for the Globetrotters or the Elevator Shoe Company team in the AAU by mid-term exams of his sophomore year either underestimated him or John Wooden.

THE EXPLOSIONS were muffled but they were there. Fistfights in practice, resentment at assignments. A player quit here and there, black and white. Alcindor was not an easy presence. He was the most visible member of the largest unified minority in the country today. An angry departure by Student Alcindor and UCLA would have lost more than a center and a spot in the NCAA finals. It would have lost an image, a reputation, a place of honor in a revolution. You lose an Edgar Lacy, you make the Daily Bruin. Lose Alcindor, you make Pravda.

JOHN WOODEN is an ascetic man. A church deacon, a teetotaler, he says he learned the fundamentals of coaching basketball in the unlikeliest of manuals —the New Testament. He peppers his walls — and his speech — with charts called "The Pyramid of Success," a decathlon of self-sacrifice St. Peter would rap out on. Most of us wouldn't get beyond the first floor.

Back home in Indiana, John Wooden was a boy who slopped pigs, chased rats out of chicken coops, sold sandwiches on trains and became the best 5-foot 8-inch guard Purdue University ever had (he once plunked in 138 successive free throws).

HE IS HARD on his kids. UCLA players run backward in practice more than most teams run forward. They are wolf-lean. They have the confidence of the guy who owns the dice.

Wooden, this year, will do two things no other college coach has ever done — win his third national championship in a row and his fifth in history.

There are those who will sneer that this is a minor feat — winning with Alcindor — compared to his winning two-in-a-row with a team that slept in standard-sized beds and didn't have to stoop over to shave in the bathroom mirror.

I DON'T think so. I think his three Alcindor years is the more stupendous feat. I mean, anybody can win with a bunch of well-adjusted six-footers. With those seven-footers, those last 12 inches are sometimes all temperament.

Hardwick Leads Pro Bowlers

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Billy Hardwick's $10,000 victory in the Miller Open at Milwaukee last Saturday moved him to the top of the Professional Bowlers Association money standing, the PBA, said yesterday.

Hardwick, of Louisville, Ky., has a season total of $24,790, topping the $23,160 second place holdings of Johnny Guenther of Fresno.

Don Golver of Bakersfield was third with $16,800 and Ralph Engan of Monsey, N.Y., fourth with $14,640. Fifth was Wayne Zahn of Temple, Ariz., with $14,375.

Other top ten money winners were Dick Weber, St. Louis, Mo., $13,450; Dick Ritger, Hartford, Wis., $13,270; Skee Foremsky, El Paso, Tex. $11,630; Mike McGrath, El Cerrito, $10,105; Jimmy Mack, Dover, N.J., $9,692.

MARIN PREP SPORTS NOTES

Cool-Headed Football Ref Cited

By GARY TISCHLER

An incident harkening way back to last fall and the Marin County Athletic League football season has had good reverberations.

John Hattala, principal of a junior high school in Napa, and an official at last year's Redwood of Larkspur-Novato football game, was presented with a plaque by the North Bay Official's Association at the association's annual dinner last Wednesday. He got it for keeping Charley Flynn, the Redwood player who suffered a broken back while trying to tackle Novato's Tom Zechlin, from moving and preventing serious further injury.

Flynn, incidentally, well on his way to recovery, was an honorary member of Redwood's basketball team during last week's Tournament of Champions, occupying a spot on the bench through all three games.

RECAPPING ON some baseball last week — Novato scrimmaged at San Mateo High School in a no-count game and did very well indeed as Novato Hornet hurling ace Russ Dillon pulled a Mickey Mantle in the switch hitting department.

Dillon, who helped in a no-hit defeat of Petaluma last Friday, blasted a three-run homer in the seventh inning batting left-handed, then scored a triple batting right-handed in an 11-2 Novato "win."

Steve Majka with three hits and Tom Zechlin, Barry Berringer and Rob Helbing with two apiece also hit well for the Hornets.

SAN MARIN'S baseball team, with big support from all-around athlete Ken Gnoss also "won" a scrimmage against Washington of San Francisco, 4-1, Saturday. Gnoss got two of San Marin's five hits.

SAN RAFAEL split a double-header with Riordan of San Francisco in San Rafael Saturday, winning 5-4 and losing 10-4.

TERRA LINDA will swing into its spring football program very soon. The Trojans and Redwood are the only two teams in any kind of organized spring football with pads in Northern California.

YOU CAN'T keep an Alvarado down, it appears. Dave Alvarado, who broke his wrist prior to the start of the MCAL cage season, should have been out right through the start of baseball season, but the played the Drake Pirates' last two games, although a serious fall would have cracked the wrist all over again. He's all ready for baseball season.

LETTER DEPARTMENT: Two in the form of complaints and requests. A Redwood mother asks that more space be given to cheerleaders in game stories. And Novato fans are apparently all upset and disappointed because high-scoring John Howard of San Marin got nothing better than honorable mention in the recent all-league basketball polling by coaches. It's a good point.

OUR FRIENDS up north in Santa Rosa have called for a Redwood Empire basketball meet in lieu of sending North Bay and MCAL teams to the Tournament of Champions, and some talk apparently is afoot toward that project. It may have gained impetus after Montgomery's disappointing showing in the TOC but they want to wait in the MCAL after Redwood's fine performance.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, CPA

Charitable Contributions Deductible Up To 30 Pct.

Wikel

Your charitable contributions are deductible on your federal return up to 30 per cent of your adjusted gross income provided that the gifts are to churches, educational institutions, tax-exempt hospitals, and organizations which normally receive a substantial part of their support from the government or the general public, such as museums, libraries, ballet, opera, symphony, Red Cross, United Crusade, Cancer Society, T.B. Association and so forth.

If your contributions to the above types of organizations exceed 30 per cent of your adjusted gross income, you can carry any excess over for the next five years.

OTHER DEDUCTIONS

Contributions to organizations other than the above may be deductible up to 20 per cent of your adjusted gross income.

You cannot add the two together to get a maximum of 50 per cent.

Contributions of property are deductible at the fair market value of the property at the time of deduction, regardless of how much it cost you, except that if you donate property subject to depreciation, your contribution deduction is the fair market value, less the amount of depreciation you would have to report as ordinary income if you sold the property.

This has interesting possibilities. Assume that you purchased land for $5,000 in 1960 and you made a contribution of this land in 1968 and its fair market value at the time of the contribution was $10,000. You receive credit for the contribution of $10,000, but you do not pay tax on your gain of $5,000. It does not matter if the recipient of the contribution immediately sells the property.

If you do this, be sure to get a copy of IRS Publication 561, Valuation of Donated Property, and follow the rules carefully.

SERVICE OUTLAY

Out-of-pocket expenses which you pay in giving your services without pay to a qualified organization are deductible as contributions. This includes amounts you pay for gas, oil and the like, as well as bus fare. It includes amounts you pay for transportation from your home to the place where you serve. It does not include depreciation or insurance on your car. However, under Revenue Procedure 64-15, you can deduct 5 cents per mile for the use of your car as above.

Reasonable payments for necessary meals and lodging while you are away from home giving services to a qualified organization are deductible. However, you cannot deduct expenses to attend a convention solely as a member rather than as a duly chosen representative. Unreimbursed expenses directly connected with and solely attributable to gratuitous service you may perform for your charitable organization during the meeting are deductible.

POLITICAL GIFTS

Contributions to political organizations are not deductible on the federal return, but they are on the California if made in a primary or general election year to a limit of $100 on a separate return and $200 on a joint return. Contributions are deductible on your California return only up to 20 per cent of your adjusted gross income and there is no five-year carryover.

Shale Reserves

DALLAS (UPI) — Atlantic Richfield Co. has bought a 30 per cent interest in 16,138 acres of oil shale reserves in the Piceance Creek Basin in Western Colorado and an option on 8,562 acres of Uinta Basin of Utah. Atlantic Richfield also acquired a 30 per cent interest in the oil shale technology of the colony group of companies from whom the land interest was acquired.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Absentee Stockholders Should Have An Adviser

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. My wife and I plan to enter the Peace Corps in June. We have $5,000 in savings, bonds and stock. What kind of investment plan could you suggest that would put our money to work for us while we are gone for two years? — M. K.

A. The Peace Corps and its volunteers deserve all the praise and support possible. My hat is off to you both for your decision to serve. Your situation is custom-tailored to the kind of professional supervision that is offered by a discretionary management account. In such a program a portfolio manager — by means of a limited power of attorney — makes the trading decisions for your account in line with your personal investment goals. A specified brokerage house does the buying and selling and holds the stock certificates.

The fee for individualized professional supervision is surprisingly low, usually around 2 per cent; however, the percentage drops as the capital under management increases. While putting your money to work, such a program relieves you of the burden of watching a portfolio.

Q. Can you tell me the risk, if any, in U. S. Treasury bills? Are there advantages over other Treasury issues such as bonds and notes? — H. B.

A. Because the federal government stands behind them, Treasury securities are the safest that can be bought. The major difference between various government issues is the length of time to maturity; bonds run five or more years and bills three to twelve months —the shortest term for a Treasury issue.

Treasury bills are sold at auction with the discount from the $1,000 face value determining the yield — currently about 6 per cent on the shortest term.

Defense Contract

AUSTIIN, Tex. (UPI)—Tracor Inc. has announced receipt of a $7.2 million sub-contract in the penetration aids program for the Minuteman II Weapons System. The contract was awarded by Avco Corp.'s Lycoming Division. The company said the total value of the contract is expected to increase to about $25 million.

Consumer prices increased 4.7 per cent in 1968, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Market On Low Side; Trade Slow

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market erased a small early advance and closed lower today. Trading was slow.

The Dow Jones industrial average at 1:30 p.m. was off 2.48 points at 918.45.

Losses exceeded gains by about 200 issues to reverse an early advantage for the plus side.

Prices near the close included:

Sale Of Center Medical Hospital In Kentfield Reported Incorrect

Rumors that Center Medical Hospital in Kentfield has sold out to Hy-Lond, Inc. of Sonoma are said to be incorrect.

Donald Barsdale, who is a co-principal in Center Medical with Larry Carr, reports that there is no change in ownership or staff. Cause of the misunderstanding seems to lie in the fact that Hy-Lond now performs certain services for Center Medical which it also handles for a number of institutions in Northern California and Los Angeles, including those which it does own.

Since the Kentfield hospital is essentially a rehabilitation facility and is going into an expansion program, it is possible there will be a name change here later. The name Northern California Medical and Rehabilitation Center has been suggested but is not final.

ENGINEERING FIELD SERVICES, San Rafael, has gone international in its operations.

Leaving tomorrow for Sewell, Chile, on a mine surveying job for Brandon Copper Co. and heavily loaded down with equipment will be supervisor George P. Colson, party chief James Thompson and chainman Philip Potter. They will be gone about six weeks.

We print any attorney's firm name 45,000 times

Legal notices in the I-J have some unusual legal mathematics. They reach 45,000 homes in Marin daily. Because the I-J reaches county-wide—45,000 copies. Terrific equasion: SMITH, SMYTHE & SMITHE (or any firm name), multiplied by all I-J homes and readers, adds up to recognition for the firm from Petaluma to Sausalito!

Which is quite an aid in helping readers select an attorney when they need one. (And they better select one if they have a legal problem—or maybe have more problems.) To get back: I-J legal notices are also precisely, accurately handled by our legal-eagle advertising department. Makes life easier for everyone!

Hub Council Asks Tougher Dog Controls

A blind woman led by her guide dog and a war veteran sickened by the sight of two dogs mangling a fawn urged the San Anselmo City Council last night to back tougher laws against stray dogs. (Another San Anselmo City Council story, page 1)

The council unanimously agreed with the two and others, and indicated it was unhappy with the wording of a proposed countywide dog control ordinance because it was not tough enough.

Tiburon residents and council members attacked the proposed ordinance Monday night as "an attempt at empire building," a sharp contrast to its reception in San Anselmo last night where a variety of speakers supported its purpose, but challenged its wording.

Mrs. Emily Wright, the blind woman, told the council she had a great deal of difficulty with unleashed dogs throughout Marin County, particularly in San Anselmo and Fairfax.

Referring to her own highly-trained guide dog, she said, "It is impossible to control any dog, no matter how well-trained, when there is a pack of five or six dogs around."

She urged the council to back stiff fines for owners of loose dogs.

Robert Vance Barnett, a general contractor described how he and his neighbors watched helplessly last Saturday as two airdales ripped a fawn apart.

"I saw a pilot burned to death during the war," he said, "but I've never seen anything worse than this."

Although the Marin County Humane Society was called to pick up the dogs, Barnett said, "All the owners have to do is pay $3 and come and pick them up."

The proposed new ordinance would provide higher penalties, ranging from $7 for a first offense to $10 for succeeding offenses, for owners whose dogs were not under their control at all times.

Another woman, Hazel Erwin, told of three big dogs attacking a little boy on a bicycle. "I took a chance on them turning on me," she said as she described chasing the dogs away. "The kid was terrified."

City engineer Charles R. Leitzell, who, like all the others, said he liked dogs, also told of a dog attacking a child on a bicycle. He called owners who allow their dogs to run loose "completely irresponsible."

Councilman James F. Reed, calling for stiffer wording in the proposed ordinance, said it was an attempt to get at the irresponsible animal owners. "We'll never train the dogs," he said, "but we might be able to train the animal owners who let them roam the streets."

He said the ordinance should be worded so as to require the humane society to pick up dogs on which complaints have been made instead of leaving the decision to the Society.

Mayor Duane Ragan, who called present control regulations "absolutely ridiculous," set public hearing on the proposed countywide ordinance for April 29 in the council's chambers.

The council also invited humane society officials to discuss the ordinance at the council's next meeting on March 25.

The San Anselmo City Council also:

HUB — Approved basic design concept for redesigning the Hub and approved $18,800 for engineering costs on the project so far.

CLAIMS — Rejected a $13,500 damage claim from Mr. and Mrs. Richard G. Lucchesi, of 61 Angela Avenue, for water damage they contended resulted from the city's negligent maintenance of drainage systems. Also rejected lesser claims of $7,418 from Mr. and Mrs. James Dismuke, and $46 from Eilleen M. Johnston.

POLICE — Accepted the resignation of policeman Richard Kilday, who has joined the California Highway Patrol, and approved the appointment of Larry R. Robertson as his replacement at a salary of $644 per month.

STREETS — Voted a change from two-hour to four-hour parking on San Anselmo Avenue between Bridge Way and Madrone Avenue and on Sycamore Avenue.

Tomales Teen-Ager Cited On Mail Theft

A 14-year-old Tomales boy has been cited to Marin Juvenile Hall for breaking open three Tomales Post Office boxes and taking mail, according to sheriff's deputies.

The theft occurred March 4, and the boy, Clyde William Bailey, was identified by postal workers who had seen him in the post office.

Nixons To Host Party Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, with fond memories of his own days on Capitol Hill, opens his home tonight for the second in a series of black-tie receptions for members of Congress and their spouses.

The first group visited the White House last night to drink domestic champagne, eat hors d'oeuvres, dance, tour the second-floor family quarters and chat with the President and Mrs. Nixon. The third and final reception is tomorrow night.

"I know virtually all of them," the President said of his 350 guests.

He said he expected several of them to talk to him about his knottiest current problem—what to do about the controversial Sentinel missile defense system.

He is expected to decide this week whether to resume deployment of the antimissile system, and a determined opposition has developed in the Senate.

Former Hitler Aide Arrested: Pogrom Charge

BONN (London Express) — One of Hitler's key men in the Nazi plan to exterminate the Jews was arrested in the Ruhr town of Mulheim yesterday.

He is Dr. Werner Best, a former S.S. Brigade fuehrer, who is accused of complicity in the murder of 11,000 Polish intelligensia.

Best was a co-founder of the Gestapo and at one time Hitler's personal representative in Paris, Denmark and Poland.

He also wrote the definitive book on the German police system under the Nazis.

Best is on record of having ordered the roundup of Jews in occupied France and the confiscation of Jewish property. Later he started a special Commando in Poland.

At the time of his arrest he was working as a respected lawyer.

Waterfront Interim Zone Plans Viewed

The Sausalito City Council last night received proposed interim zoning ordinances prepared by a planning consultant to apply in the waterfront area pending adoption of the central waterfront plan.

A tentative schedule prepared by City Mgr. George M. Patterson suggested the planning commission discuss the ordinance March 19, and hold a hearing March 26. The council would discuss the changes April 1, and adopt them April 15 to take effect May 15.

The one major change in the proposals is establishment of a C-W district for commericial waterfront uses.

RETAIL USES

Retail uses allowed would be apparel shops, art galleries, barber and beauty shops, eatin and drinking establishments (but not drive-ins), gift and souvenir shops and handicraft shops. Other uses would include offices, studios, marine sales, sailmaking, boating, fishing, swimming and small craft mooring.

Conditional uses would include commercial-industrial planned unit developments, boatels and motels, boat building, repair, rental, sales, service and storage, sport fishing centers, docks, water taxi facilities and boat launching facilities.

Also recommended was amending the building code to prohibit bay fill unless it meets state requirements or the council found it necessary for specific uses — parking for a water-based use, water access, recreation area or public park, or other essential waterside public purpose.

OPPOSES BILLS

The council went on record opposing four bills now before the state Legislature. Two bills would restrict cities' power on business licenses; another would require developers who demolish old housing to find interim housing for displaced occupants, and the fourth would rule that police and firemen who develop heart disease after 10 years' employment would be automatically considered to have developed the disease as a result of employment and would be eligible for compensation.

Following another brief discussion, councilmen took no action, but expressed sympathy with the intent of a request from the Corte Madera Town Council for support in opposing a proposed regional government plan giving North Bay counties only five representatives on a 36-member ruling board.

The Sausalito City Council also:

MAYORS — Was told Richard Carpenter, executive director of the California League of Cities, will address the Marin League of Mayors and Councilmen when it meets March 26 at the Sausalito Yacht Club.

TRAFFIC SIGN — Ordered a yield right-of-way sign placed on Josephine Street at Atwood Avenue and a 10 mile-per-hour speed limit sign on Atwood on a curve near the corner.

PARKING — Agreed to allow parking after 5 p.m. in a yellow curb loading zone near the Alta Mira Hotel, and ordered an appropriate sign posted at the spot. Parking is now banned until 6 p.m.

TAXES — Spoke favorably but took no action in response to a letter by Mill Valley Mayor Dean N. Meyer on tax payments by city residents for county services provided only to unincorporated areas.

TREE — Told Patterson to determine whether a eucalyptus tree at Vista Clara Road and Monte Mar Drive is a hazard.

LOCUST ROAD — Told Patterson to report on parking congestion on Locust Road on a complaint from Mrs. B. W. Ansell of 614 Locust Road.

Employment Scene Mixed

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Civilian employment in California continued to set records during February, reaching 7,725,000, but the rosy employment picture was dulled somewhat by a larger-than-usual gain in the jobless category with 446,000 persons out of work.

In the monthly joint report of the Department of Employment and the Department of Industrial Relations, partial blame for the jobless increase was placed on the dampening effect of bad weather on some outdoor activities, including construction and agriculture.

Albert C. Beeson, director of industrial relations, reported the total civilian employment was up 15,000 for the month, and topped the year ago figure by 244,000, or 3.3 per cent.

Once again public education and services were the main contributors to the expansion of the total job picture. Manufacturing employment for February totaled 1,645,000, a gain of 5,000 over January.

Ruling Gives Ex-Felon Right To Vote Again

William P. Cannon Jr., a convicted bank robber who was registered, then unregistered to vote in 1966, has registered again and this time apparently it will stick.

Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino ruled yesterday that Cannon could indeed register under a 1966 California Supreme Court ruling which lifted the ban against felons voting in some cases.

Cannon, 30, of 912 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, was convicted of bank robbery and served 16 months at the Federal Correctional Institute at Lompoc. Godino said that the Supreme Court's decision allowed convicted felons to vote if they had not been convicted of a crime that endangered the voting process.

Robbing a bank, he ruled, did not endanger the voting process. So Cannon was allowed to register with County Clerk George H. Gnoss, the county's registrar of voters.

Gnoss has referred the case to Godino after two San Francisco law students, O. J. Humphrey and Dave Loofbourrow, who were working with Cannon to get his voting privileges back, presented his record to Gnoss.

Cannon actually did register once before after he was convicted and even worked as a volunteer in the Civic Center polling place, in the 1966 elections, he said. But before the voted, someone told him of the law against it and his name was removed from the voting rolls.

Cannon was vague about the last time he did vote. "It was sometime before 1963," he said today.

Moratorium On Downtown Study Asked

Novato City Mgr. Charles A. Brown asked the city council last night to impose a moratorium on rezoning and major development in the Novato downtown area until the federally-financed downtown study was completed.

The council voted 4-0, with Mayor Harley McAskill absent, to seek advice on the request from the downtown study committee, planning commission and the chamber of commerce.

Brown made the suggestion because some commercial land has just been rezoned to multiple-residential and new businesses were entering the downtown area steadily. He said that he felt some sort of moratorium should be put into effect until after the downtown study was completed.

He also suggested that the firm of Sedway Cooke of San Francisco, which will make the downtown study when funds are obtained, be notified of all proposed changes in the downtown area. The council agreed to that.

"Sedway Cooke assured me today that the machinery was functioning and that there should not be any hitch in getting the money from housing and urban development," Brown told the council. (The city has applied for a $31,020 grant for a downtown study.)

Brown said that the downtown study committee, planning commission and chamber of commerce should have a voice on whether there should be a moratorium.

The council voted to have the downtown study committee fix a date when the council and the three bodies could get together for a joint meeting.

The Novato City Council also:

KENNELS — Heard for more than an hour from 21 residents of Shady Lane and their friends seeking abatement of the Bel-Bar Kennels at 2029 Shady Lane. The council deadlocked 2-2, with Councilmen Douglas M. Merrill and Joseph Gargiulo for and M. E. (Babe) Silva and J. Wayne Womack against. The council brke the deadlock by postponing the item until its April 22 meeting when it would have a full council. This item has come up before the council periodically since 1962, when the area was changed from agricultural to single-family residential zoning.

BUSES — Approved the North Marin Federation's recommendation that the council back the Jenkins' report urging that the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District take over bus transportation in Marin County.

CLEANUP — Approved April 12 to May 4 for the spring cleanup campaign urged by the city's beautification committee.

APARTMENTS — Approved a use permit for a 96-apartment unit on Alameda del Prado and Highway 101 for Bowler and White.

PATH — Authorized the public works department to grade a path beside Novato Boulevard from Diablo Avenue to Grant Avenue for pedestrians and bicycles. The cost was estimated at $150 in city maintenance funds.

BUS STOP — Approved a request to the state Division of Highways asking for a 60-foot no parking bus stop on the northbound lane of Highway, north of Lamont Avenue.

PARK — Declined an offer by the highway district for the city to purchase 6.5 acres of surplus state land at the Ignacio overpass at $15,000 per acre for a city park.

BILLS — Paid $58,048 in bills and $57,096 in salaries for February.

ADJOURNED — Adjourned at 11:45 p.m. until 8 p.m. March 25.

'Oakland 7' Wife Tells Her Protest

Lisa Mandel, 24, testified that she and her husband, Robert, had attended rallies, made telephone calls and were active in other preparations for the demonstrations outside the Oakland Induction Center.

But her testimony did not characterize her husband as a principal leader of the protest. Even under intense cross-examination, Mrs. Mandel maintained she and her husband were only part of a large and loosely organized effort to oppose the draft and the Vietnam war.

At one point, she said, she thought one badly beaten demonstrator was dead —"I thought they'd killed him." She said she was beaten by police when she attempted to protect her husband from arrest.

"I thought they were going to beat up Bob like they did that other guy," she said. "So I just stood there. Then the clubs came. I was beaten and dragged to a paddy wagon. When they shoved me in, Bob was already there."

Brain Function A Clue To Death

HONOLULU (AP) — Dr. Clarence Crafoord of Stockholm, Sweden, says "the life or the death of the brain is the factor which decides if a human being is living or not."

"I think that it is cruel, and I would say almost criminal, to continue the use of artificial, extraordinary devices . . . (when skilled specialists in various medical disciplines agree that) the damage to a patient's brain is of an irreversible nature."

Dr. Crafoord, recognized as one of the world's greatest surgeons, defines a dying patient in this way: "As long as a conscious or an unconscious brain function persists, the patient is dying, but when there is no further brain activity, we no longer have a dying patient. We have a corpse."

NEW CITIZEN'S OPINION:

Too Many Natives Not Obeying Laws

"As long as we have the opportunity to be here, we think we should be citizens and obey the laws of the country," said Mrs. Marianne Bueschel, who, with her husband, Horst Arthur Bueschel, is one of Marin County's newest American citizens.

Obeying the laws of the land is something too many Americans are not doing, said Mrs. Bueschel, referring to rebelling students at Berkeley and other university campuses across the nation.

"The law isn't strict enough," she said of treatment of student protestors by police, college administrators and the courts. "A person who doesn't want to go to school shouldn't be there . . . shouldn't be allowed to go," she said. "They just make it bad for those who do want to go."

Mrs. Bueschel, 42, also expressed surprise that the naturalization ceremony was not more elaborate, particularly the one during which she and her husband became citizens just three days after George Washington's birthday.

The ceremony lasted about two hours, a good part of which was spent standing in line. "And they had speakers there telling us things we already knew," Mrs. Bueschel said. "They told us things like we should be proud of our country and should be happy to live there."

"We didn't even have to repeat the oath," she added. "All we had to do was hold up our hand and say 'I do.'"

The Bueschel's 14-year-old daughter, Marita, a freshman at San Rafael High School, became a citizen automatically with her parents' naturalization. She attended the ceremony in U. S. District Court in San Francisco — the first time she had ever been inside a court — and "she liked it, kind of," Mrs. Bueschel said. "After it was over, she knew more about what went on than I did."

The Bueschels came to the United States 10 years ago from Heidenheim, Germany, a small town near Stuttgart. They have been in San Rafael since 1960 and live at 111 Solano Street.

Other Marin and Southern Sonoma residents naturalized last month were:

SAUSALITO — Joanna Nicklin of 50 Edwards Avenue.

NOVATO — Kazumi Jones and Mrs. Mitsuko Koiwai Jones, both of 225 Grandview Avenue.

SAN RAFAEL — Mrs. Gitla Fels of 1304 Grand Avenue; Alice Marianne Emma and Edward William Gutteling of 8 Los Robles; Roland Popp of 85 Mount Lassen Drive; Mrs. Ann Elizabeth Aldridge of 323 Bay View Street; Mrs. Dorothy Felicia Ekornes of 920 Lea Drive; Giovanni Maria Angonio Lo Coco of 177 Novato Street, Apartment 4; Clive Richard Sanders of 836 Appleberry Drive.

SAN ANSELMO — Mrs. Ann Jeanne Murray of 57 Oak Springs; Erika Motivans of 20 Sequoia Drive.

GREENBRAE — Giandomenico Rende of 45 Via Barranca.

FAIRFAX — Nicolae Dimitriu of 295 Scenic Road.

Fringe Benefits To Hula Dancers

A new labor contract covering 150 Waikiki entertainers was signed recently by the American Guild of Variety Artists and representatives of major hotels and nightclubs in Honolulu's Waikiki resort area.

The two-year contract will raise basic wages from 35 to 46 per cent and for the hula dancers will give them an additional allowance to buy ti leaves to make their grass skirts.

Moscow Demonstrations Show Censorship Control

Throngs of Muscovites surged past the Chinese Embassy in the capital of the Soviet Union last weekend, hurling bricks and bottles and chanting anti-Mao slogans.

The violent, destructive demonstration was reminiscent of those staged on college campuses in this country.

Militiamen stood guard to keep the mobs from storming the embassy. But police did not swing their clubs, nor did they spray Mace. A policeman with a bullhorn begged the demonstrators not to throw missiles. But they threw them anyway.

The demonstration pointed up the worsening relations between the Soviet Union and the People's Republic of China, which are neighbors for hundreds of miles along the borders of Sinkiang and Manchuria.

IT POINTED UP several other things also.

Russian police are not noted for their gentleness. That the mobs were allowed to demonstrate in front of the Chinese Embassy for two days, and to break virtually every one of its windows, indicates that the Soviet government was not averse to the demonstration.

Further, as United Press International reported from Moscow Saturday:

"This crowd had seen and heard the unprecedented television and press reports describing how Chinese frontier troops allegedly killed 31 Soviet border guards and mutilated many of them in last Sunday's clash."

The Peking government had a different version of that clash, but of course it was not reported in Russia.

THERE HAVE BEEN hundreds of clashes between Russian and Chinese forces on the long border. Nikita Khrushchev, when he was premier of the Soviet Union, alleged several hundred in one year.

But the Russian people ordinarily are not told about them. It was unprecedented, as UPI reported, for newspapers and television to carry a report of a border incident — and that nearly a week after it happened.

What the Russian people learn is what their government wants them to learn. No more. When it serves the government's purpose, a border clash is publicized. When it does not, there is no mention of the affair — regardless of the death toll.

The response of the populace to such an atrocity story is thus predictable. Secure in the belief — based on ignorance — that all is peaceful, they react abruptly and violently when TV and newspapers (government-owned, of course) tell them of attacks (unprovoked, of course) by their Chinese neighbors.

YET THERE ARE THOSE in this country, with its hard-won freedoms, who would have the newspapers, television and radio perform somewhat similarly.

There are those who sometimes tell us, "You should not have printed that, because it puts our city in a bad light." Or, "Why did you have to print that now? It may help defeat the bond issue." Or, "You should not publicize the violence; it only encourages it."

Although they don't realize it, these people are asking for a controlled press — Russian style. And if they got it, their responses, too, could be triggered by what the government (or someone else) decided they should be told or not told. They, too, would be subject to the "two minutes' hate."

We don't believe they'd really want that.

Nature—Weather Prophet

The first human weather prophet was probably a caveman, who saw the geese flying south and said to his wife, "Geese heading south! I predict cold weather will come." And, of course, he was right.

Since that time even until today, men have been making long-range weather forecasts based on the "signs" of nature: the amount of honey in a hive, the number of acorns or grains the hoarding animals have put away, the numbers of husks on an ear of corn, etc. Fundamentally, these "signs" are more indicative of what has been than what will be. And they also reveal man's belief in a kind of magic or benevolent force which looks after nature's small creatures.

If the birds are so darned smart, why didn't they spend this winter in Mexico or Florida? Huh?

Fair's Future Grows Darker While Bills Keep Piling Up

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Troubles of the California State Fair and Exposition are multiplying by the hour, and generally, it is the consensus that the time-honored exposition is nearing its demise.

This is despite the $34 million the people have invested in a new exposition site, designed in the beginning to house an all-California show, which estimates indicated would bring enough people to the capital to pay for the exposition and possibly make a profit.

Cal-Expo, however, is in worse shape than it ever has been. There are insufficient funds to complete the new plant, insufficient funds to put on an exposition, or even a fair this fall.

Meanwhile, the Legislature is confronted with the problem of paying off the revenue bonds issued by the state to complete the fair.

THE SITUATION is such that even legislators from Sacramento, who normally would support the show, have recommended that it be skipped in 1969, except for a 14-day horse racing meet.

One Sacramento assemblyman, Walter W. Powers, a Democrat, has introduced legislation to fire the present executive committee and replace with a smaller board.

In addition, Powers wants to co-ordinate a Sacramento convention center with the fair, to bring it more revenue.

It also would require the new board to contract with a nonprofit corporation for the development of policy and management of Cal-Expo. This was the plan when development was contemplated, but the present executive board disposed of the corporation and took over management after the 1968 fair.

THE LEGISLATOR is of the opinion that new concepts of operation and financing are in order to save both the fair and the proposed convention center.

But even if his bill is passed, it is doubtful whether the operation will ever be made into one which can survive. There probably will not be enough people to support either the fair or convention center.

However, both state and city probably will waste a few million dollars before they realize fairs are out of style in this modern day and age.

Principal Disputed In Redwood Dispute

In your March 4 issue on page 5 in an article on the "Haircut Revolt" of the Redwood High School track team. In it are several inaccuracies which we hope this letter will correct.

The article reports that Principal Donald Kreps said he "sees no problem." . . .

In fact, there is a serious problem which has been going on for over a year. Last week, 55 of 56 team members at a meeting signed a petition to Mr. Kreps protesting the short haircuts, no sideburns policy.

Mr. Kreps is reported as saying that no one "was dropped from the team," but several runners and one pole vaulter were required to turn in their suits. . . . This action brought on the petiton.

The article also quotes Principal Kreps as saying "athletes and all coaches agree to rules and regulations" at a meeting Feb. 27. This is not correct either. The undersigned attended this meeting as representatives of the track squad. . . . There was no such agreement reached.

On March 4, approximately 20 members of the team were prepared to stage a walkout in protest of these restrictions. On the advice of Gordon Pusser, father of two squad members, it was decided instead to submit to the rule, while at the same time using all appropriate channels to have it changed.

In the meantime, in case other MCAL schools expect to take advantage of our problems, we are working hard as usual to go after our third straight league championship.

Don't Lampoon Nation's President

I think that you are running far too many cartoons on your editorial page which lampoon or ridicule President Nixon. I believe this is in poor taste. I feel so, particularly in that we have in our country, and in our county, considerable numbers of people who seem to inherently lack respect for authority and for government.

It seems to me that a frequent belittling of public officials, especially those in high offices, in these days of extreme social pressures will surely result in less and less respect for government. I believe that the display of derogatory cartoons contributes to disrespect for public authority.

I wish you would give this policy matter some good searching thought.

Cannot Equate Vietnam, Highways

Your editorial of Feb. 22, "Vietnam Slaughter Tragic — But How About Highways?" is a strange kind of argument. How can you make a comparison between the two?

While you say the war has been largely an exercise in futility, and that we must question the terrible price, you also say that just quitting would be equally unacceptable. Just why is it so unacceptable? Why can't we admit we have made one of the greatest blunders in history and decide not to continue in it?

You mention the 32,000 American lives lost in Vietnam, but what of the hundreds of thousands of Vietnamese killed in both North Vietnam and South Vietnam? Or don't they count because they are not Americans? What about the more than 1,000,000 wounded on both sides, including civilians, women and children?

Certainly, the highway slaughter is deplorable, and perhaps more American young people are killed on the highways than in Vietnam; but they are on the highways because of their own free choice which is usually not the case of the G.I.'s putting their lives on the line.

It is indeed difficult to see in true perspective, as you suggest.

Resident Becomes Aware Of ABAG

ABAG! I have read and heard a lot about the proposed Association of Bay Area Governments and I don't like any part of it!

Who needs an additional layer of government to chew away at the overburdened taxpayer?

The proposed ABAG would be composed of nine Bay Area counties, only four of which are in the North Bay area. These four are comparatively light in population and would very likely be outvoted in any move advantageous to the East Bay and South Bay counties but undesirable to the North Bay counties. . . .

I am definitely against any association of Bay Area counties. If we must have such an association it should be four counties north of the Golen Gate Bridge. . . .

(Editor's note: The Association of Bay Area Governments is not a proposed organization. It has been in existence for over a decade. Its votes are not based on population. Each city and each county that is a member has a vote.)

Khrushchev's 'We'll Bury You' Works In Reverse Fashion

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON—It's 10 years now since Nikita Krushchev debated Vice President Nixon in the kitchen in Moscow and boasted that "in seven years we'll equal you . . surpass you . . . bury you" economically.

Krushchev didn't last long in office, but what about his prediction?

Are his successors closing the economic gap between the United States and the Soviet Union, or is the gap widening?

Is the Soviet system of almost total government control of the economy doing so well that it's an attractive model for the developing nations?

Is the American enterprise economy beginning to falter and fail as the Marxists say it must because of "inner contradictions"?

THE ANSWER is that none of Krushchev's boasts is being realized. The Soviet economy is not headed to burying us, is not surpassing us, and is not even beginning in any significant way to equal us.

If anything, the gap is growing wider when you compare national living standards. The technological gap is even greater between Russia and the West than it is between Western Europe and the United States.

The size of Soviet Union industrial production is so much smaller than that of the United States that even when there is a percentage gain by the Russians the gap may be even wider in absolute terms. Russia had a gross national product in 1967 of $361 billion, or 46 per cent of the U.S. GNP of $789.7 billion.

In the same year, in electric power, the Russians produced 589 billion kilowatt hours, the U.S. 1,396 billion; in passenger cars, the Soviet Union was 251,000, the U.S. 7.437 million. In meat, the Russians produced 10 million metric tons, the U.S. 15.5 million. (Here the USSR figures are inflated by including slaughter fats, poultry and edible offal excluded in U.S. figures.) The Russians produced 115,800 metric tons of synthetic fibers, the U.S. 1,508 million tons.

GROWTH RATE is not of itself meaningful unless the equality of products is maintained or raised. For example, a Russian jet engine cited by Krushchev proved to have a life span of 500 hours. A comparable engine produced by Britain at the same cost has a life span of 2,000 hours.

Another fact casts doubt on the reliability of Soviet economic statistics — faulty and useless products are counted more often than not as part of the total output.

WHY IS THE Soviet economy making so little — if any — headway toward Krushchev's prediction?

Perhaps one reason is that when Soviet officials look in the mirror they close their eyes to the real cause. Their reforms deal only with symptoms. Currently, the Moscow press blames it all on low labor productivity, poor application of technology, too many capital projects begun but not finished, too many expensive new plants too-long delayed in reaching capacity. And so on. But never a candid look at whether the Communist system itself is what's really to blame.

The competitive enterprise economy of the United States refuses to obey the dire "laws" of Marx and the forecasts that it must grind to a halt through recession, depression and disaster.

THE OPPOSITE has happened. The U.S. economy has never done so well, so long, so continuously. It has sustained an almost unbroken rate of growth for more than eight years. The continued dynamism of the American economy has removed what was once a widespread anxiety that Russian methods of economic and social management would become the alluring model for others.

And the more startling—and, for the Kremlin, grimmer—fact is that even in Communist nations many now look not to the Soviet Union but to the United States, Western Europe and Japan as representing more nearly the way a modern, industrialized economy should perform.

High Court Weighing Rights Of Juveniles

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court is being asked to further expand the application of constitutional rights to juveniles.

Before the court is the question of whether certain procedures in juvenile courts, which were established to afford special protection to young people, have unfairly deprived them of their rights. The pending case, involving a Nebraska juvenile court, has broad implications elsewhere.

THE SUPREME Court agreed to consider the juvenile court case on the same day it ruled that a school board in Des Moines, Ia., acted unconstitutionally in 1965 when it barred the wearing of black armbands by students to mourn the Vietnam war dead.

That decision, written by Justice Abe Fortas, prompted a sharp dissent from Justice Hugo Black. It has alarmed some public school administrators who feel it may give new impetus to disruptive protest and dissent by students.

The issues involved in the juvenile court case are quite a bit more legalistic than the freedom-of-expression issue cited by the court in upholding the black armbands. What is important, however, is a trend in the court's thinking.

LEGAL EXPERTS say the court began, in 1967, to extend constitutional rights and protection to young people who are still protected by the courts as juveniles. At that time juveniles charged with a crime were guaranteed a written notice of charges, the right of cross-examination and of representation by an attorney, and the privilege against self-incrimination.

Basic to the Nebraska case is the question of whether a juvenile must be afforded a jury trial in a state court if an adult would be given one.

That is the claim of attorneys for Clarence DeBacker, who was 17 when a juvenile court in Fremont, Neb., sent him to the Boys Training School after it found that he had signed his father's name to a $30 check. The lawyers contend that the boy was entitled to a jury trial under the guarantee of the Sixth Amendment.

They also claim the youngster should have been shown to have signed the check "beyond a reasonable doubt" — as in an adult criminal court — rather than on the basis of "a preponderance of the evidence" as was the standard in juvenile court.

ATTORNEYS for the State of Nebraska and Dodge County contend that the boy's claims should be dismissed because the state has the role of a substitute parent for an errant juvenile, even under the doctrine set by the Supreme Court in 1967.

Four members of the Nebraska Supreme Court said the boy was entitled to the rights claimed, and, three judges dissented. The decision would have voided a state law, however, and this required the vote of five judges.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

New Concept For Schools: Teacher Licensing Exams

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

A whole new approach to the licensing of teachers in California is proposed by Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan, D-South San Francisco.

Ryan's AB 740 calls for would-be teachers to pass examinations to prove competence in the subjects they would teach. It would set up a 15-member Commission for Teacher Preparation and Licensing, removing certification entirely from the state Department of Education.

EXAMINATIONS would be of three kinds: (1) departmentalized for single-subject teachers; (2) "self-contained" for elementary school teachers, and (3) specialist. Prerequisite to applying for an examination would be an A.B. or higher degree, with a major in one of the examination categories or a performance record in the field. The latter would, for instance, permit engineers to be licensed to teach mathematics, journalists to teach English, legislators to teach social studies, etc., by passing the appropriate examination.

In vocational subjects, the bachelor degree would not be required, a minimum of five years experience in the trade or technical occupation being substituted.

Ryan, a former high school teacher, calls the plan "the substitution of a defensible performance standard for an arbitrary number of courses and units."

CALIFORNIA'S teacher certification laws, like those of nearly all other states, require a degree plus a specified number of education courses and some practice teaching. Among other shortcomings, they do not recognize that a degree from the liberal arts school of Harvard, for instance, might mean more than the same degree from the education department of Prairie View A & M.

In introducing his bill, which would amend or repeal a host of provisions of the Education Code, Ryan claimed that the Fisher Act, designed to improve teacher preparation, has failed of its purpose.

That act, passed in 1961, requires academic subject matter majors for teachers, rather than the education major previously accepted. In its interpretation by the state Department of Education, however, it has become a "chaotic, inequitable administrative jungle," Ryan declared, "an incredible cross-quilt of detail and minutiae ... characterized by endless red tape, stifling restrictions and contradictory interpretations."

HE SEEKS to avoid this by transferring the licensing from the bureaucratically inept Department of Education, which continuously changes its regulations, and by getting rid of the long list of different kinds of credentials.

The licensing board is modeled closely after that suggested to the Massachusetts Advisory Conference on Teacher Education and Certification last year by education expert James D. Koerner.

It would consist of five certified California educators of whom at least four must be fulltime teachers, two public school administrators, five college faculty members of whom at least three must be full time teachers, one school board member, and two private citizens. They would be appointed by the governor to four-year terms, and prohibited from serving more than two full terms.

The teacher examinations would be developed by leading educators in each subject field. Nationally recognized exams would be used wherever possible.

RYAN CLAIMS the setup would cost only half as much as the present system. Costs of teacher licensing this year in California are estimated at $2,054,886 — or about $123 for each of the 160,000 cases processed.

Ryan's proposal represents the first approach in California — and one of the first in the nation — to applying to teachers the same competency requirements that prevail in other fields.

In California, one must pass an examination to compound prescriptions, or engage in contracting, or sell real estate, or even cut hair. But no evidence of competence is required to teach the children of the state.

Ryan's bill would change that.

Youth Commission Idea Endorsed For Mill Valley

A youth commission to deal with such problems as jobs, police, parents and recreation has been suggested for the City of Mill Valley.

The Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission Monday night unanimously endorsed the concept of a 13-man youth commission for the city as outlined by Parks and Recreation Director Don Dimitratos.

The proposal will be presented to the city council Monday.

Dimitratos said, "The scope of youth problems are much greater than just recreation. The youth of today want to be involved in what's going on in the community . . . want recognition and a feeling of belonging."

The commission concept was based on a highly successful one in Pleasant Hill, Contra Costa County, Dimitratos said. It has the support of the Tamalpais High School Student Council and the Mill Valley Human Rights Commission.

Commission goals would be to improve communication between youth and adults, to provide young people with exposure to other segments of the community, to encourage democratic values, to recognize that young people have standards of behavior differing from those of the adult community, and to accept those standards, "provided they are legal and moral."

Programs to be considered by the commission include an employment center, an auto center, police-youth discussion groups, coffee house, parent-youth discussion groups, and a drop-in house.

Seven of the 13 commissioners are to be under 21 and six over 29. Of the under-21 set, at least five are to be students at Tamalpais High School (two of these need not be residents of the city) and one a Mill Valley Middle School student.

Mill Valley Parks-Rec Commission Also:

BICYCLE TRAILS — Named Commissioners George M. Cagwin and Sarah Ann Davis to meet with Planning Director Harvey E. Bragdon, Dimitratos and a planning commission subcommittee to design a bicycle trail system for Mill Valley.

PHOENIX LAKE — Agreed to write a letter to the Town of Ross asking permission to use the lower parking area at Phoenix Lake for parking when the dam is refilled.

SWIMMING POOL — Endorsed in principle the concept of an olympic size swimming pool in southern Marin, provided it is of "broad community use."

SAVE THE BAY — Adopted a resolution "affirming the urgent need to save San Francisco Bay," agreed to become a cooperative member of the Citizens Alliance to Save San Francisco Bay and directed Dimitratos to check both actions with the city attorney to determine if they were legal.

STAGE — Asked Dimitratos to investigate the possibility of Mill Valley service clubs constructing a permanent stage for the Old Mill Park amphitheater, following a design prepared by Commissioner Richard J. Young, estimated to cost $700 for materials.

Hospital, City Join Forces

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Johns Hopkins Hospital and the new city of Columbia, Md., are joining forces in a sweeping program of prepaid medical care, expected to begin in 1970.

Residents of the "new town" between Washington and Baltimore can sign up for a voluntary health plan. For premiums paid to health insurance companies, they will receive every medical service from regular medical checkups to lengthy hospital stays. The size of the payments is yet to be determined.

New Liquor Control Code For Utah

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Gov. Calvin L. Rampton has signed into law a new liquor control code amidst a controversy which continues to inflame predominantly Mormon Utah like no other issue in years.

Forces identified with the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter day Saints (Mormon) call the new statue a compromise between church doctrine and those who advocate liberalized liquor sales as a tourist incentive.

The church, which claims membership of 70 per cent of the state's 1.2 million population, preaches that drinking is a sin. But decades ago it yielded to limited package liquor sales from state stores.

The law signed Monday allows private clubs and tourist-related restaurants to sell-one shot miniature bottles. But the thirsty customer must walk to the counter for his purchase, then serve himself.

More significant, however, it poses tough, new restrictions under which a network of modern speakeasies—masquerading as private clubs—would be forced to close.

Last year, a coalition of businessmen, tourist promoters and others put liquor by the drink on November's ballot, saying it would be a boon to the state's sagging economy.

The campaign reached unprecedented proportions and there were some instances of violence. But with the church and a hastily organized citizens group heading the opposition, voters defeated the referendum 2 to 1.

The citizens group then drafted, with the church's endorsement, the new code to implement what they viewed as the mandate against booze. The new proposals sailed through both houses of the legislature. More than 90 per cent of the lawmakers are Mormon.

A few legislators protested, most of them minority Democrats who argued that the voters' only "mandate" was for the status quo, not a new code.

The morning Salt Lake Tribune, which has warred with the church - owned Deseret News throughout the debate, called the new law "a monstrosity." The church paper says it "makes liquor reasonably availablt to tourists," but "puts teeth into the law."

Alabama Buses Many Youngsters Safely

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) —Alabama school officials report 397,622 students are transported daily in 5,350 buses in the state.

According to the school authorities, school buses are one of the safest methods of travel in the world.

Rainier, Grace Will Open Americanized Game Room

MONTE CARLO (London Express) — Prince Rainier and Princess Grace will set a precedent when they enter the casino gaming rooms — banned to authentic Monagasque citizens — to inaugurate officially Monte Carlo's Salon des Ameriques on March 15. This break with tradition may be due to Rainier having wrested control from Aristotle Onassis as boss of the casino.

Actually, the new American salon, decorated in the "Gone With the Wind" style, opened quietly almost furtively, on New Year's Day.

Except for its early American decor, the salon conforms more to Las Vegas style with craps, American roulette — two zeros — blackjack and a battalion of one-armed bandits.

Upgraded from the casion's atrium originally used by bus tourists with insufficient time or cash to penetrate into gaming rooms proper, fruit machines, like the snack bar and non-stop piped dance music ore innovations designed to supply an authentic American flavor.

During the trial period, Georges Chamoun, the Beirut gaming expert, has coached Monagasque croupiers in how to run the new American games and deal with the flood of transatlantic gamblers expected this summer.

Dentists' Work Really Cut Out

GABERONES, Botswana (AP) — Toothache sufferers among Botswana's 500,000 population will soon have professional help on hand.

At present, this former British territory has no dentist and everyone from President Sir Seretse Khama on down has to visit South Africa or Rhodesia for dental care. Civil servants get travel allowances to call on dentists across the border.

Dentists announced plans to open offices in Francistown and the capital, Gaberones, after Botswana's plight was publicized.

New Mexico Pecan Crop To Be Major Item

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (AP) — The New Mexico Farm and Ranch Magazine predicts pecan raising will become a major crop in southern New Mexico in the next two years.

The magazine says there are about 4,200 acres of pecan trees in Dona Ana County and from these trees an estimated 12 million pounds of nuts are expected this season.

On the basis of new plantings, growers by 1970 expect from 7,200 to 7,500 acres of pecan trees.

One grower, Stahmann Farms, near Las Cruces, already has about 200,000 trees on 4,000 acres.

Voters Dump Harbor Area

Dissolution of the Bolinas Harbor District, formed in 1957, was voted yesterday 313 to 266 as nearly 86 per cent of the district's 698 registered voters went to the polls in the hotly contested election.

Dissolution was favored in Bolinas by a 166 to 156 vote, in Stinson Beach by 137 to 102 and by absentee voters 10 to 8, reported Peter C. Meyer, Marin County elections officer.

The election was called by the Marin County Board of Supervisors after two years of controversy of the district's plans for development of the Bolinas Lagoon, which were vigorously opposed by conservation groups.

Proponents of dissolution wanted Marin County to take over administration of the lagoon. State action will be required to give the county jurisdiction since the harbor district got administration from the state Lands Commission.

As proposed, Marin County also would absorb the liabilities of the district, not to exceed $125,536, which stem from district purchases of property and state loans for lagoon studies. Any other liabilities would remain the responsibility of the property owners in the district, supervisors agreed.

The state granted the district the lagoon in 1959 on condition that it be "substantially improved" within 10 years, and last year the Legislature extended the deadline to 1971.

Harbor district board members proposed development of the lagoon to finance dredging which they said was needed to

Greyhound Station Closing Protested

By LARRY D. HATFIELD

Bus commuters in San Anselmo and surrounding communities may lose their busy Greyhound station in downtown San Anselmo at the end of this month, the city's council was told last night.

(Another San Anselmo City Council story, page 40.)

The council immediately took action to block the closing of the important transportation hub, asking the Marin County Transit District to be ready to seek an injunction from the state Public Utilities Commission if negotiations with Greyhound to keep the station open fail.

L. D. Hofeditz, a district marketing supervisor for Western Greyhound Lines, told the council the closing of the station may be necessary because its longtime agent, Mrs. Ada McVerry, is retiring March 31.

Efforts to find a replacement so far have been unsuccessful, Hofeditz said. The station is operated by an agent under contract to the company.

The announcement, of which councilmen first learned Monday, brought a storm of protest from members and San Anselmo residents in the audience. It also prompted a statement from county Transit Director Seymour Kashin that the state utilities commission views the situation "with some gravity" because it considers the station a major clog in Marin's commuter traffic. About a third of all commuter traffic in the county funnels through San Anselmo, he said, and the station serves as a transfer for all traffic from the Ross Valley.

Councilman James F. Reed said the council would use

Nixon, Congressmen Will Huddle On ABM

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon will discuss the antiballistic missile controversy with Republican and Democratic leaders of Congress Friday, then hold a television-radio news conference the same day.

The White House, announcing this today, would not say flatly that Nixon would be ready by Friday to disclose his decision on whether to deploy the hotly debated Sentinel antiballistic missile shield. (Involved in the controversy is a proposed Sentinel site on Wolfback Ridge above Sausalito).

All that press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler would say was that Nixon still expects to announce a decision this week.

Obviously, the ABM controversy will figure prominently in the news conference, to be held at 9 a.m. PST Friday in the East Room of the White House. And it was generally assumed Nixon would be prepared to announce his stand at that time.

The chief executive originally had planned to meet today with the National Security Council but this session was postponed to Saturday.

Ziegler said Nixon put off the meeting so Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, who returns late tonight from South Vietnam, could prepare a report on his inspection tour of the war zone for the council.

The bipartisan congressional leaders will meet with Nixon on the ABM at 5:30 a.m. PST Friday.

The President will meet with Laird tomorrow.

BLUSTERY WEATHER — Navy meteorologists struggle to send up a weather balloon from the carrier Guadalcanal, while it steams toward a less stormy part of the Atlantic for tomorrow morning's rendezvous with the returning Apollo 9. High winds popped the balloon. (AP Wirephoto)

Stormy Seas Force Detour For Astronauts Tomorrow

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—The Apollo 9 astronauts, fearing the raging seas of the stormy Atlantic, were ordered today to stay aloft one more orbit tomorrow and steer their moonship toward a calmer landing spot 480 miles to the south.

The splashdown switch will force the spacemen to lengthen their 10-day mission by 98 minutes. The USS Guadalcanal, the prime recovery ship, changed course and steamed through mighty, green swells toward the new landing area.

"Hey, let's go there, let's go there," yelped Apollo 9 commander James A. McDivitt of the smoother area where he, David R. Scott and Russell L. Schweickart will be recovered.

It was only the second time in 19 American spaceflights that a landing area was changed because of the weather. The first came when Gemini 5 was brought down one orbit early in 1965, to avoid a brewing hurricane.

Weathermen expected 26-mile-an-hour winds, 6-8 foot waves and watery swells of 10 to 12 feet high in Apollo 9's original landing area.

"I don't think anybody up here is a good enough sailor for that," McDivitt said of a landing in the windy, swelling ocean 200 miles southwest of Bermuda.

The new splashdown time was estimated at 9:03 p.m. PST tomorrow in much calmer seas.

Waves of only a few feet are enough to toss the cone-shaped Apollo capsule and its spacemen around like a cork. Recovery team leaders aboard the Guadalcanal said seas of 10 to 12 feet and winds up to 32 miles an hour were the maximum that could be tolerated for a safe recovery.

"We think Apollo is a helluva spacecraft," said one flight controller. "We're not so sure about its qualities as a boat. We sure don't want it to sink."

Drath's Car Target Of Arson Try

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Black Student Union strike leader at San Francisco State College was arrested last night on the campus on charges of attempted arson to cars which included one registered to Philip Drath of San Rafael.

Nesbit D. V. Crutchfield, 29, of San Francisco, was taken into custody after campus police found two cars apparently rigged to be set afire in the student parking lot.

Drath's daughter, Marilyn, was using the car while attending night classes.

Police Sgt. Lawrence Grant said officers spotted Crutchfield in the shrubbery near the parking lot before they discovered the automobile arson attempts.

They allowed him to leave after he identified himself as a student and said he was waiting at the parking lot for a girl friend.

Minutes later the officer said they discovered two cars with gas caps removed and gasoline-soaked cloth strips leading to the pavement. They said one strip ended in a gasoline pool. The other led to a cup holding a candle and filled with fuel.

The officers issued a search alert for Crutchfield. He was located five minutes later near a student residence hall.

The officers said he was try-

No Double Session Set At Davidson

There will be no double sessions at Davidson Junior High School next school year.

The San Rafael Board of Education, which two weeks ago voted for the double sessions to make Davidson a sixth-through-eighth grade "middle school," rescinded the action last night.

Board members agreed to try again in June for passage of an elementary school bond issue, but left the amount uncertain. Defeat of a $2.1 million proposal on Feb. 18 brought the double sessions proposal. (Another San Rafael Board of Education story, page 22.)

The board room at the school administration building was packed with more than 100 onlookers as the meeting opened last night — many of them apparently on hand to protest the double sessions plan.

Board president Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. suggested soon after the meeting opened — and before anyone in the audience had a chance to speak — that any action on double sessions be postponed a year.

Board member Herman L. Childress Jr. agreed, saying "we were too hasty" in voting the San Rafael had .28 of an inch for 24 hours to noon.

Senators Seek Full Probe Of Army Prison Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Armed Services Committee was urged today to investigate conditions at the nation's 23 military prisons, particularly the Army stockade at the Presidio in San Francisco.

The call came from Sens. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., and Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., who cited what they called the "outrageous shotgun killing" of an Army prisoner at the Presidio on Oct. 11, and the subsequent sitdown protest and mutiny charges against 27 soldiers.

The soldier, Pvt. Richard Bunch, was shot by a guard as he attempted to escape, officials said.

The court-martial of five young GIs continued today with additional arguments on a defense motion to dismiss the charge on grounds the defendants had been denied due process.

Col. John G. Lee, the law officer presiding at the court-martial in San Francisco's Presidio yesterday, ordered a psychiatric evaluation and separate trial for a sixth soldier.

His action followed a defense counsel's statement that Pvt. Lawrence Zaino, 20, of Toledo, Ohio, went beserk Monday night and tried to attack a military policeman with a chair.

Two defense motions for dismissal were turned down yesterday by Lee.

Still pending is a defense motion for change of venue.

Flood Repair Gas Tax Over Hurdle

Senators Approve Extension

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate voted unanimously today to extend the life of a proposed boost in the gasoline tax to pay for flood damage now estimated at some $150 million.

Under the revised measure the tax on motor fuels would go up from 7 cents to 8 cents a gallon until Nov. 30. Previously, the boost would have expired June 30.

The action came on adoption of amendments to an Assembly passed measure to finance repairs from the worst rains and floods to hit California in 30 years.

$150 MILLION TAB

Sen. Stephen Teale, D-West Point, one of the backers of the change, said federal, state and local officials now estimate the damage to roads, highways and other public facilities hit by January and February floods at $150 million.

A warm spring, with the sun melting one of history's greatest Sierra snowpacks, could add another $55 million in highway damage, he said.

The gas tax hike would finance highway and road repairs, with 80 per cent of the proceeds going to local government and the rest to the state.

Repairs of other facilities would be financed by state and local governments. Under another amendment, the state would pay for 60 per cent of most of the work to dams, buildings and other public works projects — and after a certain point pick up 95 per cent of the tab.

ENABLES VOTE

It appropriates $25 million for such work.

The action — without debate — cleared the way for a Senate vote March 19. That would return the measure to the Assembly.

But the big question was what Gov. Ronald Reagan would do. The governor, who once pledged no new taxes, said last week he would reconsider his position if damage estimates rose substantially above $66.1 million.

Teale backed the amendments, indicating that lightly populated counties would drop their opposition to a plan they once said favored populous Los Angeles.

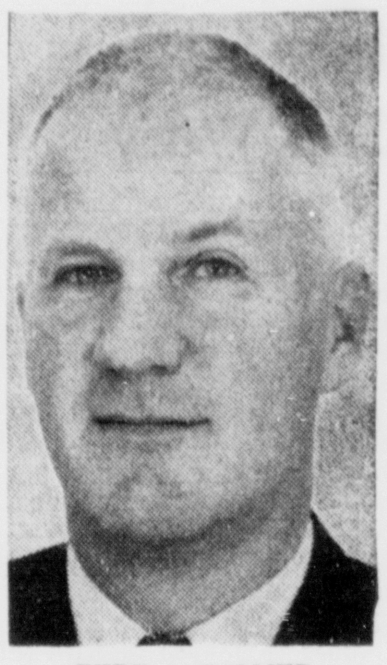
Balmer Quits City To Try Authorship



BERT A. BALMER
Resigns while denying it

Even as copies of his letter of resignation were being hand-carried by police officers to Mill Valley city councilmen, Balmer was denying to newspaper reporters that such letters had been written and that he had any intention of submitting his resignation before the end of March.

His resignation did not come as a surprise, however. He has long talked of leaving Mill Valley some time this year to devote himself to completing a novel, on which he has been long engaged.

In his letter, Balmer said he would be leaving the city as of June 30 to take up a writing career.

Mayor Dean N. Meyer is expected to appoint a four-man screening committee at Monday night's council meeting to start finding a replacement for Balmer.

In the past, he has said he and his wife, Mary, and their younger son, Jim, 13, would live on the San Juan Islands in Washington while he works on the book.

Balmer began his controversial five-and-a-half-year term with the city in 1963 when he was hired to succeed A. E. Almcrantz at an annual salary of $12,500. He now earns $20,123.

Under his guidance the city undertook and ambitious annexation program which was bitterly criticized by other cities, residents of unincorporated areas and some large property owners.

Although he never achieved his goal of making Mill Valley the largest city in Marin County by annexing all of the unincorporated land between Tiburon and the Pacific Ocean south of the Corte Madera Ridge, he oversaw annexation of 587 acres, including areas in the North Ridge, Alto Bowl and Richardson Bay tidelands.

A native of Washington, Balmer is a graduate of the University of Washington where he later served as a municipal consultant for the university bureau of government research and the Association of Washingto Cities.

Before coming to Mill Valley, Balmer worked as assistant city manager in Redwood City from 1959 to 1961 and as assistant city manager in Fresno from 1961 to 1963.

THE DRUG SCENE

Parents Must First Know Their Enemy

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Writer

(Third in a Series of 10)

Wise parents will try to lead from the strength of knowledge in discussing drugs with their children. Only that way are they likely to be effective; only that way can they speak intelligently.

Knowledge in this case must be based on the facts about the drugs themselves — what they're like and what they do to people. Here is a rundown on the principal drugs being used or abused.

It's more commonly known as pot, grass, Mary Jane, hay, joint, reefer, stick or by a dozen other names.

As generally used in the Unitee States, marijuana is a mild drug that produces fantasies. Smokers may develop a psychological need for it. But it is not physically habit forming — quitting it doesn't cause any physical withdrawal symptoms.

It is not a narcotic, and neither are other hallucination-producing drugs. Marijuana is under narcotics control for various reasons. But true narcotics usually produce sleep or stupor and relieve pain; they can be addictive or habit forming.

Marijuana comes from the female hemp plant, Cannabis sativa. The leaves and flowering tops are dried, sometimes are mixed with tobacco, and rolled into a cigarette.

The effects, felt in a few minutes, usually last three to five hours, but may go on for 12. Reefers can vary widely in potency, depending on their content of the active plant ingredient.

Typically, most smokers have a feeling of great well-being, of feeling high, like having had a few alcoholic drinks. They may become talkative and hilarious, or fall

LAST BACHELOR BEATLE MARRIES

With screams of fans ringing in their ears, Beatle Paul McCartney, his bride and her daughter, Heather, 6, leave London's Marylebone Registry after a civil wedding this morning. Nixon Note To Sihanouk Frees Fliers

BANGKOK (AP) — Four American fliers captured in Cambodia a month ago were returned to freedom today as the result of a letter from President Nixon to ruling Prince Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia.

The four men are Maj. Querin Herlik, Green Bay, Wis.; Laird Osburn, Webster, W.Va.; John Fisher, Gainesville, Fla., and Rob Pryor, Oak Ridge, Tenn.

Stationed in South Vietnam, they were captured on Feb. 12 after their L19 observation plane was shot down near the border between Cambodia and South Vietnam.

The airmen were held in a Cambodian naval barracks, and Sihanouk asked President Nixon to write him a letter asking for their release. Cambodia's Khmer Press Agency said Nixon wrote the Cambodian chief of state on March 8.

The prisoners were released to the Australian Embassy in Phnom Penh yesterday and arrived in Bangkok today aboard a Burmese airliner.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Declares War

DUBLIN (AP) — The outlawed Irish Republican Army declared war today on foreign settlers in Ireland, saying they were a "new checkbook attack on the rights and property of the Irish people."

A statement issued by IRA activists claimed responsibility for a weekend fire that gutted an 18th Century mansion owned by Jacobus Wieben Holstein, a German who recently took Irish citizenship. Holstein had intended to turn the house and 400-acre estate into a country club, much to the disgruntlement of County Meath farmers who wanted the land.

Halt Dawn Dash

BERLIN (AP) — East German border guards opened fire today to halt a dawn dash across the border by a would-be refugee to West Berlin.

Police reported that the young man, about 25, apparently was not injured. He had reached the final barrier fence when discovered and was taken into custody.

Tokyo Snowstorm

TOKYO (AP) — A snowstorm dumped 11 inches on Tokyo today, stranding more than a million commuters and paralyzing all land, sea and air transportation in central Japan.

Tokyo's international airport was closed until further notice.

French Boycott

LONDON (AP) — For the fourth time in a month, France boycotted a meeting in London today of the permanent council of the Western European Union, which links Britian with the six European Common Market countries.

The ambassadors of Belgium, West Germany, Italy, Luxembourg and the Netherlands attended, and Britain was represented by a Foreign Office official.

A WEU spokesman declined to give details of the agenda, but sources said Greece was expected to be one of the items.

Abrasive shark hide, known as shagreen, was once used as sandpaper by cabinetmakers.

Attack Airport

VIENTIANE (AP) — Fifty Pathet Lao soldiers attacked an airport two miles from the Royal Laotian capital of Luang Prabang today, government sources said.

The sources said two of the attackers were slain and three others, all North Vietnamese, were taken prisoner.

They put government losses at four killed and nine wounded and said a T28 plane was destroyed.

Minuteman Fired

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE (AP) A Minuteman II intercontinental ballistic missile was successfully launched down the Western Test Range at 3:20 a.m. today, the Air Force said.

Private Industry Next For Schirra

HOUSTON (UPI)—Walter M. (Wally) Schirra, a man who seeks challenge and found it in three American space missions has found a new challenge—private industry.

Schirra, the crusty commender of Apollo 7, the first manned launch of the moonship series, said yesterday he will become president and executive officer of the New Regency Corp. of Denver, an equipment leasing firm.

Schirra, one of the seven original Mercury astronauts, retires from the spaceman corps June 1.

Red Attacks Ease; U.S. Still Wary

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong's rocket and mortar attacks dropped off sharply today, but American officers said it might be only a pause in the enemy's 18-day-old spring offensive.

U.S. sources pointed out that the Communist command still has thousands of troops it has not committed to the offensive yet. They said a new wave of attacks could come any day and that the rest of this week is a critical period.

Allied spokesmen reported 20 rocket and mortar attacks on allied bases and towns during the night, compared to about 60 the night before. U.S. headquarters said casualties were light.

Five more ground fights yesterday were reported, resulting in the deaths of 126 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese and 10 Americans.

U.S. headquarters reported 76 men of the enemy were killed in an abortive ambush of a 50-truck convoy 43 miles northwest of Saigon. Spokesmen said the only American casualties were eight men wounded, and one truck loaded with beer was slightly damaged.

In Washington, preliminary reports from Saigon indicate that fewer than 350 American soldiers died in the second week of the enemy offensive in South Vietnam, which ended last Saturday, Pentagon sources reported.

The figure is about 100 lower than the first week, but still heavier than in any other comparable period since late August.

President Nixon has linked U.S. casualties to a possible response to the enemy shelling of cities and U.S. bases in Vietnam.

Around-The-Clock Bargaining Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Negotiators for American Airlines and the Transport Workers Union went into round-the-clock bargaining sessions today in an effort to settle the two-week-old strike against the carrier.

The stepped-up negotiations were arranged at the request of the National Mediation Board, which has been working with representatives of both sides in seeking agreement on a new contract.

Border Duels, Youth Riots Bother Israel

TEL AVIV (AP) — Light-arms fire broke out along the Suez Canal today and Israeli and Jordanian forces traded fire in the Jordan Valley.

The Israeli army in Tel Aviv said the Egyptians started the new round of hostilities along the canal with sniper fire. Israeli troops fired back, the army said.

Israeli soldiers fired in the air to quell a schoolboys' riot in the occupied Gaza Strip. Officials said 500 schoolboys charged an Israeli halftrack, throwing stones and chanting curses and Palestine slogans. The students set boxes afire and erected stone barricades in the street. They were dispersed after troops fired into the air and 25 of them were arrested.

Army spokesmen reported several hundred other students staged a stone-throwing demonstration in the casbah of Nablus, in occupied Jordanian territory north of Jerusalem. Troops dispersed them and placed the casbah under curfew.

Meanwhile, United Nations observers stationed along the 103-mile-long waterway have blamed the Egyptians for starting the shooting on all occasions along the Suez Canal.

The staff officer said the Egyptians must be convinced "they are getting the short end" in the fighting. He said they are confusing fact and fiction in believing they have inflicted heavy casualties on the Israelis.

Cairo has claimed destruction of five Israeli Piper Cubs, a helicopter and 22 tanks and wounding and killing scores of troops.

The officer said Israel in the last four days suffered five soldiers killed, 25 wounded, one Piper Cub plane shot down, two vehicles destroyed and a few others damaged.

French Labor Unions End Strike; Wage Talk Next

PARIS (AP) — Both President Charles de Gaulle's government and French labor unions were ready today for new wage negotiations after a general strike that crippled the country for 24 hours.

Gold prices, which rose last week in part because of a threat to the stability of the franc, declined in various European trading centers. There were reports South Africa may have sold some of its gold reserves on the free market or that arrangements are being made for such sales.

Information Minister Joel le Theule told newsmen after a cabinet meeting the government is eager for talks with business and labor. At the same time, he insisted on the government's position: no more than a 4 per cent wage increase.

The unions want 10 to 12 per cent.

Maurice Schumann, minister for social affairs, said the strike had hit nationalized industry much more heavily than private industry.

The country was pretty well back at work today.

The big labor unions felt yesterday's general strike and a demonstration in Paris by an estimated 60,000 to 100,000 workers would pressure the government into raising its wage increase offer above the 5 per cent limit.

French unions call strikes for only limited periods, usually 24 hours, because they do not have the funds to pay their members strike pay as American unions do. The wage demands and the strike announcement spurred a new gold rush last week in European bullion markets on the theory the franc might be devalued.

In Italy, thousands of civil servants, biologists, chemists and farm workers went on strike today.

About 30,000 civil servants went on a four-day strike demanding higher wages and equal pay for persons doing the same work.

The strike affected all government ministries, customs and tax offices and state agencies.

Hospital biologists and chemists also went out for four days, demanding higher wages and modernization of their laboratory equipment.

No Double Session Set At Davidson

double sessions for next fall. Kramer then announced the action would be reconsidered later in the meeting. When time came for that, Childress moved the middle school plan be put off to 1970, canceling any need for double sessions. This was voted unanimously by the four members present. John C. Pfeiffer was absent.

The board set a special meeting for 5:15 p.m. Friday at the administration building to further discuss the proposed June repeat of the bond election.

The petition, signed by pupils and faculty, described the signers as "the once unheard, now heard."

The recommendation for another bond election in June came from Paul McMullen, chairman of Your Elementary Schools Committee.

The YES committee also recommended that the board again seek $2.1 million and hold to the middle school concept, but "delay as long as possible" double sessions.

McMullen, speaking for himself, said the board could consider building three classroom buildings at the planned Glenwood Middle School instead of five, a move that would cut the bond proposal to $1.75 million.

It also could consider building four classroom buildings, which would require a bond issue of $1.925 million, McMullen said.

Under each proposal however, the planned library resource center would have to be used to house students, making a capacity 750 pupils for $1.75 million and 900 for $1.925 million.

McMullen said the board also could consider cutting $40,000 from the $522,100 originally planned for improvements at existing elementary schools.

Supt. John F. Plank said possibly the district wouldn't need to accommodate a capacity of 900 pupils in the near future, and could "have shorter sights."

Board members agreed that there shouldn't be more portable classrooms constructed in the elementary district.

Board Member Herman L. Childress said the district has 17 portable classrooms housing about 8 or 9 per cent of the total elementary enrollment, and that was too many.

Michael Edwards, representing the San Rafael Teachers Association, urged board members not to overlook the need for operating funds while pondering finances.

He said the elementary district has been operating at a deficit this year, and he was concerned whether the district would have sufficient funds next year.

Board members said they didn't contemplate any action to boost the operating tax rate since they haven't a proposed 1969-70 budget, or any recommendation from the citizens committee to call for a tax rate increase election.

T. E. Fullmer of 81 San Marino Drive, noting that part of the taxpayer unrest at the polls resulted from student unrest, suggested the board consider setting a policy on unrest or strike by teachers or students.

Plank said the existing laws cover the situation, and Board Member Childress said that when a student is disruptive, the parents are called and he is removed.

A suggestion on how middle school pupils could be housed if the bond election fails came from Bill G. Grant of 123 Ridgewood Drive.

Glenwood Elementary or San Pedro School could be converted into a middle school, housing sixth, seventh and eighth graders, Grant said.

This would mean that pupils from the kindergarten through the fifth grade in the school converted would have to be bused to another elementary school, Grant pointed out.

keep the lagoon from silting in, but their development proposals stirred a controversy.

Conservationists said the board thought only in terms of a major harbor facility, and their plans would ruin the natural beauty of the lagoon.

District supporters argued that retaining the district would provide local control and contended that the county had no constructive suggestions for the future of the lagoon.

At the campaign's close district opponents charged that the district had spent $317,843, including $67,518 to planning consultant, Norman T. Gilroy, without correcting any lagoon problems.

There also had been criticism of the harbor commissioners' plan to dredge 60,000 cubic yards of mud from Bolinas Channel and a channel past Kent Island in the lagoon.

Two citizen group were formed, the Committee to Preserve Bolinas Lagoon, supporting the board, and Citizens for a Sensible Bolinas Harbor, favoring dissolution.

Gun Accident Hurts Musician

John D. Watson, with addresses at 130 Homestead Boulevard, Mill Valley, and in Fortuna, accidently wounded himself while examining a semi-automatic pistol while parked on Highway 1 between Marin County and Fort Bragg yesterday, according to sheriff's deputies.

Watson, 33, a musician, was treated at Marin General Hospital.

He told investigating deputies that he had been drinking wine and playing his flute in his microbus before the accident occurred.

The bullet passed through his right shoulder, missing bones and vital organs. Watson told deputies he then threw the gun away because he didn't have a permit.

Dead Whale Is A Headache

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A gray whale is turning into a white elephant for San Francisco.

The dead 30-ton whale washed up on Ocean Beach yesterday. A gash in its back indicated that a ship or a harpoon had done it in.

Somebody suggested the Coast Guard might remove it as a "menace to navigation," but it seemed unlikely ships would navigate along the beach.

The state Fish and Game Department pointed out that it wasn't fish or game so it wasn't its responsibility. The city promised some kind of action in a day or two.

Burglars Take Expensive Items

A burglar took jewelry valued at $463, $350 in currency and approximately $350 in coins Sunday from the residence of Lloyd W. Cunningham, 6 Vista Clara, police said.

Jerry M. Hoefflein of 324 Sausalito Boulevard told police a burglar Thursday took goods valued at $1,054 from his home, including $200 in coins, a color television set, a radio, three suits and other men's clothing.

Secret Team's Ability Aired

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — The USS Pueblo's intelligence mission was unproductive before it was captured by North Koreans, its skipper says.

And, without citing it as the reason for unproductivity, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher said he was told before the capture that some intelligence personnel had "low job efficiency."

The remarks were in a summary released today of testimony Bucher gave yesterday before a session of a board of inquiry that was closed in the interest of national security. The board is investigating the Pueblo's capture and imprisonment of its crew.

Crutchfield, BSU treasurer and a student-instructor at the college, was booked on three charges of attempted arson. He was released on $9,400 bail.

Crutchfield's arrest marked the latest arrest in several bomb and arson attempts reported at the college. Last week a 19-year-old Negro student, Tim Peebles, was critically injured when a bomb police said he was planting in a college locker room exploded in his hands.

Meanwhile, acting president S. I. Hayakawa, warned staffers of the campus daily newspaper, the Golden Gater, that they face discipline if they persist in publishing the paper.

He banned publication of the Gater, which has supported the four-months student strike, on grounds it "is not a representative newspaper on this campus."

Also suspended was a magazine, Open Process, and the Black Students Union paper, Black Fire.

The Gater promptly put out its 8,000 daily run yesterday and printed a cartoon showing Hayakawa in diapers and a playpen setting a match to the First Amendment.

Hayakawa's main objection to the Gater, in his words, was that "at best, it represents only half of the student body's opinion but it uses all the students' money to publish."

Tied in with the Gater situation is Bank of America's request to allot $40,000 to various student groups. On Feb. 17 the bank was appointed receiver of all student body funds.

The request was to be heard today before Superior Court Judge Henry Rolf.

Greenbrae Home Car Theft Linked

Billings told deputies that the previous homeowner's car had been stolen shortly before the property was transfered in September. In the car had been a set of house keys.

Billings estimated that the silverware had been stolen sometime in late October and early November. He notified the sheriff's department on advice of his insurance adjustor.

East Germans Halting Trucks

BERLIN (UPI)—East German border guards today refused to let a truck loaded with reference books pass through their checkpoint out of West Berlin because they objected to its cargo.

The harrassment came despite a Western allied protest which said the East German refusal to pass trucks through their checkpoints violated the Western right of free access to Berlin.

The Western protest said Communists had turned back several trucks bound for the West on the pretext they carried war goods. The truck turned back today carried reference books with compilations of West German newspaper stories.

BUS

"every means at our disposal" to keep the station open. Councilman Kenneth S. Anderson added, "The first day this ticket office is closed, we'll be up in Sacramento with every friend we can muster."

Councilman Robert M. Scott, told Hofeditz, "We all know Greyhound wants to get out of the commuter business . . . (but) gentlemen, you're big boys, sweat it out."

Hofeditz told the council the company would not consider paying a salary for a temporary station manager, nor has the firm advertised for a new agent because of bonding requirements for the job.

This prompted a question from Sophia Spencer, a member of the audience, who asked, "What's so complicated about bonding? Our PTA treasurer is bonded."

Under a resolution by Reed, passed unanimously, a formal complaint will be filed with the state utilities commission if no agreement has been reached with Greyhound by March 21.

He emphasized that the city would rather settle it amicably, but agreed with the other four council members that the station "must not close."

Hofeditz said he was "confident" a solution would be found.

OBITUARIES

Robert Lawrence Dies At 63

Robert Lawrence, Greenbrae artist whose work adorns commercial buildings throughout the state, died yesterday at a local hospital following a long illness.

Lawrence, 63, of 2130 Redwood Highway, was a native of British Columbia who came to California in 1924 and became a citizen in 1938.

During World War II he lived in Mill Valley and worked at Marinship as a welder and artist, producing many safety films for the firm. He moved to San Mateo after the war and lived there until 1956 when he returned to Marin.

A self-taught artist who worked primarily in murals and mosaics, his work is primarily in many restaurants and bowling alleys in Marin, San Francisco and on the Peninsula.

Other work is at Harrah's Club in Reno and a major mosaic by him is in the Calaveras County Civic Center.

Among the Marin spots where his work is featured is Bob's of Marin, the Round Table pizza house in San Rafael and the California Highway Patrol office.

Survivors are his wife, Elise; a daughter, Barbara Lawrence of the home; four sons, Vernon G. Lawrence of Sacramento; Kenneth Lawrence stationed with the Air Force in North Carolina; Ronald Lawrence of Oakland, and Roger Lawrence of the home, and two trothers, Arthur Lawrence of Petaluma and Raymond Lawrence of Vancouver, British Columbia.

Funeral is pending at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

Two School Tax Increases Pass

OAKLAND (UPI) — School tax increases were defeated in two Alameda County school districts yesterday and passed in one.

In the Pleasanton-Dublin area, a 40-cent boost in the present $1.55 tax rate of the Amador Joint Union High School District was approved by a vote of 1,952 to 1,246.

In the Castro Valley Unified School District, the vote was 4,684 to 3,582 against a $1.50 boost in the current $3.55 rate.

A proposal to increase a $3.55 rate to $5.55 in the San Lorenzo Unified School District was defeated 7,013, to 3,471.

Conservation League Endorses Open Space

By MARY LEYDECKER

The Marin Conservation League last night heard and answered a clarion call for the establishment of a Bay Area regional open space agency which would be created by the state and have powers and money for acquisition of land.

After a talk at the league's annual dinner at Dominic's restaurant in San Rafael by Irwin Luckman, former manager of the East Bay Regional Park District, the league voted to endorse Luckman's proposal for such an agency.

A "united front is essential," Luckman said to obtain a unified green belt system in the nine-county Bay Area.

Luckman, a native of Brooklyn, N. Y., said he did not subscribe to the "wonderful pioneering spirit of California" and that this state could learn lessons from other areas in land use.

Open space "can do a number of things for us," the park and recreation planner said, including controlling sprawl, bringing permanence to non-urban use of land, preserving agricultural activities, protecting wildlife and preserving options for the future.

Recreation is important but is not the major concern, he said.

As to methods to obtain the open land for public, Luckman said that present technique of providing tax relief for agriculutral land is not working well because it is allowing owners to hold land for 10 years for speculation.

"Buying it" sounds drastic, Luckman said, but the saving on services not needed by empty land would partially offset the cost.

A combination of purchase and zoning or regulation with compensation for land owners were two other methods he described. Luckman concluded that consultants for a just-completed report by the People for Open Space under a Ford Foundation grant had recommended a combination of techniques.

"We must plan for non-development as well as development," Luckman concluded in strongly urging a regional agency with funding to come from other sources than the property tax payer.

At the counclusion of Luckman's talk, a panel of four speakers commented on his open space proposals. Howard B. Allen, president of the Marin Audubon Society, said that "one more master plan is too much" and that loclal groups could achieve open space preservation without a super-agency.

A former member of the planning commission, Claude Stoller, suggested that Califorians "take many things for granted" which are really "felicitous accidents," such as open land owned by the military.

Mrs. Morse Erskine, speaking in place of conservation writer Mrs. Edgar Wayburn, suggested that new methods for preserving open space be used, such as federal grants encouraging developers of "new towns" to preserve green belts.

Found Credit Card Used, Tossed Away

A youth who stole a purse from the home of Carol G. Loftus of 1848 Indian Valley Road, Novato, used a credit card he found in it before abandoning the purse and the card, sheriff's officers said yesterday.

Employees of Shoe Fair, San Anselmo, said the youth, described as about 15 years old, used the card to make a purchase there. The purse and card were found later Saturday thrown down on Indian Valley Road.

Rockefeller Set For Latin Visit As Nixon Envoy

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said today he will go to South America as the ears of the White House —to receive views of national leaders "on whatever subjects they wish to discuss."

Accordingly, the New York governor said, he will make no effort during a series of forthcoming trips to promote a new "Good Neighbor" policy he drafted last year when he was competing with Richard M. Nixon for the presidency.

At the time, Rockefeller voiced strong concern about deterioration of Latin American relations—the very reason that Nixon has requested him to undertake the special mission.

"The fact of the matter," Rockefeller said then, "is that we have neglected Latin American relations and our neighbors feel it." He added:

"Our alliances are in disarray because we too often confuse consultation with elaborating on American blueprints. No self-respecting ally will feel responsible for programs that have not been made his own, through active participation."

Checkup Ordered As Sentencing Prelude

D'Anna Wilson of Novato, who earlier had pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court to passing four bad checks, Monday was ordered to a state diagnostic center for 90 days evaluation before sentencing.

Judge Harold J. Haley made the order.

Mystery Break-In

Burglars who broke into the home of Rose Altieri Johnson at 270 San Francisco Boulevard, San Anselmo, on Friday took nothing but consumed part of a bottle of bourbon and made a phone call to the sheriff's office in Beaverton, Ore., sheriff's deputies said yesterday.

Bill Seeks $30,571 Pay For District Attorneys

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill that would hike Marin County Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales' annual pay from $24,000 to $30,571 has been introduced by a Los Angeles legislator.

The bill (AB 785), by Assemblyman Robert G. Beverly, R-Redondo Beach, would provide that the minimum salary of all full-time district attorneys be at least as much as that of a superior court judge, which now is $30,571.

More modest pay raises for Bales have been proposed by the 1968 Marin County Grand Jury, which suggested $25,200, and by County Administrator Alan Bruce, who suggested $28,126.

The 1969 grand jury is reviewing the matter, and is to report its recommendation to the Marin County Board of Supervisors. Bales' salary is set by the Legislature.

Josephine Baker Given The Boot

PERIGUEUX, France (AP) — Aging music hall singer Josephine Baker was hospitalized today for a chill she contracted when the buyers of her bankrupt chateau-orphanage forcibly ejected her yesterday.

Doctors at the hospital said the 62-year-old entertainer was resting under sedatives. They said that in addition to the chill she suffered bruises.

The chauteau was sold at auction to Jean Joly, a hotel owner, to help pay the debts Miss Baker ran up taking care of her large family of adopted foreign children.

Session Canceled

Today's meeting of the security committee of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, to try again for a bicycle path connection between Marin and San Francisco, was canceled for lack of a quorum, reported district secretary Helen Jack.

Bay Agency Test Is Next

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — The first legislative test of a bill to extend the life of the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission is scheduled Tuesday before the Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee.

The bill (SB 117), introduced by Sen. Milton Marks, R-San Francisco, is to be heard by the committee when it meets at 9:30 a.m. in room 5007 of the Capitol.

Similar bills have been introduced by Sen. Nicholas C. Petris, D-Oakland, and Assemblyman Don Mulford, R-Oakland, but they have not been heard yet in committee.

Bagley Predicts Open Policy Plan Doomed

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Assemlyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, usually one of the Legislature's most outspoken advocates of open meetings by public bodies, said yesterday he would vote reluctantly for a bill to require meetings of the Seante and Assembly — and their committees — to be open to the public.

But Bagley said he would not help rescue the bill (AB23), by Assemblyman William M. Ketchum, R-Bakersfield, now apparently bottled up in the Assembly Governmental Administration Committee. "I'll vote for it if it reaches the floor," Bagley told the Independent-Journal, "but I can't conceive of it being passable."

The bill was unnecessary, argued Bagley, because the Constitution already provides for the public's right to know the Legislature's business. Bills must be in print for 30 days before being acted upon, he noted, and three public readings of each bill must be held before being acted upon.

But Bagley acknowledged that "whereas in local government the council takes the determinative action, in the Legislature it's the committees."

Noting that 99.5 per cent of all legislative decisions are made in committees, he conceded, however, that "my argument falls down."

Citing "much progress" since the Legislature passed the state's antisecret meeting law, the Ralph M. Brown Act of 1953, Bagley said an attempt to impose the same restrictions on the Legislature "could jeopardize some of that progress — particularly with the old establishment of the Senate.

"We risk counter moves," he said, adding the upper house might even "turn around and repeal the Brown Act."

Instead, Bagley said, he will propose within a week that Assembly rules be changed to require that all meetings be open unless there are "justifiable exceptions." He said he had not decided what these exceptions might be.

The Brown Act allows closed meetings only to hire, fire, hear charges against an employee or to instruct salary negotiators.

His own bill to open to the public meetings of the University of California Board of Regents was "different" from Ketchum's bill, Bagley said. The regents "are more comparable to a city council," he said, with almost all decisions taken in full session.

Bagley's proposed rules change would not affect the Senate.

Novato Driver Hurt When Car Tips Over

Howard S. Olson, 17, of 1121 Ferris Drive, Novato, received minor cuts and bruises when his car overturned last night. in front of 1132 Simmons Lane, Novato, police said.

Olson told police that he was going north on Simmons Lane when he took his eyes from the street to light a cigarette. His car hit a utility pole at about 9:30 p.m. and overturned. Olson refused treatment for his injuries and went home, police reported.

Recordings Are Asked

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill to require that recordings be made of meetings by public bodies that "may affect personal or property rights of any person" has been introduced in the Legislature.

The bill (SB 495), by Sen. H. L. Richardson, R- Pasadena, would apply to boards of supervisors, city councils and planning commissions.

In Marin, the board of supervisors and county planning commission record their meetings, but the practice is less common among the cities. Most city planning commissions only require written minutes of their meetings.

Closed meetings and privileged communications would be exempt from recording under Richardson's bill.

His bill also would provide that recordings be public records and be kept for at least 10 years.

The bill was designed to provide a full record of matters considered in meetings in case they lead to legal action.

Firing On Junk

To Combat Drug Scene Parents Must First Know Their Enemy

They fantasize, and sometimes have a deeper appreciation of works of art or music. Time stretches out. Distance and sounds are magnified.

Other smokers may feel irritable and confused, or become fearful.

LSD is so potent that a dose no larger than the point of a pin is enough to send most people off on amazing "trips" within their own minds. LSD stands for lysergic acid diethylamide, and is often simply called acid, trips, cubes, pearly gates or heavenly blue.

It's supplied, quite illegally, as a powder in capsules, small white pills, or a colorless, tasteless liquid that can be soaked into sugar cubes or crackers.

A trip usually begins 30 to 45 minutes after the drug is swallowed, and lasts eight to 12 hours. How a person reacts depends on the dose, the person himself, his mood, and the setting.

Most users report seeing brilliant colors, starbursts, and distortion of geometric objects. Senses may blend so colors appear to be tasted. Sensitivity to sound increases. Objects may pulsate. Something as familiar as a teacup can appear to be an object of fantastic beauty and wonder. Feelings of creativity are enhanced. Time may slow, then race ahead, or even seem to go backward.

On bad trips, users may feel cut off, alone, anxious, panicky. Some land in hospitals for treatment of mental disturbances, and a few have killed or injured themselves.

No physical dependence develops, but psychological dependence may.

Other hallucination drugs:

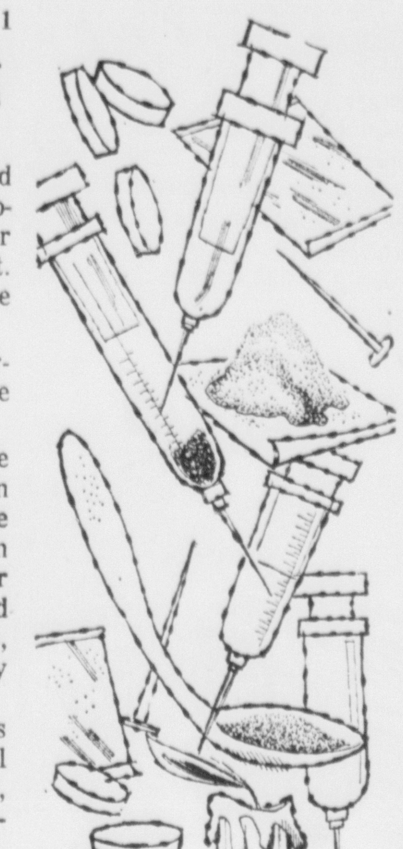
Mescaline: From the buttons of a small cactus plant — peyote or mescal. It is also supplied illegally as a powder or liquid. Far milder than LSD, its effects last 10 to 12 hours.

Peyote itself, a less concentrated form of mescaline, therefore milder.

Psilocybin from a Mexican mushroom, supplied in crystal, powder, or liquid form. Its effects last two to six hours generally, and are similar to those from mescaline.

DMT (dimethyltryptamine) produces effects like those from LSD when taken in larger doses. Effects last an hour or two.

STP (also known as DOM), a synthetic chemical related to mescaline and amphetamines, is reported to be extremely mind-distorting but less so than LSD.



Morning glory seeds of a few varieties contain an active principle closely related to LSD, but far less potent.

To drug abusers, barbiturates are known by many nicknames — goofballs, barbs, candy, yellow jackets, seccy, rainbows, blue devils, and the like.

Numerous people become physically and psychologically dependent upon barbiturates — there are many types — for sleep, or to combat anxiety or tensions. When tolerance builds up, the drugs stimulate rather than depress.

Some abusers use barbiturates combined with pep pills for a see-saw effect, or take the barbiturates to reduce the jitters that pep pills cause. When combined with alcohol, the kick from barbiturates can be fatal.

Prolonged use of barbiturates can lead to impaired judgment and intellectual performance, to bizarre behavior, slurred speech, tremor, self-neglect. Abrupy withdrawal in a dependent user may lead to nausea, fever, hallucinations, convulsions, coma, and even death.

Medically, amphetamines are used to combat appetite, to relieve mild depression, and for other purposes. Truck drivers may take them to stay awake on long hauls, or students to stay up late studying for exams.

Overuse and abuse induce a sense of good feeling, excitement, boundless energy, a sense that feeling tired has gone out of style.

In large amounts, amphetamines can induce hallucinations and delusions or psychoses, especially if injected. Methamphetamine or Speed, is one very dangerous drug which some abusers have been injecting.

Cocaine, from the leaf of the coca plant, was one of the earliest stimulant drugs. High doses can induce happy feelings and hallucinations. Overdoses may cause convulsions and death.

Opium, from the poppy plant, was the ancient forerunner of powerful pain-relieving and depressant drugs. Morphine is a derivative, and a priceless medical painkiller at times.

Heroin, closely related to morphine, has no medical uses, but at least 60,000 Americans are addicted to it. They use heroin — the big H, horse, junk — to induce a sense of good feeling, to reduce feelings of fear, anxiety and tension.

The user can "go on the nod," becoming sleepy, and "safe" from problems and challenges. This effect, depending on dose and potency, usually lasts only three to four hours. Then the habitual user must seek more drug.

Narcotics can become his way of life, and a costly one, often supported by crime. Most authorities say the narcotics addict steals, burgles or engages in prostitution to get money, rather than committing violent crimes.

These narcotics produce both physical and psychological dependence. Pregnant women who continue using heroin or allied drugs may have newborn babies who show all the troubles of narcotics withdrawal. Such babies may die unless treated immediately with antidotes.

Heroin users usually become truly "hooked" after taking the drug daily for a week or so.

Some youngsters seeking kicks abuse cough syrups containing codeine, an opium derivative, or medicines containing paregoric, containing a dilute amount of opium.

Sniffing airplane glue, or gasoline, and vapors from other products is a persistent and dangerous, if low-level, fad among the very young and some teen-agers.

Solvents in the vapors can act as poisons, resulting in permanent damage to the nervous system and liver, and big enough doses can be fatal. Youngsters sniffing the vapors become dizzy, and can think the experience is "fun."

Memory Of Sirhan Still Major Theme

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The prosecution in the Sirhan B. Sirhan murder trial pounded away today at the defendant's claim that he cannot remember the shooting of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Martin M. Schorr, a clinical psychologist, was on the witness stand and he backed up Sirhan's allegation that he can remember nothing from the time he went back to the Ambassador Hotel to get coffee until he was being choked.

Dep. Dist. Atty. John Howard questioned Schorr as to how Sirhan could not remember taking the gun but then could remember talking to a pretty girl and then go into amnesia again.

Schorr said that persons in a "disassociated" state are characterized by partial amnesia.

"You mean they can turn it on and off like a light switch?" Howard asked.

Schorr said that these persons did have a "spotty memory."

The psychologist also backed up Sirhan's claim that he was not even aware of having shot Kennedy while being questioned by police officers for hours, although he remembered many of the parts of the conversation and things that happened at that time.

Schorr described Sirhan as a "Jekyll and Hyde personality" who is mentally incapable of plotting an assassination.

Schorr said yesterday Sirhan is a paranoid, schizophrenic personality with Jekyll and Hyde behavior. He said the same pattern was evident in a Georgia study of a woman which was made into the movie, "The Three Faces of Eve."

Doctor Says Convict Bright But Insane

By MARY LEYDECKER

A jury of eight women and four men in Marin Superior Court, charged with determining whether a condemned San Quentin inmate is sane enough to die, heard today that Gerald A. Beivelman is very bright but very insane.

Dr. David G. Schmidt of Corte Madera, chief psychiatrist at San Quentin, said that Beivelman, who is scheduied to die in the gas chamber April 16, has a split personality which has steadily deteriorated in his two years on death row.

The law provides, Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales told the jurors, that the 30-year-old murderer, must be judged sane enough to understand that he is going to die and for what crime, or else he will be hospitalized.

"Is it possible for prisoners to feign mental illness?" Bales asked Dr. Schmidt.

Dr. Schmidt agreed that good psychiatrists can be fooled by people for several months, but that he had had Beivelman under observation for almost two years and had concluded he is definitely very insane.

Dr. Schmidt said that Beivelman does "understand in a strange kind of a way that he faces execution" but that Beivelman also has talked of being out of prison in a few days and being in a position "to help the psychiatric profession."

Beivelman, in speaking of the murder for which he was convicted in Sacramento, told the psychiatrist that the woman (his victim) "wanted to be killed so that I could commit suicide," the doctor testified.

"To me, this is insanity," Dr. Schmidt concluded.

The psychiatrist said that other prison officials had pointed out Beivelman's bizarre behavior and his nontalking and non-eating periods which sometimes lasted days.

In fact, the doctor said, he had recommended that Beivelman be hospitalized at the state medical facility at Vacaville before an execution date was set and while Beivelman still had an appeal before the courts.

Two other psychiatrists appointed by Judge E. Warren McGuire are scheduled to testify before the trial closes.

Prowlers Beat Apartments Aide

A 25-year-old maintenance man at The 400 Canal apartment building in San Rafael was kicked and beaten by three men this morning after he interrupted an apparent burglary attempt in the building's locker room, police said.

Nicholas Frank Napolitano, of 200 Bolinas Avenue, Fairfax, during the struggle received a cut on his forehead, which police said could have been caused by a knife.

Napolitano saw the three men attempting to rifle lockers on the ground floor of the apartment building and when they spotted him, they jumped him and began kicking and beating him, police said. The men then fled.

The lockers had been burned out during a fire at the building a week ago, according to police, and police were uncertain about their contents.

Amendments For Library Union Eyed

Proposed charter amendments to go before the voters in the June 10 election were discussed last night by Petaluma Library directors.

Chairman Kenneth M. Wightman said the planned merger with the Sonoma County library system will be delayed at least a year, but that the board will seek a charter amendment to give them the authority to enter into a merger agreement when one is prepared.

Petaluma and several other cities has approved an agreement, but Wightman said that Santa Rosa board is now rewriting the pact. The present agreement calls for two Santa Rosa representatives on the county board and one from other cities involved in the merger.

Wightman said Santa Rosa apparently feels the board would be too large and is considering means of reducing it. When Santa Rosa approves an agreement, it must then be studied and approved by the other cities.

Noting that could take a long time, Wightman said he hoped the charter amendment would be approved so the library board could move ahead with the merger as soon as possible.

The charter amendment would also give the board authority to accept gifts of money and real estate to be used for the library, but with the approval of the city council.

Terra Linda Formal Prom Voted Down

Four classrooms were unable to vote since their ballots didn't arrive on time, but 320 students did vote.

An even hundred voted for an informal, casual-dress dance and 97 more chose an alternate plan for a casual dance in conjunction with entertainment and cultural activities, such as an art show on the side. A formal, full-dress prom got only 67 votes, while 26 students voted for no activities and 30 abstained, according to Jane Miller, a student who helped count the votes.

The school student council will make plans for a dance based on the alternate plan at their meeting today.

The traditional formal prom became the target of student opposition after last year's junior formal attracted only 80 couples, although the entire class fund was spent on the function.

Woman Is Found Dead In Room

Mrs. Gertrude Lemme Burroughs, 54, of 165 Mark Twain Avenue, Santa Venetia, was found dead yesterday in a room ah the Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito. Police said her body was found with a plastic bag tied over her head and that sleeping pills and pain pills were found in the room .

Coroner's investigator Keith C. Craig said Mrs. Burroughs took her own life, but the cause of death was not given pending autopsy. She reportedly left a note at the hotel desk.

Mrs. Burroughs checked into the hotel Wednesday arternoon, an her body was found at 12:40 p.m. yesterday when the assistant manager entered the room. Craig said she apparently was despondent over ill health.

Mrs. Burroughs was active in the American Association of University Women, the Marin Blood Center and the First Methodist Church of San Rafael.

She is survived by her husband, John G. Burroughs of the home, who is a salesman; a son, Randall Burroughs of Terra Linda, and a daughter, Carole Mairs.

Car Jimmied; Tapes Worth $107 Stolen

San Rafael police said today 11 stereo tapes and a carrying case worth $107 were stolen from a car parked in the San Rafael High School parking lot yesterday morning.

The owner of the car, Jay W. Case, 17, a student at the school, told police the tapes were in plain site in the front seat of car. The thief used a wire to jimmy the car's lock, police said.

Neighbors Scuttle Swimming School

The San Rafael Planning Commission was faced with a tempest in a swimming pool last night when residents of Glenwood battled back and forth over a proposed use permit for a swimming school in the one-family residential district.

After more than an hour of heated debate, the commissioners voted unanimously to reject the permit requested by John and Patricia Del Prate through attorney James M. Fletcher.

At the start of the swim school controversy, City Planner Herbert G. Hotchner stepped out of his official capacity to testify as a private citizen. Asst. City Planner Charles J. Linthicum told the commission that Hotchner never discussed the request with the staff at any time.

Fletcher then cited numerous cases of drownings in the Marin area which could have been prevented with a rudimentary knowledge of swimming.

The lawyer said a large number of persons in the immediate neighborhood had signed a petition in support of Mr. Del Prate, a Red Cross approved swimming instructor. He also said that only four students would be taught at any one time and that his client had parking space available for three cars.

Ranken A. Millard, an opponent of the permit who lives across the street from the Del Prates, then spoke up, asserting that the school had operated illegally for two years before an official complaint was made.

"I didn't realize the school would take on the commercial aspects it subsequently developed," he said. "The street began to take on the appearance of a public beach."

Millard said that Mrs. Del Prate had been an active member of a group which opposed a swimming pool, complete with lifeguards, in the Glenwood area. He also claimed that litter had become a major problem around the school vicinity and said he feared it would lower property values.

Fletcher denied the littering charge, stating that at least 50 small children lived in the immediate area, making it difficult to assign blame for any debris.

Another speaker, Daniel Shannon, said no one had the right to use his property to the detriment of neighbors and added: "If there's a shortage of swimming teachers in the area, then Mrs. Del Prate should donate her services to the Red Cross," he said.

Planner Hotchner said that no one questioned Mrs. Del Prate's skills but pointed out that it was impossible, in practice, to limit the number of people around the Del Prate pool. He added that the Del Prates were seeking a variance on a city ordinance which was unjustifiable.

The planner also told the commission that he had told Mrs. Del Prate at the time the pool was constructed that she would run into zoning trouble if anyone ever signed a complaint.

Following a short but sharp exchange between Fletcher and Sheldon (Bud) Bowers, president of the Glenwood Homewoners Association, the commissioners denied the permit.

Fletcher said his clients would appeal the case to the City Council.

Northgate Expansion Given Planners' Nod

The San Rafael Planning Commission last night gave unanimous approval to a proposed addition to Building Two in Northgate Shopping Center, Unit Two.

Planned by M and T, Inc., are addition of 10,200 square feet on the ground floor and a 10,000-square-foot second floor.

The only comment offered by the commission was praise by Chairman Joseph J. Barbarino of the architecture for the shopping center, represented last night by manager Clay Harrold.

The commission also voted unanimously to recommend renaming a portion of Francisco Boulevard between Third Street and Lincoln Avenue as Ritter Street, six months after approval by the city council.

The San Rafael Planning Commission Also:

VARIANCE PERMIT — Gave L and M Grange unanimous approval to a variance request to allow a carport fronting on the street at 74 Ridge Avenue subsequent to approval by building inspector.

SIGN RENEWAL — Turned down a request for renewal of permit for an off-site sign at the Irwin ramp to Highway 101 to direct customers to a brake shop at Rice Drive, by 6-1 vote.

CONVALESCENT HOME — Approved 6-1, request to permit 23 additional beds in convalescent home at 120 Park Street, subsequent to architectural approval.

HOUSE ALTERATIONS — Gave unanimous conditional approval to alteration to create rental unit inside a single-family home at 31 Lisbon Street for Elmer L. Mott.

STORAGE LOT — Granted Robert Green Real Esate a permit for a storage lot under Jacoby Street overpass for two years.

RESTAURANT PLANS — Gave Frank Tarantino conditional approval to restaurant plans at 402 Third Street, subject to changes in verbal agreement with a neighboring firm.

APARTMENT COMPLEX — Gave condition approval to a 6-unit apartment requested by Michael Perrone at 713-723 Kerner Boulevard, provided landscaping, driveway and drainage meet staff approval.

Teens Nabbed For Probe Into $65 Burglary

Two teen-agers, one from Mill Valley and one from Tiburon, were arrested yesterday by Larkspur police for investigation of a $65 burglary of the Chinese Kitchen, Monday.

Kevin C. Mulvaney, 18, of 25 Southridge West, Tiburon, was booked into County Jail on suspicion of burglary. William S. Gibson, 17, of 152 Stanford Avenue, Mill Valley, was issued a juvenile citation to appear at the probation department on similar suspicion.

A witness noted the license plate number of the youths' car and traced it to Gibson who admitted his part in the burglary and named Mulvaney as also taking part.

Entry was made into the restaurant at 989 Magnolia Avenue by cutting a window screen, said officers. The money was taken from a money bag inside.

Man Reports His Wallet Is Stolen

Ronald E. Taylor of 59½ Taylor Drive, Fairfax, said his wallet was stolen when he momentarily left it on a counter at a China Camp restaurant Sunday, sheriff's deputies reported today.

The wallet contained three credit cards and $65 to $70 in cash, deputies reported.

Larkspur Burglary

Burglars pried open sliding glass door and stole $385 in goods from the home of Cecil A. Howard of 80 Marina Vista, Larkspur, he hold police last night. The items stolen included a rifle, pellet gun, binoculars, a $200 ladies watch and some costume jewelry.

Purse Taken From Night Club Table

A purse containing several credit cards, a set of car keys and a small amount of cash was stolen at the Bermuda Palms last night despite the fact that someone was sitting at the victim's table at all times, San Rafael police said today.

Police said the victim of the purse snatch was Janis Marie Padgett of 37 Glenaire Drive, San Rafael.

The hummingbird can fly forward, backward and even sideways.

Racial Charge Halted Against Kaiser Hospital

A charge of racial discrimination against Kaiser Foundation Hospital in Terra Linda has been dropped because the complainants do not want to pursue the matter, Charles E. Wilson, senior counsel of the Fair Employment Practice Commission in San Francisco said today.

Aides to Wilson said the case prompted by complaints of Eugene Washington and Curtis L. Bailey was dropped because the two Negroes were afraid the publicity surrounding the hearing might jeopardize their present jobs. Both men now work at Hamilton Air Force Base, the FEPC said.

The two men charged the hospital, at 99 Montecillo Road, with racial discrimination in discharging them as orderlies in November of 1967.

A hearing on the accusation of discrimination later issued by FEPC Chairman Pier Gherini had been set in San Francisco for today but was canceled at the request of Washington and Bailey.

Restaurant Looted Of An Amplifier

Dunya Cherneko of 128 Greenwood Beach, Tiburon, reported the theft of glassware and an amplifier from her restaurant, the Champagne Hut, Sunday to sheriff's deputies.

The thief apparently entered through the back door of the restaurant, which is closed. No valuation was made on the stolen goods.

College, High School Violence Continues

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

New violence has erupted in two college protests and the wave of student unrest spread to high schools in three of the nation's cities.

Two persons were injured and windows were broken in a number of downtown Durham, S.C., stores after a student protest march last night. Police reported some looting and two buses damaged.

At Harvard, four men and a woman invaded a classroom and broke up a lecture by shouting and throwing papers around. There was fighting between the demonstrators and police before they were arrested for the unexplained trespass.

High schools in Los Angeles, New York City and Paterson, N.J. were the scenes of protests that brought police into play.

The violence at Durham came after a rally in a downtown park by students from Duke University and North Carolina College. They were protesting the Duke administration's rejection of Negro students' demands for equal representation with faculty on a committee to establish a black studies program.

In Los Angeles, Negro teen-agers rampaged through or outside 11 public schools on the second day of a protest aimed at paralyzing schools until certain demands are met.

At four schools fires broke out. Windows were smashed and tables and desks overturned at another. Twelve persons were arrested on misdemeanor charges.

Leaders of the protest are demanding Negro officials at Negro schools and programs of black studies. The unrest grew after 200 persons were cleared from a junior high school hallway by police last Friday.

Mayor Sam Yorty blamed the situation on "troublemakers who are running around from school to school intimidating students and parents."

Trouble flared anew at Eastern District High School in Brooklyn but school administrators promised to keep the school open with the aid of police. The school was shut down last Friday after disorders by students demanding the ouster of the dean of boys. It was closed Monday to allow $4,500 worth of damage to be repaired.

Paterson police arrested 60 students and three adults after they were ordered to oust 500 Negro demonstrators holding a sit-in at Eastside High School. Three policemen and two students were injured.

Elsewhere:

PRINCETON, N.J.—A group of 75 white and Negro students occupied the Princeton University administration building for the day to protest the school's investments in South Africa. They left after being served summonses by the university disciplinary committee.

NEW YORK CITY—About 200 students led by the Students for a Democratic Society forced a General Electric Co. recruiter off the campus at Queens College. They denounced the firm as racist and a war profiteer.

Sleepy Hollow Home Invaded By Burglar

Cufflinks and rings valued at $200 and $10 in cash were stolen from the home of Robert O. Reynolds of 200 Van Winkle Drive, Sleepy Hollow Monday, according to sheriff's deputies.

Mrs. Reynolds noticed that two dresser drawers had been ransacked when she returned from a bowling lane in the early afternoon. There were no signs of forcible entry, deputies reported.

School Sites Speed Urged In Petaluma

Petaluma City Planner William C. McGivern last night warned the board of education that no time should be wasted in selecting additional East Side school sites.

"Developers are coming into my office with subdivision plans every day and in the next two years we'll have 1,200 to 1,500 new living units on the East Side," he said.

Supt. Lesly H. Meyer said the board and administration had been aware of the increasing population and had been studying the site needs for junior and senior high schools.

The planner said the city and school board are at a disadvantage because it is not known what age groups are moving into the city. He said neither his office nor the county planning department has a large enough staff to conduct a survey and recommended that if the board wanted one, it should consider hiring outside consultants.

The board agreed to study site selections further on the high school level and plans to meet with Old Adobe School District trustees on April 15 at 8 p.m. to consider what elementary buildings are needed.

The Petaluma Board of Education also:

PRINCIPAL — Accepted the retirement of Howard B. Tingley, principal of Kenilworth Junior High School, effective in June. Tingley has been with Petaluma city schools 37 years.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of Mrs. Mildred Colaizzi as second grade teacher at the Grant School for personal reasons. The board hired as her replacement Sirkka Niekkanen at a salary of $2,391.

SURVEY — Hired the firm of McClure and Messiner to study the structural safety of the Penngrove School at a maximum fee of $1,750.

BUDGET — Reported that the March 25 meeting will include presentation of the preliminary budget for 1969-70.

GIFT — Accepted a gift of gymnasium equipment from the Petaluma Athletic Club for Petaluma Senior High School.

New Rohnert Park School Sidetracked

Cotati School District trustees last night approved an addition to Waldo Rohnert School, choosing to put off construction of another school in Rohnert Park.

The board directed architects to prepare plans for an addition to be completed for the fall of 1970. The size of the addition has not been decided.

Supt. Duncan A. Coleman said that an additional six or seven classrooms will be needed for the next school year. The board met a portion of that by agreeing to lease three classrooms at $399 per month in the upstairs section of the administration building on College View Avenue, Rohnert Park.

The Cotati School District trustees also:

APPOINTMENT — Reported that many names had been submitted for appointment to the board. A vacancy was created by the resignation of Robert W. Waldron.

ADVISERS — Appointed two persons to fill vacancies on the citizens Advisory committee. They were Lewis Beary, 810 Bernice Avenue, and Mrs. Barbara Kynock, 7276 Barbie Lane, both of Rohnert Park.

Narcotics Suspect Granted Plea Change

A preliminary hearing in Marin Municipal Court was set yesterday for April 8 for Anthony Gibson, 18, of San Rafael, who was allowed by Judge Alvin B. Goldstein to withdraw his earlier plea of guilty to a charge of selling methamphetamine.

Gibson is accused of selling the speed on the Courthouse lawn in San Rafael in March 30, 1968.

'Useable' Tidelands Big Stumbling Block

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — What determines "useable" tidelands is the main stumbling block before the ad hoc committee studying public access to the Sonoma County coastline, county supervisors were told yesterday.

In an interim report, A. E. Galli, committee chairman said the group had generally agreed on nine points, but that differences in opinion could not be avoided in making the final report and recommendations to the supervisors.

In agreeing that public access to the tidelands should be provided, Joseph McClelland, director of the Sea Ranch development, said he would like to see the word "useable" placed in the agreement. He said he felt that many portions of the coastline are not functional for recreational use by the public.

Other committee members, Dr. William Kortum of Cotati and Dr. Kenneth Stocking of Sonoma State College, maintained that any tidelands that the public can reach should be termed "useable."

Stocking, a biologist, recommended that a coastal trail be expanded for hikers and scientists and asked that preserves be developed for use by scientists in studying oceanology and wildlife.

Other points generally agreed to by the committee include the view that public access by dedication or purchase should be accomplished at the time of land division. They also agreed that agriculutral land should be exempt unless sold; that proposed parks be acquired; that a master plan of access should be developed; that access ways may be held and not open for public used until development funds are avialable, and that the private property owner be protected against interference and intrusion by the public.

The committee will continue meeting this month and present a final report to the supervisors in early April or the last week of March.

Galli explained that some recommendations will be beyond the limits of the committee to implement and will require further study by other commissions and county departments.

Coordination Of Manpower Due Review

Marin County Human Rights commissioners and the Economic Opportunity Council will meet at the San Rafael Courthouse tomorrow night to discuss manpower coordination.

The commission will first meet at 8 p.m. in the third floor courtroom in the courthouse annex. After a brief meeting to hear committee reports, commissioners will launch into the joint session with EOC directors.

"We're going to see how we can assist each other in our various programs," said Austin J. Thompson, executive director of the human rights department. He said one of the goals will be to coordinate the activities of 17 existing agencies that now deal with manpower training and development.

Hargreaves Fills Service District Board Vacancy

William A. Hargreaves was named last night to the Tamalpais Community Services District board to fill the unexpired term of Harry Sutcliffe, who is moving from the district The term ends in July 1970, secretary Gail E. Bishel said.

Hargreaves was chairman of the district's park and recreation committee, and worked on the Ad Hoc committee which arranged the district's creation last year.

The board also directed Manager Leonard M. Mitchell to ask the Marin Board of Supervisors to let the district take title to land dedicated to open space in Marin View subdivision, a proposed 300-unit development in Tennessee Valley. The land will go to the county if the supervisors do not act.

The Tamalpais Community Services District board also:

SEWER HOOKUPS — Gave final approval to a sewer ordinance raising the hookup fee from $350 to $500 for one-family houses.

GARBAGE — Approved a first draft of an ordinance on garbage collection, spelling out terms of the existing franchise agreement with a private scavenger firm. A final draft will be prepared for board action next month.

McInnis Opposes Fee Custom On Carnivals

The county ordinance requiring sponsoring groups to pay $150 a day for permits to hold carnivals and circuses in Marin County is "a lot of malarkey" and "foolishness" in view of supervisors chariman John F. McInnis.

He told fellow supervisors and county officials who suggested the ordinance be revised yesterday that he thinks the fee should be doubled and should be paid by the carnivals and circuses themselves.

McInnis admitted he does not like having the circus and carnival operations in Marin and has long held that the crime rate goes up every time one comes to the county.

McInnis' comments came as the board discussed an application from the Deputy Sheriff's Association to hold a circus at Kentfield on June 21-22.

The supervisors put off a decision on whether to grant or waive a permit until the association supplies more information on the circus.

County Administrator Alan Bruce sparked McInnis's remarks when he suggested the board consider revision of the ordinance to make the fee flexible enough to reflect expenses incurred by the county for extra police, fire and health protection services.

If a group such as the deputies provides its own patrols, he suggested, county costs might be less, so the fee could be lower.

When told the sponsoring group is guaranteed 20 per cent of the gross of $15,000, McInnis snapped his fingers and said, "I can't imagine (the $150 a day) fee to be of that (snap) consequence."

The board then told Bruce and Maloney to go ahead and consider revising the ordinance although it emphasized it still wanted it to be tough.

Adult Probation Officers End Two-Day Strike

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A two-day strike by a dozen San Francisco adult probation officers ended yesterday with Mayor Joseph Alioto's pledge to lighten their work loads.

The 45 probation officers now average 280 cases per man, with some as high as 400.

Alioto said he would request that supervisors approve hiring 22 new men at a cost of $75,000 by the end of the month.

He said more help will be requested in July should the new men and new procedures fail to cut the number of cases handled by each to the 125 maximum which strikers have requested.

The first commercial brewery built in the United States was erected in 1612 in New York, report researchers at Rheingold breweries.

Supervisors Set Record For Brevity

Marin County supervisors whipped through their agenda in record time yesterday and adjourned at the unusually early hour of 2:05 p.m.

A hearing on the new floating home marina ordinance, which would have been good for a three or four-hour session, was postponed until March 25 because Supervisors Michael Wornum and Peter Arrigoni Jr. were away on an Air Force trip to Colorado Springs.

Asst. Administrator John F. Barrows and Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell both agreed that this was the earliest adjournment by the board of supervisors in their memory.

The only action taken by the supervisors yesterday afternoon was to approve an application to the state Airport Assistance Revolving Fund for a cross runway at Gnoss Field in 1970-71.

Taxpayers of Bel Air Estates had petitioned the supervisors to nullify the formation of a county service area. The service area was approved on Jan. 14 to pay for maintenance of a neighborhood park in Bel Air Estates. However, a sworn affidavit attesting to the circulation of the petitions was lacking, and the supervisors put off action for a week.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors also:

DATA PROCESSING — Delayed a week consideration of an agreement with the Radio Corp. of America for installation of a computer in September to replace the present IBM computer.

TEACHER — Authorized the county schools office to hire a head teacher for the new San Rafael Children's Center on March 15 so that necessary enrollment procedures and technical and legal planning for the center can be coordinated by this teacher prior to opening of the center on April 1. The board was told the move would not increase budget expenses because the money needed could be transferred from another area.

TREES — Approved a letter from the board to William Penn Mott, director of the state Department of Parks and Recreation in support of his efforts to preserve the trees on Bolinas Ridge between Mount Tamalpais State Park and Samuel P. Taylor State Park for scenic purposes.

TRANSIT — Concurred with Marin County Transit District in designating transit district director Edward W. Colthurst as the third representative of Marin County on the Tri-Partite Transportation Committee.

PRISONERS — Approved change in agreement with Sonoma County raising the payment for caring for Marin County prisoners in the Sonoma County jail from $4.25 to $5 per day.

OIL-GAS — Instructed County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney to attend as an observer the March 27 meeting of the State Lands Commission at which findings will be presented from two public hearings on leasing for oil and gas in San Pablo Bay.

ACQUISITIONS — Approved right-of-way contract paying $4,335 for a parcel of land belonging to Harld W. and Helen B. Joslin for temporary construction easement for Corte Madera Creek Flood Control Project, Unit 2. Accepted dedication by Kenco Development Co. to the Marin County Flood Control and Water Conservation District of an easement for flood control in Santa Venetia in the area of North San Pedro Road near Meadow Drive.

APPOINTMENT — Approved the appointment of Priscilla Phillips as Sociel Service Practitioner 1 (social worker with master's degree) at $790 a month.

FUNDS — Authorized the advance of $1.5 million from the county treasury to the county general fund to meet the "dry period" requirements prior to the receipt of the second installment of property taxes to be deposited by April 10.

CAVALLERO — Received without comment a report on a radio mix-up which caused an ambulance to go to the wrong location when Novato Fire Chief George J. Cavallero was stricken by a fatal heart attack while on his way to the Rencho Olompali fire on Feb. 2.

PAYMENT — Approved progress payment of $1,925.56 to Ghilotti Bros. Contractors in connection with the Hall of Justice site development.

CLAIM — Rejected a damage claim of $4,705 from Mr. and Mrs. John E. Sorum of 2194 Novato Boulevard, Novato, who said county-contracted work in replacing a bridge at the intersection of Eucalyptus Street and Novato Boulevard had resulted in dirt and debris being dumped on their property and caused unnecessary dust damage to their home.

Supervisors Approve Youth 'Seed Money'

In an attempt to get Marin County's youth and its over-30 population more tuned in to each other, the county board of supervisors voted $1,000 in "seed money" yesterday to support such programs as coffee houses for the young.

The County Parks and Recreation Commission had asked for $2,000 but the supervisors voted the lower amount after a discussion during which board chairman John F. McInnis justified the lower amount, saying, "money is tight."

The money, to come from funds allocated to senior citizen and youth programs, will be provided through the commission on a matching basis to groups wanting to sponsor youth programs not already existing.

All three supervisors present — McInnis, William A. Gnoss and Louis H. Baar — voted for the allocation after County Administrator Alan Bruce and Parks and Director Pierre W. Joske had a small debate over whether the county's youth wanted such help.

Pointing out that no young people were present to speak for the program, Bruce said if the money had been requested for programs for senior citizens or handicapped persons "this room would be full."

Gnoss contested Bruce's suggestion that young people were not interested. He said the parks and recreation commission had held hearings at which many youths had strongly supported the program. He added that the youths at which the program would be aimed were in school during the supervisors' daytime meetings.

Discussing the coffee house idea, under which youth-oriented coffee houses would be run mostly by young people, the commission reported there is a "dire need for meeting places for youth where there is no compulsion to participate in any organized activity on the one hand or to purchase food and beverages on the other."

The supervisors, in giving the parks and recreation commission control of the funds, also agreed that the assistance program should be as far removed as possible from governmental red tape.

"Governmental participation has to be minimal," McInnis said, adding that he has seen "many, many cases where (government involvement) has chased kids away."

Judge Upholds Bill Permit Rule

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Posting bills on utility poles is not included in the constitutional right to free speech, a Superior Court judge ruled yesterday.

Judge Henry R. Rolph refused to stop the prosecution in Municipal Court of seven San Francisco State College students who posted bills relating to a student strike.

A city ordinance prohibits postings without the permission of the director of public works and Judge Rolph said that amounted to a "nondiscriminatory restriction on the use of private property."

Paul N. Halvonik, a staff attorney for the American Civil Liberties Union, announced he would appeal, saying that if the city forbade all posting, he would have little cause for complaint.

RELAX WHILE COOKING

Mexican-Inspired Casseroles

The gay, brightly seasoned foods from south of the border accented with the California ripe olive combine to create dishes with unusual flavor for interesting low budget entertaining.

Easily prepared, these combinations are flavor pointed with chili seasoning.

A colorful, delicious combination of browned chicken, tomato flavored rice, vegetables and herbs are accented for taste and eye appeal with ripe olives. Serve the chicken and rice in a gay, Mexican inspired casserole and let it add a festive note to the buffet table.

One of the most traditional casseroles from the land of the fiestas is made with beef, beans, cornmeal and chili seasoning. Crumbled, meaty textured canned California ripe olives are added to the beef to enhance the flavor. Just before serving this casserole, top the ring of cornmeal with olives for a flavorsome dark accent.

RIPE OLIVE FIESTA CASSEROLE

2 pounds ground lean beef
⅓ cup olive oil or salad oil
1 (No. 300)can pitted California ripe olives
3 tablespoons chili powder
3 teaspoons salt
1 clove garlic minced
1½ cups chopped onion
6 cups cooked or canned pinto beans
4 cups tomato juice
6 cups water
3 tablespoons butter
1½ cups yellow cornmeal

Preheat oven to 370 degrees F. Heat oil. Add beef and cook until browned. Drain olives; save 8 or 10 for garnishing. Crumble remaining olives and add to meat. Stir in chili powder, 1½ teaspoons salt, garlic, and onion. Cook together for 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Add beans and tomato juice. Bring 5 cups water to a boil. Add remaining 1½ teaspoons of salt and butter to water.

Stir remaining 1 cup water into cornmeal. Stir moistened cornmeal into boiling water. Cook, stirring constantly, for 5 minutes. Cool slightly. Line bottom and sides of a three quart casserole with two-thirds of cornmeal mixture. Spoon in the olive-meat-bean mixture. Spoon remaining cornmeal mixture in circle around edge. Bake for 30 minutes. Garnish with whole ripe olives. Makes 8 servings.

CHICKEN MEXICALI

1 cup canned pitted ripe olives
1 (3 pound) chicken fryer
3 tablespoons olive or vegetable oil
1 cup chopped onion
½ cup chopped celery
¼ cup chopped green pepper
1 cup long grain white rice
1 cup canned tomato sauce
1¼ cups water
1½ teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon oregano
2 cups cooked or canned peas
1 canned pimiento, cut into strips

Cut ripe olives into halves. Heat oil in large saucepan. Add chicken and brown well. Remove chicken from pan. Add onion, celery, green pepper and cook until tender but not brown. Add rice and mix well. Stir in tomato sauce, water, salt, and oregano. Bring to a full boil and stir mixture very well. Add ripe olive halves. Arrange chicken on top of mixture. Cover tightly and cook over low heat for about 40 minutes or until rice is tender and liquid is absorbed. Add peas and cook just enough to heat peas. Arrange on serving dish and garnish with pimiento. Makes 4-6 servings.

CELEBRATE SHAMROCK day March 17 with Irish Raisin Soda Bread. Cut the dough into "farls" and bake for a St. Patrick's Day dinner of corned beef and cabbage.

Serve An Irish Soda Bread To Mark St. Patrick's Day

As springtime fancies turn to thoughts of love and such, special celebrations come to mind as well. For these occasions, baked breads are greatly enhanced with the flavorsome sweetness of seedless raisins.

As tradtional as shamrocks, the popular Irish Raisin Soda Bread is delicious for St. Patrick's Day. Seedless raisins and caraway seeds add authentic touches to the quickly made biscuit dough. Cut the dough round into quarters called "farls" and bake. A light crusting of butter and sugar on top makes it even more delectable.

IRISH SODA BREAD

Seedless raisins are dotted throughout this light and tender bread — a real tribute to the wearing of the green!

⅔ cup California Seedless raisins
2 cups sifted flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
¾ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons sugar
1½ teaspoons caraway seeds
3 tablespoons shortening
1 cup buttermilk
Melted butter and sugar for top

Chop raisins coarsely, if desired. Resift flour with baking powder, soda, salt and sugar. Add caraway seeds. Cut in shortening until in fine pieces. Make well in center. Pour in buttermilk and add raisins. Mix lightly to moderately soft dough. Turn out on floured board and knead gently a few strokes. Shape into a round and fit into greased 8 or 9-inch layer cake pan. Cut loaf crosswise into quarters about ⅔ way through dough with a sharp knife. Brush top with melted butter and sprinkle with sugar. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes. Makes about 6 to 8 servings.

Chicken Liver Pate Improves Flavor During Freezer Storage

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press

When we told a friend of ours that we were looking for a chicken liver pate of smooth texture and fine flavor she said she had just the recipe for us. And she was so right. We tested the pate, put it in our freezer and then served it at a party where it was acclaimed.

Along with the recipe came this note:

"I have often made this pate in the amount given here, but sometimes I've made just half the recipe. It's so easy to divide the ingredients. Whenever I buy a chicken or a number of chickens on sale, I save and freeze the livers until I have enough to make the pate."

NEW YORK LIVER PATE

1 pound chicken livers
4 teaspoons flour
2 tablespoons butter
¼ cup finely chopped onion
½ cup heavy cream
½ cup butter, room-temperature soft
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of white pepper
¼ teaspoon mace
⅔ cup cognac

Dry chicken livers thoroughly with paper towels. Sprinkle with flour and coarsely chop; don't bother removing center membranes.

In a 10-inch skillet, melt the 2 tablespoons butter; add onions and cook very gently, stirring often, until softened but not brown. Add livers and cook fairly quickly until they have just lost their red color and are lightly cooked through. Put liver mixture in a food mill.

Add cream to skillet and heat gently, stirring constantly, until cream dissolves most of brown sediment in pan. Pour over liver in food mill. Turn mixture through mill. Add the ½ cup soft butter, salt, pepper, mace and cognac; mix thoroughly. For extra-smooth pate, force through a fine-mesh wire strainer.

Pack into serving bowl; cover and chill several hours or overnight. Serve with squares or fingers of toast or crackers, as a serve-yourself-spread. Makes 2 cups.

Notes: This pate freezes beautifully — even seems to improve after several weeks of storage. To freeze: turn it into two or more freezer containers or pottery crocks; overwrap the crocks.

To refrigerator-store for a week or two, pack into one large or two or more small crocks; seal by pouring clarified butter over the top to the depth of about ⅛ inch. Cover tightly. At serving time, if you wish, the clarified butter may be mixed with the pate.

Half this recipe may be prepared; in this case an 8-inch skillet will be a good size for cooking the onion and livers.

Pineapples

A fresh pineapple's eyes are a better indicator of ripeness than the color of its skin. The eyes should be flat and lustrous looking. The shell is green when the fruit is picked and generally remains that color. A yellow tinge may start at the base of the fruit but this does not affect ripeness. A pineapple heavy for its size is a juicy one.

Spicy Rice

Spicy rice is prepared with canned green chili peppers and cheese. Bring 1½ cups of water, 1½ teaspoons of salt, and 2 to 3 tablespoons of chopped green chili peppers to a boil. Add 1 1-3 cups of packaged enriched precooked rice; stir to moisten. Cover, remove from heat, and let stand 5 minutes. Blend in ¾ cup of grated sharp cheddar cheese. Add ½ cup of sour cream and heat gently 2 to 3 minutes. Makes 3 cups or 4 to 6 servings.

Amazing Seasoning Discovery

Save Hours in Marinating

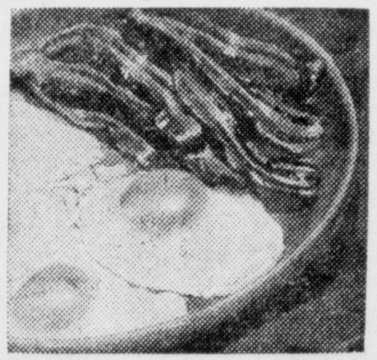
Remember what you had to go through to marinate foods. Long hours in the kitchen, pickling, mixing, soaking, seasoning and basting, plus a costly inventory of vinegar, wine or oil, herbs and spices. That's old style.

Today, all you need is LPM — the new, instant way to marinate as you cook — not before. Just sprinkle LPM on meats, poultry or seafood, and cook. That's all you do. You shake flavor in — you don't soak it out.

Housewives Describe LPM As A "Flavor Explosion"

It's the same exciting story all over the nation as housewives become intrigued with the cooking wonders they can perform with LAURELEAF LEMON-PEPPER MARINADE.

LPM Makes Eggs Taste Special



The standard American breakfast — eggs, any style, can now become something special. Make them your favorite way — scrambled, fried, boiled or poached — then for that excitingly different taste, sprinkle LPM. No additional seasoning will be necessary.

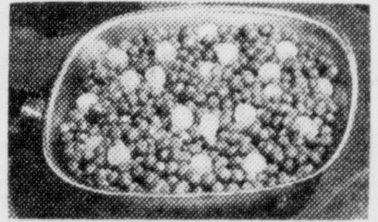
Another said, "LPM is so versatile. We barbecued hamburgers and everyone asked my husband for his cooking secret."

From still another, "your product does wonders for soups, from pure consomme to the thickest chowder, enlivens the flavor without other seasoning."

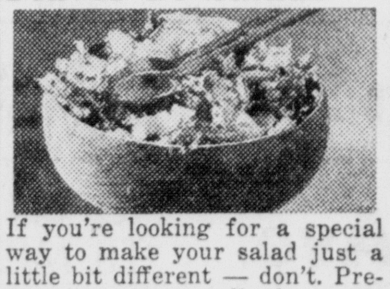
Enhances Flavor Of All Vegetables



Spinach doesn't have to taste like spinach. If you serve vegetables merely because they're nutritious and help to balance your family's diet, you can really make them favorites by adding LPM. Its tantalizing flavor enhances the taste of vegetables — whether they're fresh, frozen or canned.

Sprinkle generously over baked or mashed potatoes, peas, beans, spinach, asparagus, broccoli, artichokes, brussel sprouts — as well as cabbage, cauliflower and corn on the cob.

Introduces New Flavor To Salads



If you're looking for a special way to make your salad just a little bit different — don't. Prepare it as you usually do — add your favorite dressing — then sprinkle LPM and mix.

If you prepare your own dressing add LPM to taste in place of other spices.

"Laureleaf Lemon-Pepper Marinade" Gives Zesty, Delicious Taste to All Food —Meats, Poultry, Seafood Vegetables

CAMDEN, N. J.—A new flavor has found its way to the American dinner table—a flavor that comes from the amazing blending of lemon and pepper with other spices to add a totally different, indescribably delicious taste to all foods.

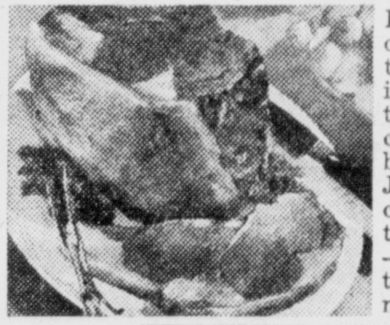
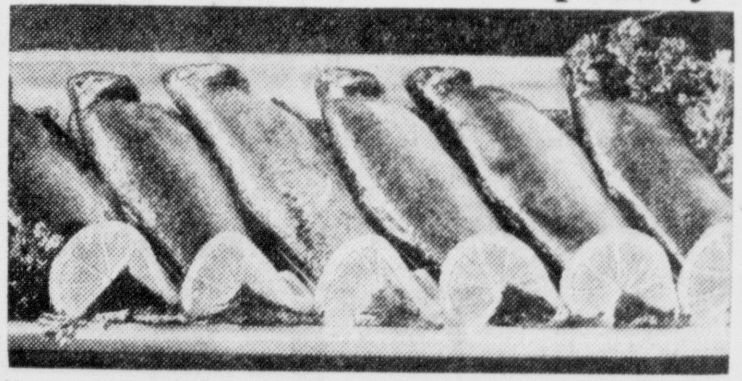
While our product is easy on the palate, our name — LAURELEAF LEMON-PEPPER MARINADE — is a tongue twister. Originally, we wanted a functional name, one that would describe the product quickly. But our customers settled the matter for us. They refer to LAURELEAF LEMON-PEPPER MARINADE as LAURELEAF LPM . . . or "LPM." We agree, it's much easier.

Gives Exciting New Flavor To Steaks, Roasts and Chops



Heat has a remarkable effect on lemon and pepper. On contact these tiny crystals burst into rare flavor, enriching the taste of meat — steaks, roasts, chops, London Broil, hamburgers, meat loaf, liver, pork. Just sprinkle LPM before cooking — then serve. You'll taste the difference instantly — a new world of flavor, zesty, tangy, delicious flavor you've never enjoyed before.

Fish And Seafood Can Now Be Served Much More Frequently



Your family will ask for seafood more often once you serve it seasoned with LPM. All the goodness of shrimp, lobster, flounder, trout, mackerel, is enhanced with LPM.

No Preparation — Just Sprinkle

LPM comes to you skillfully blended. There's nothing . . . absolutely nothing to do. Just sprinkle it on before cooking. You'll find LPM so versatile, in most instances, no other condiment is necessary.

LPM is a pure blend. It contains no chemical additives, dryers or preservatives found in most seasonings.

This new product which has captured the imagination of American women is LAURELEAF LEMON-PEPPER MARINADE. Many regular users refer to it as LPM.

Now, no matter what you cook — meat, poultry, seafood, vegetables, soups, stews — no matter how you prepare it — you can enjoy flavor you've never experienced before, a lemon-pepper flavor that will make you wonder why someone didn't think of this years ago.

Instantly, everything bursts into a zesty, tangy world of flavor. Familiar, old recipes come alive with a new taste. Everyday dishes are enriched with rare goodness. You'll reawaken an interest in your cooking, and your family will be thrilled with your "new-found recipes."

Adds Zest To Diet Foods

If you're forced to count calories and observe a diet that is understandably flat, and for the most part tasteless, you'll find the flavor of LPM a perfect answer to this problem.

LPM adds dash to mealtimes without adding to your calorie intake. So, if you're a calorie counter and want to make your food more interesting and appetizing, use LPM freely.

Everyone Will Want To Be A Barbecue Chef

Zelinskys Plan Gala Party To Celebrate Fifty Years

By BETTY FROST

The 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Zelinsky of Belvedere and San Francisco will be celebrated at a gathering for 175 friends and family members at the Windjammer Restaurant in Tiburon on Sunday. Guests have been asked to come in costumes of the 1919 era.

"It's not a party, but a celebration and thanksgiving," Mr. Zelinsky emphasized.

The former Juanita Galland became the bride of Fred Zelinsky at the home of her parents in San Francisco 50 years ago, and the couple went to Los Angeles by train on their wedding trip.

Both were native San Franciscans. Mrs. Zelinsky's forbears came to California before 1849, entitling their son, Edward Galland Zelinsky, to become affiliated with the California Society of Pioneers. Their daughter is Mrs. Alan Abrams of San Francisco. They have five grandchildren.

David Zelinsky, the Belvedere man's father, came to San Francisco in 1878, as a lad of 16. He was a painter and decorator, a career which his son, Fred, also followed. He built up the family's successful painting contracting business, D. Zelinsky and Sons, with his brothers, the late Herbert and Mervyn Zelinsky. Now his son, Edward, and nephew, Robert D. Zelinsky, own the painting firm. "I work for them," said Zelinsky with a hearty laugh.

An owner of property, including the Nob Hill apartment which is the couple's city residence, Zelinsky calls his large holdings in Tiburon's downtown area "a hobby." In this section is Juanita Lane, named for his wife.

Juanita Zelinsky enjoys puttering in the garden and playing cards with old friends. She adores travel — particularly the long trips she and her husband take each year to Europe or the Orient.

A quiet woman, she still can interject a spicy answer to her husband's pronouncements. When he teasingly suggested that marital troubles could be avoided if the wife would "give in to the old man," she retorted with an emphatic "no!"

The pair were engaged for three years while Fred served in the U. S. Army during World War I. At the time of his discharge he was wearing sergeant's stripes. At a costume party honoring their 30th anniversary, he wore his uniform, and thinks he will don military attire again for Sunday's festivities.

Not sentimental about old clothes, Mrs. Zelinsky said, "I never kept anything." Her 1919 era costume will be an elegant dinner gown, with insets of Alencon lace, borrowed from a close friend.

Their summer home in Belvedere was the former dining salon of the Pacific Mail Line "China", a paddle wheeler with balancing sails, which made regular runs from San Francisco to the Orient in the Civil War era. A number of interesting items from the maritime past accent the antique furnishings.

The future is, however, uppermost in the minds of the Zelinskys as they approach their golden anniversary. For Tiburon's Main Street — an elegant restaurant in the style of the 1860s, a possible addition to the winery and a professional building for Juanita Lane.

Eight years ago the entrepreneur donated a fishing platform for children under 16 at Elephant Rock on the Tiburon Shore. Now he is concerned about a fishing platform for senior citizens at that location.

"So many people like to fish. Older people deserve this recreation, too," he said, thoughtfully.

Pat Nixon Doll Making The Rounds

A replica right down to the last jewel of Mrs. Richard M. Nixon's inaugural ball gown is making the rounds of the nation's stores. Even the doll wearing it is the image of Pat Nixon. Harvey Berin's firm, which made Mrs. Nixon's dress, also dressed the doll, which stands a little more than three feet tall.

Mrs. Nixon's gown, as is the tradition, went immediately to the Smithsonian Institution for exhibit with the other First Lady inaugural gowns. But Berin thought that a lot of the nation which hadn't seen the slim-cut, bejewelled original might want to see what it looked like anyway. Price of the Nixon dress itself or of the dress for the doll is a carefully-kept secret by the New York manufacturer.

Adrianne Summerill Is Engaged

The engagement of Adrianne Summerill to Dr. Robert Alan Burton has been announced by her parents, Mrs. Edna Summerill of San Francisco and John Summerill of Sausalito.

Robert is the son of the Harry Burtons of San Francisco.

Adrianne is a graduate of the Ursuline School for Girls in Santa Rosa and St. Luke School of Nursing in San Francisco. She is a registered nurse and is also a junior at the University of California.

Robert is a graduate of Yale University and U.C. Medical School. He is a neurology resident at the University of California Hospital.

The couple will marry in San Franciso, and Adrianne will continue her studies at the University of California.

Antique Shop Is Renamed Laurel House

Mrs. Patrick Foster of Ross, president of the organization, says that the name change was necessitated by the confusion arising from the Northgate name used by the shopping center in Terra Linda. Originally, the name Northgate came from the fact that the Northgate Group's area is situated near the north gate of the Art and Garden Center. Now the antique shop draws its name from its location on the Laurel Grove side of the center.

Started 21 years ago in the old "bottle house" at the Art and Garden Center, the antique shop is the main continuing fund raising project of the Northgate Group. Funds raised by the organization are used to maintain and improve the center grounds. Laurel House Antiques is staffed by members of the Northgate Group from Monday through Friday from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m.

Chairman of Laurel House Antiques is Mrs. Roger Sheridan of Kentfield. Receiving and pricing chairman is Mrs. Harding McPhun of Greenbrae. Mrs. Waldemar T. Berner of San Rafael is responsible for staffing the shop. And house chairmen are Mmes. Frank Brown of San Anselmo and H. Reed Volin of San Rafael. Mrs. Sumner Orr of Ross is shop manager.

New Honors For Student Nurse

A promising, young second year nursing student at College of Marin has been selected Division Seven Student Nurse of the Year and has been awarded a second scholarship by the Ross Hospital Volunteer Service.

Despite financial and other obstacles, Judy Dietz, a San Rafael resident, maintained a 3.85 grade point average at College of Marin and won the student nurse honor in competition with nursing students from nine Bay Area colleges and nursing hospitals comprising Division Seven. She came to the attention of the Ross Hospital Volunteers last July when she applied for and received a nursing scholarship.

Judy is a native of Nebraska but received most of her elementary and high school education in Wisconsin. She received her LVN (Licensed Vocational Nurse) credential from Milwaukee Institute of Technology. After her father's death, Judy and her mother moved to Marin County, where they have resided for two years.

Judy works part time as a Licensed Vocational Nurse while maintaining a heavy study load at College of Marin. Her immediate goal is to become a registered nurse "because I like being with people and caring for them — and as an RN I can give patients better care."

She would like to specialize in pediatrics and is considering the possibility of taking further schooling to qualify her for work with mentally retarded children.

Feeling that Judy Dietz deserves extra recognition for an outstanding record and her determination, the Ross Hospital Volunteer Service has granted her an additional cash award to enable her to complete her nursing studies.

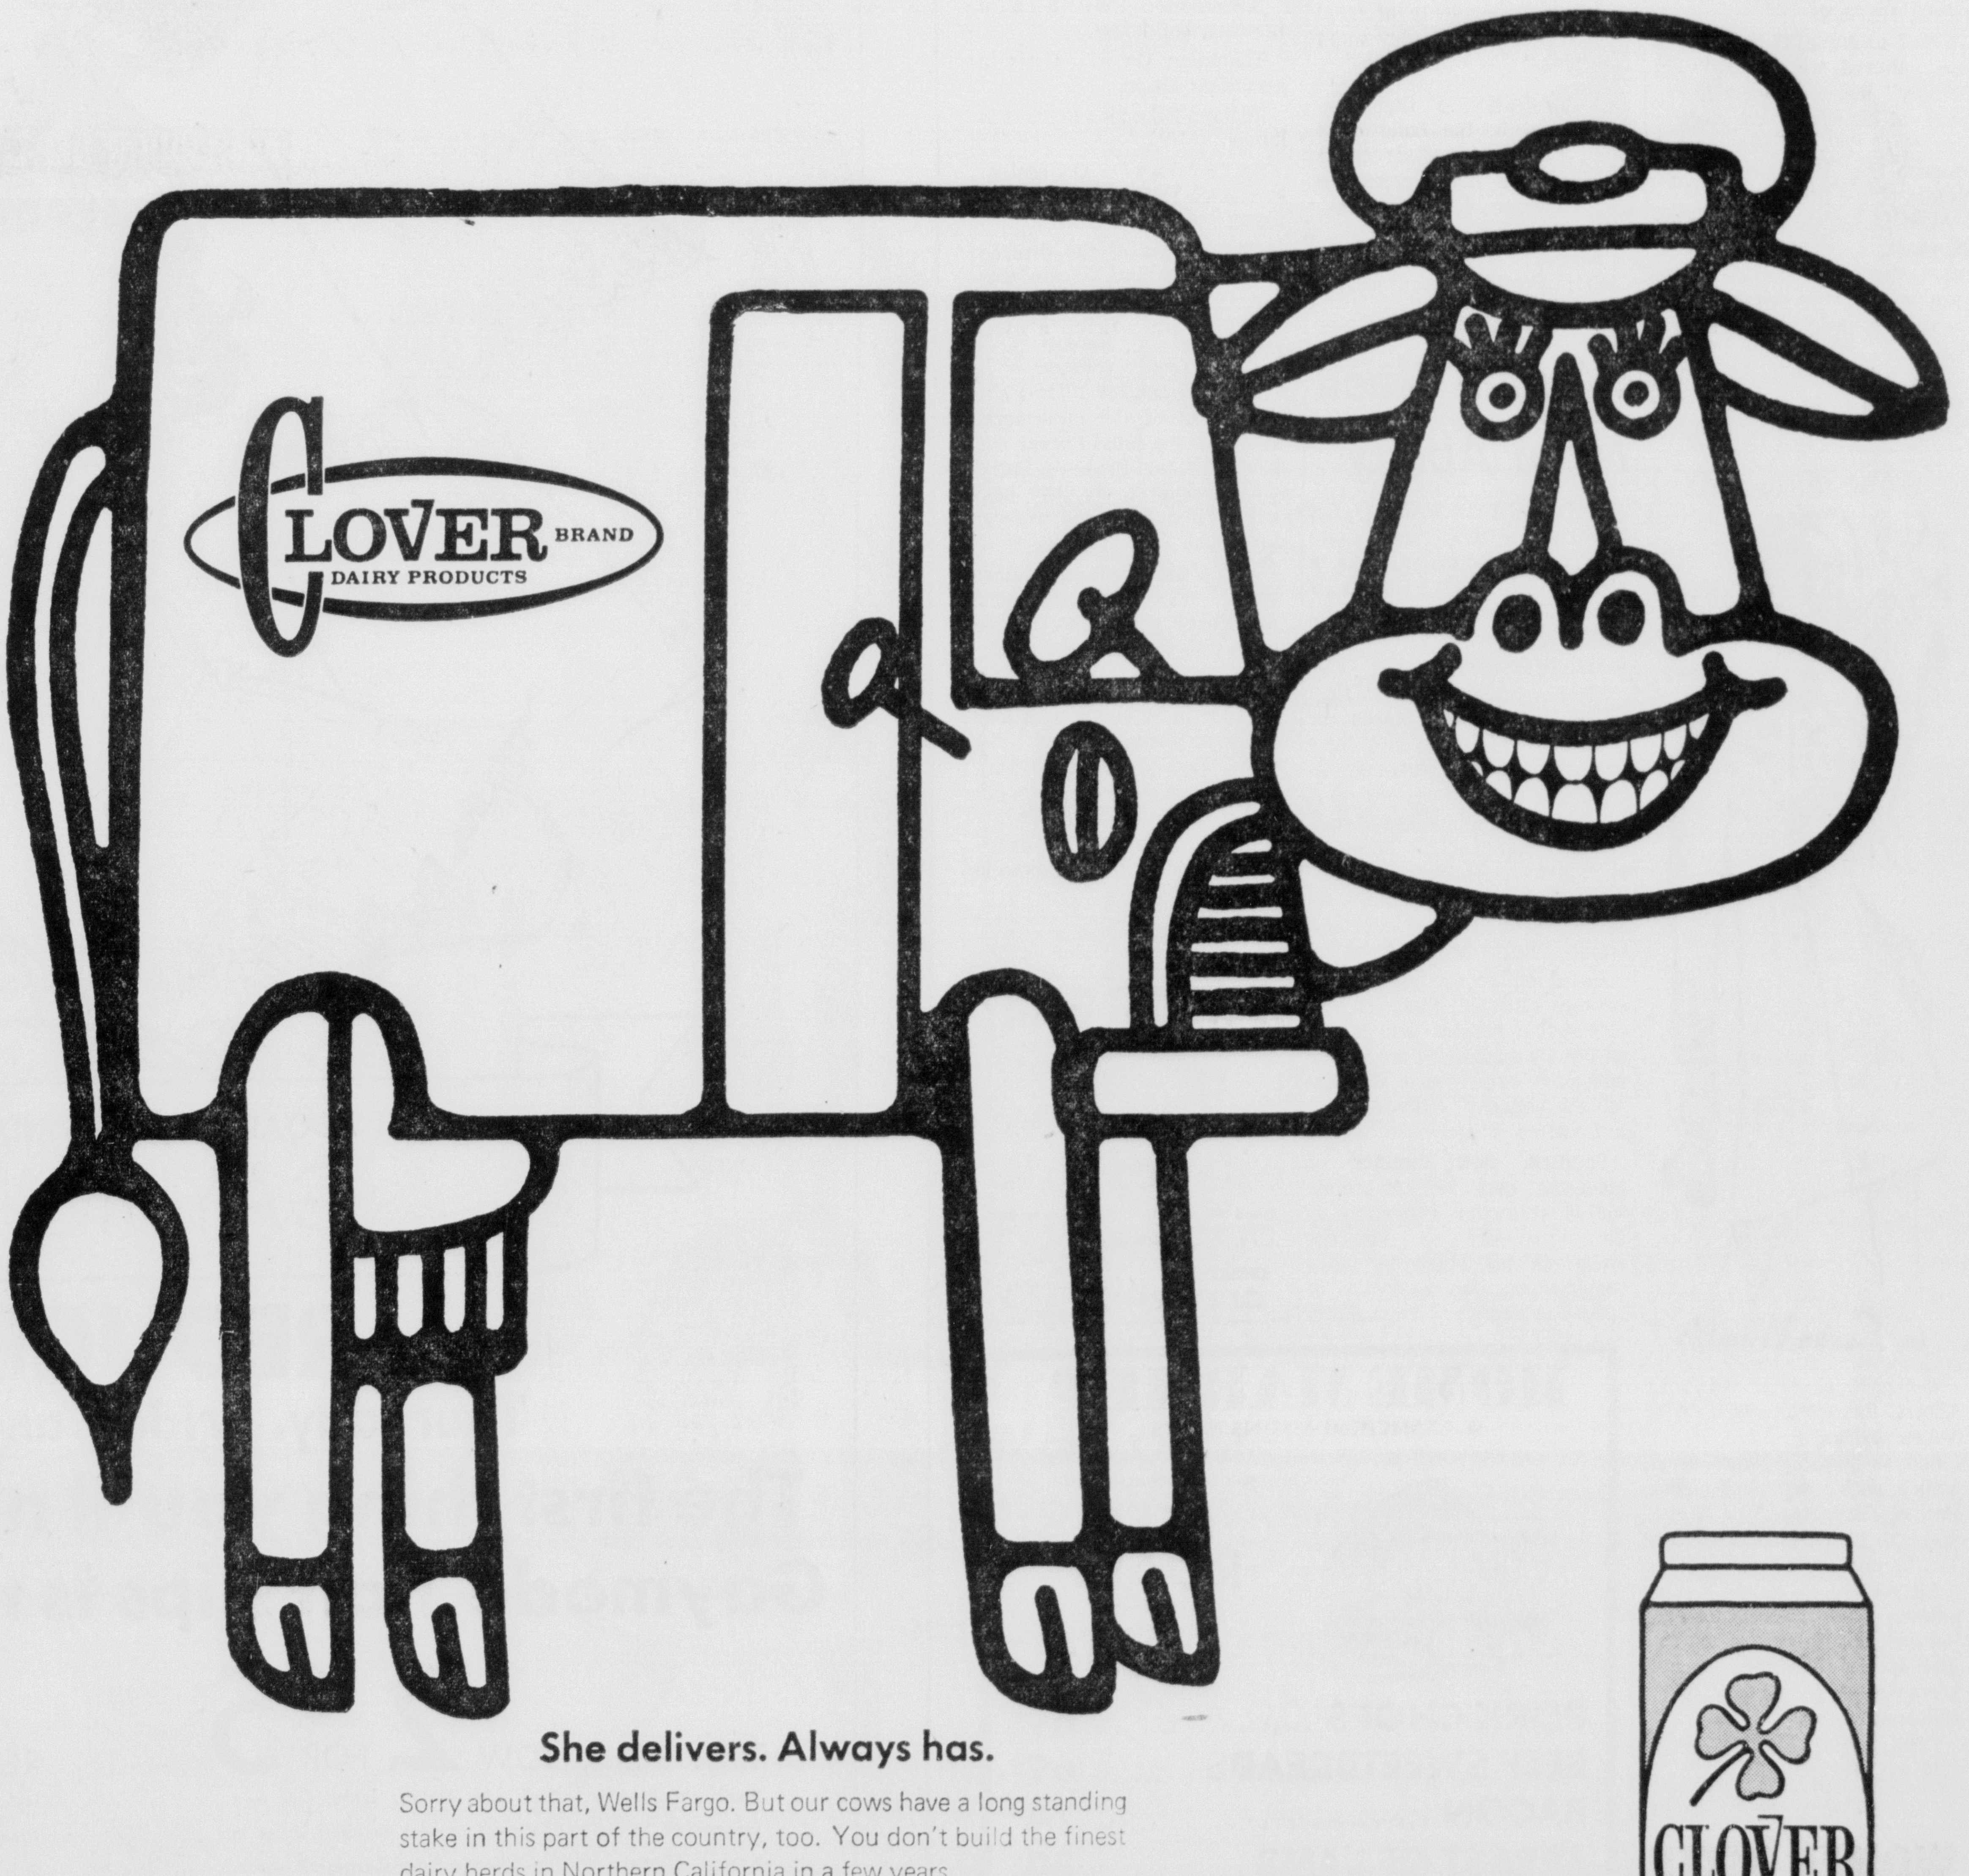
Homemakers Of The Future

A recent survey of the 13 to 19 year-old future homemaker group projects that three million girls help with the family shopping list; over seven million help with the actual shopping. Over three million of them help prepare meals, and almost seven million do the dishes.

With about 43 per cent of the nation's mothers holding jobs outside the home, this power source, untapped until recently, once again becomes important.



She delivers. Always has.

Future Mother-In-Law Worries About Assuming Bad Image

DEAR HELEN:

Whyohwhy is the word "mother" practically sacred, yet when you add an "in-law" to it, that same sainted person becomes a she-devil? Could a person change so quickly?

Let's start a "break the image" movement. Down with discrimination against mothers-in-law! I plan to be one someday, and I hate to think the girl our son will marry will see me first as a dreaded threat and second as someone to make jokes about. Why and how did the "in-law" thing boomerang? — FUTURE BADDY

DEAR F. B.:

I don't know who cracked the first mother-in-law joke, but he doesn't deserve a medal.

Anyone for image-breaking?—H.

DEAR HELEN:

We were recently invited to a party with thirty other guests. We are mature types who don't break furniture. The only drinking we did was coffee with the buffet lunch.

I'm sure we would have all fitted into the host's large living room, but instead we were routed to the cellar. It wasn't even fixed up as a playroom.

I am not the only one who was offended. Imagine, having a dress-up party in the basement! Next time I'll wear blue jeans and tennis shoes. Do you blame us for being mad?—BANISHED

DEAR BAN:

If guests are congenial, the food is good, and the host keeps things lively, who cares whether they meet in the cellar or the upstairs parlor? Sometimes the least pretentious parties are the most fun.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

I had to smile at the woman who suffered when her "very friendly" but cold-blooded husband set his side of the electric blanket at "5" and she roasted because they both slept in the middle of the bed.

After facing this problem for 21 years, I would like to comment that your advice about turning off her control was good — electric control switch, I mean.

I also buy my husband flannelette pajamas while I wear a sheer summerweight nightie all year round. Then we can both turn off the heat.

When all these fail, I use the oh-so-gentle nudge when he is asleep, so that he won't drag his too-warm side of the blanket over to my side; or else I sleep catty-cornered and play footsie on his side of the bed. This keeps him happy and in place.

But if nothing works, I simply roast and give thanks that after 21 years, we are still "very friendly."—MORE THAN HALF-BAKED

DEAR HELEN:

Could you tell me how come a wife can sleep through slam bang television westerns but not through the very gentle snoring of her husband? Surely the rhythm of a snore should lull a woman to sleep much better than the screams, shots and brawls on television.—NOT A BUZZ SAW

DEAR NOT:

Unanswerable question Number 8693!

I'll counter with another: How come a man can sleep through his own snoring when a "gentle" buzz saw outside his window would wake him up swearing?—H.

Susan Salmon Is Bride Of Niels T. Larsen Jr.

Susan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Millard Salmon of Thousand Palms. Mrs. Richard Champe of Tiburon is Susan's sister. She has a brother, Samuel Salmon of Long Beach, and is also the sister of Mrs. Earl Staley of San Anselmo and Mrs. Cleo Jones of San Pedro.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Niels T. Larsen of San Francisco.

Eric Swain of San Francisco was the best man. John Topham of San Francisco and Paul Stephens of Berkeley assisted wedding guests to their places.

The bride is a graduate of Palos Verdes High School in Los Angeles and is studying at the University of California, where she is a senior.

Niels is a graduate of Lowell High School, attended Menlo College and was graduated from the University of California. He is employed by the Larsen Construction Co.

The couple will live in Saratoga.

Wife Not Necessary But Kids Need Mom

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — John McCloskey, at 39, is a divorced father raising his four kids. He's done it now for seven years. In the process, he's acquired some definite opinions on child rearing. Sample:

"Give them plenty of meat and vegetables and they won't get sick."

Sunday: Boy Scouts with John; take Chris to accordion lesson.

Monday: Indian Guide meeting with Chris and Erik at YMCA; take Vickie to ceramic class.

TUESDAY: PWP - Parents Without Partners—skating party for kids.

Wednesday: PWP board meeting, our house.

Thursday: Go with Chris to accordion lesson.

Friday: Take kids to drive-in movie.

Saturday: Overnight horseback riding trip for PWP teens.

At the time of the divorce seven years ago, Vickie was seven; John six; Chris 18 months, and Erik a few months.

VICKIE, now 14, claims she does most of the housework. Dad says she doesn't break her back at it, and the boys, Chris, John and Erik say they help out —"For better or worse," adds dad.

Vickie usually starts dinner about an hour before McCloskey gets home, but he often ends up fixing the meal.

McCLOSKEY SAYS it's cheaper to be single with four children than married: "A wife would always want something — new drapes, a different couch, a new car."

But, he adds, "it's not easier to raise kids without a mom in the home."

Women Need More Ability

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI)—A Pennsylvania State University researcher says a woman seeking a job as a college professor will need better qualifications than her male competitors.

When a female plainly demonstrates superiority, however, she'll get the job, Simpson says. Simpson bases his findings on surveys sent to six private and public colleges and universities.

Based on an analysis of the surveys returned, Simpson concluded that persons who rejected female candidates for higher education employment also exhibited negative attitudes toward women in general.

Simpson, now director of placement and assistant professor of counselor education at the University of Virginia, undertook his study to fulfill requirements for a doctor of education degree at Penn State.

Marinites Make Ball Plans

By MOLLY MARIN

Enthusiasm is gaining in Marin for the revived Black and White Ball to be held Saturday evening in San Francisco.

This is the four-in-one party benefit for the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, which is considered a major social event on the West Coast.

The San Francisco Symphony itself will perform for waltzing at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel. There the decor theme will be "My Fair Symphony" — all in black and white, and Mayor Alioto is expected to open festivities as conductor.

At the Hilton Hotel one of the nation's top rock bands, The Grateful Dead, will alternate with Country Weather. The theme there is "Where It's Happening."

The Mark Hopkins Hotel will swing to San Francisco's Ernie Hecksher, and the black and white decor there will be the very now astrological setting of "The Zodiac Room."

At the St. Francis Hotel will be the continental sound of Earl Hecksher, and decor will spell out "Fun and Games."

Many Marin people are planning parties or will go in groups.

The Barlow Fergusons will be entertaining a large group in the city before going to the ball, and the Dewey Donnels of Sonoma plan a similar party. Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Skall will join the Frank deMili Hills to meet friends in the city.

The Elliot Haynes, Warren Lawrences and Richard Newells all look forward to getting together that evening. The Robert Ohrenschalls (she is president of the Marin Regional Council of the San Francisco Symphony Foundation) will join the George Caesars, Levant Browns, James Derryberrys, Frank Lougees and C. V. Denevers for dinner and dancing.

The David Dooleys, Donald Devotos and Richard Conlans have made their plans together. The Robert Greens, Courtney Benoists and David Faradays all have party plans. The Stephen Barkers also plan to attend.

OTHER MARINITES who have reserved tables are Dr. and Mrs. John D. Relfe and the Merritt Ruddocks at the Palace and the Rev. and Mrs. Angus Dun Jr. at the St. Francis.

MRS. NEVILLE RICH of Belvedere honored Mrs. Thomas Wiper at a tea Friday. Dr. and Mrs. Wiper, former Sausalito residents, have recently moved to Belvedere. The Wipers' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richart Otter, are also Belvedere residents.

MRS. PETER S. LINT of Ross was honored at a surprise birthday luncheon Friday at the Iron Horse Restaurant in San Francisco. Attending were Mmes. Francis S. Griffith, Albert J. Mohun, Clay H. Shields and Henry W. Kellum.

THE INFANT SON of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Hynes of Tiburon was christened at St. Hilary's Church, Tiburon, at 3 o'clock service Sunday.

The first son and second child of the former Molly Keil and her husband received the name William David Hynes. His aunt, Mrs. Matthew B. McGowan of San Rafael, Bill Hynes' sister, is the baby's godmother, and his uncle, Russell D. Keil Jr., Molly's brother, is the godfather.

Since young Russ is attending Wheeling College in Wheeling, W. Va., and was unable to attend, the baby's grandfather, Russell D. Keil, stood in for him at the ceremony. Young William, born Jan. 22, is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Keil of Tiburon and Mr. and Mrs. Adrien Hynes of Piedmont. His sister is Margaret Keil Hynes, 3. Close friends and family members, including Mrs. Hynes' great aunt, Mrs. Margaret F. Skehen of San Francisco, attended a reception at the Hynes home after the christening.

Hazards

Soap, water and slippery surfaces in the bathroom create hazards for all ages. A few inexpensive items such as a suction-type rubber mat or safety strips in the tub, a non-slip mat on the floor, and bathtub handholds can go a long way toward eliminating falls in the bathroom.

ON THE AGENDA

Table Settings, Interior Decorating Program Planned

A program on interior decorating with club members doing table settings in a variety of themes will follow tomorrow's 12:30 p.m. home day meeting of the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley.

Cultural arts chairman Mrs. LeRoy Everett will introduce Norma Davis, who will discuss interior decorating. She has worked as a decorator in San Francisco and has been with a designer studio in San Rafael that does commercial work as well as homes. She is particularly interested in color coordination.

Planning table settings are Mmes. John Burnham, Edward Johnson, Robert Andresen, Walter Long, Albert Miller, George Grant, Thomas Welsh, Madison Devlin, Charles Gorill, Walter Wilkes and Larry Brink.

Luncheon chairmen will be Mmes. Ernest Brymer and Samuel Bagshaw. Mrs. Bernard Benesh will decorate the clubhouse.

DR. CHARLES J. EPSTEIN, director of the genetics clinic at Ross General Hospital and the University of California Clinic in San Francisco, will speak on "drugs, genes and chromosomes" at a meeting tomorrow of the Junior Women's Club of Marin and the Marin March of Dimes chapter.

The speech will be held at 12:15 p.m. in Room 96 of Olney Hall at College of Marin.

MMES. ED KENNEDY and Anthony Bottini will attend the Pythian Sisters Grand Temple Convention in Santa Barbara Sunday through Friday.

ST. PETER Chanel Seminary in San Rafael invites the public to an Irish dinner Sunday from 3 to 7 p.m. in the cafeteria. Tickets may be purchased at the door. Proceeds help in the training of men for the Marist Society.

MILL VALLEY'S Bethel 119 of the International Order of Job's Daughters is holding an obligation exemplification meeting tonight to honor Mill Valley Lodge 356, Free and Accepted Masons.

Debbie Puharich is chairman for refreshments to be served following the 7:30 p.m. meeting at the Mill Valley Masonic Temple.

The group will attend the First Presbyterian Church in Sausalito Sunday on its bi-annual Go-To-Church-Sunday.

Plans are being made for a bake sale to be held at several Mill Valley markets on March 22.

THE NOVATO High School Parent-Faculty Club will have a meeting at 4 p.m. tomorrow in the lecture hall at the high school.

Mrs. Kenneth Back, president, says the agenda will include revised by-laws and a kick-off for open house week to be held April 19, with a dance that evening at the Moose Lodge.

SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD twins, Karen and Kathryn Kelly of Tiburon, were among the members of the Marin General Hospital Volunteers who received 100-hour service pins in February.

The Kelly girls, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kelly, were joined by Ida Jorgensen of San Rafael; Carolyn Kristensen of Fairfax and Mrs. Eugene McGeorge of Mill Valley as 100-hour pin recipients.

Six volunteers were honored with 200-hour pins: Mmes. Francis Davis, W. J. Parker Jr., Harry Pieper and Ronald Steffens of San Rafael; John Brozovich of Corte Madera, and Miss Chrystine Colwell, Greenbrae.

Mmes. Dunya Chernenko, Tiburon; Robert DeVilbiss, Larkspur; Lawrence Tuller, San Rafael, and Vincent White, Mill Valley, were awarded 300-hour pins, while Mmes. Glenn Ellingson, San Rafael; John Flannagan, Corte Madera; and George Schocket, Belvedere, received pins for 400 hours of service.

A 500-hour pin was awarded to Mrs. John Grey, Greenbrae. Mrs. Clayton Rice, San Rafael, was presented with a pin for 1000 hours, and Mrs. Murray Powers, San Rafael, received a pin for 1100 hours of service. LINDA GREEN

Miss Green To Be Wed

The engagement of Linda Anne Green to James Thomas Vincent has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Green of San Anselmo.

The sister of Shelley and Sherrey Green, Linda is a Sir Francis Drake High School graduate and attends the University of California at Davis. She will be graduated with an English major in June.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson R. Green of Larkspur are her grandparents.

James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lon P. Vincent of Watsonville. He is the brother of Thomas, Joseph, Hilary and Janiece Vincent, all of Watsonville. A graduate of Watsonville High School, he also is a student at U.C. at Davis.

The wedding has been set for Aug. 23.

ART REVIEW

Show's Main Impact Is Its Inconsistency

By LAURA DEVENDORF

The East Bay Artists Association is crawling with artists, not from East Bay but from all over the Bay Area, many of them from Marin. And with this small incongruity for starters, it doesn't seem illogical that, while this is a highly professional group its show this month at the College of Marin art gallery is a very uneven thing.

Some of the work is outstanding while some of it makes you gape in wonder.

The sculpture provides some of the association's strongest moments. John Lewis's "Family Group III" is a big biomorphic jungle of organs and tubing painted in assorted colors.

Edward T. Harland uses plexiglass to advantage in two works, one, a cloud-etched cube set between fuzzy, green, cutaway hills and the other, a three-layered mirage, the outer sections stained with red designs and the inner layer outlined by red light.

Gwen Stone shows a huge, primary-colored, geometric sculpture over which is a tiny linen collage which served as model. And in metal, Truman Fisher produces some provocative social comments while Farhad Moezzi shows two of his brooding, futuristic columns.

Among the paintings, one of the most arresting is Vivian Ormsby's "Our Thing," an acrylic and wood group of hitchhikers that is a total expression of the look, dress and youthful image now.

There are also interesting usages of non-objective shapes and detail by Ada Garfinkel and Priscilla Birge. And while the ideas are miles apart, there is a painterly consistency in the sensitive abstract landscapes by Avis de Monte and Margaret Smith, the quiet still life by Winifred Koch, Evelyn Glaubman's rumpled, painted flag and Catherine H. Nurse's impressively simple, gray canvas with its bone-shaped reach of redrawn white.

There are other very competent and exciting pieces throughout. And they form a heavy majority. But it's the few really strange, inept or lackluster things that stagger the eye. There seems to be little in between and the comparison of one extreme to the other lends a peculiar air of incongruity to an otherwise vital and worthwhile gallery experience.

State Divides Up Highway, Tobacco Tax For February

Marin County will receive $119,333 of the $68 million in highway users taxes distributed to the state, counties and cities as the February apportionment, State Controller Houston I. Flournoy announced yesterday. Sonoma County's share is $158,667.

Apportionments to cities in Marin were: Belvedere, $2,039; Corte Madera, $5,571; Fairfax, $5,051; Larkspur, $5,607; Mill Valley, $7,938; Novato, $18,627; Ross, $2,145; San Anselmo, $8,695; San Rafael, $23,422; Sausalito, $4,625 and Tiburon, $4,241.

Southern Sonoma cities' apportionments were Petaluma, $15,167; Cotati, $1,344, and Rohnert Park, $3,750.

Flournoy also announced distribution of $5.1 million in cigarette tax money with $5,173 as Marin's share and $19,828 as unincorporated Sonoma's share of the February apportionment.

Apportionments to the cities were: Belvedere, $436; Corte Madera, $3,490; Fairfax, $1,483; Larkspur, $1,831; Mill Valley, $2,908; Novato, $6,074; Ross, $449; San Anselmo, $2,784; San Rafael, $14,886; Sausalito, $2,680; and Tiburon, $1,365.

Southern Sonoma apportionments were, Petaluma, $5,865; Cotati, $454, and Rohnert Park, $944.

$1,000 Fine For Showing Film

BOSTON (AP) — A theater manager has been fined $1,000 and sentenced to six months in jail on the charge of showing an obscene picture—"The Killing of Sister George."

Joseph Sasso of Peabody, the manager of the Cheri Theaters, was convicted yesterday in Boston Municipal Court. He appealed the conviction to Suffolk Superior Court and was released in $1,000 personal recognizance.

Chief Justice Elijah Adlow, who saw the film Monday night, said he would approve it if the last five minutes were eliminated.

Defense attorneys said this could not be done.

"The Killing of Sister George," a British production, contains a lesbian love scene.

DRAMA REVIEW

Carney Does Magic With Irish Duet

By JAMES E. WILLIAMS

SAN FRANCISCO — Art Carney brought his magical theatrical quality to the Curran Theater last night in Irish playwright Brian Friel's "Lovers," two one-act companion plays.

Lack of a warm reception for Friel's first play was clearly evident midway through, however, when one playgoer in the rear of the first floor yelled out: "Boy, this is terrible!" and quickly exited.

While his feelings may have reflected audience disappointment at the lack of a fatter role for Carney in the first play, Friel's ideas are first rate with the dialogue being the key to splendid characterization development.

The first, "Winners," tells the story of a boy and girl planning their future married life together while the narrator at the side (Carney) reveals they will die within the day.

"Losers," the second, brings Carney to the center of the stage as the no longer young suitor who has to take on a pious mother-in-law.

Anna Manahan as Hanna and Eamon Morrissey as Joe in "Winners" are admirable as the light-hearted young lovers who must build a future with a child already on the way.

With dreamy dialogue from each Friel, whose "Philadelphia Here I Come!" was a smash hit, cites the pomposity of the establishment.

As the narrator intones later, the bodies for propriety's sake were buried in separate graves and each in its own family plot.

It has almost an "Our Town" quality with a small raised stage and the barest props. Likewise the set was kept simple for the second play.

While there are a few sluggish moments in the first play director Hilton Edwards of Dublin Gate Theater has to be commended for the tender performances from the pair.

Carney with a delightful Irish brogue and a bounce in his feet proves himself a wonderfully human person as Andy in the "Losers." The role further establishes Carney, late of Jackie Gleason's "The Honeymooners" and more recently of "The Odd Couple" on Broadway, as a polished performer.

He was equally matched by Fionnuala Flanagan as Mag, his wife.

Adding to the overall hilarity were Grania O'Malley as Mrs. Wilson and Mairin D. O'Sullivan as Cissy, who while seeing their beloved St. Philomena outlawed, re-establish the church's reign in Andy's household.

"Lovers" continues at the Curran through Sunday with the curtain at 8:30 p.m. with the exception of Sunday at 7 p.m. and a matinee at 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

Catholic Students Prepare Comedy

The first musical comedy production in the school's history will be presented by the Marin Catholic High School senior class when they stage "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" Friday, Saturday and Sunday at 8 p.m. in the school gym.

A cast of 40 students, directed by Father David Pettingill, is involved in the production. Tickets will be sold at the door.

Actor Rescued

DINGLE, Ireland (UPI)—Actor John Mills was knocked unconscious for 10 minutes yesterday when a wave capsized the boat in which he and Trevor Howard were filming 100 yards off shore. Both men were rescued by the film crew.

Liz Released

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actress Elizabeth Taylor was released from a hospital yesterday after tests for a degenerating spinal disc "showed nothing of a serious nature," according to her physician.

Harvard's Oldest Living Grad Dies

BROOKLINE, Mass (AP) — Winthrop Pitt Tryon, who was the oldest living graduate of Harvard died yesterday at the age of 99.

Born at Cape Elizabeth, Maine, he was graduated from Harvard in 1892, taught Greek and Latin, and later became the music critic of the Christian Science Monitor, working in New York.

Marin Music Fete Set For 500 Pupils

Five hundred top music students will participate in the fourth annual Marin County Elementary School Honor Music Festival to be held at 7 p.m., Sunday, at the College of Marin gymnasium, Kentfield.

The event is sponsored by music teachers of 12 Marin County school districts, assisted by the County Superintendent of Schools office, AlvaRetta Murray, general chairman, said today.

The students, sixth, seventh and eighth graders, will hold three rehearsals before the performance. They will be at the gymnasium at 4 p.m., Friday, and at 9 a.m. and 1:30 p.m., Saturday. The public is welcome to attend.

The festival has three honor groups — band, chorus and orchestra. These groups will be directed by guest conductors who held the same positions last year.

They are Verne M. Sellin, a San Francisco Symphony Orchestra violinist since 1946, for the orchestra and Jock Budelman, for the chorus, who is a Seattle music teacher and founder of the Seattle Boys' Choir and Robert Lutt, chairman of the performing arts department, Berkeley High School.

Larkspur School District will be the host district and admission will be free.

Adult Courses Are Announced

The adult education program of the San Rafael City Schools has released a list of a wide range of courses which will be held during the spring quarter from March 24 through June 5.

Classes are open to all persons 18 years and older not now attending day high school. The $5 tuition fee is not charged for Americanization classes, any student under 21 or anyone enrolled in a program leading to an elementary certificate or high school diploma.

For additional information on classes, detailed brochures will be available Monday at stores, banks, libraries and schools throughout San Rafael. Most classes will be held at San Rafael or Terra Linda High Schools.

Federal Fund Drought Puts End To Budding Legal Aid Program

By JOANNE GRANT

Marin's blossoming legal assistance program will end March 31, five months and 10 days after it started, despite the fact that "business is booming."

The program, begun by the Marin County Legal Aid Society on a federal grant, will run out of money at the end of the month and James Kovacs, the attorney in charge, sees little hope of a reprieve.

"We havs been told we would have a month to phase out," Kovacs reported. However, he said the office in the Albert Building will close at the end of the month and April would be used to finish cases pending in court.

The federal grant, for $20,000, was received more than two years after $80,000 was asked, and was for a six-month program.

Attorneys had hoped the program would be such a success it would speak for itself in a request for funds to continue it. Kovacs believes it has been a success, but that funds are simply not available.

The Legal Aid Society program is specifically for poor persons involved in civil cases. Criminal cases are handled by the public defender.

Kovacs reported local cases have ranged from evictions to divorces to welfare inequities. The number of evictions has been rising at an alarming rate, he reported, with many of the persons being evicted after two years of residency.

Besides the legal work done by the society, advisory services are provided.

For example, someone on the verge of eviction would be referred to the Housing Authority.

Others are referred to Lynn Bishop, the society's community worker, Kovacs said.

A woman seeking a divorce, for example, "has far deeper problems" than the legal technicalities, he explained.

Mrs. Bishop helps calm them, advises on job seeking and child care and other problems. "She knows what she's doing, she's been through it all herself," said Kovacs. Mrs. Bishop, mother of six, had been on welfare before taking the job with the Legal Aid Society.

Besides the services in the main office, evening programs are maintained in Marin City and San Rafael.

The Marin City office, staffed by an attorney from the Contra Costa County Legal Aid, has been operating since mid-January from 8 to 10 p.m. each Wednesday.

The San Rafael office, in the Economic Opportunity Center multi-service center, is open the same hours, staffed by local volunteer attorneys.

Initial interviews are conducted in the evening programs and then the cases go to the main office for actual handling.

Kovacs estimated it would take a minimum of $50,000 to continue the program for a year — $50,000 the society doesn't have.

He predicted the society would return to its former practice of operating a part-time office with donations and using volunteers to handle emergency cases only.

Not Very Proper

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — The Batticalda municipal council is faced with an unprecedented problem: the mayor it ousted recently refused to part with the official cloak. The matter came to light when the new mayor attended a function without the official gown.

U.C. Financial 'Uncertainty' Prompts Switch

STANFORD (UPI) — D. Linus Pauling, the controversial nuclear chemist who is the only American to win two Nobel Prizes, is leaving the University of California to join the faculty at Stanford University.

In a statement issued yesterday, the 68-year-old Pauling said one reason for the change was "the present uncertainty about continued financial support of the University of California."

Pauling said the medical school at U.C. San Diego, where he has spent the last two years, "has already built up a staff of some of the best physicians and medical scientists in the United States —but there is the possibility now that decreased support by the State of California will prevent its further development at the rate it had been planned."

Yorty Appeals Paper Libel Suit

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Mayor Sam Yorty has appealed the dismissal of his $2 million libel suit against the Los Angeles Times over an editorial cartoon.

Yorty contended in the original suit that the political cartoon implied he was insane in believing he could be appointed Secretary of Defense.

The cartoon by artist Paul Conrad was published Nov. 19. The Times later explained in an editorial that it did not mean to imply Yorty was mentally ill.

Ray's New Quarters Much Less Elaborate

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — James Earl Ray will live for the next six weeks or so in a prison cell nine feet long and six feet wide, with the Negro slayer of a policeman as his nearest neighbor.

The confessed assassin of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., will occupy the cell—No. 4 in the state penitentiary's maximum security section—while undergoing orientation and classification.

Then, Warden Lake Russell said yesterday, Ray will be assigned a prison job and treated as far as possible like other inmates while serving time against his 99-year sentence. It will be 30 years before Ray, 41, can be eligible for parole.

There are 32 other cells along the three corridors of the squat maximum security building. There are 26 other prisoners, but cells on both sides of Ray are vacant.

In the occupied cell closest to him is William Garvin Allen, a Black Power advocate convicted earlier this year of killing a member of the Nashville police force.

Allen said he had no special feeling about his proximity to Ray.

Trio Named As Cosa Nostrans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Californians—Joseph Cerrito of San Jose, James Lanza of San Francisco and Nicolo Licata of Los Angeles—are listed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., as leaders of the underworld's Cosa Nostra.

McClellan, in a Senate speech, called the Cosa Nostra a national criminal syndicate and listed its leaders in 22 cities. He said the organization drains billions of dollars a year from the U.S. economy.

The Arkansas senator said a ruling body known as the Commission supervises the 22 families of Costa Nostra. He named Cerrito, Lanza and Licata as members of the Commission.

Senate Approval Of Arms Treaty Is Likely Tomorrow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate backers of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty, showing their muscle in a test vote, have made it clear they intend to send the White House a pact with no strings attached.

In a 61-30 vote yesterday, the Senate rejected a proposal by Democrat Sam Ervin of North Carolina to add a reservation to the treaty declaring the United States was not obligated to defend nonnuclear nations from atomic attack.

Although other reservations were before the Senate today, the initial test made ratification, possibly tomorrow, appear all but certain.

Ervin said that without his reservation this country might find itself confronted with demands to respond to a nuclear attack.

But Chairman J. W. Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, floor manager for the treaty, insisted no such commitments were involved and the Ervin reservation was not needed.

The vote came on a motion to table and thus kill the North Carolinian's proposal.

As long ago as the 1st Century A.D., the Emperor of China awarded medals to his military commanders.

Hickel May Expand Oil Sanctuary

NEW YORK (AP) — Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel is drafting a plan to increase the sanctuary off the Santa Barbara coast where oil drilling is prohibited, the New York Times said today.

The newspaper said in a story from its Washington bureau that the enlarged sanctuary would be one of a number of measure to combat pollution and allow full public review of future leases on federal offshore lands.

The Times added that Hickel was said to be considering shutting down the Union Oil Co's operations at the site where a well blew out in January spreading an oil slick over 50 square miles of sea.

That area, amounting to 5,760 acres, would be added to the enlarged sanctuary, the newspaper said.

The Times said Hickel was understood to have demanded that oil companies holding federal leases off California allow full access to their exploratory and drilling records before deciding whether drilling will be resumed.

The drilling was halted after widespread protests over the oil leakage.

A review of tougher regulations by California officials was also in the offing before Hickel decides on whether to resume offshore operations, the Times said.

Ex-Lawmaker Frank Boykin Dies At 84

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Rep. Frank W. Boykin, D-Ala., who retired in 1962 after a 27-year congressional career, died today in George Washington University Hospital. He was 84.

The hospital said Boykin suffered from congestive heart failure. He most recently entered the hospital about two weeks ago.

Boykin entered the House in 1935 after winning a special election to fill a vacancy. He won re-election to 13 successive terms and, at the beginning of his last two-year term in 1962, became dean of the Alabama delegation.

He was a native of Mobile, Ala., and before and during his years in Congress enjoyed a successful business career.

As a businessman he was identified with real estate, farming, livestock, timber, lumber, naval stores, and the development of South Alabama's timber and mineral resources.

During World War I he was an official in shipbuilding companies that, Boykin said, built 52 per cent of all naval vessels constructed on the Gulf Coast prior to the end of the war.

Boykin was married to the former Oello Gunn of Thomasville, Ala. The couple had five children.

Actress, 41, Vanishes On Hunt For Dog

NEW YORK (AP) — Police have issued a 50-state alarm for Mona Crawford, an attractive blonde actress who disappeared under "suspicious circumstances" while trying to retrieve a stolen poodle.

The 41-year-old actress, whose real name is Mona Sherman, has appeared on stage, in night clubs and was recently featured as "the girl on the seesaw" in a television cigarette commercial.

She was reported missing Sunday by Hyman Schick, a dairy farmer from Wayland, Mass. He told police he was with her in her apartment when she received a telephone call about 6 p.m. from a woman with a Spanish accent.

The woman reportedly said: "If you want your dog back, come alone to Broadway and 90th Street at 8 p.m. Don't bring anyone with you."

Miss Crawford's two poodles, Cappy and Romeo, had been stolen from her car on Feb. 10 near Broadway and 90th Street. She advertised in English and Spanish newspapers promising a reward.

On Feb. 15 Miss Crawford was contacted by a Bronx woman who said she had bought a dog from a man she did not know in the same area on the 10th. The dog was Cappy and Miss Crawford paid a $200 reward.

World Art Gallery

PRAGUE (UPI) — A gallery of world art will be founded in the village of Lidice, Czechoslovakia, to house 300 works contributed by artists around the globe in memory of Lidice. The village was burned by the Nazis in World War II after they had executed all the men.

Nurse Faces Trial On Theft Charges

A motion to dismiss grand theft charges against a 41-year-old Santa Rosa practical nurse has been denied by Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Superior Court.

Vera May Walsh pleaded innocent to taking a diamond ring and glassware from the home of her former employers in Fairfax. A jury trial was set for Monday for the week of April 14.

Mrs. Walsh has also been the center of an investigation into the death of one of her patients in Santa Rosa.

The body of Mrs. Gloria Giannis, 42, was found in Mrs. Walsh's Santa Rosa apartment Jan. 10, wrapped in a sheet and blanket and tied with a cord. Authorities said Mrs. Giannis, who had been released into Mrs. Walsh's care from Mendocino State Hospital, died of an overdose of drugs.

The Sonoma County Grand Jury plans to review the facts of that case on March 20, according to Sonoma officials. No charges in the matter have been filed against Mrs. Walsh.

Students Allowed Broader Scope In Patriotic Rites

A flag raising ceremony, patriotic music or historic quotations can be used by Terra Linda or San Rafael high school students as patriotic observances for the rest of the school year.

The San Rafael Board of Education approved these variations last night, but noted that by law the daily pledge of allegiance would have to be included.

Without board sanction the students would have been limited to the daily pledge of allegiance in all classes, a practice they contended had become meaningless to students.

Philip Maley, recording secretary of the Irate Taxpayers of Marin asserted the pledge is never meaningless. Perhaps, the schools have failed to set the example which creates proper respect, he said.

He closed with a personal plea for loyalty and respect for the flag, which drew applause.

Ken Downs, a member of the Terra Linda High School committee on patriotic observances, explained the variations were designed to provide a broader scope, a more relevant way for patriotic observances.

After Downs outlined the program, Maley conceded that the proposed ceremonies sounded good, and would help lend meaning to the pledge.

Board members asked students to report back at the end of the semester on the effectiveness of the program.

San Rafael High School didn't request the change in patriotic observances, but the board's ruling also applies to it.

Coffee Machine Set For Library

The Sausalito Library Board has approved placing a coffee machine in the library, subject to approval by the city manager.

The board Monday night also approved a list of written library policies and procedures, which Librarian Kathleen Worsley said held only minor changes.

The board was told painting contractors have not yet submitted bids for proposed painting in the library. The city council will open and act on the bids.

Ozone Risk For Supersonic Jets

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A pathologist warned today that high flying supersonic airlines will have to cope with ozone, a potentially dangerous ingredient of smog.

Ozone, a sweet smelling gas, is a form of oxygen that dries and irritates mucus linings in the nose, throat and around eyes.

Dr. Werthamer said that at high altitudes it is generated in large concentrations when ultraviolet sunlight reacts with ordinary oxygen.

Dorothy Draper Dies At 79

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Dorothy Draper, interior decorator, designer and columnist, died yesterday after a long illness. She was 79.

Mrs. Draper, mother of San Francisco Chronicle reported George T. Draper of Sausalito, became known in the late 1930s as a pioneer in the use of vivid colors and "total corrdination" in interior decoration.

Her first major project in interior design was the Hampshire House Apartment Hotel at 150 Central Park West in New York.

Other hotel designs she devised include the Greenbrier Hotel in White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., the Drake in Chicago, the Mayflower in Washington and the Carlyle in New York.

Mrs. Draper chose colors for the 1952 Packard automobile and, in 1960, designed the interior of the Convair 880 airplane.

She was the author of three books, "Decorating is Fun," "Entertaining is Fun," and "365 Shortcuts to Home Decorating." Her column "Ask Dorothy Draper," appears in 70 newspapers.

She was born in Tuxedo Park, N.Y., the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tuckerman. She married Dr. George Draper in 1912. They were divorced in 1930.

Mrs. Draper is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Diana Draper Bigelow of Colorado Springs, Colo., and Mrs. Penelope Draper Buchanan of Cleveland, Ohio; the son, Draper of Sausalito, and six grandchildren.

Private funeral services will be held in Newport, R.I.

Ross Council May Act On Street Pact

The Ross Town Council at its meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow will consider the joint agreement between Ross and San Anselmo on the Bolinas Avenue and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard intersection.

Other items on the agenda at town hall include a resolution requesting urban thoroughfare funds for Project 41 and a general government budget

Jury Sets Price Tag On Peacock Gap Site

San Rafael Board of Education got the word last night that it would cost $190,001 for a 9.1-acre elementary school site at Riviera and Biscayne dirve, Peacock Gap. (Another San Rafael Board of Education story, page 1).

Board members got a letter from Richard V. Godino, assistant county counsel, that the jury had arrived at a price of $190,001 in the district's condemnation actiona against N.Y.-Cal Industrial Corp. to acquire the site.

Appraisers for San Rafael City Schools set the value of the site at about $155,000, while appraisals by the defendant were $275,000 and $295,000, Godino noted.

Board members have three choices: Appeal the decision, pay the judgment and complete the acquisition or abandon the proceedings, Godino said.

If the board abandons the condemnation, the San Rafael City Schools would have to pay the defendant's attorney and appraiser fees, he pointed out.

Board members took no action, but indicated a decision would be made soon.

San Joaquin Delta College President Quits

Bortolazzo, 53, had headed the 5,500-student junior college since July 1, 1968 and previously had served 12 years as president of the college of San Mateo. For four years prior to that he had led Stockton College, predecessor of Delta College.

Bortolazzo said the reason for his resignation, to be effective June 30, was "exhaustion, physical and emotional. I have some things I want to do."

But he offered to stay on as a consultant while the school creates its first permanent campus as the result of a $19.8 million bond issue March 4 Bartolazzo backed.

TOOLS ON A ROOFTOP—Would-be San Anselmo store burglars relinquished these professional tools last night when surprised on Braverman's Furniture Store roof. Two Found On Store Roof With Tool Kit

Two apparent would-be burglars were arrested by San Anselmo police last night after the men were found on the roof of Braverman's Furniture Store with a bag if sophisticated tools in their possession, police reported today.

Booked on suspicion of burglary and possession of burglary tools were Howard Tennyson Payne, 48, Oakland shipping clerk, and Phillip Martin Steward, 29, with no known address.

Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani, who took part in the arrest, described the men as "well dressed" and carrying a "very dignified" set of burglary tools.

Steward, said the chief, "rattled off sections of the criminal code, which he said he'd studied for three years. He was as cool as anything, and after reciting recent Supreme Court decisions, said, 'Do you think I'm going to talk after those decisions?' "

Officer Richard Kilday reported he was patrolling at 10:40 p.m. on Spring Grove Avenue which is even with the roof level of the store at 208 Greenfield Avenue.

Shining his spotlight onto the roof, he spotted two persons crouching next to the skylight. He ordered the men to stand fast and radioed for help.

In the bag was a 38-foot, three-eights-inch manila rope which Chief Buchignani believes was to be used to lower the men into the store after they had got through the skylight.

"The tools would indicate that they were going to hit a safe,"

Also in the bag were a saw, tire iron, power drill, hammer, many bits, wire cutters, needle nose plyers, screwdrivers and a crescent wrench. The men were unarmed, police said.

Buchignani said that Payne admitted to being on parole for armed robbery. Bail was set at $5,000 on Payne and $2,500 on

Rancho Olompali Resident Killed On Borrowed Cycle

A 37-year-old resident of Rancho Olompali north of Novato was killed at 3:20 p.m. yesterday in a motorcycle accident on Atherton Avenue just east of Bugeia Lane, Novato, police said.

Dead on arrival at Novato General Hospital was Eugene Joseph Head.

The owner of the motorcycle, Joe Daniel Boudreaux of Santa Rosa, who loaned him the machine a few minutes earlier at Joe's Crossroads tavern on Highway 101 at Atherton Avenue, told police that he had known the victim for the past four years as James Capello.

A witness to the accident, Catherine Allen of 652 Peach Street, Novato, told police that she saw the motorcycle turn from Bugeia Lane eastbound on Atherton Avenue, swerve to the wrong side of the road and hit the ditch. She could not estimate the speed, she said.

Police reported that Head was issued a citation on Monday by the California Highway Patrol for driving without a license.

Walter Doyle of Rancho Olompali identified the body as that of Head at the Redwood Chapel Funeral Home.

The accident brought to five the number of traffic deaths in Marin this year, one more than at this time in 1968.

The coroner's office reported that Head was born in Missouri and had lived in California for the past 35 years. He is survived by a sister, Esther Butler of Sacramento, according to the coroner's office.

No one at Rancho Olompali today could give any further information about Head other than he had lived at the ranch for about a year.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Redwood Chapel.

School Group To See Reagan

Four members of the Marin County Steering Committee for Quality Kindergarten Education will have a private audience with Gov. Ronald Reagan tomorrow at 3:10 p.m. to discuss a possible amendment to the governor's education bill.

The committee representatives — Laura Fagan, Marsha Smith, Beverly Cooper and Marianne Linder — are seeking state funds to continue single session kindergarten classes, which would allow team teaching techniques with more individual attention for students.

Topcoat Stolen

Samuel Williams of 725 Bamboo Terrace, Terra Linda, reported to Marin County sheriff's deputies that a topcoat was stolen from a car parked in his driveway Monday. No valuation on the coat was given.

Burn Victim Fair

James Agnew, 24, of San Francisco was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital after being admitted Monday with second degree burns of the hands and face. Agnew was working on a new roof at the Army Corps of Engineers building in Sausalito when a tar pot ignited momentarily and burned him.

Officers Sniff Marijuana, Arrest Three

Wafting marijuana smoke led last night to arrest of three 20-year-olds in a San Anselmo home reportedly sprinkled with marijuana seeds, $1,000 in hashish and narcotics paraphernalia, police said today.

Arrested wrer Paul Frederick Mehrten of 635 Barberry Lane, San Rafael; Rae Dawn Hirsch of 109 Allyn Avenue, San Anselmo, and Carl King, who gave no address.

The were booked into Marin County Jail for investigation of possession of narcotics, being in a home where marijuana was being used and possession of narcotics paraphernalia. Bails were set at $3,125 on King, and $625 on Merhten and Miss Hirsch.

Found in dresser drawers and on tops of dressers and tables, police said, were the hashish, a quart jar of marijuana seeds, several containers of white power and a loaded .38-caliber five-shot revolver, according to police. Also found, they said, were hypodermic needles and syringes.

Sgt. Grant Thompson and Patrolman Richard Schmidt stopped at the house at 7:45 p.m. to ask about the car parked in the same place for about a week.

Mehrten opened the door, police said, and walked out past both officers, as if to lead them away from the door.

Thomspson stepped in to talk to Miss Hirsch, noticed what appeared to be the smell of burining marijuana and placed all three under arrest.

Officers said that they are analyzing confiscated white powder and capsules. They also reported that King was on probation for a prior narcotics violation. The three persons are unemployed, police added.

School Plans For Summer Announced

A joint summer school program for the Mill Valley and Sausalito school districts has been approved by the Mill Valley School District board.

The program will start June 25 and run for four weeks with kindergarten through fifth grade students attending Alto, Park and Tamalpais Valley schools and graduating fifth through seventh grade students at Edna Maguire School.

Some 1,400 students, 400 of whom will be bussed from the Sausalit School District, are expected to attend the daily program which will run from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. daily.

Students from Mount Carmel School, a private Catholic school in Mill Valley, will also attend.

The Mill Valley School District board also:

ELECTION — Formally ordered an election June 3 for the proposed 75-cent increase in the district's general fund tax rate from $2.25 to $3.

LEASE — Authorized board chairman Joseph E. Bodovitz to sign a lease agreement with the city to place the community recreation center on school district property at Camino Alto and East Blithedale Avenue.

CLOSED SESSION — Took no action following a closed session to discuss employment and dismissal of district personnel and to instruct Supt. James A. Collins on salary negotiations.

LEAVES — Granted leaves of absence for Carol Arntz, Edna Maguire Middle School teacher, to travel and study abroad; and Fred A. Brown, Martin Luther King School, personal health reasons.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted resignations from Jacquelin Berreman, now on maternity leave; Ellen Crawford Brown, now on maternity leave; Gary Grunest, Martin Luther King School, personal reasons; Howard E. Harrison, Old Mill School kindergarten teacher, personal reasons, and Marilyn M. Lee, Marin Terrace School, maternity resignation.

EMPLOYMENT — Authorized the employment of Ann Halvorsen as kindergarten teacher at Homestead School at a salary of $2,150 for the remainder of the school year.

$125 Lawn Tiller Taken From Yard

Robert H. Herr of 10 Lucky Drive, Corte Madera, reported the theft of a lawn tiller valued at $15 from the yard at his home to sheriff's deputies yesterday.

Herr told deputies the theft could have occurred any time between March 1 and 11.

Shingles Stolen From Building Site

Twelve bundles of cedar shingles worth $86 were stolen from in front of a construction site at 32 Lochness Lane, San Rafael, Monday night, police said today.

Early School Training Plan

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill to allow mentally retarded but trainable children to enter school training programs at the age of three was introduced yesterday by Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael.

Three-year-old children with physical handicaps have been accepted for special school programs for some time, McCarthy noted, thus his bill would extend "the same kind of head start" to mentally handicapped children.

"It will bring the parents into earlier contact with professionals in many cases, and having their retarded child in school will allow many fathers and mothers to devote to their other children the time they are often robbed of by the needs of the handicapped one."

To Open Campaign

James Richwagen, a trustee candidate in the April 15 Reed Union School District election, will open his campaign at a 3 p.m. reception Sunday at the Melvin R. Dransfield residence at 2160 Vistazo East, Tiburon. Richwagen said he hopes to get a "parent pulse" from guests from different areas of the Reed district.

FLOATS OUT

Firemen Draw Horse From Well

A horse stuck in a well behind 130 Deer Hollow Road yesterday was rescued by the San Anselmo Fire Department and a quantity of swimming pool water.

Firemen received word at 3:48 p.m. that the horse, Patsy, owned by Samuel Levine, was stuck in the well behind his home, after breaking through rotted timbers covering the well.

Arriving on the scene, firemen figured the horse was standing on the bottom and began pumping the water out of the well.

But Patsy just kept going down and down as the water was removed and firemen decided that that rescue method wouldn't work. Besides, the horse appeared to be tiring because only her nose was sticking out, firemen said.

Then, Fireman Kenneth J. Marshall, on the department's first rescue-a-horse-from-a-well mission, suggested pumping water in from a nearby swimming pool to raise the horse to the top. It worked—Patsy was saved.

"She was exhausted, poor fella," a fireman said. "She just lay there for about 20 minutes." Otherwise, the horse seemed all right.

Work Furlough Inmate Succeeds

San Quentin's first work furlough inmate, Matthew Zaleck, will begin a three year parole tomorrow after commuting from the prison to work at a San Francisco car sales agency since November.

In that period of working outside the prison, Zaleck, 43, has paid all his bills from his own earnings and is now buying a car. He served seven years for a Siskiyou robbery and assault and will be discharged from parole in 1972.

Zaleck is the second man to complete the program. Of three others in the program, two have run away. Despite the setbacks, the program directors plan to continue with several other inmates.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, March 12, the 71st day of 1969 with 294 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Venus and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1912 Mrs. Juliette Gordon Low organized the first Girl Scouts of America troop, in Savannah, Ga.

In 1933 President Franklin D. Roosevelt, in office eight days, made the first of his fireside chats.

In 1938 Germany invaded Austria.

In 1963 the House voted to grant former British Primer Minister Winston Churchill honorary U.S. citizenship.

A thought for the day: President Franklin D. Roosevelt said, "There is no indispensable man."

India Short On Electric Power

NEW DELHI (AP) — Not even one-tenth of India's villages are electrified.

K. L. Rao, minister for irrigation and power, told Parliament that 62,237 villages were electrified up to March 1968. India has 650,000 villages where nearly 85 per cent of its 530 million people live.

Rao said 71,000 more villages will be electrified during the fourth five-year plan (1969-74).

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

The Automatic Redouble Is Usually A Costly Venture

On my recent cruise to the Far East I discovered that one of the best bridge players in Tokyo reacts angrily when an opponent has the gall to double him. "Redouble — and down two!" he shouts. This is an expensive habit, but it may be cheaper than going to the psychiatrist.

SOMETHING EVIL

In today's hand the double warned South that something evil was about to happen. If South had taken the double seriously (as he should have), he would have run to four notrump, which he would have made, instead of redoubling.

West doubled because the bidding told him that the opponents held at least seven spades. This meant that East had a singleton spade at most. West expected to open the ace of spades and then lead the seven of spades for East to ruff.

This high spade continuation would call for a return in the higher of the two other side suits — diamonds rather than clubs. West would get in with the ace of diamonds to lead another spade, and East's second ruff would defeat the contract.

BIG DIFFERENCE

All of this came to pass, and West eventually got a trick with the king of clubs to sweeten the pot. West collected a penalty of 1,000 points because South was too angry to think logically. At four notrump South would have scored 630 instead of losing a thousand points.

You're entitled to a moral for reading so sad a story. A sensible player's double warns you to expect an unusually bad break. Don't redouble unless you know something about the hand that the doubler doesn't know — such as a void suit or an unusual location of the high trumps. If you have no surprises for the doubler, look for a rescue rather than for a redouble.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer you hold:

♠—Q J 10 9
♥—A K Q 5
♦—Q J 6
♣—A Q

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid 2—No-trump. This bid usually shows 22 to 24 points, and you have only 21 points, but the ten and nine of spades should make up for the missing point.

DOUG KARR MUSIC
Where quality is paramount. Doug Karr Music proudly announces the exclusive representation for Marin County of Gibson guitars, banjos and amplifiers.
Once again Doug Karr Music lives up to its reputation of representing the finest in musical merchandise.
We now represent for Marin County, on an exclusive basis, the following quality products: LEBLANC & HOLTON BAND INSTRUMENTS, HOFNER, GIBSON, EPIPHONE, NATIONAL, VENTURA TENEYCK AMPLIFIERS, FARFISA SPINET HOME ORGANS.
Please note: Doug Karr music is solely owned and operated by Doug Karr and is not a chain which can bring in instruments from other stores. This does not make a chain exclusive in this area.
It has taken Doug Karr Music 4 years to prove to the manufacturers that we are worthy to represent them on an exclusive basis in Marin County. Every instrument that is sold here is not only backed up by factory guarantees, but by Doug Karr's professional reputation as well.

Patrol Units To Remain At U.C.

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan's tough stand against campus dissidents remained in full force at the University of Californiai n Berkeley today following a strategy meeting between U.C. and Reagan administration officials.

U.C. Chancellor Roger W. Heyns emerged from the meeting in the governor's office yesterday to say that California Highway patrolmen would stay on the strike and strife-torn campus as long as they are needed to keep order.

How long, he was asked.

"As long as we need them," he said without amplifying.

Heyns met with Edwin Meese III, Reagan's executive secretary; Highway Patrol Commissioner H. W. Sullivan; Maj. Gen. Glenn C. Ames, state military director; Sheriff Frank Madigan of Alameda County, and others.

Reagan did not attend the afternoon session yesterday, but told his news conference earlier in the day the meeting was planned and security was the chief topic.

Reagan dispatched the CHP onto the campus Feb. 5, invoking an unprecedented "state of extreme emergency." He took the action after a student strike erupted into beatings at Berkeley.

Each day, about 20 helmeted patrolmen go to a command post in the basement of Sproul Hall, the school's administration building. Another 80 stand by in a garage three blocks away. They normally are out of sight, unless violence erupts.

Heyns said there was some discussion at yesterday's meeting about paying the cost of stationing the highway patrol on campus but "we didn't get into details."

Sullivan told a legislative committee Monday night the costs should be charged to the university.

Heyns said all state departments have money problems but the issue is not a controversial one.

Divorce Law Overhaul Gets By Senate Panel

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A key Senate committee has approved a major overhaul in the state's divorce laws which its author says would eliminate "the thing that is so archaic, so barbaric about our present system."

The measure, which would eliminate such grounds as "extreme cruelty, bill was approved on a split voice vote yesterday by the Senate Judiciary Committee. It now goes to the Senate Finance Committee for another hearing.
Watsonville, told the judiciary committee during a three and one-half hour debate that the 41-page proposal "eliminates the concept of fault to arrive at a more civilized and intelligent way" of dissolving a marriage.

A key provision of Grunsky's bill says that when a divorce petition is filed, both parties would be interviewed and would be advised of counseling services. But counseling would not be required.

Grunsky said his proposal eventually would reduce the divorce easier.

The bill provides that a marriage could not be ended by a judge on any grounds of cruelty or adultery against one party. Instead the judge would have to decide that "the legitimate objects of matrimony have been destroyed and there is no reasonable likelihood that the marriage can be saved."

Fault also would be eliminated in dividing community property or awarding alimony.

Sen. George Deukmejian, R-Long Beach, opposed the measure, saying, "I think passage of this bill will possibly encourage more divorces."

He also said of the counseling provision: "It seems to me far more effective to have counseling before they are married than to have counseling when they're getting a divorce."

Sounding Board Topic: Ban On Backyard Burning

The Bay Area Pollution Control District ban on backyard burning will be discussed at 9 a.m. tomorrow on KTIM's Sounding Board program.

Panelists include Milton Feldstein, the District's technical services director; John A. Miskimen, San Rafael councilman and member of the air pollution board; Supervisor William A. Gnoss, another board member, and Harold B. Wagstaff, Corte Madera councilman.

Questions phoned in during the first half of the program, moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer, will be answered during the second half. The program will be repeated on tape at 10:05 a.m. Sunday.

Draft Violator Gets Probation

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Four months in jail and 32 months probation was the punishment imposed yesterday on City College freshman Emil Kangas for tearing up his draft card.

U.S. District Judge Lloyd Burle said during probation Kangas must refrain from taking part in antidraft demonstrations or counseling. The jail term starts after he completes his freshman year.

Burle had given Kangas a choice —three years in prison or jail and probation.

Kangas was convicted of draft law violation by a jury Feb. 11 after ripping up his draft card in the presence of U.S. Atty. Cecil Poole last November.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Research Confirms Distressing Gas Formation By Some Foods

VAN DELLEN

Intestinal distress usually is blamed on "something I ate." It is well known that navy, lima, and soybeans are notorious gas-producers. Recent research has determined the cause for the marked increase in gas volume.

Dr. F. D. Steggerda, research consultant at the Carle Clinic and Carle Foundation, Urbana, Ill., found that nongassy diets produced only 15 cc gas per hour.

When pork and beans made up 57 per cent of the diet, the volume increased to 176 cc per hour. Green lima beans and Boston baked beans had almost the same effect.

THE INVESTIGATOR also found that the compound Mexaform inhibited gas formation. Other tests showed that one of its ingredients, antrenyl, an antispasmodic, was responsible for half the reduction.

Additional experiments were conducted to find the active gas-producing fraction in beans. This was neither fat nor protein, but carbohydrates of low molecular weight (glucose, fructose, galactose, maltose, sucrose, and stachyose.

Normal bacteria in the intestines ferment these sugars. Certain antibiotics and bacteriostatic agents inhibit gas formation by eliminating the bacteria.

THESE EXPERIMENTS demonstrated that diet is important, but so are intestinal bacteria. The latter could vary with the individual, explaining why some people have more gas than others. But the problem is more complicated than this.

Digestion also plays a role because various ferments and enzymes extract or break down the sugars mentioned previously.

Many people also swallow considerable air when eating. Belching eliminates some of this, but it is difficult to belch without taking in more air.

CONSTIPATION ALSO is associated with flatulence. Fermentation increases because the intestinal contents remain longer.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

FLU, LIVER DISEASE

Mrs. P. writes: Is hepatitis an aftermath of Hong Kong flu? My son had influenza and now has the liver disease.

REPLY

It is reasonable to assume that the liver infection might be a complication of the flu. On the other hand, the more common type of viral hepatitis may start with symptoms indistinguishable from influenza. This is a more plausible explanation of the boy's symptoms, unless special tests were done to substantiate the diagnosis of Hong Kong flu.

REHUMATISM OF HEART AND OF JOINTS

A reader writes: Can an individual have a rheumatic heart without having suffered from rheumatic joints?

REPLY

Some persons have rheumatic heart disease with valve damage, but no history of rheumatic fever with joint symptoms. It is believed that the fever was present, but was not recognized or was misdiagnosed.

PREMARITAL TESTS

Miss I. writes: How long before the wedding should a young lady have a premarital examination?

REPLY

From two to three months to give the bride-to-be time for correction of any conditions needing it. The blood test required by the state is done a few weeks prior to the happy event.

THE BRITTLE DIABETIC

E. H. writes: What is a brittle diabetic?

REPLY

A person with a highly erratic form of diabetes that is difficult to control. It is more common in young persons.

REPAIR OF DIAPHRAGM

E. R. writes: In surgery for diaphragmatic hernia, why are the results worse when the defect is repaired from the abdominal side instead of the chest?

REPLY

This is not necessarily true. There is more than one type of diaphragmatic hernia. Some are easier to repair from the abdomen and vice versa. Opening the chest cavity is no longer as risky as it was in the past.

PREMARITAL TEST

Miss D. E. writes: When going for a premarital examination, is it necessary to see a gynecologist or will the family doctor do?

REPLY

Nine times out of 10, the family physician will do. A gynecologist is suggested if you anticipate problems of a specific nature.

NO HEALING BY BRACELET

L. F. writes: Is it true that a copper bracelet has healing properties when worn by a person with arthritis?

REPLY

No, if it were curative, half the people in the world would be wearing copper bracelets.

HIGH PRESSURE AND KIDNEYS

T. F. S. writes: Can high blood pressure be treated if the person also is suffering from a kidney condition?

REPLY

Yes, because knowing the cause is half the battle. If the kidney condition can be corrected, the hypertension may be cured.

WHY ALBUMIN IN URINE

C. S. writes: What causes albumin in the urine?

REPLY

In transient albuminuria, strenuous exercise, standing, or emotional tension may be causative. If the condition is persistent, kidney disease is suspected. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on albumin in the urine.

BART To Get $3 Million To Aid Prototype Cars

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District is going to spend $7.5 million to exterminate bugs in prototypes of its high-speed rail cars.

Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe announced a $3 million federal grant in Washington yesterday toward the expense.

A BART spokesman said a total of $7.5 million will be spent in building and testing 10 prototype cars after a contract for 250 cars is awarded next summer. The federal government will pay two-thirds the expense and BART one-third.

Bid opening on the 250-car contract is set for June 3.

The contract winner in looking for bugs will test the complex systems engineering concepts required in BART's automated 75-mile system.

Costly problems encountered in developing high speed cars in the northeast's train program impelled BART to undertake thorough prototype testing.

Straight run assembly line production will not start until the bug-chasing job has been declared satisfactorily completed.

Volpe said BART's prototype car building program should establish new guidelines for developing transit equipment in other cities.

BART's engineers have estimated that the 250-car contract should run between $50 million and $60 million. The Department of Transportation has committed a $28 million grant toward this cost.

Car makers are asked to make two alternate bids—one for delivering the cars in 30 months and the other for delivery in 36 months.

Meanwhile, BART was praised for helping a downtown San Francisco building boom estimated at some $800 million.

Terrell W. Hill, Market Street Development Project executive director, was speaking in Pittsburg at the Fourth International Conference of Urban Transportation, sponsored by the Pittsburgh Urban Council and the U.S. Department of Transportation.

"Figures kept in my office show more than $400 million of new construction completed or under way in San Francisco since the successful vote on Bay Area Rapid Transit in 1962," he said.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Latest Smothers Flap No Surprise

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The latest flap between the Smothers Brothers and CBS-TV comes as absolutely no surprise to the television industry.

The alliance of the network and the comedy team has been, for some time, strictly a marriage of convenience.

To say that CBS-TV and the Smothers Brothers can live without each other is putting it mildly.

It was common gossip for awhile that CBS-TV, despite the success of the brothers, was considering dropping their series next season because of the mutual headaches over censorship, taste and related matters.

One of these matters was simply the personal antagonism that had built up.

Since Tom Smothers is generally the spokesman of the team, and the most involved in production, he is the brother who most often has wound up butting heads with the network.

If the network has truly thought at all about dropping the Smothers, it is reported that Tom has literally given some consideration to dropping CBS-TV.

The cynics, however, always talk money, and find it hard to believe the young comedy team would do anything rash.

But those who know the Smothers would not be surprised by anything they do.

The suggestion the brothers might try to move to NBC-TV if they can get away from CBS-TV is amusing and provocative.

First of all, feelings aside, CBS-TV is surely sensitive to the possibility the Smothers might come back to hurt them in the ratings on another network.

Second, would a network like NBC-TV, which already has the equally controversial "Laugh-In" series, want to be known as the broadcasting organization that has all the irreverence?

In addition, NBC-TV's approach with "Laugh-In" is wholly different from that of the Smothers Brothers, who frankly lay on their thoughts with a heavily-pointed, message-like style. In short, who is to say headaches might not arise elsewhere too?

Hospital Board Member Resigns

Irving D. Chapman has resigned as a director of the Marin Hospital District because of "personal business pressures," George E. Croke, president of the board, announced today.

Chapman will continue to serve until a successor is appointed to serve the rest of his four-year term, which expires in 1970.

Croke also announced he has asked the other directors — vice president Gwendolyn Campion, secretary Marion C. Ibach and Thomas K. Procter — to submit names of possible replacements at the next board meeting on March 26.

Any other resident of the district interested in the position should contact Ray K. Bolinger, Marin General Hospital administrator, before the meeting, Croke said.

Athletics Bomb Young Giant Hurlers

PHOENIX (UPI) — Rookie pitchers of the San Francisco Giants were no match for Oakland's hitting wonders and the Akthletics grabbed a 1-0 lead in their trans-Bay series.

In the first meeting ever between the two clubs yesterday, the A's collected 20 hits off six Giants pitchers for an easy 11-5 victory in the Arizona desert. It was San Francisco's first exhibition loss after three straight wins.

The teams will meet twice again in Cactus League exhibitions — Monday at Mesa and March 25 at Phoenix.

Sal Bando and Joe Nossek each banged four hits for Oakland while A's hurlers Jim Hunter, Roberto Rodriquez and Vida Blue held the Giants to seven hits and blanked Willie Mays in three trips to the plate.

The A's tallied six times in the seventh inning to hand the defeat to rookie Hal Jeffcoat. He was nicked for three hits and four runs in that inning. The A's also got three hits off Joe Costello and another off southpaw Ron Bryant in the inning.

Oakland scored twice against rookie southpaw Mike Davison in the sixth and got two more off rookie righty Don Carrithers in the ninth.

Big blow for the Giants was a 430-foot triple in the fourth by Bobby Bonds who later scored on a sacrifice fly.

Today the Giants tackle the Chicago Cubs at Scottsdale while the Athletics and California Angels meet at Mesa.

Giants vice president Chub Feeney said the club was still "not close enough" to signing holdouts Juan Marichal and Willie McCovey. They apparently are aiming at joining Mays in becoming the first $100,000 trio playing on the same team.

Mays pulls down about $125,000. Marichal is reportedly asking the same and McCovey would like a boost from his $65,000 salary last season to six figures.

RUSSIANS OUTNUMBER U.S. TRACK TEAM 4-1

MOSCOW (AP) — Charlie Greene, world record holder in the 100 meters, and Madeline Manning, Olympic gold medalist in the women's 880 meters, head the U.S. track and field forces who face the Soviet Union's top talent in a two-day meet tomorrow and Friday.

The Soviet squad will number 200, compared with 50 competitors from the United States and 20 from other countries.

My Drag Race Record Didn't Last Too Long

JUST CALL ME PARNELLI — You probably haven't heard yet, but my name is in the record book at the new Sears Point International Raceway.

I happened to be a passenger in the first car ever clocked at the raceway's quarter-mile drag strip. As it was the first clocking, it was a record — short-lived at that, but nevertheless a record.

As Sears Point general manager Jim Coleman and I were tooling around the complex Friday afternoon in a new Mustang, Mach I, workmen had just finished hooking up the intricate timing device and asked Coleman to test the system.

"You game?" he asked me. "Sure," I shrugged, anticipating a leisurely drive down the quarter-mile asphalt strip. But before I could sing "I left my heart at the Sears Point Cutoff," we had traveled 1,320 feet in a matter of seconds and crossed the finish line at 98.26 mph, according to the $9,800 Chrondek timing equipment. From a standing start!

Another Sears Point First

I might add that in addition to being the first ever timed at the new motor sports complex, I was the first ever to use the portable powder rooms.

My records were broken during the next two days at the National Open drag races, both on the track and in the jiffy biffies.

FOR THOSE uninitiated to the ways of drag racing, the starting light system is called a "Christmas Tree" with a series of amber lights moving down to a green light and finally a red light. When the cars roll into starting position, the amber lights flash at half-second intervals until the green lights give the go. The most successful drivers are those who can anticipate the green light, getting the jump on their rivals. Anyone who fudges, however, gets the red light and disqualification.

Nothing Funny About It

The "sport," organized and moved to controlled areas in the early 1950s, has enjoyed phenomenal growth and, oh my, the money spent on the elaborate racers. For example, Mickey Thompson's Mustang Mach I coupe that won the "Funny Car" division at Sears Point Sunday represents about $10,000 for the car itself. But add another $20,000 for tools, accessories, spare parts, trailer, etc. And they call it a Funny car. It rhymes with money, honey.

The higher powered dragsters use parachutes to slow down which they call "hanging the wash." I believe the record is 242 mph in one-quarter mile. The Fuel dragsters use an exotic formula of such fuels as benzine, menthanol and nitromethane and you have to get the right mixture for success. The gas drags are considerably slower, but hit speeds up around the 200 mph mark.

Drag racers have a language all their own that to me sounds like southern Egyptian. Some guy could make a fortune publishing a glossary.

Juanita As A Race Queen

THIS I'LL have to see to believe, but general mgr. Coleman said noted restauratrice Juanita Musson of El Verano, formerly of Sausalito, will be crowned "Race Queen" for the Sports Car Club of America events March 29-30. She's getting a special green and black (Sears Point colors) muu muu made by the Sullivan Tent and Awning Co. for the big occasion. And now they're trying to find a sports car to parade her around the track.

Upon meeting national champ dragster Don "Big Daddy" Garlits, the Babe Ruth of drags, after his main event victory Sunday, Miss Musson threw out her arms and cried: "I've just gotta have your autograph, honey. They call you 'Big Daddy' and they call me Big Mama." Big Daddy, a slender lad of 36, was no match for Big Mama.

MONDAY I mentioned that concessionaire Ed Hickerson's staff sold 1,000 12-ounce cups of Coca Cola at the drags. That should have been 12,000 cups, which puts Coke up in the category with beer (500 cases). Anyway, their cups runneth over.

San Geronimo Host Team Breezes To Golf Victory

They made it look easy.

The San Geronimo National Golf Club's team of professional Bob Ellsworth and amateurs Mike O'Donnell, Ken Harnquist and Bob Dreyfus captured the National Golf Courses, Inc., team tournament title at San Geronimo yesterday by a fat 20 strokes in final team 36-hole totals.

The final scores were totaled on the pro's scratch score and the amateurs combined net score. Ellsworth had a 146 while O'Donnell had a 143 for low net honors in the field, followed by Dreyfus with a net 146.

Third on the team scores was Pomona National with 380, followed by Sonoma National, 382.

UP AND OVER — Mark Molica of Drake High School goes up and over in the early stages of high jump competition during the Tamalpais District Relays at Drake High School.

Odds Favor Giants, A's In Divisions

LAS VEGAS (UPI) — World champion Detroit and Oakland, St. Louis and San Francisco were tabbed as divisional favorites today in the newly aligned major leagues.

Oddsmaker Jimmy (The Greek) Snyder figures St. Louis and San Francisco will take the eastern and western titles in the National League.

St. Louis was a 5-2 choice over the Chicago Cubs (3-1), Pittsburgh Pirates (4-1) and Philadelphia Phillies (6-1). The New York Mets were listed at 25-1.

San Francisco, at 6-5, was nearly even money to outdistance Los Angeles (5-2), Atlanta (3-1) and Cincinnati (3-1) in the West. Snyder doesn't think the Houston Astros will provide much of a challenge because he puts their title chances at 100-1.

Detroit was pegged a 5-2 favorite to nab the American League's Eastern Division crown with Baltimore and Cleveland close behind at 3-1. Boston was listed at 7-2, New York Yankees at 10-1 and Washington 200-1.

Snyder predicts a real dogfight for the A.L.'s Western Division title with Oakland established the favorite at 2-1. Close behind, according to Snyder, are the California Angels, Chicago White Sox and Minnesota Twins, all bunched at 3-1.

As expected the four expansion teams were established as extremely long shots.

Montreal in the N.L.'s Eastern Division and San Diego in the Western Division were given a 300-1 chance to grab the championship. In the A.L., Kansas City and Seattle were pegged at 200-1.

DISTRICT RELAYS

Redwood Edges Tamalpais

Judging by a usually reliable crystal ball, it should be another close thing in the Marin County Athletic League track and field race.

The crystal ball is the running of the Tamalpais District Relays, the winner of which has turned out to be champion of the league two of the three years the relays have been run.

Redwood High School won its second straight Tam relays title, edging out Tamalpais, 48-47, on a typically solid showing in the field events at Drake High School in San Anselmo.

Tamalpais won five of the seven running relays, but Redwood took four out of six field relays and enough second to squeeze out the verdict.

There were no spectacular times or even fair to middling times or distances, with the exception of a nice discus toss of 152 feet, six inches by Bob Pillar of Redwood.

Drake was third with 15 points.

In a solo track and field meet, Novato bested Menlo Park in Palo Alto, 79-36, behind double winner Phil Emswiler, who won the 100-yard dash and the long jump. The Hornets won both the 440-yard run and mile relay in winning their season opener.

In swimming, Drake High, getting double wins from the Scott Bradley (200 freestyle, 100 backstroke) and Frank Toews (50 free, 100 free), bounced Washington of San Francisco 51-43 at San Anselmo.

San Rafael and Tamalpais got together for a non-league tennis match, with San Rafael winning, 4½-2½, at San Rafael. Andy Moffat of Tamalpais downed Bob Klyce of San Rafael in the big match, 6-2, 6-3, but the Bulldogs took the remaining two singles matches and two doubles matches. The final doubles match ended in a split set tie.

Warriors Host L.A.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Within reach of clinching a berth in the National Basketball Association playoffs, the San Francisco Warriors take on the Los Angeles Lakers at the Cow Palace tonight, 8 o'clock.

The Warriors are just short of a mathematical lock on a third place finish in the Western Division.

They have beaten the Lakers twice in the Los Angeles Forum but have been whipped by the division leaders four times on home grounds.

Tars' Golf Team Loses 4th Match

It was cold and windy at the Sonoma National golf course yesterday afternoon, but at least one College of Marin golfer was hot.

While coach Ed Grimm's duffers lost their fourth match of the season to host Santa Rosa Junior College, 3-2, Marin ace Val Sabuco moved his record to 4-0 on the year, shooting an 80 to his opponents' 93.

Rick Timmer, newly out for the Tars, was also impressive, winning 82-89, but Bill Schrader's 92 was the only other score under 100.

PREP BASEBALL

Drake Triumphs, Five Teams Lose

Only one Marin County Athletic League baseball team managed to win yesterday as six teams took on non-league foes.

Clark Jamison's bases-loaded triple sparked Drake High School to a 5-1 win over Salesian of Richmond, at San Anselmo.

Marin Catholic stranded 10 baserunners in a 3-1 loss to El Camino (South S.F.) at Kentfield. Defending league champ Terra Linda bobbled away for eight errors and dropped a 4-0 decision to Bishop O'Dowd (Oakland) at Albert Field in San Rafael. Despite good pitching by Steve Francis, San Marin of Novato last 3-1 to Rancho Cotate High at Sonoma State College field in Rohnert Park, and Tamalpais High dropped at 5-1 verdict to Terra Nova High at Pacifica.

Redwood dropped its second straight game, losing to Berkeley High, 8-3, in eight innings in Larkspur. The Giants, behind the pitching of Doug Mantooth, had led, 3-0, for the first five innings, when Berkeley tied it up in the sixth and won it in the eighth.

Bill Wilson got two hits for the Wildcats in a losing cause. Terra Linda got only one hit against Bishop O'Dowd.

Francis pitched the first five innings for San Marin, struck out 10 batters in a row and would up with 12 strikeouts. Chuck Jacobsen drove in the Mustangs' only run.

Tamalpais threw four pitchers against Terra Nova, but got only three hits, two of them by Ken Bolstab.

Hamilton Boxers Win Opening Night Bouts

Hamilton Air Force Base fighters Michael Taylor and Gerald Ivory slugged their way into the semifinals fo the 1969 All-Air Force Boxing Championships at Hamilton Air Force Base yesterday with opening round technical knockout victories.

Taylor scored two knockdowns over Danny Searcy of the Air Training Command team enroute to a TKO win in the light welterweight division. Taylor is a defending champion who has moved up one weight.

Ivory knocked down Tim Stirling of the Tactical Air Command four times before getting a TKO victory in the light middleweight division.

The tournament swings into another round tonight with a mixture of semifinal bouts and first-round bouts. The action begins at 8 p.m. at the Hamilton Air Force Base main gymnasium. Admission is free.

Tar Baseballers Lose Opener

DeAnza Junior College of Cupertino broke a 2-2 tie with a solo run in the third inning, then broke the game open with a three-run fourth in downing College of Marin, 6-2, in a Camino Norte Conference baseball at Cupertino yesterday.

Rusty Poole, who gave up eight hits, went all the way for the Tars. Both teams committed four errors.

It was the conference opener for both teams.

Dick Williams All Smiles; Ted Williams Looks Glum

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A grand slam home run snapped Boston's winning spring season but Red Sox Manager Dick Williams was smiling. His thoughts were on bigger things—like a crashing double by Tony Conigliaro.

The Minnesota Twins, aided by Ted Uhlaender's second-inning home run with the bases full, stopped Boston 7-6 yesterday, after the Red Sox had taken their first three spring baseball exhibitions.

In the top of the inning, Conigliaro smashed a pitch by left-hander Jim Ollum off the fence in left center field for a stand-up double. A strong wind helped cut down what looked like a sure home run.

"He's looked very, very good," an elated Williams said. "There isn't a gutsier player in the American League," referring to he 24-year-old Tony C, who is trying to come back after a near-disastrous beaning by California pitcher Jack Hamilton which fractured his cheekbone on Aug. 18, 1967.

FIRST

Conigliaro, whose hit was his first of the spring—although he's been hitting the ball hard—is now one for six. More importantly he has only struck out once and that was a called third strike.

Last spring Conigliaro attempted to come back, but after getting only six hits in 55 at bats and striking out 22 times, the 1965 A.L. home run champion, gave up in despair.

However the outfielder now says his eyesight is perfect again and Williams is counting on him for a regular berth.

"He's out there doing a job," Williams said. "And that ball he hit today had lots of top spin—that shows you're hitting the ball good."

Baltimore nipped Washington 2-1, helped by 14 bases on balls by Senator pitching. Tim Cullen's run-scoring single in the eighth inning got Washington its run.

OTHER SCORES

In other Florida exhibitions, Atlanta stopped Houston 5-3, Detroit nipped Pittsburgh 5-4, Cincinnati topped Kansas City 6-1, the New York Mets crushed the Philadelphia Phillies B team 15-7, the New York Yankees whipped the Chicago White Sox 5-3, St. Louis mauled the Phillies 8-1 and Los Angeles got by Montreal, 4-1.

In Arizona, Oakland crushed San Francisco 11-5, Cleveland nudged San Diego 5-3 and California downed the Chicago Cubs 7-4.

Clete Boyer's homer and a two-run single by Mike Lum in the eighth inning gave the Braves their victory over the Astros. Denis Menke had a home run for Houston.

Dick McAuliffe's double and Mickey Stanley's RBI single in the ninth broke a 4-4 tie as the Tigers edged the Pirates. Detroit rookie Ron Woods had tied the game in the eighth with a solo home run.

BENCH HOT

Johnny Bench cracked a single, double and triple and knocked in three runs, leading the Reds over Kansas City, ending the Royals' winning string at three.

Cleon Jones hit for the cycle—single, double, triple and home run—as the Mets won their first spring game. Doc Edwards had four hits for the Phils.

Rookie outfielder Tom Shopay's two-run single in the seventh snapped a 3-3 tie and sent the Yankees to their fourth straight victory.

The Cardinals batted around in the third and fourth innings as they routed the Phillies. The Phils run came on a homer by Larry Hisle.

Len Gabrielson, ending his holdout shortly before game time, knocked in the Dodgers' winning run in a three-run sixth-inning rally with a ground out. Mack Jones cracked a home run for the Expos.

WILD

Richie Scheinblum's sacrifice fly and a run-scoring single by Tony Horton snapped Cleveland's fourth-inning 3-3 tie off loser Dick Selma, who walked five and fired two wild pitches in three innings for San Diego.

The Angels, trailing 4-1, exploded for six runs in the seventh inning to stop the Cubs.

Julian Javier, the Cardinals second baseman, who only last week reversed a decision to sign his contract and flew back home to the Dominican Republic, said he will sign his contract Friday at a reported $52,000.

Oaks Must Hold Up Celebration

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Oaks were all primed to celebrate clinching the American Basketball Association Western Division title, but the Los Angeles Stars—and Larry Miller in particular — wouldn't cooperate.

Los Angeles won 131-115 as Miller, a 6-foot-4 rookie from North Carolina, racked up 47 points, including two three-pointers.

If Los Angeles wins both home games with Denver tonight and tomorrow, the Oaks' clincher will come here Friday against the Minesota Pipers. One loss by Denver will assure the Oaks the Western crown.

Against a season average of 47 per cent for field goal accuracy, the Oaks were a cold 37 per cent against the Stars last night. Los Angeles averaged 51 per cent and clicked for 56 per cent in the first half when Miller got 30 of his points.

New Seals Ownership Approved

NEW YORK (UPI) — The transfer of the Oakland Seals' ownership to a group which includes former baseball star Whitey Ford and former football players Pat Summerall and Dick Lynch, was approved yesterday.

National Hockey League president Clarence Campbell said the final step to complete the switch of ownership from San Francisco Seals, Ltd., to Niagara Frontier Hockey, Inc., is scheduled for March 21 in Oakland, when the formal closing of agreement to purchase will take place.

Officials of Trans National Communications announced previously that the franchise will be kept in Oakland.

It's First Things First For Broncs

Winner of the Big Sky Conference with a 25-2 record, Weber State tackles the Broncos (26-1) in the opener of the NCAA Far West regionals tomorrow night at UCLA with UCLA and New Mexico State meeting in the second game.

"One thing about this tournament...all four teams were in the NCAA playoffs last year and have been through the mill," said Garibaldi. "It makes a difference."

He said his players aren't overlooking Weber State for another showdown with UCLA.

"I talked to the kids at practice and told them that these guys are good," said Garibaldi. "None of us, the coaches included, can afford to look ahead to anybody.

"I think we'll be mentally tougher this year. We have tough-minded kids who've now had the experience of being in this thing once before. Last year we were just excited to be in it."

Garibaldi said Weber has "a darn good basketball team."

"They're 6-7 at both forwards, with a 6-8 leaper at center and two cat-quick guards who really worry us," he said.

Garibaldi was referring to center Willie Sojourner, forwards Larry Burgh and Gus Chatmon and guards Justus Thigpen and Sessions Harlan.

Coach Hank Anderson of Gonzaga figures 17th-ranked Weber State could upset the fourth-ranked Broncos. Santa Clara beat Gonzaga by 24 points while Weber State downed Gonzaga by margins of three points in overtime, 27 and 18.

From Trucks To Football

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Now that Leonard Tose is upon the Philadelphia Eagles' scene, can Pete Retzlaff be far behind?

Tose, a Norristown, Pa., trucking executive awarded conditional ownership of the Eagles yesterday by a bankruptcy referee in Baltimore, favors the former football great as his coach, and possibly, general manager as well.

The Associated Press learned Tose leans toward Retzlaff shortly after Joseph O. Kaiser, a Baltimore bankruptcy referee, awarded the National Football League team to Tose on a conditional basis.

Tose won the right to purchase the team with a last-ditch offer of $16,055,000 that topped by $5,000 a bid submitted by Thomas D. McCloskey, a Philadelphia builder.

The purchase, for the present, bails out Jerry Wolman, who is fighting to retain ownership. If Wolman can raise $37 million to pay off creditors by Aug. 1, then he reclaims the team.

Under terms outlined by Kaiser, Tose has 10 days to complete purchase details with Wolman and his creditors.

Wolman said after the five-hour hearing in U.S. District Court he expects to be able to consolidate his other holdings and raise money to regain the team.

Although neither was available for comment, The Associated Press learned that "Retzlaff one of the NFL's all-time great tight ends, is Tose's No. 1 choice.

It was learned Tose feels Coach-General Manager Joe Kuharich must go to restore the Eagles' public image. Kuharich, who had four losing seasons in five years, has been under fire by the fans and press.

Retzlaff played 11 seasons with the Eagles and ranked as the fifth-best receiver in NFL history at his retirement two years ago.

Tose, 54, like Kuharich, is a product of Notre Dame. He recently was elected to the national alumni board of the famed Midwestern university and once donated part of $600,000 to help build an athletic complex there.

Softball Meeting Slated Monday

San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department will hold an adult softball league managers meeting next Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Community Recreation Center, Second and Brooks streets.

Any teams or persons interested in playing in the league are invited to attend, according to Andrew J. Snyder Jr., director of the department.

Deadline for registration is March 24. League play is scheduled to start on April 7.

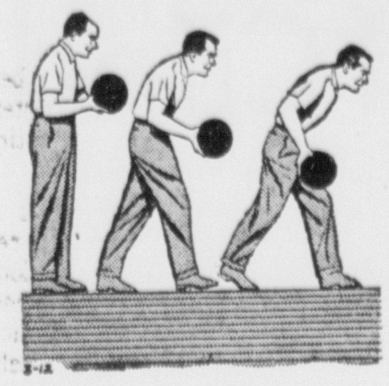
BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



Make every effort to be on time for your league session and to be ready to bowl each frame when it is your turn, but if you are delayed, don't rush through the delivery. The few seconds you save by merely grabbing your ball and speeding to the foul line aren't worth the chance of ruining a frame with a bad ball.

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

Scoring Records Fall In Bruins' NHL Game

ST. PAUL-Minneapolis (AP) — Season scoring records tumbled but the goalies drew most of the praise in 3-3 National Hockey League tie between the Boston Bruins and Minnesota North Stars.

Boston goalie Eddie Johnston kicked out 43 shots while chunky Minnesota rookie Fern Rivard spent most of the game sprawled on the ice stopping 25 shots last night.

Esposito surpassed the all-time assists mark, Orr tied the record for most points by a defenseman and Grant became the highest scoring rookie in the modern era.

Grant slapped in his 30th and Bruin center Phil Esposito 31st goals, breaking the rookie record of 30 set by Bernie Geoffrion of Montreal in 1951-52.

Esposito's two assists gave him 68 for the year, moving him past Montreal's Dickie Moore and Chicago's Stan Mikita.

Orr, with a goal and an assist in the first period as the Bruins took a 2-1 edge after Grant's first goal, now has 59 points and is tied with Chicago's Pierre Pilote for the NHL record.

Young Coach Gets Big 10 Cage Job

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Youthful Brad Snyder, an interim coach who made the most of a six-game trial, is Northwestern University's new head basketball coach.

Snyder, 30, Wildcat cage captain eight seasons ago, was named yesterday to replace Larry Glass, whose sudden resignation Feb. 1 gave his erstwhile assistant a chance to direct Northwestern in the final six games of the Big Ten season.

Snyder revived the sagging Wildcats to a 4-2 record, hoisting them from last place to a fifth-place finish.

The Magnificent Coaching Of UCLA's John Wooden

A lot of us, when we heard coach John Wooden and UCLA had landed Ferdinand Lewis Alcindor, the basketball player, felt as if John D. Rockefeller had just won a lottery, Elizabeth Taylor had just gained two inches in the bust. Someone had just dumped a load of sand in the Sahara. A coal truck drove up to Newcastle and said, "Where do you want it?"

Neither the institution nor the man needed it. UCLA turns out Nobel Prize winners, catastrophic-disease cures, and is a citadel of learning of the magnitude of the Sorbonne, Oxford, Cambridge, Harvard or Johns Hopkins. It needed an annual NCAA basketball championship like Texas needs a cow.

JOHN WOODEN is the best basketball coach in the history of the collegiate game — or maybe the game, period. He wins NCAA championships with teams that fit comfortably in Volkswagens. He never needed a team that could walk to Catalina without getting its hair wet.

Alcindor should have gone to some school he could put on the map — Ypsilanti State Abnormal, Olathe School for Janitors, Iowa Corn Institute. THEY could use the exposure of Madison Square Garden, Sports Illustrated and the UPI ratings. They could use donations from hoop-happy alumni, crowded gyms, boom business for the town motel and all the creamed chicken the staff could eat at state banquets.

JOHN WOODEN made the best of it. He always does. They give him a team that has to stand on tiptoe at a parade, he puts in a pressing game that makes the other team feel as if its has just stepped on a beehive. They give him Lew Alcindor and he sighs and sticks him in the low post and builds a team around him.

Those of us who bet that Alcindor would be playing for the Globetrotters or the Elevator Shoe Company team in the AAU by mid-term exams of his sophomore year either underestimated him or John Wooden.

THE EXPLOSIONS were muffled but they were there. Fistfights in practice, resentment at assignments. A player quit here and there, black and white. Alcindor was not an easy presence. He was the most visible member of the largest unified minority in the country today. An angry departure by Student Alcindor and UCLA would have lost more than a center and a spot in the NCAA finals. It would have lost an image, a reputation, a place of honor in a revolution. You lose an Edgar Lacy, you make the Daily Bruin. Lose Alcindor, you make Pravda.

JOHN WOODEN is an ascetic man. A church deacon, a teetotaler, he says he learned the fundamentals of coaching basketball in the unlikeliest of manuals —the New Testament. He peppers his walls — and his speech — with charts called "The Pyramid of Success," a decathlon of self-sacrifice St. Peter would rap out on. Most of us wouldn't get beyond the first floor.

Back home in Indiana, John Wooden was a boy who slopped pigs, chased rats out of chicken coops, sold sandwiches on trains and became the best 5-foot 8-inch guard Purdue University ever had (he once plunked in 138 successive free throws).

HE IS HARD on his kids. UCLA players run backward in practice more than most teams run forward. They are wolf-lean. They have the confidence of the guy who owns the dice.

Wooden, this year, will do two things no other college coach has ever done — win his third national championship in a row and his fifth in history.

There are those who will sneer that this is a minor feat — winning with Alcindor — compared to his winning two-in-a-row with a team that slept in standard-sized beds and didn't have to stoop over to shave in the bathroom mirror.

I DON'T think so. I think his three Alcindor years is the more stupendous feat. I mean, anybody can win with a bunch of well-adjusted six-footers. With those seven-footers, those last 12 inches are sometimes all temperament.

Hardwick Leads Pro Bowlers

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Billy Hardwick's $10,000 victory in the Miller Open at Milwaukee last Saturday moved him to the top of the Professional Bowlers Association money standing, the PBA, said yesterday.

Hardwick, of Louisville, Ky., has a season total of $24,790, topping the $23,160 second place holdings of Johnny Guenther of Fresno.

Don Golver of Bakersfield was third with $16,800 and Ralph Engan of Monsey, N.Y., fourth with $14,640. Fifth was Wayne Zahn of Temple, Ariz., with $14,375.

Other top ten money winners were Dick Weber, St. Louis, Mo., $13,450; Dick Ritger, Hartford, Wis., $13,270; Skee Foremsky, El Paso, Tex. $11,630; Mike McGrath, El Cerrito, $10,105; Jimmy Mack, Dover, N.J., $9,692.

MARIN PREP SPORTS NOTES

Cool-Headed Football Ref Cited

By GARY TISCHLER

An incident harkening way back to last fall and the Marin County Athletic League football season has had good reverberations.

John Hattala, principal of a junior high school in Napa, and an official at last year's Redwood of Larkspur-Novato football game, was presented with a plaque by the North Bay Official's Association at the association's annual dinner last Wednesday. He got it for keeping Charley Flynn, the Redwood player who suffered a broken back while trying to tackle Novato's Tom Zechlin, from moving and preventing serious further injury.

Flynn, incidentally, well on his way to recovery, was an honorary member of Redwood's basketball team during last week's Tournament of Champions, occupying a spot on the bench through all three games.

RECAPPING ON some baseball last week — Novato scrimmaged at San Mateo High School in a no-count game and did very well indeed as Novato Hornet hurling ace Russ Dillon pulled a Mickey Mantle in the switch hitting department.

Dillon, who helped in a no-hit defeat of Petaluma last Friday, blasted a three-run homer in the seventh inning batting left-handed, then scored a triple batting right-handed in an 11-2 Novato "win."

Steve Majka with three hits and Tom Zechlin, Barry Berringer and Rob Helbing with two apiece also hit well for the Hornets.

SAN MARIN'S baseball team, with big support from all-around athlete Ken Gnoss also "won" a scrimmage against Washington of San Francisco, 4-1, Saturday. Gnoss got two of San Marin's five hits.

SAN RAFAEL split a double-header with Riordan of San Francisco in San Rafael Saturday, winning 5-4 and losing 10-4.

TERRA LINDA will swing into its spring football program very soon. The Trojans and Redwood are the only two teams in any kind of organized spring football with pads in Northern California.

YOU CAN'T keep an Alvarado down, it appears. Dave Alvarado, who broke his wrist prior to the start of the MCAL cage season, should have been out right through the start of baseball season, but the played the Drake Pirates' last two games, although a serious fall would have cracked the wrist all over again. He's all ready for baseball season.

LETTER DEPARTMENT: Two in the form of complaints and requests. A Redwood mother asks that more space be given to cheerleaders in game stories. And Novato fans are apparently all upset and disappointed because high-scoring John Howard of San Marin got nothing better than honorable mention in the recent all-league basketball polling by coaches. It's a good point.

OUR FRIENDS up north in Santa Rosa have called for a Redwood Empire basketball meet in lieu of sending North Bay and MCAL teams to the Tournament of Champions, and some talk apparently is afoot toward that project. It may have gained impetus after Montgomery's disappointing showing in the TOC but they want to wait in the MCAL after Redwood's fine performance.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, CPA

Charitable Contributions Deductible Up To 30 Pct.

Wikel

Your charitable contributions are deductible on your federal return up to 30 per cent of your adjusted gross income provided that the gifts are to churches, educational institutions, tax-exempt hospitals, and organizations which normally receive a substantial part of their support from the government or the general public, such as museums, libraries, ballet, opera, symphony, Red Cross, United Crusade, Cancer Society, T.B. Association and so forth.

If your contributions to the above types of organizations exceed 30 per cent of your adjusted gross income, you can carry any excess over for the next five years.

OTHER DEDUCTIONS

Contributions to organizations other than the above may be deductible up to 20 per cent of your adjusted gross income.

You cannot add the two together to get a maximum of 50 per cent.

Contributions of property are deductible at the fair market value of the property at the time of deduction, regardless of how much it cost you, except that if you donate property subject to depreciation, your contribution deduction is the fair market value, less the amount of depreciation you would have to report as ordinary income if you sold the property.

This has interesting possibilities. Assume that you purchased land for $5,000 in 1960 and you made a contribution of this land in 1968 and its fair market value at the time of the contribution was $10,000. You receive credit for the contribution of $10,000, but you do not pay tax on your gain of $5,000. It does not matter if the recipient of the contribution immediately sells the property.

If you do this, be sure to get a copy of IRS Publication 561, Valuation of Donated Property, and follow the rules carefully.

SERVICE OUTLAY

Out-of-pocket expenses which you pay in giving your services without pay to a qualified organization are deductible as contributions. This includes amounts you pay for gas, oil and the like, as well as bus fare. It includes amounts you pay for transportation from your home to the place where you serve. It does not include depreciation or insurance on your car. However, under Revenue Procedure 64-15, you can deduct 5 cents per mile for the use of your car as above.

Reasonable payments for necessary meals and lodging while you are away from home giving services to a qualified organization are deductible. However, you cannot deduct expenses to attend a convention solely as a member rather than as a duly chosen representative. Unreimbursed expenses directly connected with and solely attributable to gratuitous service you may perform for your charitable organization during the meeting are deductible.

POLITICAL GIFTS

Contributions to political organizations are not deductible on the federal return, but they are on the California if made in a primary or general election year to a limit of $100 on a separate return and $200 on a joint return. Contributions are deductible on your California return only up to 20 per cent of your adjusted gross income and there is no five-year carryover.

Shale Reserves

DALLAS (UPI) — Atlantic Richfield Co. has bought a 30 per cent interest in 16,138 acres of oil shale reserves in the Piceance Creek Basin in Western Colorado and an option on 8,562 acres of Uinta Basin of Utah. Atlantic Richfield also acquired a 30 per cent interest in the oil shale technology of the colony group of companies from whom the land interest was acquired.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Absentee Stockholders Should Have An Adviser

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. My wife and I plan to enter the Peace Corps in June. We have $5,000 in savings, bonds and stock. What kind of investment plan could you suggest that would put our money to work for us while we are gone for two years? — M. K.

A. The Peace Corps and its volunteers deserve all the praise and support possible. My hat is off to you both for your decision to serve. Your situation is custom-tailored to the kind of professional supervision that is offered by a discretionary management account. In such a program a portfolio manager — by means of a limited power of attorney — makes the trading decisions for your account in line with your personal investment goals. A specified brokerage house does the buying and selling and holds the stock certificates.

The fee for individualized professional supervision is surprisingly low, usually around 2 per cent; however, the percentage drops as the capital under management increases. While putting your money to work, such a program relieves you of the burden of watching a portfolio.

Q. Can you tell me the risk, if any, in U. S. Treasury bills? Are there advantages over other Treasury issues such as bonds and notes? — H. B.

A. Because the federal government stands behind them, Treasury securities are the safest that can be bought. The major difference between various government issues is the length of time to maturity; bonds run five or more years and bills three to twelve months —the shortest term for a Treasury issue.

Treasury bills are sold at auction with the discount from the $1,000 face value determining the yield — currently about 6 per cent on the shortest term.

Market On Low Side; Trade Slow

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market erased a small early advance and closed lower today. Trading was slow.

The Dow Jones industrial average at 1:30 p.m. was off 2.48 points at 918.45.

Losses exceeded gains by about 200 issues to reverse an early advantage for the plus side.

Prices near the close included:

Northwest Airlines, off 4¼ at 73¼; Pacific Petroleums, off ½ at 28⅝; Columbia Pictures, off ½ at 30½; Loew's Theatres, off 1½ at 41½, and Brunswick, up ⅝ at 19¾.

Prices generally were lower on the American Stock Exchange.

Sale Of Center Medical Hospital In Kentfield Reported Incorrect

Rumors that Center Medical Hospital in Kentfield has sold out to Hy-Lond, Inc. of Sonoma are said to be incorrect.

Donald Barsdale, who is a co-principal in Center Medical with Larry Carr, reports that there is no change in ownership or staff. Cause of the misunderstanding seems to lie in the fact that Hy-Lond now performs certain services for Center Medical which it also handles for a number of institutions in Northern California and Los Angeles, including those which it does own.

Since the Kentfield hospital is essentially a rehabilitation facility and is going into an expansion program, it is possible there will be a name change here later. The name Northern California Medical and Rehabilitation Center has been suggested but is not final.

ENGINEERING FIELD SERVICES, San Rafael, has gone international in its operations.

Leaving tomorrow for Sewell, Chile, on a mine surveying job for Brandon Copper Co. and heavily loaded down with equipment will be supervisor George P. Colson, party chief James Thompson and chainman Philip Potter. They will be gone about six weeks.

DONALD C. ANDRESEN of Novato has been promoted to assistant vice president in Bank of America's San Francisco-Peninsula area administration. A native of Petaluma, he joined the bank there in 1950 and has served as manager of both the Terra Linda and Corte Madera offices.

JOSEPH L. SHEAFF JR. of Napa has been promoted to assistant manager of Wells Fargo Bank's Northgate office. Formerly credit officer in the Napa office, he joined the bank in 1965 as a management trainee.

JON T. WEROLIN of Mill Valley has been appointed San Francisco manager of Women's Day magazine, a Fewcett publication. Previously he was three years with Foote, Cone and Belding as an account executive and media supervisor. Before that he was with Honig-Cooper and Harrington and with J. Walter Thompson.

Balatti

Bigden

MOTORCRAFT. Edward T. Balatti of Kentfield, president of Geary Motors, San Francisco, won top award in a year-end Ford sales contest among 160 dealerships in Northern California. He is a former San Francisco Forty-niner and has been with Geary Motors 11 years. . . . Maurice W. Bigden of Marin Bay Lincoln-Mercury Sales, Inc., San Rafael has qualified for Lincoln-Mercury's 100 Club for his sales record. He placed among the top third of all Lincoln-Mercury salesmen.

JOSEPH W. CRESALIA of San Rafael is celebrating the 100th anniversary of his San Francisco company, Cresalia Jewelers. The business was founded by his father.

A ONE-DAY WORKSHOP for small business owners and managers will be held Monday, March 24 in the Federal Building, 450 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco. Subjects will include marketing strategy, advertising, financial planning, legal aspects, insurance and business taxes. In the afternoon participants will be divided into four groups for discussions on special problems in manufacturing, wholesaling, retailing and service. There is no fee and attendance will be by advance registration with the Small Business Administration, 450 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco.

Defense Contract

AUSTIIN, Tex. (UPI)—Tracor Inc. has announced receipt of a $7.2 million sub-contract in the penetration aids program for the Minuteman II Weapons System. The contract was awarded by Avco Corp.'s Lycoming Division. The company said the total value of the contract is expected to increase to about $25 million.

Consumer prices increased 4.7 per cent in 1968, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

We print any attorney's firm name 45,000 times

Legal notices in the I-J have some unusual legal mathematics. They reach 45,000 homes in Marin daily. Because the I-J reaches county-wide—45,000 copies. Terrific equasion: SMITH, SMYTHE & SMITHE (or any firm name), multiplied by all I-J homes and readers, adds up to recognition for the firm from Petaluma to Sausalito!

Which is quite an aid in helping readers select an attorney when they need one. (And they better select one if they have a legal problem—or maybe have more problems.) To get back: I-J legal notices are also precisely, accurately handled by our legal-eagle advertising department. Makes life easier for everyone!

Hub Council Asks Tougher Dog Controls

A blind woman led by her guide dog and a war veteran sickened by the sight of two dogs mangling a fawn urged the San Anselmo City Council last night to back tougher laws against stray dogs. (Another San Anselmo City Council story, page 1)

The council unanimously agreed with the two and others, and indicated it was unhappy with the wording of a proposed countywide dog control ordinance because it was not tough enough.

Tiburon residents and council members attacked the proposed ordinance Monday night as "an attempt at empire building," a sharp contrast to its reception in San Anselmo last night where a variety of speakers supported its purpose, but challenged its wording.

Mrs. Emily Wright, the blind woman, told the council she had a great deal of difficulty with unleashed dogs throughout Marin County, particularly in San Anselmo and Fairfax.

Referring to her own highly-trained guide dog, she said, "It is impossible to control any dog, no matter how well-trained, when there is a pack of five or six dogs around."

She urged the council to back stiff fines for owners of loose dogs.

Robert Vance Barnett, a general contractor described how he and his neighbors watched helplessly last Saturday as two airdales ripped a fawn apart.

"I saw a pilot burned to death during the war," he said, "but I've never seen anything worse than this."

Although the Marin County Humane Society was called to pick up the dogs, Barnett said, "All the owners have to do is pay $3 and come and pick them up."

The proposed new ordinance would provide higher penalties, ranging from $7 for a first offense to $10 for succeeding offenses, for owners whose dogs were not under their control at all times.

Another woman, Hazel Erwin, told of three big dogs attacking a little boy on a bicycle. "I took a chance on them turning on me," she said as she described chasing the dogs away. "The kid was terrified."

City engineer Charles R. Leitzell, who, like all the others, said he liked dogs, also told of a dog attacking a child on a bicycle. He called owners who allow their dogs to run loose "completely irresponsible."

Councilman James F. Reed, calling for stiffer wording in the proposed ordinance, said it was an attempt to get at the irresponsible animal owners. "We'll never train the dogs," he said, "but we might be able to train the animal owners who let them roam the streets."

He said the ordinance should be worded so as to require the humane society to pick up dogs on which complaints have been made instead of leaving the decision to the Society.

Mayor Duane Ragan, who called present control regulations "absolutely ridiculous," set public hearing on the proposed countywide ordinance for April 29 in the council's chambers.

The council also invited humane society officials to discuss the ordinance at the council's next meeting on March 25.

The San Anselmo City Council also:

HUB — Approved basic design concept for redesigning the Hub and approved $18,800 for engineering costs on the project so far.

CLAIMS — Rejected a $13,500 damage claim from Mr. and Mrs. Richard G. Lucchesi, of 61 Angela Avenue, for water damage they contended resulted from the city's negligent maintenance of drainage systems. Also rejected lesser claims of $7,418 from Mr. and Mrs. James Dismuke, and $46 from Eilleen M. Johnston.

POLICE — Accepted the resignation of policeman Richard Kilday, who has joined the California Highway Patrol, and approved the appointment of Larry R. Robertson as his replacement at a salary of $644 per month.

STREETS — Voted a change from two-hour to four-hour parking on San Anselmo Avenue between Bridge Way and Madrone Avenue and on Sycamore Avenue.

Tomales Teen-Ager Cited On Mail Theft

A 14-year-old Tomales boy has been cited to Marin Juvenile Hall for breaking open three Tomales Post Office boxes and taking mail, according to sheriff's deputies.

The theft occurred March 4, and the boy, Clyde William Bailey, was identified by postal workers who had seen him in the post office.

Nixons To Host Party Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, with fond memories of his own days on Capitol Hill, opens his home tonight for the second in a series of black-tie receptions for members of Congress and their spouses.

The first group visited the White House last night to drink domestic champagne, eat hors d'oeuvres, dance, tour the second-floor family quarters and chat with the President and Mrs. Nixon. The third and final reception is tomorrow night.

"I know virtually all of them," the President said of his 350 guests.

He said he expected several of them to talk to him about his knottiest current problem—what to do about the controversial Sentinel missile defense system.

He is expected to decide this week whether to resume deployment of the antimissile system, and a determined opposition has developed in the Senate.

Former Hitler Aide Arrested: Pogrom Charge

BONN (London Express) — One of Hitler's key men in the Nazi plan to exterminate the Jews was arrested in the Ruhr town of Mulheim yesterday.

He is Dr. Werner Best, a former S.S. Brigade fuehrer, who is accused of complicity in the murder of 11,000 Polish intelligensia.

Best was a co-founder of the Gestapo and at one time Hitler's personal representative in Paris, Denmark and Poland.

He also wrote the definitive book on the German police system under the Nazis.

Best is on record of having ordered the roundup of Jews in occupied France and the confiscation of Jewish property. Later he started a special Commando in Poland.

At the time of his arrest he was working as a respected lawyer.

Waterfront Interim Zone Plans Viewed

The Sausalito City Council last night received proposed interim zoning ordinances prepared by a planning consultant to apply in the waterfront area pending adoption of the central waterfront plan.

A tentative schedule prepared by City Mgr. George M. Patterson suggested the planning commission discuss the ordinance March 19, and hold a hearing March 26. The council would discuss the changes April 1, and adopt them April 15 to take effect May 15.

The one major change in the proposals is establishment of a C-W district for commericial waterfront uses.

RETAIL USES

Retail uses allowed would be apparel shops, art galleries, barber and beauty shops, eatin and drinking establishments (but not drive-ins), gift and souvenir shops and handicraft shops. Other uses would include offices, studios, marine sales, sailmaking, boating, fishing, swimming and small craft mooring.

Conditional uses would include commercial-industrial planned unit developments, boatels and motels, boat building, repair, rental, sales, service and storage, sport fishing centers, docks, water taxi facilities and boat launching facilities.

Also recommended was amending the building code to prohibit bay fill unless it meets state requirements or the council found it necessary for specific uses — parking for a water-based use, water access, recreation area or public park, or other essential waterside public purpose.

OPPOSES BILLS

The council went on record opposing four bills now before the state Legislature. Two bills would restrict cities' power on business licenses; another would require developers who demolish old housing to find interim housing for displaced occupants, and the fourth would rule that police and firemen who develop heart disease after 10 years' employment would be automatically considered to have developed the disease as a result of employment and would be eligible for compensation.

Following another brief discussion, councilmen took no action, but expressed sympathy with the intent of a request from the Corte Madera Town Council for support in opposing a proposed regional government plan giving North Bay counties only five representatives on a 36-member ruling board.

The Sausalito City Council also:

MAYORS — Was told Richard Carpenter, executive director of the California League of Cities, will address the Marin League of Mayors and Councilmen when it meets March 26 at the Sausalito Yacht Club.

TRAFFIC SIGN — Ordered a yield right-of-way sign placed on Josephine Street at Atwood Avenue and a 10 mile-per-hour speed limit sign on Atwood on a curve near the corner.

PARKING — Agreed to allow parking after 5 p.m. in a yellow curb loading zone near the Alta Mira Hotel, and ordered an appropriate sign posted at the spot. Parking is now banned until 6 p.m.

TAXES — Spoke favorably but took no action in response to a letter by Mill Valley Mayor Dean N. Meyer on tax payments by city residents for county services provided only to unincorporated areas.

TREE — Told Patterson to determine whether a eucalyptus tree at Vista Clara Road and Monte Mar Drive is a hazard.

LOCUST ROAD — Told Patterson to report on parking congestion on Locust Road on a complaint from Mrs. B. W. Ansell of 614 Locust Road.

Employment Scene Mixed

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Civilian employment in California continued to set records during February, reaching 7,725,000, but the rosy employment picture was dulled somewhat by a larger-than-usual gain in the jobless category with 446,000 persons out of work.

In the monthly joint report of the Department of Employment and the Department of Industrial Relations, partial blame for the jobless increase was placed on the dampening effect of bad weather on some outdoor activities, including construction and agriculture.

Albert C. Beeson, director of industrial relations, reported the total civilian employment was up 15,000 for the month, and topped the year ago figure by 244,000, or 3.3 per cent.

Once again public education and services were the main contributors to the expansion of the total job picture. Manufacturing employment for February totaled 1,645,000, a gain of 5,000 over January.

Ruling Gives Ex-Felon Right To Vote Again

William P. Cannon Jr., a convicted bank robber who was registered, then unregistered to vote in 1966, has registered again and this time apparently it will stick.

Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino ruled yesterday that Cannon could indeed register under a 1966 California Supreme Court ruling which lifted the ban against felons voting in some cases.

Cannon, 30, of 912 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, was convicted of bank robbery and served 16 months at the Federal Correctional Institute at Lompoc. Godino said that the Supreme Court's decision allowed convicted felons to vote if they had not been convicted of a crime that endangered the voting process.

Robbing a bank, he ruled, did not endanger the voting process. So Cannon was allowed to register with County Clerk George H. Gnoss, the county's registrar of voters.

Gnoss has referred the case to Godino after two San Francisco law students, O. J. Humphrey and Dave Loofbourrow, who were working with Cannon to get his voting privileges back, presented his record to Gnoss.

Cannon actually did register once before after he was convicted and even worked as a volunteer in the Civic Center polling place, in the 1966 elections, he said. But before the voted, someone told him of the law against it and his name was removed from the voting rolls.

Cannon was vague about the last time he did vote. "It was sometime before 1963," he said today.

Moratorium On Downtown Study Asked

Novato City Mgr. Charles A. Brown asked the city council last night to impose a moratorium on rezoning and major development in the Novato downtown area until the federally-financed downtown study was completed.

The council voted 4-0, with Mayor Harley McAskill absent, to seek advice on the request from the downtown study committee, planning commission and the chamber of commerce.

Brown made the suggestion because some commercial land has just been rezoned to multiple-residential and new businesses were entering the downtown area steadily. He said that he felt some sort of moratorium should be put into effect until after the downtown study was completed.

He also suggested that the firm of Sedway Cooke of San Francisco, which will make the downtown study when funds are obtained, be notified of all proposed changes in the downtown area. The council agreed to that.

"Sedway Cooke assured me today that the machinery was functioning and that there should not be any hitch in getting the money from housing and urban development," Brown told the council. (The city has applied for a $31,020 grant for a downtown study.)

Brown said that the downtown study committee, planning commission and chamber of commerce should have a voice on whether there should be a moratorium.

The council voted to have the downtown study committee fix a date when the council and the three bodies could get together for a joint meeting.

The Novato City Council also:

KENNELS — Heard for more than an hour from 21 residents of Shady Lane and their friends seeking abatement of the Bel-Bar Kennels at 2029 Shady Lane. The council deadlocked 2-2, with Councilmen Douglas M. Merrill and Joseph Gargiulo for and M. E. (Babe) Silva and J. Wayne Womack against. The council brke the deadlock by postponing the item until its April 22 meeting when it would have a full council. This item has come up before the council periodically since 1962, when the area was changed from agricultural to single-family residential zoning.

BUSES — Approved the North Marin Federation's recommendation that the council back the Jenkins' report urging that the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District take over bus transportation in Marin County.

CLEANUP — Approved April 12 to May 4 for the spring cleanup campaign urged by the city's beautification committee.

APARTMENTS — Approved a use permit for a 96-apartment unit on Alameda del Prado and Highway 101 for Bowler and White.

PATH — Authorized the public works department to grade a path beside Novato Boulevard from Diablo Avenue to Grant Avenue for pedestrians and bicycles. The cost was estimated at $150 in city maintenance funds.

BUS STOP — Approved a request to the state Division of Highways asking for a 60-foot no parking bus stop on the northbound lane of Highway, north of Lamont Avenue.

PARK — Declined an offer by the highway district for the city to purchase 6.5 acres of surplus state land at the Ignacio overpass at $15,000 per acre for a city park.

BILLS — Paid $58,048 in bills and $57,096 in salaries for February.

ADJOURNED — Adjourned at 11:45 p.m. until 8 p.m. March 25.

'Oakland 7' Wife Tells Her Protest

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)—The wife of one of the defendants in the conspiracy trial of the "Oakland Seven" dramatically described yesterday her own part in the 1967 antidraft demonstrations her husband is accused of organizing.

Lisa Mandel, 24, testified that she and her husband, Robert, had attended rallies, made telephone calls and were active in other preparations for the demonstrations outside the Oakland Induction Center.

But her testimony did not characterize her husband as a principal leader of the protest. Even under intense cross-examination, Mrs. Mandel maintained she and her husband were only part of a large and loosely organized effort to oppose the draft and the Vietnam war.

At one point, she said, she thought one badly beaten demonstrator was dead —"I thought they'd killed him." She said she was beaten by police when she attempted to protect her husband from arrest.

"I thought they were going to beat up Bob like they did that other guy," she said. "So I just stood there. Then the clubs came. I was beaten and dragged to a paddy wagon. When they shoved me in, Bob was already there."

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

FIFTH SECTION SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 12, 1969 45

NEW CITIZEN'S OPINION:

Too Many Natives Not Obeying Laws

"As long as we have the opportunity to be here, we think we should be citizens and obey the laws of the country," said Mrs. Marianne Bueschel, who, with her husband, Horst Arthur Bueschel, is one of Marin County's newest American citizens.

Obeying the laws of the land is something too many Americans are not doing, said Mrs. Bueschel, referring to rebelling students at Berkeley and other university campuses across the nation.

"The law isn't strict enough," she said of treatment of student protestors by police, college administrators and the courts. "A person who doesn't want to go to school shouldn't be there . . . shouldn't be allowed to go," she said. "They just make it bad for those who do want to go."

Mrs. Bueschel, 42, also expressed surprise that the naturalization ceremony was not more elaborate, particularly the one during which she and her husband became citizens just three days after George Washington's birthday.

The ceremony lasted about two hours, a good part of which was spent standing in line. "And they had speakers there telling us things we already knew," Mrs. Bueschel said. "They told us things like we should be proud of our country and should be happy to live there."

"We didn't even have to repeat the oath," she added. "All we had to do was hold up our hand and say 'I do.'"

The Bueschel's 14-year-old daughter, Marita, a freshman at San Rafael High School, became a citizen automatically with her parents' naturalization. She attended the ceremony in U. S. District Court in San Francisco — the first time she had ever been inside a court — and "she liked it, kind of," Mrs. Bueschel said. "After it was over, she knew more about what went on than I did."

The Bueschels came to the United States 10 years ago from Heidenheim, Germany, a small town near Stuttgart. They have been in San Rafael since 1960 and live at 111 Solano Street.

Bueschel, 46, is an auto mechanic at Mill Valley Volkswagen and his wife works at Foster's Freeze Drive-In in San Rafael.

Other Marin and Southern Sonoma residents naturalized last month were:

SAUSALITO — Joanna Nicklin of 50 Edwards Avenue.

NOVATO — Kazumi Jones and Mrs. Mitsuko Koiwai Jones, both of 225 Grandview Avenue.

SAN RAFAEL — Mrs. Gitla Fels of 1304 Grand Avenue; Alice Marianne Emma and Edward William Gutteling of 8 Los Robles; Roland Popp of 85 Mount Lassen Drive; Mrs. Ann Elizabeth Aldridge of 323 Bay View Street; Mrs. Dorothy Felicia Ekornes of 920 Lea Drive; Giovanni Maria Angonio Lo Coco of 177 Novato Street, Apartment 4; Clive Richard Sanders of 836 Appleberry Drive.

SAN ANSELMO — Mrs. Ann Jeanne Murray of 57 Oak Springs; Erika Motivans of 20 Sequoia Drive.

GREENBRAE — Giandomenico Rende of 45 Via Barranca.

HAMILTON AIR FORCE BASE — John Charles Anderson (age 3) of 17 Eglin Lane.

FAIRFAX — Nicolae Dimitriu of 295 Scenic Road.

Brain Function A Clue To Death

HONOLULU (AP) — Dr. Clarence Crafoord of Stockholm, Sweden, says "the life or the death of the brain is the factor which decides if a human being is living or not."

Speaking at a session of the International College of Surgeons here, Dr. Crafoord, said:

"I think that it is cruel, and I would say almost criminal, to continue the use of artificial, extraordinary devices . . . (when skilled specialists in various medical disciplines agree that) the damage to a patient's brain is of an irreversible nature."

Dr. Crafoord, recognized as one of the world's greatest surgeons, defines a dying patient in this way: "As long as a conscious or an unconscious brain function persists, the patient is dying, but when there is no further brain activity, we no longer have a dying patient. We have a corpse."

Fringe Benefits To Hula Dancers

A new labor contract covering 150 Waikiki entertainers was signed recently by the American Guild of Variety Artists and representatives of major hotels and nightclubs in Honolulu's Waikiki resort area.

The two-year contract will raise basic wages from 35 to 4 per cent and for the hula dancers will give them an additional allowance to buy ti leaves to make their grass skirts.

Moscow Demonstrations Show Censorship Control

Throngs of Muscovites surged past the Chinese Embassy in the capital of the Soviet Union last weekend, hurling bricks and bottles and chanting anti-Mao slogans.

The violent, destructive demonstration was reminiscent of those staged on college campuses in this country.

Militiamen stood guard to keep the mobs from storming the embassy. But police did not swing their clubs, nor did they spray Mace. A policeman with a bullhorn begged the demonstrators not to throw missiles. But they threw them anyway.

The demonstration pointed up the worsening relations between the Soviet Union and the People's Republic of China, which are neighbors for hundreds of miles along the borders of Sinkiang and Manchuria.

IT POINTED UP several other things also.

Russian police are not noted for their gentleness. That the mobs were allowed to demonstrate in front of the Chinese Embassy for two days, and to break virtually every one of its windows, indicates that the Soviet government was not averse to the demonstration.

Further, as United Press International reported from Moscow Saturday:

"This crowd had seen and heard the unprecedented television and press reports describing how Chinese frontier troops allegedly killed 31 Soviet border guards and mutilated many of them in last Sunday's clash."

The Peking government had a different version of that clash, but of course it was not reported in Russia.

THERE HAVE BEEN hundreds of clashes between Russian and Chinese forces on the long border. Nikita Khrushchev, when he was premier of the Soviet Union, alleged several hundred in one year.

But the Russian people ordinarily are not told about them. It was unprecedented, as UPI reported, for newspapers and television to carry a report of a border incident — and that nearly a week after it happened.

What the Russian people learn is what their government wants them to learn. No more. When it serves the government's purpose, a border clash is publicized. When it does not, there is no mention of the affair — regardless of the death toll.

The response of the populace to such an atrocity story is thus predictable. Secure in the belief — based on ignorance — that all is peaceful, they react abruptly and violently when TV and newspapers (government-owned, of course) tell them of attacks (unprovoked, of course) by their Chinese neighbors.

YET THERE ARE THOSE in this country, with its hard-won freedoms, who would have the newspapers, television and radio perform somewhat similarly.

There are those who sometimes tell us, "You should not have printed that, because it puts our city in a bad light." Or, "Why did you have to print that now? It may help defeat the bond issue." Or, "You should not publicize the violence; it only encourages it."

Although they don't realize it, these people are asking for a controlled press — Russian style. And if they got it, their responses, too, could be triggered by what the government (or someone else) decided they should be told or not told. They, too, would be subject to the "two minutes' hate."

We don't believe they'd really want that.

Nature—Weather Prophet

The first human weather prophet was probably a caveman, who saw the geese flying south and said to his wife, "Geese heading south! I predict cold weather will come." And, of course, he was right.

Since that time even until today, men have been making long-range weather forecasts based on the "signs" of nature: the amount of honey in a hive, the number of acorns or grains the hoarding animals have put away, the numbers of husks on an ear of corn, etc. Fundamentally, these "signs" are more indicative of what has been than what will be. And they also reveal man's belief in a kind of magic or benevolent force which looks after nature's small creatures.

If the birds are so darned smart, why didn't they spend this winter in Mexico or Florida? Huh?

Fair's Future Grows Darker While Bills Keep Piling Up

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Troubles of the California State Fair and Exposition are multiplying by the hour, and generally, it is the consensus that the time-honored exposition is nearing its demise.

This is despite the $34 million the people have invested in a new exposition site, designed in the beginning to house an all-California show, which estimates indicated would bring enough people to the capital to pay for the exposition and possibly make a profit.

Cal-Expo, however, is in worse shape than it ever has been. There are insufficient funds to complete the new plant, insufficient funds to put on an exposition, or even a fair this fall.

Meanwhile, the Legislature is confronted with the problem of paying off the revenue bonds issued by the state to complete the fair.

THE SITUATION is such that even legislators from Sacramento, who normally would support the show, have recommended that it be skipped in 1969, except for a 14-day horse racing meet.

One Sacramento assemblyman, Walter W. Powers, a Democrat, has introduced legislation to fire the present executive committee and replace with a smaller board.

In addition, Powers wants to co-ordinate a Sacramento convention center with the fair, to bring it more revenue.

It also would require the new board to contract with a nonprofit corporation for the development of policy and management of Cal-Expo. This was the plan when development was contemplated, but the present executive board disposed of the corporation and took over management after the 1968 fair.

THE LEGISLATOR is of the opinion that new concepts of operation and financing are in order to save both the fair and the proposed convention center.

But even if his bill is passed, it is doubtful whether the operation will ever be made into one which can survive. There probably will not be enough people to support either the fair or convention center.

However, both state and city probably will waste a few million dollars before they realize fairs are out of style in this modern day and age.

Principal Disputed In Redwood Dispute

In your March 4 issue on page 5 in an article on the "Haircut Revolt" of the Redwood High School track team. In it are several inaccuracies which we hope this letter will correct.

The article reports that Principal Donald Kreps said he "sees no problem." . . .

In fact, there is a serious problem which has been going on for over a year. Last week, 55 of 56 team members at a meeting signed a petition to Mr. Kreps protesting the short haircuts, no sideburns policy.

Mr. Kreps is reported as saying that no one "was dropped from the team," but several runners and one pole vaulter were required to turn in their suits. . . . This action brought on the petiton.

The article also quotes Principal Kreps as saying "athletes and all coaches agree to rules and regulations" at a meeting Feb. 27. This is not correct either. The undersigned attended this meeting as representatives of the track squad. . . . There was no such agreement reached.

On March 4, approximately 20 members of the team were prepared to stage a walkout in protest of these restrictions. On the advice of Gordon Pusser, father of two squad members, it was decided instead to submit to the rule, while at the same time using all appropriate channels to have it changed.

In the meantime, in case other MCAL schools expect to take advantage of our problems, we are working hard as usual to go after our third straight league championship.

Don't Lampoon Nation's President

I think that you are running far too many cartoons on your editorial page which lampoon or ridicule President Nixon. I believe this is in poor taste. I feel so, particularly in that we have in our country, and in our county, considerable numbers of people who seem to inherently lack respect for authority and for government.

It seems to me that a frequent belittling of public officials, especially those in high offices, in these days of extreme social pressures will surely result in less and less respect for government. I believe that the display of derogatory cartoons contributes to disrespect for public authority.

I wish you would give this policy matter some good searching thought.

Cannot Equate Vietnam, Highways

Your editorial of Feb. 22, "Vietnam Slaughter Tragic — But How About Highways?" is a strange kind of argument. How can you make a comparison between the two?

While you say the war has been largely an exercise in futility, and that we must question the terrible price, you also say that just quitting would be equally unacceptable. Just why is it so unacceptable? Why can't we admit we have made one of the greatest blunders in history and decide not to continue in it?

You mention the 32,000 American lives lost in Vietnam, but what of the hundreds of thousands of Vietnamese killed in both North Vietnam and South Vietnam? Or don't they count because they are not Americans? What about the more than 1,000,000 wounded on both sides, including civilians, women and children?

Certainly, the highway slaughter is deplorable, and perhaps more American young people are killed on the highways than in Vietnam; but they are on the highways because of their own free choice which is usually not the case of the G.I.'s putting their lives on the line.

It is indeed difficult to see in true perspective, as you suggest.

ABAG! I have read and heard a lot about the proposed Association of Bay Area Governments and I don't like any part of it!

Who needs an additional layer of government to chew away at the overburdened taxpayer?

The proposed ABAG would be composed of nine Bay Area counties, only four of which are in the North Bay area. These four are comparatively light in population and would very likely be outvoted in any move advantageous to the East Bay and South Bay counties but undesirable to the North Bay counties. . . .

I am definitely against any association of Bay Area counties. If we must have such an association it should be four counties north of the Golen Gate Bridge. . . .

Khrushchev's 'We'll Bury You' Works In Reverse Fashion

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON—It's 10 years now since Nikita Krushchev debated Vice President Nixon in the kitchen in Moscow and boasted that "in seven years we'll equal you . . surpass you . . . bury you" economically.

Krushchev didn't last long in office, but what about his prediction?

Are his successors closing the economic gap between the United States and the Soviet Union, or is the gap widening?

Is the Soviet system of almost total government control of the economy doing so well that it's an attractive model for the developing nations?

Is the American enterprise economy beginning to falter and fail as the Marxists say it must because of "inner contradictions"?

THE ANSWER is that none of Krushchev's boasts is being realized. The Soviet economy is not headed to burying us, is not surpassing us, and is not even beginning in any significant way to equal us.

If anything, the gap is growing wider when you compare national living standards. The technological gap is even greater between Russia and the West than it is between Western Europe and the United States.

The size of Soviet Union industrial production is so much smaller than that of the United States that even when there is a percentage gain by the Russians the gap may be even wider in absolute terms. Russia had a gross national product in 1967 of $361 billion, or 46 per cent of the U.S. GNP of $789.7 billion.

In the same year, in electric power, the Russians produced 589 billion kilowatt hours, the U.S. 1,396 billion; in passenger cars, the Soviet Union was 251,000, the U.S. 7.437 million. In meat, the Russians produced 10 million metric tons, the U.S. 15.5 million. (Here the USSR figures are inflated by including slaughter fats, poultry and edible offal excluded in U.S. figures.) The Russians produced 115,800 metric tons of synthetic fibers, the U.S. 1,508 million tons.

GROWTH RATE is not of itself meaningful unless the equality of products is maintained or raised. For example, a Russian jet engine cited by Krushchev proved to have a life span of 500 hours. A comparable engine produced by Britain at the same cost has a life span of 2,000 hours.

Another fact casts doubt on the reliability of Soviet economic statistics — faulty and useless products are counted more often than not as part of the total output.

WHY IS THE Soviet economy making so little — if any — headway toward Krushchev's prediction?

Perhaps one reason is that when Soviet officials look in the mirror they close their eyes to the real cause. Their reforms deal only with symptoms. Currently, the Moscow press blames it all on low labor productivity, poor application of technology, too many capital projects begun but not finished, too many expensive new plants too-long delayed in reaching capacity. And so on. But never a candid look at whether the Communist system itself is what's really to blame.

The competitive enterprise economy of the United States refuses to obey the dire "laws" of Marx and the forecasts that it must grind to a halt through recession, depression and disaster.

THE OPPOSITE has happened. The U.S. economy has never done so well, so long, so continuously. It has sustained an almost unbroken rate of growth for more than eight years. The continued dynamism of the American economy has removed what was once a widespread anxiety that Russian methods of economic and social management would become the alluring model for others.

And the more startling—and, for the Kremlin, grimmer—fact is that even in Communist nations many now look not to the Soviet Union but to the United States, Western Europe and Japan as representing more nearly the way a modern, industrialized economy should perform.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

High Court Weighing Rights Of Juveniles

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court is being asked to further expand the application of constitutional rights to juveniles.

Before the court is the question of whether certain procedures in juvenile courts, which were established to afford special protection to young people, have unfairly deprived them of their rights. The pending case, involving a Nebraska juvenile court, has broad implications elsewhere.

THE SUPREME Court agreed to consider the juvenile court case on the same day it ruled that a school board in Des Moines, Ia., acted unconstitutionally in 1965 when it barred the wearing of black armbands by students to mourn the Vietnam war dead.

That decision, written by Justice Abe Fortas, prompted a sharp dissent from Justice Hugo Black. It has alarmed some public school administrators who feel it may give new impetus to disruptive protest and dissent by students.

The issues involved in the juvenile court case are quite a bit more legalistic than the freedom-of-expression issue cited by the court in upholding the black armbands. What is important, however, is a trend in the court's thinking.

LEGAL EXPERTS say the court began, in 1967, to extend constitutional rights and protection to young people who are still protected by the courts as juveniles. At that time juveniles charged with a crime were guaranteed a written notice of charges, the right of cross-examination and of representation by an attorney, and the privilege against self-incrimination.

Basic to the Nebraska case is the question of whether a juvenile must be afforded a jury trial in a state court if an adult would be given one.

That is the claim of attorneys for Clarence DeBacker, who was 17 when a juvenile court in Fremont, Neb., sent him to the Boys Training School after it found that he had signed his father's name to a $30 check. The lawyers contend that the boy was entitled to a jury trial under the guarantee of the Sixth Amendment.

They also claim the youngster should have been shown to have signed the check "beyond a reasonable doubt" — as in an adult criminal court — rather than on the basis of "a preponderance of the evidence" as was the standard in juvenile court.

ATTORNEYS for the State of Nebraska and Dodge County contend that the boy's claims should be dismissed because the state has the role of a substitute parent for an errant juvenile, even under the doctrine set by the Supreme Court in 1967.

Four members of the Nebraska Supreme Court said the boy was entitled to the rights claimed, and, three judges dissented. The decision would have voided a state law, however, and this required the vote of five judges.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

New Concept For Schools: Teacher Licensing Exams

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

A whole new approach to the licensing of teachers in California is proposed by Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan, D-South San Francisco.

Ryan's AB 740 calls for would-be teachers to pass examinations to prove competence in the subjects they would teach. It would set up a 15-member Commission for Teacher Preparation and Licensing, removing certification entirely from the state Department of Education.

EXAMINATIONS would be of three kinds: (1) departmentalized for single-subject teachers; (2) "self-contained" for elementary school teachers, and (3) specialist. Prerequisite to applying for an examination would be an A.B. or higher degree, with a major in one of the examination categories or a performance record in the field. The latter would, for instance, permit engineers to be licensed to teach mathematics, journalists to teach English, legislators to teach social studies, etc., by passing the appropriate examination.

In vocational subjects, the bachelor degree would not be required, a minimum of five years experience in the trade or technical occupation being substituted.

Ryan, a former high school teacher, calls the plan "the substitution of a defensible performance standard for an arbitrary number of courses and units."

CALIFORNIA'S teacher certification laws, like those of nearly all other states, require a degree plus a specified number of education courses and some practice teaching. Among other shortcomings, they do not recognize that a degree from the liberal arts school of Harvard, for instance, might mean more than the same degree from the education department of Prairie View A & M.

In introducing his bill, which would amend or repeal a host of provisions of the Education Code, Ryan claimed that the Fisher Act, designed to improve teacher preparation, has failed of its purpose.

That act, passed in 1961, requires academic subject matter majors for teachers, rather than the education major previously accepted. In its interpretation by the state Department of Education, however, it has become a "chaotic, inequitable administrative jungle," Ryan declared, "an incredible crossquilt of detail and minutiae ... characterized by endless red tape, stifling restrictions and contradictory interpretations."

HE SEEKS to avoid this by transferring the licensing from the bureaucratically inept Department of Education, which continuously changes its regulations, and by getting rid of the long list of different kinds of credentials.

The licensing board is modeled closely after that suggested to the Massachusetts Advisory Conference on Teacher Education and Certification last year by education expert James D. Koerner.

It would consist of five certified California educators of whom at least four must be fulltime teachers, two public school administrators, five college faculty members of whom at least three must be full time teachers, one school board member, and two private citizens. They would be appointed by the governor to four-year terms, and prohibited from serving more than two full terms.

The teacher examinations would be developed by leading educators in each subject field. Nationally recognized exams would be used wherever possible.

RYAN CLAIMS the setup would cost only half as much as the present system. Costs of teacher licensing this year in California are estimated at $2,054,886 — or about $123 for each of the 160,000 cases processed.

Ryan's proposal represents the first approach in California — and one of the first in the nation — to applying to teachers the same competency requirements that prevail in other fields.

In California, one must pass an examination to compound prescriptions, or engage in contracting, or sell real estate, or even cut hair. But no evidence of competence is required to teach the children of the state.

Ryan's bill would change that.

Youth Commission Idea Endorsed For Mill Valley

A youth commission to deal with such problems as jobs, police, parents and recreation has been suggested for the City of Mill Valley.

The Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission Monday night unanimously endorsed the concept of a 13-man youth commission for the city as outlined by Parks and Recreation Director Don Dimitratos.

The proposal will be presented to the city council Monday.

Dimitratos said, "The scope of youth problems are much greater than just recreation. The youth of today want to be involved in what's going on in the community . . . want recognition and a feeling of belonging."

The commission concept was based on a highly successful one in Pleasant Hill, Contra Costa County, Dimitratos said. It has the support of the Tamalpais High School Student Council and the Mill Valley Human Rights Commission.

Commission goals would be to improve communication between youth and adults, to provide young people with exposure to other segments of the community, to encourage democratic values, to recognize that young people have standards of behavior differing from those of the adult community, and to accept those standards, "provided they are legal and moral."

Programs to be considered by the commission include an employment center, an auto center, police-youth discussion groups, coffee house, parent-youth discussion groups, and a drop-in house.

Seven of the 13 commissioners are to be under 21 and six over 29. Of the under-21 set, at least five are to be students at Tamalpais High School (two of these need not be residents of the city) and one a Mill Valley Middle School student.

Mill Valley Parks-Rec Commission Also:

BICYCLE TRAILS — Named Commissioners George M. Cagwin and Sarah Ann Davis to meet with Planning Director Harvey E. Bragdon, Dimitratos and a planning commission subcommittee to design a bicycle trail system for Mill Valley.

PHOENIX LAKE — Agreed to write a letter to the Town of Ross asking permission to use the lower parking area at Phoenix Lake for parking when the dam is refilled.

SWIMMING POOL — Endorsed in principle the concept of an olympic size swimming pool in southern Marin, provided it is of "broad community use."

SAVE THE BAY — Adopted a resolution "affirming the urgent need to save San Francisco Bay," agreed to become a cooperative member of the Citizens Alliance to Save San Francisco Bay and directed Dimitratos to check both actions with the city attorney to determine if they were legal.

STAGE — Asked Dimitratos to investigate the possibility of Mill Valley service clubs constructing a permanent stage for the Old Mill Park amphitheater, following a design prepared by Commissioner Richard J. Young, estimated to cost $700 for materials.

Hospital, City Join Forces

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Johns Hopkins Hospital and the new city of Columbia, Md., are joining forces in a sweeping program of prepaid medical care, expected to begin in 1970.

Residents of the "new town" between Washington and Baltimore can sign up for a voluntary health plan. For premiums paid to health insurance companies, they will receive every medical service from regular medical checkups to lengthy hospital stays. The size of the payments is yet to be determined.

New Liquor Control Code For Utah

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Gov. Calvin L. Rampton has signed into law a new liquor control code amidst a controversy which continues to inflame predominantly Mormon Utah like no other issue in years.

Forces identified with the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter day Saints (Mormon) call the new statue a compromise between church doctrine and those who advocate liberalized liquor sales as a tourist incentive.

The church, which claims membership of 70 per cent of the state's 1.2 million population, preaches that drinking is a sin. But decades ago it yielded to limited package liquor sales from state stores.

The law signed Monday allows private clubs and tourist-related restaurants to sell-one shot miniature bottles. But the thirsty customer must walk to the counter for his purchase, then serve himself.

More significant, however, it poses tough, new restrictions under which a network of modern speakeasies—masquerading as private clubs—would be forced to close.

Last year, a coalition of businessmen, tourist promoters and others put liquor by the drink on November's ballot, saying it would be a boon to the state's sagging economy.

The campaign reached unprecedented proportions and there were some instances of violence. But with the church and a hastily organized citizens group heading the opposition, voters defeated the referendum 2 to 1.

The citizens group then drafted, with the church's endorsement, the new code to implement what they viewed as the mandate against booze. The new proposals sailed through both houses of the legislature. More than 90 per cent of the lawmakers are Mormon.

A few legislators protested, most of them minority Democrats who argued that the voters' only "mandate" was for the status quo, not a new code.

The morning Salt Lake Tribune, which has warred with the church-owned Deseret News throughout the debate, called the new law "a monstrosity." The church paper says it "makes liquor reasonably availablt to tourists," but "puts teeth into the law."

Alabama Buses Many Youngsters Safely

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) —Alabama school officials report 397,622 students are transported daily in 5,350 buses in the state.

According to the school authorities, school buses are one of the safest methods of travel in the world.

Rainier, Grace Will Open Americanized Game Room

MONTE CARLO (London Express) — Prince Rainier and Princess Grace will set a precedent when they enter the casino gaming rooms — banned to authentic Monagasque citizens — to inaugurate officially Monte Carlo's Salon des Ameriques on March 15. This break with tradition may be due to Rainier having wrested control from Aristotle Onassis as boss of the casino.

Actually, the new American salon, decorated in the "Gone With the Wind" style, opened quietly almost furtively, on New Year's Day.

Except for its early American decor, the salon conforms more to Las Vegas style with craps, American roulette — two zeros — blackjack and a battalion of one-armed bandits.

Upgraded from the casion's atrium originally used by bus tourists with insufficient time or cash to penetrate into gaming rooms proper, fruit machines, like the snack bar and non-stop piped dance music ore innovations designed to supply an authentic American flavor.

During the trial period, Georges Chamoun, the Beirut gaming expert, has coached Monagasque croupiers in how to run the new American games and deal with the flood of transatlantic gamblers expected this summer.

Dentists' Work Really Cut Out

GABERONES, Botswana (AP) — Toothache sufferers among Botswana's 500,000 population will soon have professional help on hand.

At present, this former British territory has no dentist and everyone from President Sir Seretse Khama on down has to visit South Africa or Rhodesia for dental care. Civil servants get travel allowances to call on dentists across the border.

Dentists announced plans to open offices in Francistown and the capital, Gaberones, after Botswana's plight was publicized.

New Mexico Pecan Crop To Be Major Item

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (AP) — The New Mexico Farm and Ranch Magazine predicts pecan raising will become a major crop in southern New Mexico in the next two years.

The magazine says there are about 4,200 acres of pecan trees in Dona Ana County and from these trees an estimated 12 million pounds of nuts are expected this season.

On the basis of new plantings, growers by 1970 expect from 7,200 to 7,500 acres of pecan trees.

One grower, Stahmann Farms, near Las Cruces, already has about 200,000 trees on 4,000 acres.
